NEWS FROM THE Ruth Enlow Library

BY EDITH BROCK

A workshop for elementary school teachers and principals on school libraries was held at the Ruth Enlow Library on March 2 and 3. Twenty-one teachers and principals attended this meeting.

Miss Mae Graham and Miss Nettie Taylor of the Division of Library Extension of the Maryland Department of Education were present at this meeting. Miss Ann Newman, librarian of the Muswell Hill Branch of the London, England, library, who is in the United States on a Fulbright scholarship, also visited the library at this time.

A new exhibit on the geology of Garrett County is being prepared in the Garrett County Historical Society display case. This exhibit will include coal mining, mineras, fossils, and caves of this county. Rodney W. Selders of the Maryland Bureau of Mines is preparing material on the history of coal mining. The Bureau of Mines has lent a model of a coal mine. Frank Corliss, Jr., is contributing drawings and material on Garrett County caves. Anyone having interesting fossil or mineral specimens from Garrett County is invited to lend them for display.

Southern Is Loser To Mt. Savage 65-63

Southern High school lost a thriller Tuesday night to Mt. Savage High school 65-63, to round out its season of 21 games.

Southern faced an uphill battle during the last half and pulled ahead of the visitors two or three times, only to have the game tied up again. A last second heave by Mt. Savage just before the final whiste blew went through the net and gave them the two-point victory. It was Mt. Savage's fifth win of the season out of twenty games played, while Southern lost its 13th game against eight wins. Mt. Savage won an earlier game on the Mt. Savage court 43 to 42.

Eddie Williams and R. Carter scored 41 points between them to put Mt. Savage ahead. Both had 10 field goals each. Charley Durbin was Southern's high man with 30 points on 10 field goals and 10 out of 15 fouls. Friend had 11 points, while F. Colaw had 3, Savage 8, D. Colaw 4, and F. Stemple 7.

Mt. Savage held the long end of a 37-30 score at the halfway mark and still held a seven-point lead, 51 to 44, at the end of the third quarter.

In the preliminary game Southern's Jayvees edged Mt. Savage by the score of 59 to 55.

R. Getty Browning Honored Recently By Engineer Group

R. Getty Browning, chief locating engineer for the Highway and Public Works Commission of the State of North Carolina, was recently awarded a citation from the North Carolina Society of Engineers for outstanding engineering achievement, at a recent meeting. Browning was a former Garrett county resident.

The organization which has a membership of more than 1,200 members, has made this award only a few times in the past forty years.

The citation was in recognition of his contribution to the Engineering profession, as the chief locating engineer, but also:

"For his personal and thorough examination of sites, bringing to the citizens of the State routes of maximum scenic value, selected with meticulous care to produce the greatest possible safety and most economical construction cost.

"For that there would be required the sacrifice of personal liberties on the part of many property holders, his intimate knowledge and understanding of the human problems involved, enabled him through these years to uphold the enforcement of the law, with honor and yet with all consideration of the rights of the individual.

"For his wide and persistent work in the field of surveying, where, in his intensive efforts over the many years he headed the Surveying Committee of his Society, he endeavored to foster and secure legal methods of procedure that would bring a clearer conception of the whole science of surveying, and procure records of undeviating accuracy.

"For his marked integrity, combined with the unswerving directness of his efforts as he saw his duty in his concept of his work in the Engineering profession."

Five Congressmen Wounded By Gunfire

Four fanatics seated in the House gallery in Washington, D. C., on Monday suddenly shouted, "Free Puerto Rico," waved their flag and then fired at least 20 wild pistol shots that wounded five congressmen.

One congressman, Alvin M. Bentley, (R-Mich.), was so seriously wounded that he was given only an even chance of survival. Bentley was hit in the left side below the heart. The bullet went on through and came out the right side.

One congressman had a shoulder wound and three were hit in the leg. One of those shot in the hip was Rep. George H. Fallon, of Maryland.

Two gunmen and their woman companion, Puerto Ricans from New York City, were seized on the spot. Police said they had confessed the shooting and have implicated a fourth. They were identified as members of the Nationalist party of Puerto Rico. Two other members of the party tried to assassinate President Truman in 1950.

The shooting took place without the slightest advance warning. The House was considering a bill for the recruitment of Mexican labor. After the shots the placid scene was turned into the wildest confusion.

Our Schools' Vast Assets

It would be unfair, and downright untrue, if all of us failed to recognize the many fine things our schools are doing. So, in evaluating them, we look again at their accomplishments.

First of all, there are the physical assets, which comprise buildings, equipment, etc. Never before have we had, on the whole, such efficient, attractive buildings as we have today. Some elementary schools need repair.

Our two new high schools are examples of beauty, convenience and good taste. They are real assets to our communities. Many were not sure, when they were contemplated, that because of distances they would serve our needs. Yet I believe they have worked out well in that respect. I believe that is the opinion of most of our parents.

Never before have teachers had so many and varied aides for teaching. Visual aides, well-stocked libraries, shop equipment, the best possible equipment for the teaching of home economics, arts and crafts, commercial subjects, and equipment for sports and physical education. Taken all together, they should make the teaching profession one of the most interesting ones in today's world.

I believe that, on the whole, our teachers are better trained than ever before. There are at the present time only 15.7 percentage of emergency teaching certificates held here in this county, compared with 35.6 in Anne Arundel. Seven counties have a lower percentage than Garrett.

We should not fail to mention the fact that our boys and girls have a larger and more comprehensive curriculum than ever before. They have the opportunity to select courses of study that were not possible a few years ago.

As for a school program that includes music, and the arts, we heartily approve, and go along with them. Organized and competitive sports are a necessary and important part of a total education, and we believe they teach our youngsters many valuable lessons.

There is the fact that many of our students leaving Garrett County for schools of higher education are making marked successes of their work. Many are on dean's lists, and many have been outstanding in various fields of endeavor. There have been years when Garrett County has taken most of the prizes in State-wide judging, and other competitive activities of our Vocational Agriculture program.

To lose sight of these accomplishments is both unfair and unjust to our loyal, hard-working teachers and administrators.

I would like to say in this re-ard, that in my limited Parent-Teacher work, I have had 100% cooperation by both teachers and administrators.

I have heard discussed at teachers' meetings the need for building a solid foundation of basic learning from first grade to twelfth. That, in my opinion, is the basis for the hopes of most of our parents. To see our boys and girls acquire, to the best of their ability, excellence in reading, spelling, writing, learning how to study, how to think, how to speak well and effectively. We should be satisfied with no less.

I could be completely wrong, but it seems to me that we sometimes try too hard to sugar-coat our teaching of children. We are so completely sold on the idea that they should have no drills, no uninteresting poring over problems. Yet it sometimes disturbs me to think how inadequate that can make them to face real problems, that are sometimes genuinely tough.

All progress, all development comes from challenge and a consequent response to it. That is why I believe, it is most unrealistic to eliminate competition from so many of our learning processes.

A prominent educator has said by exposing our children to the best values we have found, to the values that history has proved truest perhaps we shall be able to produce that "ringing message, full of content and truth, satisfying the mind, appealing to the heart, firing the will, a message on which one can stake his whole life."

We have the assets to do just that.

Reports Heard At P.-T.A. Meeting

Reports on various school programs were heard by those attending the Oakland Elementary Parent-Teacher meeting Monday evening at the school. The attendance was considered good in spite of the stormy weather.

Reports were given by Mrs. Frederick Thayer, Mrs. Kenneth Hardesty, Miss Lucille Mitchell, Mrs. E. M. Flinn, Miss Josie Iden and Edwin Elias, all instructors at the school.

Harry Coddington reported on the work of the group in trying to get legislation on driver training funds. C. W. Englander, president, said there would be no study groups on questions of the school and home at present but would make a survey at a later date.

A nominating committee was named to select officers for the ensuing year, and included Charles Briner, Harry Coddington, Mrs. Fred Tichnell, Mrs. Wilbur Close and Mrs. Mary Kight.

The April meeting will be in charge of Edwin Elias, school principal.

BITTINGER

Sweeten your breakfast with smile beams,
Try to be merry all day,
Digestion is hastened by day dreams,
Paint them all rosy and gay.

March began with typical lionlike weather, wind of great velocity carrying clouds of mingled snow and rain.

Ray Hare and Miss Dorothy Bittinger, both of near Jennings, were quietly married in the Lutheran church here last Saturday afternoon. The ceremony was performed by Rev. James Allan, pastor of the Bittinger Lutheran church.

Marvin Beitzel, who was reported ill in the Oakland Memorial hospital last week, is home and attending to his duties this week.

Russell Teats, of the Cherry Creek section, was a pleasant caller in this village, last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Knox, accompanied by Mrs. Ruth Hetrick, motored to Fairmont, W. Va., last Saturday for a brief visit with relatives.

Daniel Hershberger, of Grantsville, was among last week's visitors in this neighborhood.

A very young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Klotz, while playing at the home of her grandparents, accidently fell and bit her tongue so severely that it was necessary to take the child to the hospital for treatment, where some stitches were taken in the injured member.

The Bittinger Homemakers club met recently at the home of Mrs. Elmer Shawley with 11 members and two guests present. Guests were Mrs. Charles Wilt and Mrs. William Harmon, from the Accident club. Mrs. Wilt measured some of the members to help determine the size pattern they should buy. Mrs. Robert Buckel gave a book report on "Man of The Desert." The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. James Opel on March 31.

COVE

There will be Holy Communion service in St. John's Lutheran Church on Sunday, March 7, at 10:45 a. m.

On Saturday, February 13, Mrs. Nellie Collier entertained 20 ladies of the Ladies' Aid Society at an all-day quilting. At noon, Mrs. Collier served a cafeteria lunch and at 2:30 the regular monthly meeting was held. Following this, the hostess served cake, ice cream and coffee. The day was also the celebration of the birthday of the oldest member, Mrs. Effie Bach, who is Mrs. Collier's mother.

A number of friends attended the funeral of Mrs. Florence Schlossnagle at Accident Friday afternoon. Mrs. Schlossnagle was a former resident of Cove and was a member of St. John's Lutheran Church.

Albert Richter entered Meyersdale Hospital for observation Tuesday morning.

Edward Georg, who was a patient in the Meyersdale Hospital for two weeks, is visiting with his nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Mahlon Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Margroft were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hanft.

Mrs. Elizabeth Harman is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Elmer Kolb and family at Accident.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hockman, Ralph Kolbfleisch and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Lytle left Thursday morning for El Paso, Texas, to visit the former's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hockman, Jr.

Airman Third Class Arthur McCrolie, of Dover, Del., spent the week-end with his fiancee, Miss Elsie Richter.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Ringer, of Grantsville, entertained on Sunday, February 21, at a birthday dinner. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Mahlon Brown, Mrs. Bessie McClintock, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ringer, all of Cove; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pritts and daughter, Bonnie. It was the birthday of Mr. Brown, Mrs. McClintock and their little granddaughter, Bonnie Jean Pritts.

Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Frazee, of Oakland, visited with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Richter last Sunday.

Word was received here Tuesday of the death of Jonas Kamp at his home, Route 2, Confluence, Pa. Mr. Kamp was the father of Mrs. Arthur Butler, Jr., of Cove.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Thomas, of Cleveland, Ohio, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Bert Griffith.

Mr. and Mrs. Rob Roy Paugh attended the funeral of Kepton Burrell on Tuesday afternoon at Sand Flat church.

Adlai Stevenson was reported ready to run for President again in 1956.

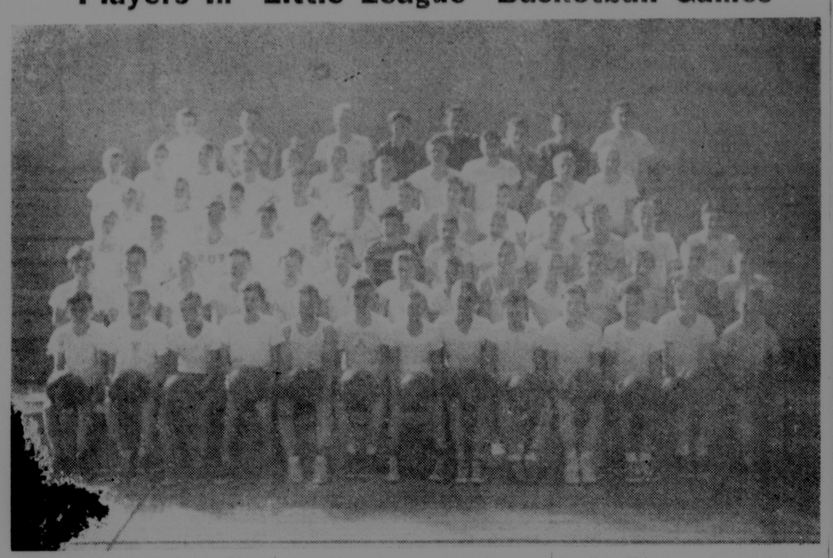
Players In "Little League" Basketball Games



Basketball's "Little League" will have a single elimination tournament next Friday, March 12, in the Southern High gym, it was announced this week by Kyle Wilson, coach.

The ten teams are all scheduled with the first game called at 6:45 o'clock. Each game will consist of two eight-minute halves. The second game will be 7:05, then in succession 7:25, 7:45, 8:05, 8:25, 9:05 and 9:25.

Coach Wilson taught fundamentals to 80 or more fifth, sixth and seventh graders during the past two months, and these have been formed into ten teams. Eagles will play Globetrotters, Blue Stars will play Highlanders with winner playing Yellow Jackets, and winner of this match playing winner of the Eagles-Globetrotters; all in the upper bracket.

Red Devils will play Silver Streaks, with winner playing Cardinals. Ruffs will play Blue Devils with winner playing winner of Cardinals and either Red Devils or Silver Streaks, all in lower bracket. Winners of each bracket will then play finals.

An admission charge of 10 cents is made, the proceeds to be used for equipment for the little league which Coach Wilson hopes to continue in ensuing years.

In games played last Saturday, Highlanders won over Globetrotters 14 to 12; Eagles beat Blue Stars 17 to 13, Silver Streaks defeated Red Cardinals 15 to 12, Blue Devils won over Red Devils 18 to 10, and Yellow Jackets beat Ruffs 16 to 8.

First Bride in Minnesota City

The first wedding to be held in the new townsite at Beaver Bay, Minn., took place November 28, 1953, at 7 o'clock p. m., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Verlyn Carr when their only daughter became the bride of Richard Thorngren, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thorngren, of Beaver Bay. The Carrs were former residents of McHenry.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Teber before an improvised altar banked with foliage and chrysanthemums and candles. The bride was gowned in a ballerina length gown of white lace and net. She carried a white satin Bible, topped with an orchid. She was given in marriage by her father.

Joan Leckemby, gowned in orchid chiffon and wearing a corsage of rosebuds and carnations, was the bridesmaid. Dale Nikula served as best man. Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. David Carlisle sang, with Mrs. C. Richards presiding at the miniature organ.

The bride's mother wore winter white with navy accessories. The groom's mother wore a pink print dress with brown accessories. Both wore corsages of pink rosebuds and carnations.

A reception for 100 guests was held in the Beaver Bay town hall. A wedding trip included Maryland, Pennsylvania and Eastern cities. The couple is residing in Beaver Bay where both are employed.

Car License Plate Applications Mailed

All applications for 1954-1955 license plates for passenger cars and motorcycles have now been mailed out by the Department of Motor Vehicles, Thomas B. R. Mudd, Commissioner, announced.

If car owners have not received their application, due to change of address or any other reason, they are asked to notify the department in writing, giving full name, new or old address, and title number, if possible, which may be found on the last line of the Registration card to the far right.

Falcons Win In Sunday Rifle Match

Leaders in the Western Maryland smallbore rifle league scored wins in Sunday's matches. Falcons of Oakland, who are tied for first place, won against an Avilton forfeit while Hercules trounced Fort Hill 1139 to 1128. The Falcons set a new team mark for the season by entering a mark of 1144. Wilson White's 291 was high in the record-making team score.

LaVale jolted an undermanned Eagles team 1078 to 820. The Eagles were led by 283 points turned in by Ed Michael. Cumberland also copped a Frostburg forfeit. The final match in the regular series will be fired next Sunday.

Scores for the local teams in the four positions of prone, sitting, kneeling and standing follow:

Eagles—E. E. Michael, 100, 48, 45, 90, 283; G. L. Porter, 100, 47, 49, 80, 276; C. H. Calhoun, 100, 45, 45, 71, 261; team total, 820.

Sixteen were killed or wounded as rioting flared in Damascus.

Bruce High Wallops Southern 68 To 36

Bruce High school of Westernport won its 17th game of the season last Thursday night, sweeping its series with Southern High school's Highlanders by the score of 68 to 38.

The contest was highlighted by the accurate shooting as well as the defensive play of Dave Marple, Bruce center, who banged in ten field goals and 21 points while limiting Charley Durbin, Oakland pivot man and one of the top scorers in the area, to two baskets. Durbin's five-point output was his lowest in 20 games.

Coach Augie Eichorn's aggregation rolled up a 14-3 lead in the first period, held a 34-14 advantage at halftime and enjoyed a 50-22 spread as the third period ended.

Friend was Southern's highest scorer with 12 points on 4 field goals and four out of five fouls. Others scoring for Oakland were F. Colaw 2, Savage 3, Stemple 7, T. Colaw 5, and Glaze 4. Non-scoring subs were Ruff and D. Colaw.

For Bruce—Dawson 8, Nofsinger 11, Foreman 10, Salesky 2, Kertesz 2, Dayton 2, Welsh 2, Riley 2, Broadwater 1, Wilson 2, Devore 5. Nofsinger was ejected on personal fouls in the fourth period.

Southern High failed to exhibit the pep and drive which had characterized its earlier games. Bruce High, however, was second only to Allegany High in the Western Maryland Interscholastic league and is class "B" champion of that county. It continued its string of victories Friday night by dumping LaSalle of Cumberland 85 to 62.

Bruce Jayvees defeated Southern Jayvees in the preliminary game.

Parsons High school, another high ranking team, won its second game of the season against Southern on February 19 by the score of 71 to 53. The game was one of give and take for little more than a quarter, with neither team being able to hold a lead of more than three points. Parsons took the lead for keeps midway in the second quarter. Forward Terry Fairbanks of Parsons led scorers with 32 points. Charles Durbin and Larry Friend with 24 and 11 points led Southern.

Civic Club To Assist In Project

Will Help Raise Funds To Restore Independence Hall

Members of the Oakland Civic club are participating in a national project to restore Independence Hall in Philadelphia to its original likeness.

The local club is combining its efforts with the efforts of clubs throughout the nation to provide money to restore the entire first floor of the hall which includes the Assembly room, the Supreme Court chamber, and the main hallway where the Liberty Bell now rests.

The club has appointed Mrs. W. W. Grant, Americanism chairman, in charge of the project locally. Mrs. Grant pointed out that in the Assembly room the Declaration of Independence was adopted, the Constitution of the United States drafted, and in it George Washington accepted the responsibility as general and commander-in-chief of the army. She feels that this effort will give people an opportunity to better appreciate the struggle of our forefathers during the establishment of our Democracy and alert our citizens to the great benefits derived under our constitutional form of government.

She said Independence Hall needs a special type of restoration to make it as it was in 776. The furniture is in bad condition and is not the correct period. Donations will be sought from organizations and individuals.

A group of Marylanders was putting up a fight to save the Navy's oldest ship, the USS Constellation, from the scrap pile. It was built and launched in Baltimore in 1797.

Along The Potomac

With Your Congressman
DeWITT S. HYDE

People in Maryland are talking about taxes—and taxes are a top subject of discussion here, too.

There is a strong move in Congress to cut taxes right away—and sharply. The Eisenhower Administration opposes too drastic action on the ground it is economically unsound.

I think there is some misconception among voters as to what the President's position on this was during his campaign. I looked up some of his speeches, and this is what I found: Spending must be cut first, then taxes. The debt must not rise further. The government spending rate at the time of the campaign was $81 billion. Gen. Eisenhower said he hoped to cut that to $60 billion within four years.

I believe he has kept faith. He has cut his new budget down to $65 billion already, with three years left to go. He has economized carefully enough to permit a ten percent income tax reduction already. But now many Congressmen are impatient, and are sponsoring various proposals to raise personal income tax exemptions and to slash excise taxes.

The last substantial tax cut occurred during the Republican 80th Congress. The second world war had just ended, and the 1948 election was just ahead. But tax cutting did not seem to be a powerful enough achievement to win the hearts of the voters, and the GOP lost the '48 election. This year, however, both Democrats and Republicans in Congress are getting aboard the tax-cut bandwagon again.

I think the issue must be resolved by the people. If they are impressed with the economic soundness of gradual reduction of taxes, they should tell their representatives not to vote to wipe out too much of the government's revenue at one time. If they feel strongly that immediate, personal financial demands outweigh this consideration, then that should be their guide in instructing their representatives. Whatever their opinions, the people will find that Congressmen lend them a good ear.

Thanks, Mr. Farmer!

It's been said that farmers and planters made possible the life of today. Once farmers had learned how to bring forth a steady food supply, men could build towns and set up industries. These industries, in turn, helped the farmer turn out even more food by providing him with tools and transportation. And one of these tools is the telephone, which saves the farmer time, trouble and money—so much in fact that many farmers say, "Telephone service is the biggest bargain I buy today!"

Elbow grease . . . and co-operation

When it comes time to wash the family car, the job is over and done much faster if everyone pitches in. That kind of co-operation works mighty well on the telephone party line, too. Considerate party line neighbors hang up gently and try again a little later when they find the line in use. And they free the line reasonably soon when they realize others are waiting to use it. Consideration for others and good old-fashioned courtesy make good party line service even better!

Youths To Observe Four-H Club Week

Some five hundred boys and girls of Garrett county now enrolled in 4-H clubs will be among some 14,380 rural youth in Maryland who will observe National 4-H club week March 6 to 14. These Garrett county 4-H youth represent some 24 clubs in this area out of about 735 clubs in the state.

The week's theme is "Working Together for World Understanding." Accomplishments of Maryland's 4-H club members will be emphasized and special attention will be drawn to those not familiar with the value of club work.

James McHenry, assistant county agent, said some 270 boys are enrolled in 15 boys' 4-H clubs in the county along with an older youth group of 51 boys and girls. Of this number there are 62 boys in dairy projects, 56 in garden, 37 in tractor maintenance, 21 in farm and home electric, 26 in swine, 14 in beef, 15 in dairy, and several others such as rabbits, potatoes, forestry, conservation, bees and farm management.

McHenry said some of the highlights of the year's program would be a broiler production contest, livestock, poultry and dairy judging; tractor operator contest, 4-H calf show, two camps, a recreation round-up and other activities. Girls' Four-H club members concentrate on homemaking projects. There are some two hundred girls registered in girls' clubs in this county.

During national 4-H club week there will be meetings, displays, and other activities. During the week the members will pledge their heads, hearts, hands and health for greater service to their homes, clubs, communities and country.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

Scripture: John 11: 1-54.
Devotional Reading: Luke 7: 11-23.

Facing Death

Lesson for March 7, 1954

KING EYOKAKOLI of Lukoleta in Africa changed his name every day for twenty-four years. He thought this would keep the angel of death from finding him. But death knew his name,—knew his last name, which was all that mattered. Death knows every one's name, and will call it. The one prediction that is certain to come true, and the only one, is this: You will die. Death rides every highway; he rides too on every country road and backwoods trail, he rides the seven seas. Wherever your road may take you, at the last you will come face to face with death. It is only an illusion to think you can ride away from death. You are always coming nearer. You will face it, no question of that. The question is, How will you face it?

Dr. Foreman

With Frankness

The Christian looks for his answer to Jesus himself. He too faced death, both of his friends and of himself. We call him, and rightly "Lord of Life." "I am the Resurrection and the Life," he said. But the blaze of light in which his spirit moved did not blind him to the dark fact of death. He faced death, first of all with frankness. He did not try to avoid mentioning it. He said to his friends quite simply, "Lazarus is dead." It would be funny, if it were not so pathetic, to see how many ways people find of avoiding saying "He is dead." He is deceased, or demised, or passed away, or gone on,—anything but dead. At funerals the corpse is rigged up to look as lifelike as possible. At the grave everything is done to keep it from looking like a grave. Death is a subject dodged in polite conversation. But why not face it? Jesus certainly believed in immortality, more firmly than we do indeed; but still he was frank about death.

With Sympathy

Jesus' tears were shed on only one recorded occasion, when Lazarus died. Could he have been weeping for Lazarus? That is hardly possible. If he believed half what we believe about immortality, he could not have wept for a man who had gone beyond these shadows to the light of God's presence. Or if he did not believe in immortality (let us suppose just for a moment that he did not), then why should he weep for a man who was within the hour to be restored to full life again? The one explanation that accounts for Jesus' tears on that day is to see them as tears of sympathy. The hearts of Mary and Martha were torn, and his own was torn in sympathy. Perhaps it was not altogether because they were for a time lonely and bereft. Jesus could see something beneath their loneliness,—he could see that they did not understand death itself. To their minds Lazarus had as good as ceased to exist. He would be "raised up" at some future day; but on that day, four days after his death what had become of him? All they could see was the black shadow into which their brother had disappeared. It was for their hopelessness, their misunderstanding, as much as for their sorrow, that Jesus wept.

With Faith

People who have had little experience in such things sometimes wonder what to say when they visit a house of sorrow. If only we could bring back the dead to life, as Jesus did! If only we could break into moving poetry such as might have come from a Tennyson or a Dante! If only we could say some magic thing that would dissolve death in ashes and make life bloom again! Instead we are shy and blundering and we are afraid we say the wrong thing in spite of ourselves. Two things need to be remembered at such times. One is that what we say is far less important than our attitude. If we ourselves have an attitude of fear, of doubt, of hopelessness, anything hopeful we say is belied by our evident despair. But if in ourselves there is a strong faith, this will make the simplest words glow with hope.

The other thing is recall that Jesus reminded Martha and Mary of himself. "I am the Resurrection and the Life." When we think of Jesus we think of Life—so all his friends have felt. How can we help it? So in the presence of sorrow the best word we can say is some word that points to Jesus. But of course the better time to say that word is before sorrow comes.

Col. Schwable, at court of inquiry, said he signed a fake germ warfare confession after a Red brain-washing had reduced him to feeling like an animal in the zoo.

Light beyond the shadows

People who see the Light that shines beyond the present shadows can walk safely along the way of life. Those who stumble in darkness and fear are the people who lack the vision of faith.

A man named Saul of Tarsus groped in the darkness of the pagan world. His heart was filled with hate and he saw them stone the servants of God. Then he saw the Light and became a new man.

The skies of life are often filled with clouds and storm. Strife and hatred, selfishness and meanness, suffering and despair, rob the day of its brightness and fill the world with woe.

But those who have the penetrating vision of faith need fear no harm. If they keep their eyes fixed on the Light that lies beyond the shadows and trust in God, they may walk in the perfect security of faith.

The blackness of night cannot quench the Light of faith; the sweeping storms of adversity cannot blot it out. It shines on undimmed into the perfect day, when the storms depart and the shadows fade away.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Oberlin Edward Rawlings
Vs.
Dorothy Ann Rawlings

No. 4448 Equity. In the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to obtain a divorce a vinculo matrimonii for the Plaintiff from the Defendant and for the Plaintiff to have the custody and guardianship of the infant children of the said marriage who are Oberta Marie Rawlings and Thomas Edward Rawlings.

The bill of complaint states that the parties were married on May 19, 1948, in Mount Savage, Maryland, and that they lived together following the said marriage in Bloomington in Garrett County, Maryland, until September, 1949, at which time and place the Defendant deserted and abandoned the Plaintiff and their infant daughter and the said desertion and abandonment has continued uninterruptedly ever since September, 1949, and is deliberate and final and the separation of the parties is beyond any reasonable expectation of reconcilliation. That the Plaintiff gave no just cause for the said desertion and abandonment. The infant son who was born after the said desertion and abandonment is now with the Defendant whose whereabouts are unknown but is believed to be a non-resident of the State of Maryland. That the Plaintiff and the infant daughter are residents of Garrett County, Maryland. The Plaintiff seeks the custody of the infant daughter and, if possible, the custody of the infant son.

It is thereupon this 3rd day of March, 1954, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, sitting in Equity, ordered that the Plaintiff by causing a copy of this Order to be published in some newspaper in Garrett County, Maryland, once in each of four successive weeks before the 2nd day of April, 1954, giving notice to the absent Defendant of the object and purpose of this suit and warning her to be and appear in this Court in person or by solicitor on or before the 17th day of April, 1954, to show cause, if any she has, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

William T. DeVore, late of Grantsville, Garrett County, Maryland, deceased, and all other persons having or claiming to have any interest in and to that tract of land situate in Election District No. 3, of Garrett County, Maryland, containing four and nineteen hundredth acres, and being the same property which was conveyed to the said William T. DeVore by deed from Althea M. Beachy, widow, dated the 16th day of June, 1938, and recorded in Liber A. G. R. No. 117, folio 590, etc., one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland.

No. 4444 Equity. In the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this proceeding is to secure foreclosure of all rights of redemption in the following property situate in Election District No. 3, of Garrett County, Maryland, sold by the Collector and Late Collector of Taxes for Garrett County and State of Maryland to the plaintiff in these proceedings.

All that tract or parcel of land situate, lying and being in Election District No. 3, of Garrett County, Maryland, containing four and nineteen hundredth acres, and being the same land which was conveyed to William T. DeVore by deed from Althea M. Beachy, widow, dated the 16th day of June, 1938, and recorded in Liber A. G. R. No. 117, folio 590, etc., one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland.

The bill states, among other things, that the amounts necessary for redemption have not been paid, although more than a year and a day from the date of sale has expired.

It is thereupon, this 23rd day of February, 1954, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, in Equity, ORDERED, that notice be given by the insertion of a copy of this order in some newspaper having a general circulation in Garrett County, Maryland, once a week for four successive weeks, warning all persons interested in the said property to be and appear in this Court by the 3rd day of May, 1954, and redeem the property herein described and answer the bill or thereafter a final decree will be rendered foreclosing all rights of redemption in the property, and vesting in the plaintiff a title, free and clear of all encumbrances.

Chicks Need Plenty of Food and Water

Chicks must have plenty of food and water where they can find it if they are to have normal growth in the brooder house, says Dr. Morley A. Jull, head of the University of Maryland poultry department.

Dr. Jull says chicks may be fed in shallow boxes or pans, or on used cupflaps from egg cases the first few days after they are put in the brooder. He recommends mash hoppers that permit the chicks to eat from both sides replace the temporary feeders.

"Hoppers 4 feet long make a convenient size," Dr. Jull explains. "For each 100 chicks, use one hopper the first 2 weeks, two hoppers when the chicks are 3 to 6 weeks old, and three hoppers for the 7th to 12th weeks. Don't fill the hoppers too full or mash is wasted."

The head of the widely recognized poultry department suggests two 1-gallon fountains per 100 chicks for the first 2 weeks. Two 3-gallon fountains should be enough for the 3rd through the 12th weeks. Dr. Jull adds that "any wet litter around the fountains should be removed.

"Keep the litter stirred regularly because damp litter is objectionable. Where electric current is available, all-night lights help to keep mortality down. Use 15 watts per 200 square feet of floor space."

The House voted to appropriate $275,000 to finance operations of its Un-American Activities committee through 1954, a cut of $25,000 over last year.

Candidates Announce

Announcement of candidates for nomination at the primary election to be held in Garrett County on Monday, June 28, will be published in this column until immediately prior to the above date.

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County:

I hereby announce as a candidate for the office of County Commissioner of Garrett County.

Inasmuch as I live in Election District No. 10, under the present system of electing County Commissioners I will represent the first County Commissioner District if nominated and elected to the office which I seek. At the present time, I am a member of the Orphans' Court of this county.

I have lived in Garrett County all of my life, am a farmer, have been interested in a number of business and other organizations and believe that I have a pretty thorough knowledge of affairs in our county and what should be done for its improvement and well being.

If nominated and elected, I will give careful attention to the duties and demands of the office and to the best of my ability will serve all of the people of the county alike.

I respectfully solicit the support of all Republicans at the primary.

Harry F. Paugh

—Adv. 51*

To the Voters of Garrett County:

I hereby announce as candidate for the office of County Commissioner of Garrett County.

I have been a life-long resident of Garrett County, living in District No. 14.

If nominated and later elected to this office, I have but one promise to make—that I will serve the people of my county to the best of my ability.

My motto is, I realize no one can please everybody, but I can keep on trying.

I respectfully solicit your support.

H. D. "Hub" Swartzentruber.

—Adv. 1*

FOR COUNTY TREASURER

To the Republican Voters:

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of County Treasurer, subject to the results of the Republican primary election, and earnestly solicit the support of all the citizens of the county.

I have been a resident of Mt. Lake Park for twenty-nine years and have had bookkeeping and administrative experience for the past twenty-four years which I feel qualifies me to fill satisfactorily the office I seek. For the past four years I have been in the office of the County Roads engineer.

I pledge an honest and efficient administration in the duties of the treasurer's office should I be nominated and later elected.

Joseph H. Welch,
Mt. Lake Park

No. 4443 Equity. In the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to procure the passage of a decree for the sale of the real estate of Emelia A. Paulie, deceased, situate in the town of Hutton, Garrett County, Maryland, and for the distribution.

The bill states:

That Emelia A. Paulie in her lifetime was seized and possessed of certain valuable real estate situate, lying and being in the town of Hutton, Garrett County, Maryland, known and designated as Lots Numbers 28 and 30 in the Southview Addition to said town, excepting all minerals, mining rights thereunder, it being the same which was conveyed unto the said Emelia A. Paulie, as E. A. Paulie by deed from O. F. Frankhouser et al, dated July 12th, 1950, and recorded in Liber R.L.D. No. 166, folio 379 &c, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, which said deed has been filed as "Plaintiffs Exhibit No. 1" that the said Emelia A. Paulie while seized and possessed of the aforesaid real estate departed this life on the 29th day of June, 1953, intestate, and leaving surviving her the following children and descendants, to whom, as her heirs at law, the said lands have descended, viz: Fred H. Paulie, a son, who intermarried with Jessie Paulie, and reside in Garrett County, Maryland; Alton Paulie, a son, who intermarried with Ruth Paulie, and reside in Clearfield County, Pennsylvania; Josephine Paulie Sereno, a daughter, who intermarried with Joseph Sereno, and reside in Tioga County, Pennsylvania; Alma Paulie Lemaitre, widow, resides in Delaware County, Indiana; Raynor Paulie, single, whose last known address was Magdalena, Socorra County, New Mexico, but whose present whereabouts are unknown, The Garrett County Welfare Board, Oakland, Maryland, Emroy Bolden, trading as Bolden Funeral Home, Oakland, Maryland, and William Hardesty, trading as Hardesty Brothers, Oakland, Maryland, and Fred Paulie, Oakland, Maryland.

Number 4446 Equity. In the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this proceeding is to secure the foreclosure of all rights of redemption in the following property situate in Election District No. 16 of Garrett County, Maryland, sold by the Late Collector and Collector of Taxes for Garrett County and the State of Maryland to the plaintiffs in this proceeding:

Lot No. 1214 on the E. side of L St., in Mt. Lake Park, and being part of the same which was conveyed to William T. Wiant by deed from Charles P. Masden and Laura E. Masden, his wife, dated October 6, 1883, and recorded in Liber W.H.T. No. 8, folio 202, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, and assessed to William T. Wyant.

The bill states, among other things, that the amounts for redemption have not been paid, although more than a year and a day from the date of sale has expired.

IT IS THEREUPON, this 16th day of February, 1954, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, ORDERED that notice be given by the insertion of a copy of this Order in some newspaper having a general circulation in Garrett County, one a week for four successive weeks, warning all persons interested in said property to be and appear in this Court by the 23rd day of May, 1954, and redeem the property and answer the bill, or thereafter a final decree will be rendered foreclosing all rights or redemption in the property, and vesting in the plaintiffs a title, free and clear of all encumbrances.

Over 250 Attend K. of P. Celebration

Over two hundred fifty persons were present at the annual birthday celebration of the Knights of Pythias lodge at Oakland last Friday night. The occasion marked the 65th anniversary of the local lodge and the 90th of the organization nationally.

Twenty-five and fifty year jewels were presented to members. Julius E. Schlindler, Cumberland, grand secretary of the Knights of Pythias of Maryland, presented a fifty-year jewel to Santford Moon. Harold Schell and Hugh Teets were present to receive their 25-year jewels from A. G. Gortner, Oakland, past grand chancellor of Maryland. Two others who had earned these awards, Spencer Graham and Hugh Maffett, were unable to attend. Thomas Digman, secretary of Acme Lodge No. 62, of Gormania, also presented a 25-year jewel to W. H. Miller, a member of that group.

The Harry Tracey group of Cumberland, composed of 20 performers, furnished the entertainment. Toastmaster was Walter W. Dawson. Elwood L. Groves, chancellor commander, gave a brief address of welcome. Refreshments were served.

Other grand lodge officers present included Odith M. Brotemarkle, past supreme representative; and Walter McKee, grand outer guard, both of Cumberland.

Local officers announced that the rank of Page would be conferred upon a class of two candidates at the regular meeting this Friday night.

District 1 Cage Games Set Friday

The complete list of teams for the District No. 1 high school basketball tourney at Fort Hill High school this Friday and Saturday has been completed, Smithsburg High nailed down the Washington county title by defeating Williamsport 60 to 58 last Friday.

Smithsburg will now clash with defending state class B champion Bruce High of Westernport in the opening game Friday, March 5, at 4:30 p. m. Smithsburg has won ten games against four losses while Bruce has a record of 18 wins in 21 games. Only losses were to Allegany twice, and Piedmont.

Northern To Play

The complete lineup for the first round games Friday have Bruce and Smithsburg at 4:30; Brunswick and Northern of Accident in the second Class B battle at 6:30. Class A games begin at 8 o'clock when Frederick is pitted against Southern of Oakland. Allegany will take on Hagerstown at 9:30 in the final contest Friday.

Both Bruce and Allegany walked off with the B and A honors last year in the district. Bruce moved all the way at College Park in the state rounds to come home with the Class B toga, while Allegany won its first game by dumping Wicomico High 61-46 but fell to Montgomery Blair of Silver Spring 60 to 57 in the state championship rounds.

Frederick High has posted nine victories in 17 games. Southern, the fourth Class A representative will show a record of eight wins and eleven losses to date.

Brunswick has a record of 14 wins and five losses, while Northern has had six victories and fourteen losses.

Finals in both classes will be played Saturday.

An Inkling's Enough . . .

This week we happened to learn of an attitude we didn't like. We don't think you would like it either. We got only an inkling of this but an inkling is enough to cause us to offer a warning and point out the possible outcome of such unsportsmanlike conduct.

This year people of the county have seen the result of the teaching of good sportsmanship in our two high schools. There was very little booing at games and we'll venture to say that most of what did occur was because of adults. There was spirited competition between the two schools, but friendly relationships between players and other students, and between coaches. Southern High rooters were aware of this display of good sportsmanship at Cumberland last Friday when Northern students helped yell for Southern in the game against Frederick.

Citizens have witnessed the biggest jump in interest in athletics in many years. It is high in both schools and on a high plane. It is on an educational level that aims to have a lot of students participate. Development of intra-mural sports is being planned. At Southern, coaches are giving their time in developing interest in the youngsters so that when they get into senior high school they will learn not only athletic knowledge but have acquired good character traits which inevitably brush off these coaches who do the job they were hired to perform.

We want to draw the line on any attempt to put pressure on any coach to have a winning team at any cost. We are aware what it has already done at Westernport where Bruce's coach was threatened over the phone by unidentified persons just because the Bulldogs lost to Allegany High. We heard a Bayard fan, the night of the Bayard-Southern game here, remark, "I'll wager so and so won't be coach next year." And all because Bayard boys lost by a few points.

The appearance of that kind of reasoning in this county will do more to kill athletics than any other single item. Just a little inkling of that attitude was heard over the week-end. Even an inkling is too much. By far a large majority of people resent such an attitude. So let's be prompt in squelching it. There's hardly any trouble between the students. But those adults—they are the ones to watch.

Paul Fisher Seeks Sheriff Re-election

Paul W. Fisher, sheriff of Garrett county for the past three and one-half years, announced this week he is seeking re-election to the office, subject to his nomination at the Republican primary election in June. He officially filed his candidacy with the clerk to the Board of Election Supervisors.

Sheriff Fisher is a resident of district No. 2, Friendsville, and has spent his entire life in that community except for the time he has been in the office of sheriff in Oakland, and prior to that as four years as deputy sheriff.

Mr. Fisher states that he feels he has carried on the duties of the office without fear or partiality and declares that his experience in the office should well qualify him to carry on the duties the way the citizens of the county should expect them to be carried on.

He seeks the support of the voters at the coming primary election.

Dwight Barrick Announces

Dwight A. Barrick, of Kitzmiller, this week announced his candidacy for the nomination for County Commissioner, from Commissioner district No. 1, subject to the Republican primary election.

Mr. Barrick has been a resident of election district No. 13, Kitzmiller, during his lifetime. At present he is serving as trial magistrate in that area. He served for a brief time in the U.S. Navy during World War II. is married and the father of four children.

Scout Troops Plan Charter Presentation

Boy Scouts of Oakland and Crellin troops are planning a public charter presentation on Tuesday, March 23. The affair will be held in the Methodist church basement in Oakland.

Present for this occasion will be Jim Gelwicks, a scout commissioner from the Philadelphia regional office, and Willis V. Smith, scout executive, Potomac Council, of Cumberland.

Harold Lantz, Crellin scoutmaster, will lead the two troops in a rededication service, while Ralph Fauber, Oakland scoutmaster, will be in charge of a demonstration of knot tying.

Parents and other interested persons are invited.

Fair Meeting Is Set For Monday

Another meeting of the County Agricultural Fair group is set for Monday, March 15, at 8 p. m., at the fire hall in Oakland.

Those interested in completing the organization are asked to be present and to bring other interested persons. Those in charge hope to have enough stock certificates sold at this time to assure completion of its incorporation.

O'Donnell visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. O'Donnell, in Washington, D. C., and relatives in Mt. Lake Park.

Inspects Armory

Progress of the addition to the National Guard armory on High street, Oakland, was noted yesterday by General Milton A. Reckord, head of the Maryland National Guard. Gen. Reckord was accompanied by Col. Chester B. Simmons, of the State military department.

Records and equipment of the local guard unit also were checked. Gen. Reckord and Col. Simmons had come to Oakland from Frostburg where they inspected the construction of the new armory there.

CHARLES DURBIN—Center for the Southern High Highlanders, is one of four high school players of the Tri-State area who averaged better than 20 points a game during the 1953-54 season. Durbin had 446 points in 21 games and an average of 21.2.

A lot of Durbin's points were made possible by the expert passing to his teammates, but his season's total was increased by his own efforts at the foul line where he is a consistent point getter. Durbin is a junior and will have another year as a Highlander. He is a real sharp shooter.

Only Bruce May of Hyndman had a higher scoring average than he, May's average was 23.6.

Beer License To Sheehe Revoked

Opinion on Hearing Is Filed —Attorneys Plan To Appeal Case

The license issued to Margaret Fay Sheehe, to sell beer at the Manhattan hotel in Oakland, was ordered revoked by the Board of License Commissioners, following a hearing in the office of the County Commissioners last Tuesday.

The decision was released in an opinion prepared by the board's attorney, and signed by S. F. Stahl and Jonas W. Sines, two of the three-man board. The third member, J. Edward Helbig, is a patient in the local hospital.

Attorneys for Mrs. Sheehe announced on Tuesday that they would appeal the decision of the board to the Garrett County Circuit court, asking that the order be rescinded.

The hearing was on whether or not the license should be suspended or revoked. In the opinion of the board it was stated that the gist of the argument offered by counsel for Mrs. Sheehe was that "the convictions of James McNelis and Richard Sheehe for the sale of alcoholic beverages other than beer on the premises known as the Manhattan hotel in the town of Oakland, was the first offense, while the said Margaret Fay Sheehe held said license, and that therefore, the decision of this board should be the same as that given to other licensees convicted of first offense. The counsel for Margaret Fay Sheehe admitted that it was regular and lawful to revoke said license following a conviction for the first time of the sale of illegal liquor.

"The Board cannot help but take judicial notice of the operations of the Manhattan hotel in Oakland and also consider the evidence offered as to the holder of Trader's license for the premises. The Board feels that it has a duty to uphold the law and to see that the laws are interpreted according to the spirit as well as the letter of the same. The board further feels that it is for the best interest of the people of Garrett county, Maryland, that the class D beer license No. 723 issued to Margaret Fay Sheehe be revoked."

The board then issued an order that the revocation be effective upon the service of a copy of the order upon Mrs. Sheehe or one of her attorneys, and it was ordered that the license be surrendered immediately following the service of the copy of this order.

According to the county beer law, when a license is revoked no application for renewal may be made for two years.

Calf Ring Enters 6th Year in County

The four-H dairy calf ring is now entering its sixth year in Garrett county, according to James McHenry, assistant county agent.

To date 45 calves have been placed with 4-H members and three additional calves are pending placement.

The program was developed in the county in 1949 under the sponsorship of the Sears foundation. Of the 48 calves involved, 30 were originally purchased through funds furnished by the foundation. Each calf is a registered purebred, valued at $150. Any boy or girl between the ages of 10 and 16 in 4-H work or interested in joining a 4-H club is eligible to send in an application for the calves.

McHenry explained that calf placement is determined by a 4-H dairy calf committee consisting of farmers from the various county communities.

The boy or girl who receives a calf raises it, breeds it artificially through the University of Maryland artificial breeding association, and returns to the 4-H ring the first heifer calf. These heifer calves are then given to another 4-H boy or girl, and in this way the program becomes self supporting. The local ring hopes to receive from eight to ten heifers back each year.

Named Treasurer Of Group

Dr. Harold Ashby, Oakland optometrist, was named treasurer of the Western Maryland Optometric association, at a meeting recently in Hagerstown. A Cumberland man was named president.

A. D. Naylor Rounds Out Seventy Years Of Business In County Seat

Reviews Some Local History In Letter To The Editor— Sale To Mark Anniversary At Hardware Store

The A. D. Naylor and Company Hardware in Oakland is announcing an anniversary sale in today's issue to mark the seventy years which the store has been in operation in Oakland, under the leadership of Alonzo D. Naylor and his offspring.

The sale will begin March 12 and will continue until March 20. The company is offering $1 free in merchandise to every person who is 70 years of age (must be born in 1884) and is also offering free a set of horseshoes to every horse attending the anniversary sale.

When Mr. Naylor observed his 50th anniversary in 1934 he wrote a letter to the editor reviewing some local history. Following the pattern, he again furnishes the following history:

To the Editor of The Republican:

This week marks my seventieth anniversary in business in Oakland and I feel very proud.

I came to Oakland on March 12, 1884, and succeeded Mr. Charles H. Sincell in the blacksmith business, he having died a few weeks previous.

I worked nearly three years prior to coming to Oakland for Mr. A. P. Ritzell, Keyser, W. Va. Learning of the opportunity of engaging in business for myself at Oakland through a Mr. Richardson of Keyser, I came to Oakland to look over the situation. After consulting with some of the business men of the town I decided this was the place for me to locate. I have never had cause to regret my decision.

I so well remember the first morning I started to work in Oakland. It was a stormy, cold morning. There were several glass out of the shop windows on the west side and during the night snow that blew in left a sheet of it covering the floor.

I remember the first work I did that morning was to repair a three-seated wagon for George D. White who was in the livery business at that time. Also I handled several stable forks for Wm. P. Totten, brought to the shop by a colored man named Coleman Dandridge.

The first horse I shod was for Nathan Casteel, father of T. W. Casteel.

There have been quite a few changes in the Oakland of today and the Oakland when I came here.

Seventy years ago the Oakland Hotel and the Glades hotel, which some people remember, did a thriving business during the summer months. Both hotels were crowded with guests, many of whom brought their carriages and horses with them and would board their animals at various livery stables in Oakland, those of George D. White, Michael Maroney, Charles Sweeney and Thomas Martin.

The Oakland Hotel maintained an orchestra and some years it also had a band which would give public concerts in the park at the

Lenten Services To Continue Wednesday

The third in the series of Union Lenten Services will be held in St. Paul's Methodist church, Wednesday evening, March 17, at 7:30, with Dr. Paul S. Parker, pastor of the Deep Creek Baptist church, preaching on "John, the Great Hearted Man." The subject follows the theme for this season, namely, "Followers of the Christ." The choir of St. Paul's church, directed by Mrs. Frederick A. Thayer, Jr., will render special music. All are invited. The purpose of these services is to make Lent a truly spiritual season.

Last night's service was held at the Nazarene church with Rev. William A. Renn, of Red House, preaching on "Peter, the Man of Impulse."

Budget Provides Funds for Public Park on Deep Creek

Selection Of Site Yet To Be Made By Board

The recent legislature provided an additional $40,000 for the public park at Deep Creek Lake, it was learned this week from the county's representatives at Annapolis. The money became available through the passage of Governor McKeldin's capital improvement bond bill, and will be allocated through the Department of State Forests and Parks.

A total of $85,000 was provided last year for the purchase of a site. The location of the public park is still undecided. Following a meeting in Annapolis late in February it was decided to review the possibilties of sites along the lake front. The most favored spot appears to be in the area of Meadow Mountain run, near where the state already owns acreage, although most of it is away from the water front.

Delegate Arthur Green had a breakdown of the $40,000 allocation as follows: $15,000, road construction; $7,500, sanitary facilities; $5,000, parking area; $7,500 picnic facilities; and $5,000 for a self-service bath house.

Accepts Call To Nazarene Church

Rev. Glenn Eagle, pastor of the Nazarene church at Woodstown, N. J., has accepted a call to become pastor of the Church of the Nazarene in Oakland.

He will succeed Rev. Forrest Benner, who was called to the church at West Grove, Pa., recently and who moved there about February 15.

Rev. and Mrs. Eagle have three small children, two daughters and one son. He will assume his duties here in April.

Local Chamber Is Opposed to Gas Rate Increasing

A telegram vigorously protesting any increased rate in the cost of natural gas for this area, was sent to the Public Service commission of Maryland Tuesday by the Board of Directors of the Mt. Top Chamber of Commerce.

The telegram had been authorized at a recent meeting, according to Charles L. Briner, secretary.

The telegram noted that one of the reasons for the proposed increase is to expand facilities and it pointed out that the new compressor plant located near Mt. Lake Park, valued at about three-fourths of a million dollars, was idle. The boards asked "Why then if there is such a need to expand, do they not use the equipment on hand."

It further declared "Many homes in this and other areas will be forced to convert their gas furnaces to other uses if this increase in rates is granted. It will entail the spending of hundreds of dollars for everyone who now uses gas."

The board said the gas company had put on a selling campaign to have gas furnaces installed, and that plain arithmetic showed that instead of a 36 percent increase it would amount to 50 percent. It asked the commission to go into the matter thoroughly before making a decision.

The board met yesterday.

A Gas company official told the Public Service commission six out of every 10 residential customers would pay only two cents more a day if requested higher rates are approved.

The increase would total $418,000 a year for about 20,500 consumers in Garrett and Allegany counties. Of the total more than half would go for Maryland and federal taxes, the official said.

He declared the increase would average about $3.70 a month during the eight months of a normal heating season for a typical six-room house.

Lions Club Minstrel Set for Mar. 18-19

The annual minstrel of the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions club is scheduled to be presented next Thursday and Friday nights, March 18 and 19, in the Old Oakland High school auditorium. The curtain will go up at 8 o'clock.

Beeson Snyder is the interlocutor and end men are Marvin Jones, James Rook, Thomas Thayer, Max Propst, Arthur Calhoun and Richard Pagenhardt. The minstrel is being directed by Mrs. Russell Brown, with Julius Littman at the piano.

Other members of the club will act as the chorus. There will be specialty numbers and special songs.

Firemen Answer Alarm

Oakland firemen were called to Crook Crest on Tuesday afternoon to help extinguish a grass fire that had gotten beyond control.

There was some damage to some pine trees planted on the hillside in rear of Dr. A. E. Mance's property.

Residence Rule Prevents Tie In Oakland Election

Maroney Is Third Council Member—Miller Declared Ineligible

Only the application of a section in the charter of Oakland determining eligibility of candidates for office, prevented a tie in the race for third member of the Oakland City council at Monday's election.

Mayor Joseph Hinebaugh was re-elected with a total vote of 260, although a write-in campaign gave Grover C. Stemple 11[illegible] votes.

Maurice S. Brookhart with 285 votes and Harry L. Stemple with 252 votes, were re-elected to the council, with William D. Rees, incumbent, running for re-election, being defeated. He had 169 votes.

Robert M. Maroney will be the third member of the council, having received 192 votes. He was tied with Carroll E. Miller, but a regulation uncovered by Lewis R. Jones, city attorney, made him ineligible to serve.

Section 173 of the town's charter states: No person shall be eligible as a member of the Town Council unless he shall have resided two years next preceding his election in the town of Oakland and shall be 25 years of age. Miller passed the last test of age, but has not resided in the corporate limits for two years.

Miller resides in that northeast section of Oakland which was incorporated officially as of June, 1952. The town decided to incorporate in November, 1951, but didn't get around to preparing the official ordinance until June of the next year.

Miss Julia A. Rowan, unopposed for treasurer, received 360 votes.

A total of 424 votes was cast.

The new council will organize at April's meeting. Hold-over members are Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, Donald M. Browning and Emeric G. Dusic.

Yost Is Candidate For Commissioner

Foster Yost of Accident, election district No. 5, announced yesterday his candidacy for the office of County Commissioner, subject to the Republican primary election in June.

Born and readed on a farm near Grantsville, Mr. Yost has resided in the county most of his life. He now resides on a one-hundred acre farm just south of Accident. He has been identified with the work of the Garrett County Farm Bureau for a number of years, having served as vice-president for six years and its president for five. He was also a member of its board of directors for two years. Mr. Yost has been a member of the board of supervisors of the county soil conservation district since its organization ten years ago.

He declares his experience in this work would be of great help in administering the duties of the office. He would come under County Commissioner district 2.

7 Indictments Are Returned By Grand Jury

Adjourns Yesterday After Examining 27 Witnesses —Makes Number of Recommendations

The grand jurors for the March Term ended their investigations yesterday about noon after having been in session since Monday. Their report showed that 27 witnesses were examined and seven indictments were returned.

The indictments covered the "run of mine" offenses, according to W. Dwight Stover, State's Attorney. Three of the indictments are against persons already in custody of the sheriff and concern breaking and entering. They are Alvie Thomas, John Thomas and Elmer Dilsworth, Stover said.

Virgil Secrist, bulldozer operator, who was severely beaten at Kitzmiller early in February, was called before the Grand jurors, supposedly on the picketing and labor disorder in that town at that time, and it was reported several other persons were called before the investigating body in regard to the same trouble. A hearing is still pending in the Trial Magistrate's court in Oakland, in the case of three men who are charged with riot and assault on Secrist. The hearing was postponed because Secrist had been a hospital patient and had been unable to appear to testify.

The jurors recommended a check of all places where slot machines and gaming tables may be located and also recommended that beer establishments be inspected to ascertain that no beer is being sold without the county tax being paid on it, and whether or not a beer license had a pool room in connection with his business.

Authorities were given encouragement to the end that the new wing for the hospital be com-

Winners Named In AAUW Art Contest

Gladys Harsh, with a still life painting, won first prize and $5 in the art contest conducted by the Garrett Branch, American Association of University Women. There were thirty-five entries.

Second prize and $2.50 were won by Barbara Glotfelty, with a winter scene, while Evangeline Fike with her Red Barn, won third prize and $2.50.

Honorable mention went to Fred Dilgard, workman; Gladys Harsh, waterfall; Jackie Groves, autumn; Anne Troy, still life; Jackie Groves, Mt. Snow; and Ruby Gregy, Blue Vase; William Henline, Boy walking, and Harold Harris.

They will be on display at the Ruth Enlow library for the next ten days, after which they will be exhibited at a state contest at Frederick April 9. In former years Garrett county's exhibits have won the greatest number of prizes of any branch in Maryland.

Seek Bridge Bids

The State Roads Commission is advertising this week for bids for construction of the bridge over the Potomac River at Kitzmiller.

The specifications call for the construction of a five span steel beam bridge over the river on the proposed relocation of Maryland route 38 and West Virginia route 42.

The bridge will be 28 feet wide, with two five-foot sidewalks. The bids are to include the grading, paving and construction of drainage facilities for 1,200 feet of approach roadway in Maryland and 650 feet of approach roadway in West Virginia.

Bids are to be filed with the State Roads commission by noon of April 6.

Garden Club To Meet

The Garden club will meet Monday evening, March 22, at 8 o'clock in the band room at the City hall, at Oakland. Anyone interested in flower gardening, landscaping, etc., is invited to attend. An initial meeting was held four weeks ago at Southern High when it was planned to meet the 4th Monday evening of each month. C. W. Englander, Edward F. Smouse and Guy William Hinebaugh are members of the guiding committee.

"Our Growing Edge"

MRS. MARTHA GLOTFELTY

Prayer—A Necessity For Growth

The first Friday in Lent has been set aside as a World Day of Prayer by Christian women all over the world. Last Friday, women and men from 113 countries gathered in small groups in their homes, churches and places of business for united prayer. The dominant petition of these Christian men and women was for peace. They were asking for the wisdom to find means of preserving peace, for God's guidance to lead them into His ways of peace.

This observance of a special day of prayer was begun by Presbyterian women 67 years ago, and has grown tremendously, until today it is used as a special day by almost every race under the sun.

Christian women have an opportunity to aid the cause of world peace tremendously. By their study and knowledge of people in other lands, they will come to an understanding of their peculiar problems and have a desire to help them. They will see their fellow Christians of every land as a great chain linking race to race in a world-wide fellowship of love. By their gifts, they can make possible Christian education, medical training for their people, and better methods of using their natural resources to improve their standards of living.

Women of other lands have many things to teach us who live here in America. We see, as we know them better, why they think and believe as they do. Yes, we even see the seeds of war being sown, with the Christian minority in the background.

Would you like to grow both mentally and spiritually? Then, start the study of Missions in our own land and others. No more thrilling chapter of human achievement has ever been written, than is being written today by our modern pioneers in our missionary fields all over the world. Handicapped by war, inflation and the "isms," they are fighting a gallant battle to carry the Christian gospel into every land. We should help them with our prayers and our gifts.

An artist was asked to paint a picture of a dying church. It was thought that he would picture a small, feeble congregation in a ruined building. But no; he depicted a stately edifice, with a rich pulpit, organ and windows. But in the porch there was hung a small box with the words above it, "For Missions," and just where the contributions should have gone, the slit was blocked by a cobweb. The artist's conception of a dying church was one that had no interest in its world mission.

Prayer is a necessity for growth, but we should never forget that it is also necessary for us to work for the things for which we pray. That is, indeed, our great privilege.

United States called on inter-American conference to view Communist seizure of power in any American republic the same as it would invasion by a foreign aggressor.

Cattle Grubs Are In Herds All Over Md.

A recent survey conducted by University of Maryland Extension entomologists and county agents in five Maryland counties shows that cattle grubs are present in herds in all parts of the state.

T. L. Bissell, Extension entomologist, says the survey was made in Washington, Howard, Montgomery, Calvert and Wicomico counties. These counties were selected to get a representative sample of the whole state.

Wallace Harding of the department of entomology made the survey with the assistance of county agents and examined a total of 107 dairy cows and 161 beef animals on 15 farms.

Forty-six percent of the dairy cows and 68 percent of the beef animals had grubs. The number of grubs per animal varied from 1 to 40. Animals were about equally grubby in the five counties visited, according to Bissell.

The Extension entomologist recommends that cattle be treated now with rotenone dust or rotenone spray to kill the grubs. He points out that the rotenone must enter the holes made in the hide by the insect in order to be effective.

Bissell says that cattle should be confined in a chute or pen while the rotenone is being applied. The confinement makes it possible for the owner to closely examine each animal and make sure he gets complete treatment.

NEWS FROM THE Ruth Enlow Library

BY EDITH BROCK

A gift of $25.00 has been received from the Garrett branch of the American Association of University Women for the purchase of phonograph records for children. These records may be borrowed for home use by families and organizations. Any other gifts of suitable records in good condition will be welcomed to build up this collection.

Mrs. Robert Ruckert is presenting a book to the library in memory of Mrs. Owen Treacy. Mrs. Edith M. Bateman, the John Castilow family, and William Niner have donated books this week.

Mary N. Bennett has given a Viewmaster, a projector and a large set of pictures to the library.

Farmers Urged To Think About Seed

Will you plant good seed in 1954?

Joe Newcomer, University of Maryland Extension agronomist who is in charge of seed certification in the state, says Maryland farmers should do some thinking about this question before seeds are purchased for the coming planting season.

Newcomer explains that good seed is free from other crop seeds and weeds, and that it has high germination. He points out, however, that many crops have failed because these were the only points considered.

The agronomist wants to impress upon farmers the need to look just a little farther, and make sure they have seed of the right variety.

Newcomer says farmers often ask him how they can be sure of getting good seed of the right variety. He answers by listing five simple rules: 1. Buy seed of adapted varieties. 2. Buy certified seed. 3. Buy seed from a reliable seed dealer. 4. Read the tag carefully before buying—not after planting. 5. Buy on quality and not on price.

Tests have been conducted at numerous locations in the state to carefully study the performance of most of the available varieties of each crop grown in Maryland, Newcomer says. "Results of these tests are available at county agents' offices or from the University of Maryland agronomy department.

"Maryland law requires that all seed sold be labeled with a tag listing the kind of seed, lot number, percentage of pure seed, other crop seed, weed seed, and inert matter. The germination and the date of germination test must be shown. The date of germination test should be not more than nine months previous to the time of sale. If noxious weeds are present they must be listed."

Kidney Slow-Down May Bring Restless Nights

When kidney function slows down, many folks complain of nagging backache, headaches, dizziness and loss of pep and energy. Don't suffer restless nights with these discomforts if reduced kidney function is getting you down—due to such common causes as stress and strain, over-exertion or exposure to cold. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

54 Marriage Permits Granted In 2 Weeks

Fifty-four marriage permits were issued during the past two weeks ending Monday at noon from the office of Richard L. Davis, clerk of the Circuit court. Twenty-four were issued one week and thirty during the past week. The total for March is now fifty-three.

One hundred three licenses were issued during the month of February. Six licenses issued during the two weeks were marked "don't publish."

The Look of Tomorrow is in every '54 BUICK Today
With completely new "years-ahead" styling—keynoted by the dream-car design of the panoramic sweep-back windshield.

Take it Easy
you don't have to prove a thing!

LET'S be sensible about this subject of horsepower.

An all-American tackle doesn't go around tackling people in everyday life.

A world-record sprinter doesn't have to demonstrate his prowess on city sidewalks.

The better you are, the less you have to prove it.

And that's how it is with a Buick CENTURY.

Of course it's a spectacular performer—a car with instantly responsive action.

It has to be, for this one combines a high-compression 200-horsepower V8 engine with a nimble weight of only 3866 pounds as it comes off the assembly line.

That's a power-to-weight ratio that chalks up a new record—a ratio that no other Buick has ever reached before.

It can spin your wheels on a dry pavement if you give it the gun, but why waste rubber?

If some show-off wants to get the jump on you at a traffic light, why not let him have fun? He isn't kidding anyone but himself, when the name on your car is CENTURY.

The real pride of owning such a car is simply this: You know so well what it can do that you never have to prove it.

That lets you enjoy the tireless ease of its gait in ordinary driving, when only a fraction of its eager power is working. It gives you a quick reserve for breasting a hill—and the happy knowledge that there's still more to come in a sudden emergency.

Sure, this is more power than most people really have to have. But you can hardly call it extravagant, when you are buying more horsepower per dollar in a CENTURY than you get in any other car in America.

AURORA-EGLON

Word was received in this area the marriage of Mrs. Ada Winl to Charles Vought, both of ra Alta. The double ring ceremony was performed February 21 the Methodist church in Arlingn, Va. They now reside at nesville. Mr. Vought was forrly of near Eglon.

Death

Glenn Gordon Myers, 56, died ly Wednesday morning, March at his home in Rowlesburg, W. after a long illness.

He was born at Aurora, a son of late David W. and Emma ntz Myers. Survivors include his low, Amanda Mae DeBerry My, one daughter, one granddaughtwo sisters and four brothers. Final rites will be conducted on iday afternoon at Rowlesburg, th interment in Aurora cemey.

86 Bills Passed By Legislature

The 1954 Legislature introduced 289 bills and passed 86 of them. In 1952 the senators and delegates introduced 218 bills and 75 of them went onto the statute books.

The odd year sessions see much more action. Last year 785 laws went onto the books after 1,500 were introduced.

If a 1954 bill to change the constitution so that towns and cities may have a greater degree of control over their own affairs is approved by the electorate at a November referendum, the flow of local bills should be cut by an estimated twenty percent.

Among bills passed at the thirty day session of particular interest to the county were the following:

Annual assessment to begin in 1956. This was opposed by the county delegation.

A bill to increase salaries of County Superintendents of schools, with entire amounts being paid by the state. At present salaries are supplemented by levies by County Commissioners.

Defeat of an amendment to the judge bill which would have given Allegany county two judges in the proposed new set-up. The voters are to decide in November whether each county except those on the Eastern shore would have one judge. If the bill passes a vote of the people Garrett county would be entitled to a judge.

Legislators passed a war veterans' bonus bill but its legality is in doubt. A referendum also is attached to this bill.

Other legislation was listed in last week's issue. The county's legislators returned to their homes last week.

TO THE VOTERS OF OAKLAND

I sincerely appreciate the efforts of those who voted for me in our recent election.

Because of conditions unknown to me, I was ruled ineligible to accept your nomination.

CARROLL E. MILLER

DIED

MRS. GEO. H. FALKENSTEIN

Mrs. Minnie May Falkenstein, widow of George H. Falkenstein, died in St. Petersburg, Fla., on Tuesday morning, March 9, where she had resided most of the time for some twenty-five years.

She was the daughter of the late Isaac Leighton and Elizabeth Vernon Leighton and was born on May 1, 1868. She was aged 85 years.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Denver C. Pickens and Mrs. Carlton C. Gould, both of St. Petersburg; one sister, Miss Ada V. Leighton, near Friendsville.

She resided in Terra Alta, W. Va., for a number of years prior to going to Florida.

A funeral service was held in St. Petersburg on Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock. The body left there this morning and will arrive in Oakland Friday afternoon and will remain at the Leighton Funeral home in Oakland until Sunday afternoon when funeral services will be conducted from the Methodist church in Terra Alta, of which she was a member, at 3 o'clock. Rev. Sumner Sawyers, pastor of the church, will be in charge. The body will be taken to the church at 2 o'clock. Interment will be in the Terra Alta cemetery.

Family Life Specialist To Give Series Of Talks

Mrs. Jeanne Moehn, family life specialist for the Maryland Extension service, will have three meetings in the county March 18 and 19.

On March 18, at 1:30 at the Accident Fire hall she will have a training meeting for the family life chairmen of the county homemakers clubs. Her topic will be "Making Discipline Easier."

She plans to meet also with Older Youth that evening in the Extension office in Oakland at 8 p. m. with her topic for discussion being "Etiquette and Dating."

On Friday, March 19, she will have an open meeting for all interested persons in the Accident fire hall at 7:30 p. m., on the topic, "The House I Live In—Prejudice."

Other Homemaker meetings listed:

March 15, Mt. View club at 1:30 in home of Mrs. John Menges. March 16, Hoyes, at 1:30 p. m.; March 17, Accident, at 1:30, at fire hall; March 18, Friendsville at 7:30; March 19, The Acorn, at home of Mrs. Milton Shumate at 2 p. m.

Four-H meetings—March 16, North Glade, at the school, 8 p. m.; March 19, Bloomington, 2 p. m.

Pays Tribute To 4-H Leaders

In observing national 4-H club week this week, extension workers in Garrett county paid tribute to the 4-H local leaders and the continual work which they do for the boys and girls of the community.

"The 4-H movement has been successful only through the continued efforts of the 4-H local leaders," said James McHenry, assistant county agent and worker with 4-H boys' clubs here. "They voluntarily devote their time and effort to aid boys and girls in growing in the 4-H program and in citizenship. Garrett county has been fortunate in having top leadership in this respect."

McHenry said there are 15 boys' 4-H club organizations in the county. Their leaders are Dale Glotfelty, Bittinger; Forrest Jacobs and Bill Stanton, Grantsville; Harland Beachy, North Glade; Miss Elizabeth Workman, Grantsville; Mrs. Charlotte Bernard, of Bloomington; Roscoe Swiger, Sunnyside; Charles Rexrode, McHenry; Elbert Riley, Ryan's Glade; Mr. and Mrs. William Bittinger, Corunna; Merle Garletts, Asher Glade.

During 4-H club week a special effort is being made to increase membership. Boys or girls between the ages of 10 and 21 are eligible. It is strictly voluntary and there is no charge, he said. Those interested should contact the local leaders or the extension office.

Quite A Show - - -

The Belle of Bagdad, presented by the Southern high senior chorus this week was one of the nicest entertainments we have seen in a long while, and only serves to add emphasis to the possibilities of having the proper facilities at the school for the expression of all kinds of talent. The entire gymnasium floor was their stage and the difficulties of not having a genuine stage didn't seem to handicap these youthful players one bit.

Costumes were effective, the acting was good, and it seemed to make no difference to the audience that the soldiers were in tennis shoes and the dancers in their bare feet. (The latter were in their proper category anyhow).

Somehow, Mrs. Russell Brown has all the students giving their best for the audience. And there's no getting around the fact that Tommy Turney would bring a laugh from the Great Stone face.

BY GEORGE S. BENSON
President of Harding College

It is important that we get a clear understanding of political and economic words and phrases, for we are in the midst of a conflict in which words play a vital role. There are some sharp and important differences between "democracy" and "republic."

DEMOCRACY: The Greeks gave us the word, meaning the people rule. The basic element in political democracy is legal and political equality for all. Democracy doesn't set up any certain form of government except the "Town Meeting" forum in which all citizens come together and make their laws on the basis of majority rule. Minority is overruled and may be overrun or even destroyed in this form of government.

Actually, in its widest usage today the term "democracy" is almost altogether economic in its meaning. The Russian Communists call themselves "democrats" and declare that "democracy" means public ownership of factories and farms—with every citizen allotted an equal share of the goods and services produced.

The British Socialists have what they themselves call "democratic Socialism," or Socialism by vote of the majority, but they claim that "democracy" means the Welfare State idea, or "equal shares" for all.

Such economic aspects of "democracy" were not respected by the framers of the Declaration of Independence and the United States Constitution. The purpose of these pioneers in human freedom was to set up a government that would give mankind the fullest opportunity for liberty, spiritual growth, economic progress, and the pursuit of happiness. This was the great liberal philosophy which characterized the creation of the U. S. A. Genuine political liberalism means political and economic freedom—that's all.

REPUBLIC: In the form in which we have it, a "republic" means representative government with political and legal equality for all. It is founded on a constitution, with divisions of authority and with states and individual rights clearly defined. The framers of the Constitution, in creating our Republic, were aware that the states were creating the Federal government, not vice versa, and that the people were sovereign in those states.

No Republic like it has ever existed. It has permitted the flourishing of a democratic way of life—but not a democracy; a way of life with man's God-given rights protected by constitutional law, and with equality of opportunity and of franchise extended to all, majority and minority alike.

Tuesday, March 23, Southern High school, 9 to 12; Rohrbaugh's Filling station, 1 to 1:30; Bloomington, 2 to 2:30.

ONE WORD . . .

Can Change Your Life

By REV. ROBT. OLEWILER
Pastor, Grace Reformed Church
Washington, D. C.

Personal

Since God is personal, mention your loved ones by name in your prayers.

Some magazine writer added up some figures in the Book of Genesis to prove that Noah left his grandfather out of the ark to drown in the flood. He pieced together those verses which contain the number of years Noah's grandfather and father lived and, after simple arithmetic, concluded that Noah "had room for the laughing hyena, the baboon, and the billy goat, but no room for his poor old grandpappy."

Well, you don't want to leave any of your loved ones out of the ark of your prayers. Cultivate the habit of bringing them and their needs before God in as personal a manner as possible. God calls His sheep and they hear His voice. He knows His own. So in prayer, be personal, the word that can change your life.

Revival At Swanton

PLAYMATES—This young buck has "adopted" the Carl Frazee family, and become quite a member of the household since deciding to stick around several months ago. The deer roams the Frazee farm, on the old Deer Park road just outside the Oakland town limits, sleeping in a barn on the property and generally making himself at home. Here he is shown on the front lawn, in company with a smaller family pet. The deer caused quite a stir some time ago by paying an early morning visit to the nearby Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Seven Indictments Returned by Jury

pleted as rapidly as possible and the jurors urged that local labor be used whenever possible.

The full report of the jurors is given below. Olonzo P. Fike served as foreman with N. Robert Davis and Charles A. Wilt serving as clerks.

Grand Jury Room,
Court House,
Oakland, Maryland.

To the Honorable, the Judges of the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland.

The Grand Jury for Garrett County, in session for the March Term, 1954, respectfully submits the following report:

We were in session for three days, beginning Monday, March 8th, 1954, and concluded our deliberations on Wednesday, March 10th, 1954.

We have examined 27 witnesses and have returned True Bills of indictments in seven cases.

Acting in accordance with the instructions given us by His Honorable, Judge George Henderson, we have had read to us the report of the September Term, 1953, Grand Jury and reviewed the recommendations contained therein. We have also inspected the Sheriff's residence and Jail, the Court House and the Treasurer's Office and books.

In all cases that have been brought before us we have carefully weighed the evidence and have been governed by our obligations as Jurors and our duty to society in insisting on the enforcement of the law, in our action in each instance, with due regard for the rights of the citizen.

We desire to make a number of general recommendations which we feel should be brought to the attention of the proper authorities.

First, we recommend that a thorough check be made of all places where slot machines and gaming tables may be located in this county.

Secondly, we recommend that all retail beer establishments be inspected to ascertain that no beer is being sold without the Garrett County tax being paid on same, and the proper authorities determine whether any beer licensee has a pool room connected with said establishment that may be in violation of the law.

It is the opinion of this Grand Jury that the proper authorities should be given every encouragement to the end that the new wing for the Garrett County Memorial Hospital be completed as rapidly as possible. In the construction of this addition to the hospital and in all other County projects, we urge that local labor be used whenever possible and feasible.

Our inspection of the Jail and Sheriff's residence was made, with the recommendations made by our predecessors before us, and we find that all but one of their recommendations have been followed by the County Commissioners. We desire to repeat the recommendation that the storm doors and windows on the West side of the Sheriff's residence be installed; in addition, we recommend that the entrance floor to the Sheriff's office be repaired so that it will be on the same level as the top step and that the walk in front of the Jail be repaired.

The Jail is clean, in good condition and sanitary. We also find the prisoners to be well fed and treated.

In inspecting the Court House we find that many of the proposed recommendations have been complied with by the Commissioners and we commend them for the many improvements which have been made bot attehh been made both at the Court House and the Sheriff's residence. They have had new Ken-Tile floors laid in the Clerk's office, the Orphan's Court and the County Commissioner's Office, with the latter office being arranged so that additional office space is now available for the County Assessors and their Clerks.

Our inspection of the Court House has been extensive and most of our recommendations in regard thereto deal with housekeeping problems. This public building should be viewed with pride by all the citizens of the County and it is important that it be kept clean. If it is necessary to have additional labor to cope with these problems, then we wholeheartedly recommend that additional local labor be employed. For example, we find the Grand Jury Room door will not remain closed or locked, there are not sufficient hooks for all the Grand Jurors' coats, window shades and blinds in different offices should be cleaned and repaired, windows need to be washed, lights in the record room and stock room adjoining need to be fixed, and the ladies' rest room on the third floor is in need of a blind, lavatories in the Commissioners' office need to be cleaned, and we recommend that immediate action be taken to remedy these matters. In addition, we recommend and emphasize that the walks and wall around the Court House be repaired without delay and weather permitting. The cannon base and walk to cannon base be removed. Lastly, we recommend floor covering in the Board of Education's Finance Room and Pupil Personnel Room, in the Board of Election Supervisors' Office and the ceiling in the dome of the Court House be repainted.

In the Treasurer's Office we find additional space is needed but that it is not available. We therefore recommend the Treasurer be given a different type of furniture and filing cases that are better suited to the small amount of space available and to his work. We also recommend that the leak, whatever its source might be, be repaired and that additional electrical outlets be installed as the present wiring and setup constitutes a hazard. Our Committee found the books, in the Treasurer's Office, to be well kept and in accordance with modern accounting methods.

We renew the recommendation that the Sheriff be given a greater allowance than eighty cents per day per person for the feeding of prisoners.

We renew the recommendation of the September Term Grand Jury that this report be read by the next Grand Jury to determine whether our recommendations in regard to the Court House, Jail and Sheriff's Office have been carried out by the proper officials.

We desire to express to His Honor, Judge George Henderson, our thanks and appreciation for his courtesy extended us during our term.

We also wish to thank Sheriff Paul W. Fisher, the State Police and the Constables of Garrett County for their cooperation and assistance to us during our deliberations. It's our opinion that the Law enforcement officers have performed their duties in a very commendable manner.

And lastly, we wish to express our thanks to Mr. W. Dwight Stover, State's Attorney of Garrett County, for his advice and cooperation as an adviser to this Grand Jury and his able manner in conducting his affairs before us is greatly appreciated, and also we wish to thank Mr. Lester White, Deputy Clerk, and Mr. Charles F. Hammond for their able assistance, during our deliberations.

Respectfully submitted,
Olonzo P. Fike, Foreman.
N. Robert Davis,
Charles A. Wilt, Clerks.

Oakland Dentist To Address Accident P.-T. A.

The Accident P.-T. A. will meet Monday, March 15 at 8 o'clock in the school auditorium. Teachers will be in their rooms from 7:30 to 7:50 p. m. in order that the parents may ask questions pertaining to the children and their school work.

Mrs. Martin Franke, president, announced that Alvin Friend, Oakland dentist, would be guest speaker. His subject will be "What You As Parents Can Do To Aid Your Child in Dental Help."

GRANTSVILLE

Howard McKenzie, who had been a patient in Meyersdale Community Hospital, after being hurt at the Fairview Coal company near Jennings, was brought home Saturday evening. While Mr. McKenzie is still in a cast, he is getting along very well under the care of Dr. John F. Whitehill, who comes here every day except Sunday from his home in Salisbury, Pa.

Miss Viola Broadwater is improving after falling on the ice on her way to school and breaking a leg. She is a teacher in Grantsville Elementary school.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Swartzwelder announce the birth of a daughter on March 1 at Meyersdale Community hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Ferris, Akron, O., and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Otto, of New Germany, are spending some time in Florida.

Mrs. Donald Swanger entertained the Hi-Lo 500 Club. Honors were presented to Mrs. Jonas McKenzie, Mrs. Kenneth Edwards and Mrs. Robert Davis.

Mrs. John Hanft entertained the Ladies 500 Club last week. Honors were presented to Mrs. Ralph Glotfelty.

Mrs. Darrell Stahl is a patient in Memorial Hospital, Cumberland.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Stanton and son, Richard, were guests of Mrs. Eva B. Beachy Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Stanton, of Bittinger, arrived home after spending the past ten days in Florida. Mrs. Stanton's sister, Mrs. Harlene Braden, Washington, D. C., accompanied them from Washington.

Robert Stanton, student at the University of Maryland, College Park, Miss Helen Stanton, R. N., Memorial Hospital, Bedford, Pa., spent the week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Stanton.

Miss Viola Broadwater will serve as chairman for the Red Cross Roll Call for the Grantsville district. The goal is $500. The campaign will continue through March. Olonzo P. Fike, county chairman, is expecting a good response in Grantsville due to the assistance given to Grantsville community for the prevention of yellow jaundice.

Lutherans Issue Call To Pastor

St. Mark's Lutheran church in Oakland has extended a call to Rev. Tobey D. Lytle, of Wheeling, W. Va., to become its pastor. The congregation voted to extend the call at a recent meeting and the church council wrote to him last week.

Rev. Lytle, a native of Parkersburg, W. Va., is a graduate of Wittenberg college, Springfield, O., and is now located at the Warwood church in Wheeling. His resignation was to have been presented to the Wheeling congregation last night.

Large Group Sees "Belle of Bagdad"

At least seven hundred persons witnessed the operetta, "Belle of Bagdad", presented Tuesday night in the Southern High school gymnasium.

Directed by Mrs. Russell Brown, assisted by Miss Janet Heyer, the event was presented in an entirely new setting. Spectators sat on one side of the gymnasium and almost the entire gym floor was the stage setting for a street scene in the market place of the oriental city. Appropriate backdrops had been arranged by the art classes under the direction of Miss Frances Patterson.

Wilbur Davis is a patient in Garrett County Memorial hospital and underwent surgery last Friday. He is convalescing satisfactorily.

Where else do purity and quality mean so much as in the things you and your family eat and drink? No food product that you buy is brought to you with more carefully guarded purity than Coca-Cola.

Here in our bottling plant we treat water with modern filtration processes. This equipment treats water to remove anything that might affect or impair the delicate flavor of Coca-Cola. Now, with this added protection, nothing can change or lessen the quality or purity of the water used in bottled Coca-Cola.

This water treating system represents a substantial investment in equipment. Yet it is only one of the many safeguards that we employ to protect the continuous quality of Coca-Cola. It is only one of the many things we do to make sure that whenever you call for Coke, you always enjoy delicious, wholesome refreshment.

Southern Loses To Allegany After Routing Frederick

Highlanders Take First Encounter 70-54 In Surprise Sharpshooting

After a sensational display of shooting in which Southern High school defeated Frederick High school 70 to 54 last Friday night, the Garrett county class A school was unable to keep up the pace and lost out in the district finals Saturday night against Allegany High school 73 to 47.

Allegany High school of Cumberland, thus became the district one representative at the state championship tournament at College Park this week-end.

In the contest against Frederick High school Southern High school turned in a shooting percentage of .436 by hooping 24 of 55 shots. Center Charley Durbin, top point getter in Western Maryland this season, led Coach Kyle Wilson's Highlanders by ringing up a total of 24 points. The Oakland pivot man, who registered 446 points during the regular 21-game schedule, banged in eight field goals and 8 out of 12 foul shots. Fred Stemple garnered 14 points and Larry Friend had 13 for the winners. Savage had 10, D. Colaw 6 and F. Colaw 3.

Frederick lost three players on personal fouls. Boyles headed the Frederick offensive with 20 points.

Several hundred people were on hand to cheer for Southern's quint at the Fort Hill gymnasium where the contests were held.

Give Allegany Scare

In Saturday night's contest against the district champions, Southern gave them a lot of concern when it looked like the maroon players would do a repeat performance on its percentage of goals. The Allegany Campers had several anxious moments in the first quarter.

Most of the more than 1,000 fans who were on hand to witness the expected walk-over by the Campers were given a surprise and may have had the feeling that an upset was in the making with the whirlwind play of the underdog Highlanders from the first whistle.

But the memory was only six minutes long for the Oakland quint. They jumped away to a 2-0 lead on a tip-in by Durbin and held a 5-3 count. Allegany then went ahead 6-5. Southern led 13 to 12 just before the quarter ended but a pair of fouls put Allegany ahead 14 to 13 just as the whistle blew.

A ten-goal barrage in the second period by Allegany gave the district champions a big lead and put them ahead 38 to 21 at the half. They continued to fire away during the rest of the game. Southern kept fighting away but couldn't overcome the rain of baskets by their opponents.

Durbin wound up with 19 points with Savage getting 8, Stemple 9, T. Colaw 8, and Friend 2.

The Campers outrebounded the Southern quint 46 to 20. Hoffman scored 19 points for Allegany, Rank 5, D. Steele 22, Kirtley 9, Reiber 1, Breedlove 8, Haines 5, Rice 4.

The district playoffs gave Southern a total of 14 losses during the season against nine triumphs.

They are Mrs. Haig Jackson, Mrs. Hugh Echard, Mrs. Irvin Feld, Mrs. Beeson Snyder, Mrs. Frank Rathbun, Mrs. Robert T. Hoffman, Mrs. Wilbur Close, Mrs. Kenneth Lawton, Miss Rose Mitchell, Mrs. Earl Zepp, Mrs. A. J. Haines, Mrs. Robert Stemple, Mrs. Howard White, Mrs. Harry Friend.

Fire Auxiliary Is Organized By Grantsville Women

A meeting of interested persons was held at the Grantsville Volunteer Fire Department hall in Grantsville last Saturday evening, for the purpose of organizing a Ladies' Auxiliary to the Grantsville Volunteer Fire Department. Mrs. Flo Alexander, LaVale, organizer for Allegany county, was in charge. Mrs. Elda Schell, president of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Allegany-Garrett County Volunteer Firemen's association, was the installing officer.

Others present to help organize the Auxiliary were Mrs. Frances Comp, Deer Park, organizer for Garrett county; Mr. and Mrs. Cromwell Zembower, LaVale; Mrs. Helena Thrasher and Mrs. Evelyn Perando, of Deer Park.

Officers elected were Mrs. Helen Pritchard, president; Mrs. Nevin Miller, first vice president; Mrs. Jane Davis, secretary; Mrs. Henry Durst, treasurer; Mrs. Jackie Hoover, chaplain; Mrs. Blaine Durst, guard.

A meeting to complete the organization has been set for March 22. Refreshments were served by the Grantsville fire department.

One Of Seven Girls Will Be Sweetheart

The '53-'54 F. F. A. Sweetheart will be crowned at the annual F. F. A. Sweetheart Dance held from 8:00 P. M. until 11:00 P. M., March 12, in the Northern High cafeteria.

Contestants for the contest were nominated by F. F. A. members. The preliminaries narrowed the field down to seven final contestants. The entire student body had an opportunity to vote. The girl receiving the most votes will be the Sweetheart with the remaining six contestants as her attendants.

The crowning will take place at 10:30 p. m. with the contestants in formal dress. The Sweetheart will receive a jacket with an F.F.A. emblem. The fourth attendant will receive an F.F.A. bracelet, and the fifth, sixth, and seventh contestants will get compacts.

The admission for the dance is 40c per person. All F.F.A. members and their partners will be admitted free.

The seven finalists for the contest are: Seniors—Juanita Bittinger, Doris Duckworth, Mildred Harman, Mary Glotfelty; Juniors—Beverly Beachy; Sophomore—Ruth Fike, and Freshman—Eleanor Younkin.

Frederick W. Brune, Baltimore attorney, was slated to be chief judge of the Maryland court of appeals.

1,545,000 Trees Being Distributed For Reforestation

The first of some 1,545,000 young trees available for reforestation planting in the four Western Maryland counties have been distributed in three of the counties and some planting already has started, according to District Forester William H. Johnson.

Trees from the State Nursery at Harmans in Anne Arundel County have been distributed to Frederick, Washington and Allegany counties and some planting has been completed in the first two counties. About 25,000 trees have been planted in Washington county by the department's tree planting machine at a cost to the land owner of $10 per acre.

Some five tree planting machines will be available for use in the four counties, two of them having been assigned to Garrett county. Some of the trees still are available, Johnson reported for acreage reforestation. It takes about 1,000 trees to reforest each acre. Most of the trees are white pine, red pine, Norway spruce and Scotch pine.

Eliminate Northern In District Play

Brunswick High school of Frederick county eliminated Northern High school in the class B semi-finals last Friday at Fort Hill high school gymnasium in Cumberland. The final score was 53 to 48.

Brunswick was eliminated the following evening by Bruce High of Westernport.

In Friday's encounter the Northern High team fought all the way but trailed 13 to 9, 27 to 19, 36 to 31 at the quarter marks.

High point honors in this tilt went to Don Hershberger, Northern forward, who rang up 25 tallies. He looped 10 of 29 shots from the field and hit the target five straight times at the foul line.

Wright scored 10 points and Georg 13. Murphy, usually among the high scorers for the Cove school, was held scoreless from the field and missed all of his six foul attempts. He fouled out in the final quarter. Northern's percentage was 16 field goals in 61 attempts for a .262 average.

Terra Alta Talent Show Set for Mar. 19

The third annual amateur show will be given in the Terra Alta High school on March 19 at 8 p. m.

Various committees for the event, discussed last minute details at the Parent-Teacher meeting held in the local elementary school on Monday evening.

Mrs. B. F. McConnell, talent committee chairman, has received entries from Oakland, Kingwood, Terra Alta, and surrounding communities. Any nonprofessional is eligible to enter the contest, and the contestant does not have to be a resident of Preston County. The deadline for entries will be Monday, March 15. Those who are to appear on the program will be notified.

Six cash prizes will be awarded to three winners in two groups. There will be a children's group including up to 12 years old and the adult group. Prizes will be first, $15; second, $10; and third, $5. Winners will be chosen by ballots, which will be given to each ticket holder at the door. All persons not winning will receive $1 as a token of appreciation for their participation in the talent show.

Funds realized from this show will be used for improvements on the school ground equipment and interior improvements. Each year a new musical instrument is purchased.

The show last year was attended by more than 800 persons.

Grantsville Plans Election April 6

The Mayor and Town Council met last Monday and nominated candidates for the coming municipal election to be held on Monday, April 6.

Mayor Lee Beachy was renominated, to be opposed by N. J. Miller.

Candidates for the council positions will be Clinton McKenzie, present councilman, Harry Hoover and Adam A. Hauft.

Holdover councilmen include William Biddington, Luther Huff and John Hershberger.

CARD OF THANKS

We want to express our sincere thanks to the many friends and relatives for their kindness and helpfulness, for their flowers and to those who contributed the use of their automobiles. We want to thank everyone for all the wonderful kindness and sympathy during the illness and following the death of our husband and father.

Mrs. John Sweitzer and Children —Adv. 1t.

BITTINGER

This week began with clear skies and bright sunshine, mild temperature that gave promise of the coming of spring.

Mrs. Harry Platter was taken ill at her home here one day last week and was taken to the Garrett County Memorial Hospital where she is now being treated.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Beitzel motored to Cumberland on business on Friday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Beachy and family, of near Oakland, visited Mr. Beachy's mother, Mrs. Silas C. Beachy, at her home here last Sunday.

J. C. Milley and Harper Kelly, of Grantsville, were business callers in this village on Monday of last week.

Rev. and Mrs. James Allen and little daughter motored to Meyersdale, Pa., last Monday evening and attended the showing of a Martin Luther picture.

Robert Brenneman has advertised a sale of his personal property at his farm south of here, next Saturday. It is said that he will move with his family to his new home near Pleasant Valley Park in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Yoder, of Grantsville, spent last Saturday at the home of their son, Irvin Yoder.

Clark Brenneman, who has been confined to his home for some time, is now reported able to be at his place of business.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Orendrof, accompanied by their daughter, Mrs. Ira Yaste and children, motored to Front Royal, Va., last Saturday for a brief visit with relatives there.

hotel mornings and afternoons. This orchestra was composed of members of the Naval Academy Band. Joseph Murphy was caretaker at the hotel for many years.

There were other private boarding houses which were operated by their owners, among them being George L. Bosley, Miss Lou Thayer and the old Davis House on Oak street. These stopping places were quite popular and well patronized by people who came not to remain a day or two but throughout the summer season.

I want to again pay tribute to Mrs. Leah F. Sincell who died some years ago as a noble, Christian character. When I first came to Oakland I boarded at her home. I have never seen a mother more devoted to her children than she. I have often wondered at her patience. She lived to see all of her children grow to manhood and womanhood and how proud she was of them all.

As I remember when I came to Oakland some of the business men of the town and vicinity were John M. Davis, S. L. Townshend, D. E. Offutt, W. P. Totten, James R. Bishop, Owen Hart and Son, M. L. Scott, D. H. Loar and John Shartzer, all merchants; G. A. Shirer, tinsmith; Col. A. G. Sturgiss and Daniel Chisholm, druggists; John Yellowly and others in various trades. Capt. James A. Hayden was editor of The Republican and Rev. C. B. Ludwig was editor of The Mountain Democrat. Physicians were Dr. J. Lee McComas, Dr. B. T. Keller and Dr. E. H. Bartlett. Dr. McComas, on the go night and day, had James Truly as his colored coachman who drove the doctor behind a fine team of bays and generally two coach dogs were between their heels.

At Mountain Lake Park P. T. Garthright, merchant, did a thriving business. C. M. Rathbun operated a large planing mill which supplied most of the mill work for this section.

No other person, in business seventy years ago, is still in business today. There are other firms in Oakland more than seventy years old but those who established them have passed on. Shirer's tin shop is more than seventy years old.

Seventy years ago Mrs. Charles Shaffer, who owned a farm near Oakland, maintained a milk route in Oakland. She drove a black mare, with a white face, hitched to a covered wagon with a large milk can on the floor in front of her. Driving from door to door, she would ring the bell and if you wanted milk you would go to the wagon with your container. Then she would draw from the spigot in the can your required amount and proceed to the next customer. Some changes have been made in the milk business since that day.

Here are a few prices I received for work when I came to Oakland: For shoeing a horse, with new shoes, all toed up complete and put on, for 90 cents. We put a set of new steel tires on four buggy wheels, drilled 70 holes in the same and put that number of bolts in to hold the tires on all for $6, and other work in proportion. At that time we did not work on the 8-hour system but were at work in the morning before daylight and in many cases would work until late at night.

On more than one occasion T. W. Casteel would call me at my home before daylight to come to the shop to shoe his horses. I often wondered if he ever went to bed. I often thought I was the early bird, but he had one on me.

I was not in the blacksmith business long until I bought the lot where I am now located from Henry Weber. It had a two-story building on it. I then placed some machinery in that building and started to build express and delivery wagons. George Richardson did the wood work and was succeeded by J. M. Falkenstein. We built wagons for some years and then added farm machinery and a line of vehicles. We handled these goods in carload lots. One year we sold 112 McCormick binders, mowers and hay rakes. We sold binders for $115; mowers for $45 and rakes for $18. We sold these goods on three yearly payments. Two-horse plows were sold for $8 and a 16-tooth wood frame harrow was $7.50.

At this time one could buy dressed pork for $4 per hundred; hind quarters of beef for 5 cents per pound; butter, 8 and 10 cents, and eggs the same price per dozen; three-quarter grown chickens were $2.50 per dozen and old hens $3 per dozen. John Shartzer handled grain in connection with his line of merchandise. He sold corn from the car at 30 cents per bushel and oats for 20 cents. Farmers would make and sell standard oak crossties for 25 cents and 30 cents each.

Labor at this time was 50 cents to $1 per day. Mechanics were paid from $1.75 to $2.00 per day. At these prices we all lived well and seemed to prosper and save money.

There have been many changes in Oakland in the past seventy years. There are few business houses in town now that were here then. Old buildings have been replaced with modern structures. Sidewalks were mostly boardwalks, some standing as high as two feet above street level. Streets were lighted by oil lamps set on posts at street intersections. Alex Fleckenstein was bailiff and one of his duties was to keep the lamps in proper condition.

Today Oakland stands out as an up to date small town. We have a fine water system, electric lights, sewer, natural gas, and excellent streets. People of Oakland have a lot of civic pride.

As I celebrate my 70th anniversary in business in Oakland I am indeed mindful of the many people who have patronized me in business through these many years. Any success has been largely dependent upon them and I hope no one has any cause to regret the confidence and trust they have placed in me.

I would be very ungrateful if I allowed this year to go by without telling my many friends and customers of my appreciation of their trust and confidence.

I have enjoyed the pleasant association with them more than words can tell. I appreciate also the opportunity they have given me to serve them and hope the succeeding years may serve to increase this mutual friendship.

Sincerely yours,
A. D. Naylor

Mr. Naylor was 92 last October and still makes daily trips to the store, goes home for his lunch, and after a short relaxing period, is again at his desk.

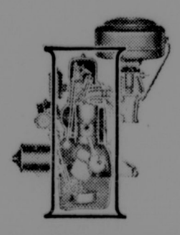
Two family cars are better than One!
Over 400,000 families own two Fords and enjoy all the practical advantages and conveniences of two quality cars at costs not too much different than those of one expensive car. Yet in feature after feature Ford duplicates these expensive cars . . . as thousands know who have already joined the 2-Ford family fold.
Just think! . . . for the price you pay for just one car of some makes you can have two 1954 Fords. Whether you choose the new I-block Six or Y-block V-8, you get the last word in high-compression, low-friction power. And you get the greatest advance in chassis design in 20 years—new Ball-Joint Front Suspension. In Ford you get a new Astra-Dial control panel too, Center-Fill Fueling, suspended clutch and brake pedals and a hull-tight Crestmark body, all exclusive with Ford in the low-price field. With this host of fine car features and many more, Ford offers you a car that's worth more when you buy it . . . more when you sell it.

NEW 130-H.P. Y-BLOCK V-8
It has a new deep-block Y-design, a 5-bearing crankshaft and low-friction efficiency for longer life . . . smoother, quieter operation . . . greater economy.


NEW 115-H-P. I-BLOCK SIX
Like the new V-8, it's of overhead-valve, high-compression, low-friction design. And its deep-block design gives smooth, quiet power and long engine life!

Judge Outlines Responsibility Of Grand Jurors

The historical importance of the grand jury and the responsibility of present-day grand jurors were outlined Monday morning by Associate Judge George Henderson in the court room, after which the group began investigation of alleged violations of the statutes. O. P. Fike served as foreman of the grand jury.

Judge Henderson's complete report follows:

Members of the Grand Jury:

You have been selected in the method required by law to serve as the Grand Jury for Garrett County until a new Grand Jury takes your place at the September Term of Court. It is customary and proper to instruct you as to your duties.

When this country was settled our forefathers brought with them from England the jury system. It is a time-honored system. But it is honored not merely because of its age, but because it has proven to be of such value in the administration of justice. And I want to emphasize one point—you are not simply serving as Jurors, you are assisting in administering justice.

You did not volunteer to serve, it is true—you were chosen—chosen because we judges believed you and each of you to be a reputable, law-abiding citizen who would properly perform the duties of the office.

It is true many of you were not known personally to the Court. But we Judges make inquiries and ask for names of outstanding Garrett County citizens. Usually we check the poll books to verify the fact that you have recognized the responsibility of a citizen to vote in elections.

And so you should regard this service as an honorable one; one which, by its proper performance, can have a distinct influence on the welfare of the community.

The Grand Jury is the body which makes accusation in a formal manner against persons suspected of being guilty of crime, so that they shall be brought to trial to answer such accusation. The persons from whom you receive information in the usual course of your duties are the witnesses brought before you by the State's Attorney. Upon the evidence heard by you, you present such persons, whereupon the State's Attorney draws up an indictment, and the accused is thereupon put on trial in the Criminal Court. It is through your body that, in normal course, accused persons come before this Court, and, unless you are convinced that a reasonable case of suspicion has been made out against any person who is accused, it is your duty to dismiss the charge.

Your function is double. It is, on the one hand, to indict, and thus bring to trial persons whom you suspect of having committed crimes, and on the other hand, to dismiss persons whom you believe have been accused unjustly, or against whom the evidence is so slight that you feel that such persons should not be brought to trial.

It is not your duty to determine guilt or innocence. That is the function of the Petit Jury or of the Court. It is your duty to present and indict persons against whom evidence is brought which, if unexplained or uncontradicted, would warrant their conviction; and it is equally your duty to see that no person is subjected to prosecution based merely on public clamor or private malice.

It may seem to some of you unnecessary to go through the procedure of hearing testimony, presentment and indictment before the person accused is actually called to trial, but the fact is that over a period of several centuries the common judgment of the people of this State has been that the requirement that the Grand Jury should be convinced of the reasonableness of a charge before anyone shall be brought to trial, is a valuable safeguard to the liberty of the citizen. It has also been the experience of our people that the Grand Juries have performed their duties faithfully. You thus have a tradition of efficiency, as well as fairness, to live up to.

It is your duty, as representatives of this State, to use your powers so that the criminal law may be both forcefully and fairly administered.

Probably most of the matters requiring your attention will be laid before you by the State's Attorney. And usually the questioning of witnesses will be done by him. However, you too have the right to ask questions, either in or out of his presence.

You should consider all evidence which may throw light on the matter under investigation, whether it tends to establish the innocence or guilt of the accused. If, in the course of your investigations, you have reason to believe that other evidence exists, not presented to you, but within your reach, which would qualify or explain away the charge under investigation, it is your duty to require such evidence to be produced. After you have heard the evidence with respect to any charge, you should then proceed to deliberate among yourselves as to whether or not an offense has been committed.

It is necessary in the case of any presentment for twelve of your members to vote in favor of such an indictment or presentment. An affirmative vote of a mere majority of your members present will not be sufficient to sustain a valid presentment, unless such affirmative vote consists of at least twelve. And when you take such a vote, nobody except the Grand Jurors may be in the room.

Your proceedings must be absolutely secret pending the return by you of a presentment. At that time, of course, the presentment sets forth the nature of the charges against a specified person or persons; and a list of some of the witnesses who appeared before your body in connection with these charges is also placed on such paper. Even after the return of a presentment you should not disclose in any way the nature of your deliberations or how you voted with respect to the charge. In fact, nothing should be disclosed as to what went on in the Grand Jury room unless you are directed by the Court to make such disclosure.

While testimony is being produced before you, the only persons allowed in the Grand Jury room besides members of your own body are the State's Attorney (who is your legal adviser), the Court Stenographer if requested by you and directed by the Court, and the witness testifying before you.

It is no longer necessary to call to your attention especially a number of statutes concerning crime. However, the Court is obligated to call to your attention Article 51, Section 22, of the Code of Maryland, requiring you to visit the jail, inquire into its condition, the manner in which it is kept, the treatment of its prisoners, and report the same to the Court.

While not required by law, it is customary for the Grand Jury in a body to inspect the Court House and report on its condition.

The Local Code requires you to appoint a committee of your body to examine the books of the Treasurer of Garrett County and report their condition to the Court. You are not required to make an audit of these books as that is done by the State Auditors. You will simply use your best efforts to see whether the books are properly kept and that the moneys of the County are being properly handled.

I suggest that early in your deliberations you have read aloud to you the report of the September 1953 Grand Jury, so that you will know what was done by it, what recommendations were made, and whether such recommendations have been carried out.

Upon retiring to the Grand Jury room, you will organize by appointing one or two of your members to act as clerks and one as doorkeeper.

The Clerk will now swear the Bailiff, who will conduct you to the Grand Jury room, where you will begin your duties.

Listen Americans!

BY GEORGE S. BENSON

President of Harding College

The Eisenhower Administration's economic planning is based on the theory that in the American way of life production is the basis of all newly created wealth. Thus, the Administration contends, the way to improve the welfare of all citizens is to expand the production of goods and services. And in its effort to expand production, it proposes to increase the incentive for expansion in the business and industrial life of the century.

Abnormally high taxes reaching as high as 87 per cent on business and industrial incomes would, under the long-range Eisenhower plan, be gradually lowered. Hobbling government restrictions would be relaxed. A friendlier attitude toward business and industry would be established.

There is another theory in economics which contends that the soundest way to improve the welfare of all citizens is simply to put more dollars into the hands of more people—anyway you can get them there. Thus, it is reasoned, more goods will be produced to satisfy the added purchasing power. In a sense, this is the Keynesian theory, developed by Lord Maynard Keynes, the Englishman. This school of thought today opposes any long-range plan for stimulating expanding production to make more jobs, and more income and more purchasing power through newly created wealth.

The problem is something like the hen and the egg question—Which came first? Let's go back to the beginning. God created the Heaven and the Earth. Then Adam and Eve were created. They were placed in a world with natural resources on every side, but no wealth. They couldn't buy a thing. To survive they had to devise ways of getting food clothing and shelter from the fields, the forests, the animals, and the streams. Thus they had to produce.

Production came first—before wealth and before welfare. It was the sole basis for the improving material welfare of Adam and Eve. As their children came and grew up, one by one, production on earth had to be stepped up if all were to live as well as the parents did. Had they merely divided what Adam and Eve produced, the expanding human race could not have survived.

The "industrial revolution" which began about 1850 was merely a swift expansion of production. Mass production finally evolved, and the American living standard soared. There is no forseeable end to the rising economic welfare of the American people—if business and industry are given the incentives that a dynamic enterprise system needs if it is to fulfill its destined service to mankind. On the contrary no scheme of taking dollars from one and giving them to another—without increasing production—has any lasting value to anybody. On production, depends the future prosperity and security of every American.

It Runs Through My Mind

BY POLLY J. HANST

Wake Up and Live

While my sleepy head was still buried in my pillow, someone was calling with all his might, "Wake up, get up and live."

My old friend is back; one I dearly love. I have no right to his friendship, for never do I give him a bite to eat, never do I offer him shelter. Could be that it's one neighbor's apple tree and another one's sunflowers that bring him here. For that, I am grateful.

Clear was his song this morning, "What-cheer, what-cheer, cheer, cheer cheer!"

The cardinals are back, at least the papas are here (some of you who treat them well have them all winter.) But today he sings of spring and mating. Soon we will hear his lady respond to his "wolf whistle."

I wish we humans could work out our own family life to such a degree of harmony as do these brilliantly colored birds.

In the first place the female sings—one of the few female birds that do. Then both parents work. "But don't we all?" you might be thinking. But here's where I admire the mama and here's where I couldn't keep a sweet disposition if I were she.

For instance SHE builds the nest and spends 12 days hatching the eggs while HE sings! Now wouldn't the nagging start if that happened in the homes of people? But Mrs. Cardinal knows that his time is coming. Besides singing to make her happy he protects her, leads her to favorite morsels and even places food in her beak—uh huh—a sort of a breakfast in bed idea. Now that would be nice!

Maybe he does have the hard row to hoe after all. As head of the family he's a model. He brings home the bacon to the babies in the nest. Here's what appeals to me. Once the fledglings leave the nest he takes complete charge of feeding and caring for them. I suppose at this point he heaves a sigh of relief when they're tucked in for the night.

Selfish that I am, I can't help but wonder if he by any chance feels that he has more than his share to do while his lady engages in a second and third sitting, singing safely all the while. How easy it would be at this point for him to think, "I have it all to do."

Whatever their family relationships are, they keep to themselves except when they're happy, and that, they share with the world.

—o—

Today I Count My Blessings

"Just a wide place in the road," said my boss, fifteen hundred miles from here, when I told him my intention to give up a glamorous life and come to Oakland to live.

"It's a nice place," was about all I had for a comeback, and the niceness consisted of about a dozen people I knew.

Then last night as I watched the operetta it poured in on me with almost as much emotion as seeing cinerama, that this is really a wo[illegible]ful place to live and bring up children.

We Have So Many Advantages

As that gym floor opened up as a market place in Bagdad and the dancers, the snake charmer, the silk salesman, the tourists and what looked to be hundreds of people all engaged in activity, I almost had to pinch myself to realize this was Oakland and the actors the very same kids that Friday night and Saturday night were displaying school spirit the likes of which Oakland had never seen (nor Cumberland.)

Nothing have I seen since the "Song of the Oaks" (remember the Centennial pageant?) could compare with it as far as local expression.

A wide place in the road? Not even a Seven Corners could offer any more to their high school students.

—o—

Such Spontaneity

Where else in the world could a boy like Tommy Turney have a better place to express himself—and when his bare feet slipped out from under him and he fell flat, only to jump up, bounce in the air and kick his feet together. Where could you go to get a better laugh? Now I ask you.

Or when Gene Williams with a monocle, goatee and good English accent said, "Oh I say," and forgetting his lines, said, "What do I say? Prompter where are you?" Looking every which way for Ruth Brown, then being prompted said in English accent, "Thank you prompter."

Then to see the director's shoulders shake with laughter, which makes everyone feel relaxed and joyful.

—o—

My Word!

I've come to the end of my space—and I'm not half through counting my blessings—all because I saw a beautiful operetta, and a bird sang in my apple tree and I came to live in a wide place in the road.

Little League Play Scheduled Friday

The Little League elimination tournament will be held tomorrow evening at the Southern High gym.

Ten teams, composed of 5th, 6th and 7th graders, will play, beginning at 6:45 o'clock. Each game will consist of two eight-minute halves. Officiating will be done by Jack Veader, Leonard Ritchie, James DeMoss and James Rook.

Coaches at the high school, under direction of Kyle Wilson, have taught fundamentals of basketball to around 80 boys during the past several weeks and all teams have played games on Saturday mornings.

Admission will be 10 cents. Proceeds will be used for equipment for next year's Little Leaguers.

Support The Church Feature Gets Award

Since 1946, The Republican has been running the Keister "Support the Church" advertising feature each week. This feature recently received the George Washington Medal, which is bestowed by the distinguished National Awards Jury of Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge, Pa. The announcement stated that the advertising campaign was "an outstanding achievement in helping to bring about a better understanding of the American Way of Life during 1953."

Freedoms Foundation was organized in March 1949. It is non-profit, non-political, non-sectarian. President Dwight D. Eisenhower is Honorary Chairman and the Honorable Herbert Hoover is Honorary President. The objective of the Foundation's annual award is to honor those citizens for their outstanding efforts to improve public understanding and appreciation of our basic constitutional rights and freedoms inherent in the American Way of Life through things they write, do or say. Numerous awards are granted each year for editorials, public addresses, sermons, radio programs, television programs, advertising campaigns, magazine articles, etc.

Top award recipients personally received their awards from Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, President of Pennsylvania State University and a Foundation Director. All other awards will be presented at regional ceremonies during March, April and May.

The Keister Advertising Service will celebrate its tenth anniversary this coming August. Its program of weekly "Support the Church" advertisements is now running regularly in over 800 newspapers from coast to coast in USA, seven in Canada, two in Alaska, and one in Hawaii.

More Facts Given On Season For Does

To the Editor:

In addition to adding our voice to what has already been said about doe season in Maryland, we would also like to present some facts that we have received from Game Commissions in the states of West Virginia, Michigan, Pennsylvania and Maryland. In our information, the Maryland Game Commission informed us that they would like to work out a one or two day doe season when possible.

They also informed us that they believed that since most of the legal antlered bucks are harvested annually in Maryland, that does bred frequently to immature bucks result in smaller deer and smaller antlers. The records showing the December kill for 1953, show the average dressed weight of deer to be 112 pounds. They also stated that it is their feeling that does in several counties need to be thinned, not only to make sure that bucks and does are kept within the available natural food supply, but to better balance the sexes, and to alleviate the increasing amount of crop damage.

As you know, many does are killed each year through illegal hunting and by automobiles and trains. It would be far better, of course, if these deer were available to the hunter who purchases a license each year and who is sincere about observing the game laws.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear daughter, Nellie H. Johnson, who died March 16, 1950.

Four years have passed away, Dear Nellie;
'Tho it seems like many more
When our dear and Blessed Savior
Called you to that other shore.

We do not know the pain she suffered
Or the things went through her mind
As she lay in pain and suffering
Trusting in our Savior's name.

Then an angel came and took her
To a better world than this
Where there is no pain or suffering,
To a land where all is bliss.

The flowers they place upon her grave
Will wither and decay,
But the love for the one that was called away
Will never pass away.

Sadly missed by her Mother, Father and Family.

—Adv. 2-1t*

For example take Minnesota: They never had a buck law. In 1918 they were killing 9,000 deer. In 1947 they killed 47,000.

Maine has gone from a very low kill to 35,000 and they have never had a buck law.

"It can't happen here in Maryland," you say. It does happen and it has been repeated over and over again in some 40 other states, and some 38 of those states have now fallen in line.

Let's hope that Maryland doesn't have to become another example of poor deer management as have those of other states.

Congressional Viewpoint

Sen. John Marshall Butler

It is becoming increasingly apparent that the so-called "farm problem" extends far beyond the farms and rural areas of America. The fact that the livelihood of more than thirty-five million "breadwinners" is directly dependent upon the prosperity of our 5,300,000 farms is sobering testimony to the truth of that observation. President Eisenhower expressed the same view when he said: "A stable, prosperous and free agriculture is essential to the welfare of the United States.

So, although this problem is an extremely complex one, presenting numerous imponderables even to the expert, I believe that all of our people make an effort to acquaint themselves with a few fundamental facts which will give them some understanding of the debate that will soon take place in the Congress on the "farm issue." The argument, generally speaking, will deal with the question of "price supports." Should they be high and rigid as some farm spokesmen contend, or should they be "flexible" and operate, as much as possible, on the basis of the law of supply and demand, as President Eisenhower, Secretary Benson and other farm representatives maintain?

This is the year of decision. The law requiring rigid farm price supports expires at the end of 1954 and Congress must shortly decide what course it will follow.

That law originally came into being in recognition of certain peculiarities of farm economics. In no other field, for instance, is the result of labor expended so completely at the mercy of the weather, over which the farmer has no control. Neither can the farmer adjust his production rapidly to meet changing market conditions — a herd of dairy cattle is not built in a year, nor can the flow of milk be stopped by pushing a button.

The farmer today is the victim of an economical squeeze-play. In general, farm prices have dropped 19% from the 1951 highs. At the same time, prices paid by farmers for goods and services declined only 2% after 1951.

The principal reason for this drop in farm prices is that there have been more farm products forthcoming than money to buy them, a surplus in other words—the old law of supply and demand. This surplus was brought on by a decline of foreign markets and the end of the Korean War. All during the 1940's the farmer was urged to increase production. Since World War II, farm production has generally improved in other parts of the world and during the past year our export markets declined 30%. In many instances, however, we have simply priced ourselves out of the foreign market.

Price supports do not and cannot assure farm prosperity. In addition to pricing our farm products out of domestic and world markets, high supports are steadily increasing government-held surpluses of agricultural products that are costing taxpayers (including farmers) billions of dollars. Continuation of the present program would destroy the proud freedom and independence of the American Farmer.

The farmer is faced with a difficult problem and the present Administration under the sympathetic leadership of President Eisenhower and Secretary Benson has pledged itself to work with him in finding a solution based on voluntary adjustments, initiative, and positive action to fit present agriculture techniques to the changed conditions it must meet to prosper and stay free in the years ahead. I am extremely pleased that the Maryland Farm Bureau at its recent convention supported the President's program for flexible price supports and a return to a free market for agriculture.

I believe that the peculiarities of the agricultural industry are such as to require the application of price supports from time to time, but they should be flexible, responsive to the the law of supply and demand, and at levels that would not encourage unmanageable surpluses or repudiate the traditional freedom and independence of the American Farmer.

MARRIED

Peale-Fitzwater—Mr. and Mrs. William Fitzwater, Swanton, announce the marriage of their daughter, Evelyn, to Eric Peale, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Peale, of Kenly, N. C. The double ring ceremony was performed Wednesday, February 17, at 2 p. m., in Washington, D. C., at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Harry V. Schaeffer. Those in attendance were the bride's sister and a few close friends from Washington.

The bride was attired in a silver blue suit with black accessories and an orchid corsage. She is a graduate of Oakland High school and is employed with the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The groom is employed with the U.S. Soldiers Home, Veterans Administration. Following a wedding trip to Florida and several southern States, the couple is residing in Washington.

MARRIED

Hutchinson-Bender—Miss Mary Joan Bender, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Harold Bender, of Grantsville, became the bride of Donald Charles Hutchinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Hutchinson, Merchantville, N. J., on Saturday, February 27. The double ring ceremony, which took place in St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church, Grantsville, was performed by Rev. Clarence Whetstone, pastor.

The church was decorated with palms, ferns, white gladioli, lilies and snapdragons with a background of lighted tapers in candelabra standards.

Mrs. Nevin Broadwater, organist, played a program of nuptial music and accompanied George Bittner, who sang "At Dawning," "O Perfect Love," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a waltz length gown of white Chantilly lace with Queen Anne collar, long sleeves and shrug jacket. The very full skirt was of pleated nylon net with appliqued edge over candlelight satin. Her fingertip veil of nylon net was held with a tiara of seed pearls and lace. She carried a white orchid on a prayer book with satin streamers.

Miss Eleanor Lawson, Philadelphia, student at Western Maryland College, Westminster, was maid of honor. She was attired in a light blue nylon net and lace ballerina dress and carried a nosegay of pink rosebuds. Miss Shirley Kamp, and Miss Kay Beachy, both of Grantsville, bridesmaids, were attired in light pink and Nile green dresses respectively, wearing halo hats and carrying nosegays of mixed spring flowers. All the attendants' dresses were worn over crinoline skirts of net ruffles.

Robert Bender, brother of the bride, served as best man and ushers were Richard Bender, Grantsville; student at Franklin and Marshall College, Lancaster, Pa., and Edward Brown, Merchantville, N. J., student at Gettysburg (Pa.) College.

Mrs. Bender, mother of the bride, wore a platinum silk organza costume with beaded collar and full skirt over taffeta, a rose straw hat and a corsage of pink camellias.

Mrs. Hutchinson, mother of the bridegroom, wore a blue taffeta street length dress with a pink hat and a corsage of white rosebuds.

Mr. and Mrs. Bender entertained with a reception in the social room of the church. The Women's Guild was in charge of serving. White wedding bells and bouquets of spring flowers were used in the decorations and the table was centered with a tiered wedding cake topped with the traditional miniature bride and bridegroom. It was served by Mrs. Lena S. Bender and Mrs. John Elliott. Mrs. Robert Bender presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. Donald Swauger presided at the coffee service. Mrs. Mary Livengood was hostess.

The bride attended Grantsville High School and was graduated from Southern Seminary, Buena Vista, Va. The bridegroom was graduated from Merchantville High School. Both attended Western Maryland College.

For their trip south, the bride wore a cocoa suit with matching accessories and a white orchid corsage. The couple will reside at 6141 Lincoln Avenue, Merchantville, after March 15.

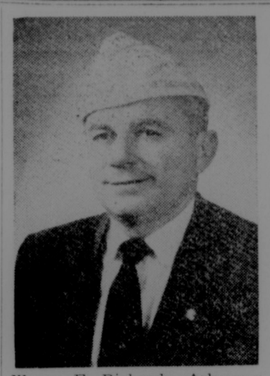
P.-T.A. To Discuss Hi School Drop-Out

The High school drop-out problem will be discussed at a meeting of the Southern High school Parent-Teacher association on Monday evening, March 15. The meeting will be held in the Southern High cafeteria beginning at 8 o'clock, with Howard D. Naylor, president, in charge.

The guidance program will include a talk by James Glotfelty on "Why I Quit School and Why I Came Back." Ernest Spoerlein, guidance director at the school, will report on a drop-out survey which was made recently, and Dr. James Collins will speak briefly.

A thirty-minute record, entitled "A Decision for Tommy," will be featured.



Wayne E. Richards, Arkansas City, Kans., business executive and Air Force veteran pilot of World War II, Commander-in-chief of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States.

Members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in the county are to have an opportunity to attend two affairs in Maryland this weekend where Wayne E. Richards, commander in chief of the organization in the United States will make his official visitation to Maryland.

He will be at Westminster Saturday, March 13 and be guest of honor at a banquet and dance. Governor McKeldin and former Governor Lane are expected to attend.

On Sunday, March 14 he will address a meeting in the War Memorial building in Baltimore at 2 p. m.

Along The Potomac

With Your Congressman
DeWITT S. HYDE

The House Committee on Government Operations has reported that the federal government is involved in so many business activities it is threatening private industry.

After completing an investigation the committee reported the government is in manufacturing and service industries which almost look like a classified phone book when strung together. Its manufacturing runs from bakery goods to sleeping bags; its service activities from banking to warehousing; it sells drinks and retreads tires; it builds chairs, tables, roads and dams.

This is nothing new—the Navy began making rope and paint for itself the first day it existed—but it seems to be growing. The committee says the government is competing, sometimes unfairly, with private enterprise, and is using tax money to run activities which would produce tax revenues if they were in private hands.

Some challenging facts are listed in the report: Government wealth grew 278 percent while private wealth grew only 78 percent between 1929 and 1948. The federal government has supplies and stores on hand which equal or exceed the inventories of all private business combined. It owns 24 percent of the land in the U. S. It's the largest insurer, the largest lender, the largest warehouse operator, the largest shipowner and the largest truck fleet operator.

Witness after witness from various agencies spoke up to justify their business activities, but the committee found their "reasons" turned out in many cases to be "excuses." Many agencies seemed to be trying to be self-sufficient and manage their own sources of supply, but their accounting procedures often showed faults which gave wrong impressions of the economy of their operations.

A minority of the committee members labeled the report as an "alarmist essay," a viewpoint which I do not share. But I do agree with them in one conclusion—that federal institutions generally are established because the people ask for them. This reminds us again that in a republic it is the duty of the citizen to see that his government remains his servant, not his master.

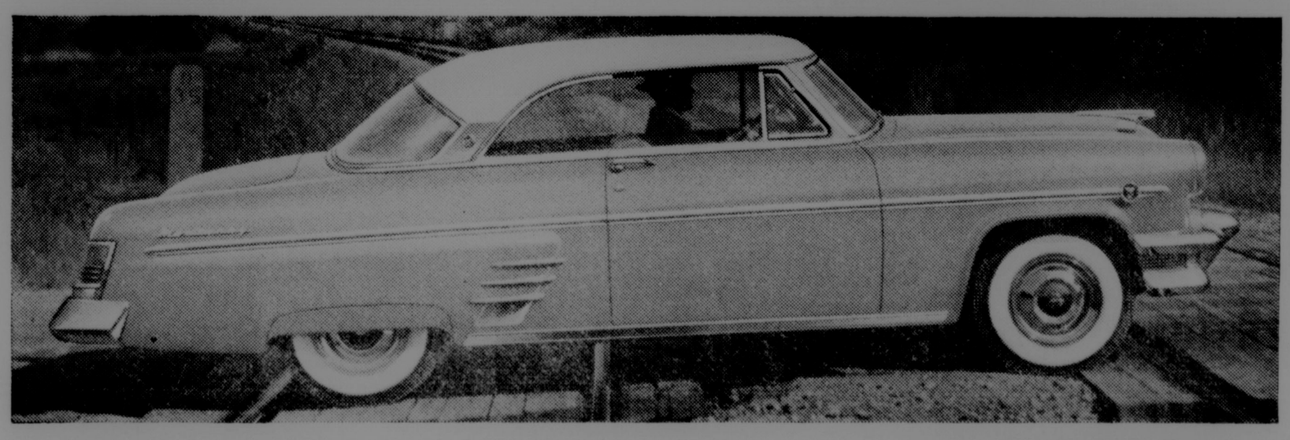
Now-effortless, steadier handling

with New Ball-Joint Front Suspension



You'll notice the difference the moment you take the wheel. Mercury's new ball-joint front wheel suspension reduces the road shock of bumps and ruts. It gives you a feeling of greater control, better stability, as you take sharp curves and corners. In short, it makes handling far easier on any road. And only Mercury has it in its price class.

And Mercury also brings you an entirely new 161-horsepower overhead-valve V-8. You enjoy livelier performance—safer, more responsive. When passing or hill climbing, Mercury's tremendous reserve power is available instantly, automatically—released by a 4-barrel carburetor, with the two extra barrels vacuum controlled. And although 28% more powerful, you get remarkable gasoline economy.

Try Mercury's new performance on the road.

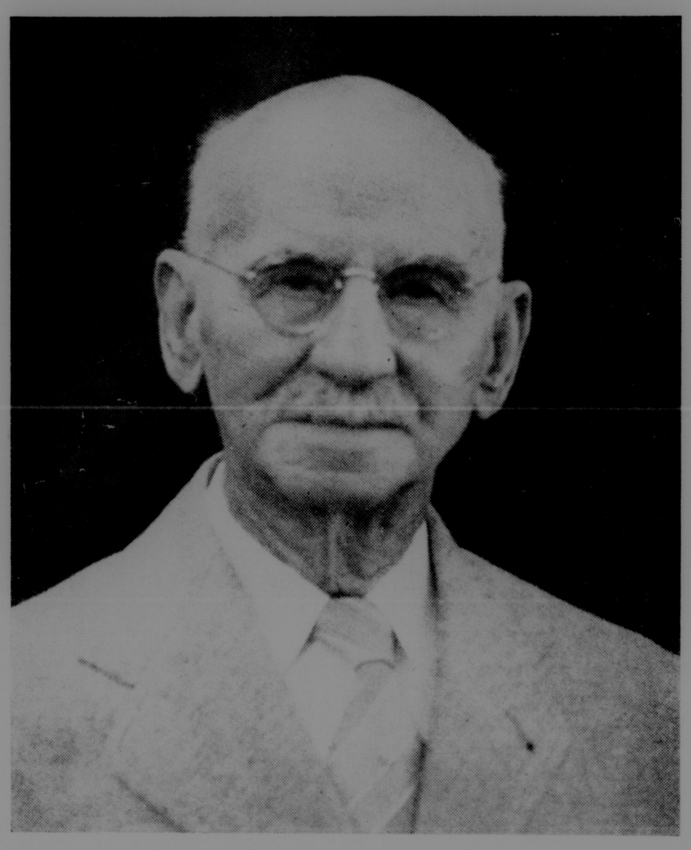
70 Years of Service



ON MARCH 12, 1884, A. D. Naylor opened a blacksmith shop on the same location as his present establishment. He expanded to wagons and farm machinery and gradually into hardware, plumbing, heating, appliances, and the thousands of items which the store now carries.

At the age of 92, Mr. Naylor is still active in business.

The second and third generations are now operating the business, with the fourth generation coming up.

To the right, behind Mr. A. D. Naylor are Paul, Arthur, and Townshend, the present owners. Seated to his left are Howard, Arthur, Jr., and Allen Naylor.

In front, Milton, age 3, and Alonzo D. Naylor II, age 12, the latter already familiar with the store's operation.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

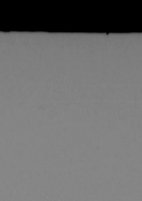
BY DR. KENNETH A. FOREMAN

Scripture: John 11: 55—12: 50.
Devotional Reading: I Corinthians 1: 18-31.

Three Ifs

Lesson for March 14, 1954

THERE are important Ifs in the Christian life. The word IF keeps coming up all through the Bible. This does not mean that the Christian life is based on uncertainties. It does mean, however, that there is nothing automatic about it. At an "Automat" restaurant you can put coins in the slot and watch pie, sandwiches, coffee or what-will-you-have, come out of the wall. But the life of the Christian is not like that. You can't put in a pious wish, or a short prayer, like a dime, in the morning and then expect the rest of the day to pour out all the virtues without your having to do another thing. Important conditions have to be met.



Dr. Foreman

"If Any One Serves Me—"

Another If is in the saying, "If any one serves me, he must follow me." Jesus did not mean follow at a long and respectful distance. He meant to climb where he climbed, dare what he dared. Jesus had put this in even stronger words some time before. His follower, he said, must take his own cross every day and follow Him. Christians are rather too fond of looking at the cross, and letting their Christianity go at that. But the Christian life is not like looking at a show, not even at a tragedy. We see the cross in every Christian church somewhere, perhaps even the building is in the shape of a cross. But what Jesus asked for in his followers was not a cross before their eyes but a cross in their lives. To put it quite simply: Christian life, when it is real, is a life of sacrifice for others. It is a life in which self comes last, not first. A doctor said to his patient: "I think most people are Christians, don't you?" That depends on what you mean by Christian! If you mean by that, some one who admires Jesus, yes, most people are Christians. But if you mean what Jesus meant, one who actually follows Jesus, how many Christians are Christian?

"If I Be Lifted Up"

The third If is in the saying "If I be lifted up I will draw all men unto me." We may suppose a hard-boiled practical man of today, or of Jesus' day,—possibly Judas was such a person—asking Jesus, Just why do you go on with this idea of the cross? Why let yourself in for trouble? What do you get out of it? If we let Jesus speak for himself, we know that he no more went to the cross to "get something out of it" for himself than he did anything else for selfish reasons. He did not live, he did not die, for his own benefit. His life and his death were all of one piece; his death was but the final outpouring of a life that had been pouring itself out into others and for others, from the beginning. He did not go through Gethsemane and Calvary in order to be praised, or to acquire merit, or to win a place among the world's heroes. He went to the cross, as he had lived every day, to "draw all men" to himself.

GORTNER

Brethren aid at Mrs. Elden Fikes on the 18th Services on Sunday morning by Mrs. Wilma Waybright.

A number of guests from Ohio, Pennsylvania and Ontario, Canada, attended the wedding of Miss Amelia Zook and Alfred Yoder on Thursday. Bridesmaids were Misses Mildred Petersheim and Anna Stoltzfus. Groomsmen were Joni Shetler, of Ohio, and Noah Kinsinger, of Springs. Dinner, supper and sineing were served at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Jonas Petersheim. The couple will reside in Ohio.

Sam Knepfer, Linwood, Canada; Elmer Knepfer, Network, Canada; Katie Herfort, Annie Schmidt, of Milverton, Canada, spent a night with Mr. and Mrs. Simon Swartzentruber.

Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Swartzentruber, of Ohio, announce the birth of a daughter, Dani Sue.

On Wednesday as Artie Dodge was enroute to New York to bring Mrs. Dodge home from a visit, he collided with a coal truck 40 miles beyond Altoona, completely demolishing his car. He suffered bruises. He rested in a hotel that night, purchased another car and resumed his journey, returning home on Saturday evening. Mrs. Dodge spent three weeks in New York caring for a new granddaughter, Susan Louise Keiner.

Miss Hariett Swartzentruber spent three days with Mrs. Robert Dodge, who was confined to her bed.

Miss Lena Slabach, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sisk were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Harsh, at Silver Knob.

The following were week-end visitors here: Mr. and Mrs. David Beachy, Norristown, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Yoder, of Grantsville; Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Nissley and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Petersheim, Dover, Del.; John Brenneman, Crist and Anna Zook and Mr. and Mrs. Amos Schrock, of Virginia.

Mrs. Anna Bittinger spent Monday with her aunt, Mrs. Murphy, who is critically ill at the Nursing Home.

Mrs. Fannie Stutzman is staying with Mrs. Dan Lichty since her return from the hospital on Sunday.

Mrs. Paul Welch spent Sunday with her mother, who remains ill. Mr. Welch's mother is critical.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hesse and daughter, Mr. and Mr. Albert Sisk and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hesse spent Sunday evening with the Sembowers in Pleasant Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Swartzentruber left Wednesday morning for Westgrove, Pa., to visit their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Miller.

Jacob Swartzentruber, Mrs. Fannie Stutzman and Ross Lichty went to Baltimore yesterday morning where Mrs. Stutzman and Mr. Lichty are having their eyes attended to in the clinic there.

Miss Harriett Swartzentruber entertained the following guests Tuesday evening: Raymond Yoder, and Miss Nancy Swartzentruber, of Springs, Pa.; Ralph Lichty, Mary Lichty and Miss Betty Swartzentruber.

A killing frost hit the southeastern section of the country.

"NAYLOR HAS IT—AND SELLS IT FOR LESS"

LIBERTY STREET OAKLAND, MARYLAND

Senate Cloakroom

By J. GLENN BEALL
United States Senator from Maryland

Senate Joint Resolution 1—the George substitute for the Bricker Amendment—has now been disposed of after five weeks debate. A two-thirds vote by the Senate would have sent the resolution to the State Legislatures for ratification as the twenty-third amendment to the Constitution.

During the debate I received a number of communications from Marylanders recommending that I support or oppose this measure, and when, on February 26, the Vice President called for a vote on final passage of the resolution I was among those who voted nay.

After five weeks debate neither those who originally sponsored S. J. Res. 1 nor those who had diligently worked for a meeting of the minds were altogether satisfied with the result. In fact, the consensus of those voting yea appeared to be that since this was the best the Senate could do the resolution should go to the House of Representatives where, Senator Knowland explained, "undoubtedly extensive hearings will be held and where other changes may be made to the proposed amendment."

I believed, as did Senator Ferguson, that this was not "the Constitutional amendment that should be submitted to cure the evil which exists. I know it is argued that this will cure a lesser evil, but I think we should not choose between evils if we can find a better way."

Senator Ferguson in his closing statement proceeded to point out the new "evils" which the proposal would create.

He said: "I have stated on the record that I think we are changing the very fundamentals of our Constitution as they relate to treaties . . . Our forefathers, who drafted the Constitution, believed that if we were going to have treaty law it was bound to take from the States rights and privileges which had been reserved to them; and, therefore, if we were going to take away constitutional rights and privileges under State constitutions, if we were going to repeal their laws it should not be done by both Houses of Congress, but should be done by the Senate of the United States, by the votes of two-thirds of the Senators, which, in effect, meant two-thirds of the States . . . Some absurdities are involved here. We are saying in this amendment, if it shall pass, that two-thirds of the Senators present must be recorded as voting on a treaty, while at the same time an executive agreement, which can do exactly what a treaty can do, can be passed on the consent calendar. That is what this amendment provides."

Senator Ferguson, and I and others who voted nay, were convinced that the United States Senate during the five-week debate had made clear to the world that the Constitution cannot be violated by a treaty or an agreement, and that the amendment finally under discussion was written in such a way that an executive agreement submitted to Congress could be passed on the consent calendar without a yea-and-nay vote.

It would hardly have been helpful to attempt to cure one evil and in doing so create a new one.

The Senate debate demonstrated to the world—and the courts—the sincere concern of the American people over treaties or executive agreements which might be interpreted as domestic law, without having been enacted by Congress. To that extent the debate served a useful purpose, and it leaves the Constitution and the established treaty-making powers as they were written by the Founding Fathers.

President Eisenhower now has the responsibility and the necessary authority to conduct our relations with foreign nations. He was called to the Presidency at a time when the United States needed a man with his particular gifts and experience in working with friendly foreign powers.

The people of the United States said in effect to General Eisenhower, "We want you to assume the responsibilities of the Presidency of the United States, and here are the powers, enumerated in the Constitution, which we give you to carry out the duties of that office."

To seriously jeoparadize his prestige at home and abroad after only one year in office—and because of disagreement with certain actions of his predecessors—would restrict President Eisenhower's activities in the very field which made him so uniquely qualified during this period of Cold War.

Discussion of the proposed Constitutional amendment has resulted in these accomplishments: first, it has been established that it is the belief of the United States Senate that no treaty or executive agreement supersedes the Constitution; second, that the Courts, despite any earlier sweeping decisions, may be more restrictive in their interpretations; third, the Constitution still stands, unencumbered by new amendments which might embarrass the President of the United States and limit this country in joining with other nations to hold back Communist aggression.

Since the Federal Convention there have been a total of twenty-two amendments to the Constitution. The first ten—the Bill of Rights—were proposed by the First Congress on the 25th of September, 1789. While numbered as amendments they should be considered part of the original instrument proposed in Philadelphia and approved by the States.

From 1789 until 1870 there were a total of only five amendments added to the Constitution. No other amendments were added until 1913. For 124 years the people of this country found the Constitution and the Bill of Rights adequate to meet the national needs with the exception of five instances, three of which, the 13th, 14th, and 15th amendments, were adopted during restoration of the Union after the Civil War.

Since 1913—in only forty-one years—seven amendments have been adopted, which indicates that in modern times we may be amending the Constitution as a matter of expediency. However, as that great Chief Justice, John Marshall, said, "But a Constitution is framed for ages to come and is designed to approach immortality as nearly as human institutions can approach it."

The Constitution has served the United States for 165 years, primarily because it established a government with separated powers and those powers specifically defined. I have complete confidence that it will serve this great nation equally well in the future.

Oberlin Edward Rawlings
Vs.
Dorothy Ann Rawlings
No. 4448 Equity. In the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to obtain a divorce a vinculo matrimonii for the Plaintiff from the Defendant and for the Plaintiff to have the custody and guardianship of the infant children of the said marriage who are Oberta Marie Rawlings and Thomas Edward Rawlings.

The bill of complaint states that the parties were married on May 19, 1948, in Mount Savage, Maryland, and that they lived together following the said marriage in Bloomington in Garrett County, Maryland, until September, 1949, at which time and place the Defendant deserted and abandoned the Plaintiff and their infant daughter and the said desertion and abandonment has continued uninterruptedly ever since September, 1949, and is deliberate and final and the separation of the parties is beyond any reasonable expectation of reconcilliation. That the Plaintiff gave no just cause for the said desertion and abandonment. The infant son who was born after the said desertion and abandonment is now with the Defendant whose whereabouts are unknown but is believed to be a non-resident of the State of Maryland. That the Plaintiff and the infant daughter are residents of Garrett County, Maryland. The Plaintiff seeks the custody of the infant daughter and, if possible, the custody of the infant son.

It is thereupon this 3rd day of March, 1954, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, sitting in Equity, ordered that the Plaintiff by causing a copy of this Order to be published in some newspaper in Garrett County, Maryland, once in each of four successive weeks before the 2nd day of April, 1954, giving notice to the absent Defendant of the object and purpose of this suit and warning her to be and appear in this Court in person or by solicitor on or before the 17th day of April, 1954, to show cause, if any she has, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

Candidates Announce

Announcement of candidates for nomination at the primary election to be held in Garrett County on Monday, June 28, will be published in this column until immediately prior to the above date.

Rates for inserting these announcements, not to exceed three inches, are as follows:

State Senator, $35; Member House of Delegates, $25; Clerk of the Circuit Court, $30; Register of Wills, $30; Sheriff, $25; State's Attorney, $25; County Treasurer, $25; County Commissioner, $20; Judges of the Orphans' Court, $10; County Surveyor, $10; Members of the State Central Committee, $10.

Photography of candidates, to be used in conjunction with their weekly advertisements, extra according to the space used.

Advertising other than formal announcement would be at the regular advertising rate of 70 cents per column inch, payable in advance.

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County:

I hereby announce as a candidate for the office of County Commissioner of Garrett County.

Inasmuch as I live in Election District No. 10, under the present system of electing County Commissioners I will represent the first County Commissioner District if nominated and elected to the office which I seek. At the present time, I am a member of the Orphans' Court of this county.

I have lived in Garrett County all of my life, am a farmer, have been interested in a number of business and other organizations and believe that I have a pretty thorough knowledge of affairs in our county and what should be done for its improvement and well being.

If nominated and elected, I will give careful attention to the duties and demands of the office and to the best of my ability will serve all of the people of the county alike.

I respectfully solicit the support of all Republicans at the primary.

Harry F. Paugh

—Adv. 51*

To the Voters of Garrett County:

I hereby announce as candidate for the office of County Commissioner of Garrett County.

I have been a life-long resident of Garrett County, living in District No. 14.

If nominated and later elected to this office, I have but one promise to make—that I will serve the people of my county to the best of my ability.

My motto is, I realize no one can please everybody, but I can keep on trying.

I respectfully solicit your support.

H. D. "Hub" Swartzentruber.

—Adv. 1*

To all Voters of Garrett County:

I hereby announce as a candidate for the office of County Commissioner of Garrett County.

I have lived in Election District No. 13, in Garrett County all of my life. I have always been a Republican and I am now serving my third year as one of the Trial Magistrates of Garrett County.

If nominated and elected, I will to the best of my ability serve all the people of Garrett County alike.

I respectfully solicit your support.

Dwight A. Barrick
County Commissioner
District No. 1

—Adv. 2*

for County Commissioner .. .... To the Republican Voters of Garrett County:

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of County Commissioner subject to the results of the Republican primary.

Born and reared on a farm near Grantsville, I have lived in Garrett county practically all of my life. I purchased my first farm in District No. 5 in 1923. I believe my experience in the Farm Bureau, Soil Conservation and other organization work will be of great help in administering the duties of this office.

If nominated and elected I shall give just and honest consideration of all matters pertaining to the duties of this office.

I sincerely solicit your support and influence.

Foster Yost

District No. 5

—Adv. 2*

FOR COUNTY TREASURER

To the Republican Voters:

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of County Treasurer, subject to the results of the Republican primary election, and earnestly solicit the support of all the citizens of the county.

I have been a resident of Mt. Lake Park for twenty-nine years and have had bookkeeping and administrative experience for the past twenty-four years which I feel qualifies me to fill satisfactorily the office I seek. For the past four years I have been in the office of the County Roads engineer.

I pledge an honest and efficient administration in the duties of the treasurer's office should I be nominated and later elected.

Joseph H. Welch,
Mt. Lake Park

District 16

—Adv. 51*

FOR SHERIFF

I hereby announce myself as a candidate on the Republican ticket to succeed myself for the office of Sheriff of Garrett county.

My entire life has been spent in Garrett county, mostly in District No. 2, and I have endeavored to carry out the duties of the office without fear or partiality. Having served in this capacity for four years, and previous to that time as your deputy sheriff, I feel that I am in a position to render the type of service which the citizens of our county should expect from this office.

If renominated and reelected I pledge my full effort to the work connected with the sheriff's office. I shall be grateful for your support.

Paul W. Fisher
District No. 2

William T. Wyant, William T. Wiant, and all other parties having or claiming to have any interest in all the lands belonging to the said William T. Wiant in Election District No. 16, of Garrett County, Maryland, described as Lot No. 1214, on the East side of L Street in Mountain Lake Park, Maryland, and being part of the same which was conveyed to William T. Wiant by deed from Charles P. Masden and Laura E. Masden, his wife, dated October 6, 1883, and recorded in Liber W.H.T. No. 8, folio 202, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, and being assessed in the name of William T. Wyant.

No. 4443 Equity, In the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this proceeding is to secure the foreclosure of all rights of redemption in the following property situate in Election District No. 16 of Garrett County, Maryland, sold by the Late Collector and Collector of Taxes for Garrett County and the State of Maryland to the plaintiffs in this proceeding:

Lot No. 1214 on the E. side of L St., in Mt. Lake Park, and being part of the same which was conveyed to William T. Wiant by deed from Charles P. Masden and Laura E. Masden, his wife, dated October 6, 1883, and recorded in Liber W.-H.T. No. 8, folio 202, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, and assessed to William T. Wyant.

The bill states, among other things, that the amounts for redemption have not been paid, although more than a year and a day from the date of sale has expired.

IT IS THEREUPON, this 16th day of February, 1954, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, ORDERED that notice be given by the insertion of a copy of this Order in some newspaper having a general circulation in Garrett County, one a week for four successive weeks, warning all persons interested in said property to be and appear in this Court by the 3rd day of May, 1954, and redeem the property and answer the bill, or thereafter a final decree will be rendered foreclosing all rights or redemption in the property, and vesting in the plaintiffs a title, free and clear of all encumbrances.

Number 4446 Equity. In the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to procure the passage of a decree for the sale of the real estate of Emelia A. Paulie, deceased, situate in the town of Hutton, Garrett County, Maryland, and for the distribution.

The bill states:

That Emelia A. Paulie in her lifetime was seized and possessed of certain valuable real estate situate, lying and being in the town of Hutton, Garrett County, Maryland, known and designated as Lots Numbers 28 and 30 in the Southview Addition to said town, excepting all minerals, mining rights thereunder, it being the same which was conveyed unto the said Emelia A. Paulie, as E. A. Paulie by deed from O. F. Frankhouser et al, dated July 12th, 1950, and recorded in Liber R.L.D. No. 166, folio 379 &c, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, which said deed has been filed as "Plaintiffs Exhibit No. 1;" that the said Emelia A. Paulie while seized and possessed of the aforesaid real estate departed this life on the 29th day of June, 1953, intestate, and leaving surviving her the following children and descendants, to whom, as her heirs at law, the said lands have descended, viz: Fred H. Paulie, a son, who intermarried with Jessie Paulie, and reside in Garrett County, Maryland; Alton Paulie, a son, who intermarried with Ruth Paulie, and reside in Clearfield County, Pennsylvania; Josephine Paulie Sereno, a daughter, who intermarried with Joseph Sereno, and reside in Tioga County, Pennsylvania; Alma Paulie Lemaitre, widow, resides in Delaware County, Indiana; Raynor Paulie, single, whose last known address was Magdalena, Socorra County, New Mexico, but whose present whereabouts are unknown; the child and heir at law of Ernest Paulie, a deceased son of Emelia A. Paulie, who is survived by his widow, but who predeceased his mother, the said Emelia A. Paulie, viz; Janet Paulie Diggins, who intermarried with Ray Diggins, and reside in Marshall County, West Virginia; the children and heirs at law of Minnie Pauline Nine, a deceased daughter of Emelia A. Paulie, who as well as her husband predeceased her mother, the said Emelia A. Paulie, viz; Jessie Nine Hinebaugh, who intermarried with Paul Hinebaugh, and reside in Garrett County, Maryland; Walter Irvin Nine, who intermarried with Betty Nine, and reside in Marion County, West Virginia; Hazel Nine Worley, who intermarried with George Worley, and reside in Kanawha County, West Virginia; Frances Nine Davies, who intermarried with Walter Davies, and reside in Darke County, Ohio; the children and heirs at law of Valesca Paulie Sanders, who is survived by her husband, but who predeceased her mother, the said Emelia A. Paulie, viz; Gladys Sanders Whetsell, who intermarried with Charles Whetsell, and reside in Allegany County, Maryland; Paul Sanders, who intermarried with Mary Sanders, and reside in Allegany County, Maryland; Lawrence Sanders, who intermarried with Glendine Sanders, and reside in Garrett County, Maryland; Forrest Sanders, who intermarried with Margaret Sanders, and reside in Garrett County, Maryland; Elwood Sanders, who intermarried with Martha Sanders, residing in Garrett County, Maryland, all of whom are of full age; Barbara Sanders, single and under the age of twenty-one years, residing in Garrett County, Maryland; Bethel Sanders, single, and residing in Garrett County, Maryland; Dortha Sanders Neimeth, who intermarried with Jerry Neimeth, and reside in Geary County, Kansas, all of whom are of full age; that the said Fred H. Paulie was granted letters of administration on the estate of the said Emelia A. Paulie and notice to creditors were given; that at the time of her death, the said Emelia A. Paulie was indebted to The Garrett County Welfare Board in amount set forth in said bill, and the estate of Emelia A. Paulie is indebted to the said Emroy Bolden, trading as Bolden Funeral Home in amount set forth in said bill, to the said William Hardesty, trading as Hardesty Brothers in amount set forth in said bill, and to the said Fred H. Paulie in amount set forth in said bill, and that the personal assets of said Emelia A. Paulie is insufficient to discharge the said debts against her estate; that the said real estate is not susceptible of partition in kind amongst those entitled to interests therein without material loss and injury, and that it would be for the best interest of all the parties hereto that the said real estate be sold and the proceeds divided amongst them according to their several interests, after payment of the debts against her estate.

TO THE END THEREFORE:

The bill then prays for a decree for the sale of said real estate, that the proceeds arising from such sale may be applied to the payments of the said debts of the said Emelia A. Paulie and the balance, if any, be distributed amongst those entitled to interest therein according to their respective interest for general relief, for the writ of subpoena against Barbara Sanders, The Garrett County Welfare Board, William Hardesty, trading as Hardesty Brothers, Emroy Bolden, trading as Bolden Funeral Home, and for the Order of Publication against Raynor Paulie.

It is thereupon this 1st day of March, 1954, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, in Equity, ordered that the plaintiffs by having a copy of this order inserted in some newspaper published in Garrett County, Maryland, once a week for four successive weeks before the 2nd day of April, 1954, give notice to the said absent defendant, Raynor Paulie warning him to be and appear in this Court in person or by solicitor, on or before the 17th day of April, 1954, to show cause, if any he has, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

DIED

MRS. ELLA D. MOORE

Mrs. Ella D. Moore, aged 90, died at 8:45 a. m. on Sunday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Jessie Ashburn, Rowlesburg, W. Va., with whom she made her home.

She had been in declining health the past several months and seriously ill for three weeks.

She was born September 12, 1863, at Frostburg, and went with her parents, John T. and Minerva Balthas Dawson to Rowlesburg in 1879, and resided there since. Her husband, Edward Moore, died May 22, 1922.

She is survived by three sons, N. E. Moore, Harrisonburg, Va.; Harry G. Moore, South Hill, Va.; and Joseph E. Moore, Reedsville; and one daughter, Mrs. Ashburn. There are 17 grandchildren and 25 great grandchildren. She is also survived by one brother, J. L. Dawson, of Fairmont, former resident of Mt. Lake Park; and one sister, Mrs. Bertie Grubb, of Washington, D. C.

The deceased was a member of Christ Methodist Church, Rowlesburg, and a charter member and the oldest in years of the Ladies Friendly Bible Class.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Arta F. Shomo in Christ Methodist church Tuesday at 2:30 p. m., and burial was in Riverview Cemetery, Rowlesburg.

MRS. LUCIEN E. FELTY

Mrs. Edith Louise Felty, 43, wife of Lucien E. Felty, postmaster at Rowlesburg, W. Va., died at the University hospital in Baltimore last Thursday, March 4.

She was born May 4, 1910, at Davis, W. Va., the daughter of Dr. N. McKendrick Wilson, and the late Myrta C. Smith Wilson.

She was a member of the Presbyterian church at Davis and the Delta Gamma sorority at West Virginia university.

Besides her husband and father she is survived by a daughter, Ann Myrta, at home; and a brother, Millard C. Wilson, Pittsburgh.

Funeral services were conducted Sunday from Christ Methodist church in Rowlesburg, with Rev. Arta Shomo officiating, assisted by Rev. B. A. Mann, of Davis. Burial was in the cemetery at Oakland.

The Feltys were former residents of Oakland.

JONAS ROYER KAMP

Jonas Royer Kamp, who was born September 20, 1892, at Accident, died on March 2, 1954, at his home near Confluence, Pa., at the age of 61 years. He was the son of Henry Kamp and Martha Nee Stark. He was confirmed in St. Paul's Lutheran church, Accident, on September 30, 1906, and remained a life-long member of that church.

Mr. Kamp was united in marriage to Laura Nee Miller on April 13, 1915.

He is survived by his wife; one son, Fred J. Kamp, Confluence, Pa.; and two daughters, Mrs. Gladys Close, Confluence, Pa., and Mrs. Ruth Butler, Accident. He was preceded in death by one son and one daughter.

Mr. Kamp is also survived by one sister, Mrs. Clara Conley, Kingwood, W. Va.; three brothers, Clarence, Austin, Minn.; Harrison, Baltimore; Harry, Accident; four grandsons and two granddaughters.

Mr. Kamp was formerly a resident of Accident, but had lived for the past seventeen years near Confluence, Pa. He had been in poor health for the past one and one-half years.

Services were conducted on Saturday, March 6, at 2:30 p. m., at St. Paul's Lutheran church in Accident. Burial was in St. Paul's New Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Earl Ault, Benjamin Burnworth, Harry Collier, Everett Fike, Jonas Margroff and John K. Tishue.

PHIL G. DUCKWORTH

Phil Garthwright Duckworth, 70, of Kitzmiller, died of a heart attack Sunday afternoon, March 7, while visiting at the home of a neighbor.

He was a retired coal miner and a member of Local 4365, United Mine Workers of America, Vindex. Mr. Duckworth formerly lived at Vindex but for the past six or seven years had lived alone about three miles west of Kitzmiller on route 38.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Mona Van Gieson, Bronx, N. Y.; Mrs. David B. Young, Mentor, O.; Miss Nina Duckworth, Pittsburgh, Pa.; a sister, Mrs. Minnie Nichols, Westernport; six grandchildren, and two great grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday afternoon from the Nethken Hill Methodist church, with Rev. William Withers, pastor, officiating. Interment was in the cemetery at Elk Garden, W. Va.

Rifle League Ends In Tie For First

The fourteenth and last regularly scheduled smallbore rifle match of the Western Maryland League's indoor series was fired Sunday afternoon with Hercules, the Falcons, Fort Hill and the Eagles collecting wins.

At Oakland, the Falcons trimmed a two-man Frostburg team, 1139 to 536. Bob Cain and Wilson White each with 289 markers, headed the winners.

Hercules beat LaVale 1131 to 1125. Fort Hill took an Avilton forfeit, 1119 to 0.

The Eagles collected a Cumberland forfeit at Oakland, 1113 to 0. Clyde Calhoun's 285 topped the Garrett county riflemen.

Next Sunday LaVale and the Eagles will battle in a special shoot-off match to determine fourth place. A week later the first event of a scheduled three match shoot-off series will be fired between Hercules and the Falcons for the league championship. Fort Hill will challenge the fourth place team in a two-out of three series for runner up honors. Falcons of Oakland and Hercules of Cumberland have both won 12 matches and lost 2.

Falcon scores in the prone, sitting, kneeling and standing positions are: R. L. Cain, 100, 47, 48, 94, 289; W. W. White, 100, 48, 49, 92, 289; J. M. McClintock, 100, 50, 45, 90, 285; D. E. Helbig, 99, 47, 47, 83, 276; team total 1139. Also firing, A. Calhoun 273, R. Sims 271, M. Willard 239.

Eagles—C. H. Calhoun, 100, 50, 48, 87, 285; E. E. Michael, 99, 48, 46, 87, 280; C. W. Englander, 99, 50, 43, 86, 278; G. L. Porter, 100, 47, 46, 77, 270; team total 1113.

Radio commentator Fulton Lewis, Jr., who has criticized law enforcement in St. Marys county for more than a year, was indicted on charges of libeling a state senator and two county judges.

Honor Society Gains New Members At Group Induction

Twelve new members were inducted into the Northern High Chapter of the National Honor Society on Tuesday, March 2, at 1:15 p. m. in the school gymnasium. Seven seniors and five juniors were pledged in ritual witnessed by the entire student body, parents and other guests. The inducting officer, Sara Stanton, was assisted by Mildred Harman, Clara Carey, Norma Jean Taylor, and Donna Yommer.

Music was furnished by Miss Lou Brock and the members of the Senior High School Chorus. Mr. R. Bowen Hardesty, County Superintendent of Schools, delivered the charge to the new members as he spoke to them of the honor they had attained and the privileges and responsibilities attached thereto.

The senior inductees, Iva Jane Alexander, Juanita Elizabeth Bittinger, Mona Lea Collier, Clara Arzona Garlitz, Barbara Jean Hershberger, Dorothy Jean Shoemaker, and Anthony Eugene Layman were presented by Mr. Justin Riggs of the faculty council.

The junior inductees, Beverly Ann Beachy, Elizabeth Jane Kinsinger, Rita Ruth Buckel, Shirley Harlene Ream and Harry Allen Younkin were presented by Mr. Vernon Robeson, also of the faculty council.

The ceremony was climaxed by the signing of the chapter roster after which each new member was presented with the chapter flower—a white rose.

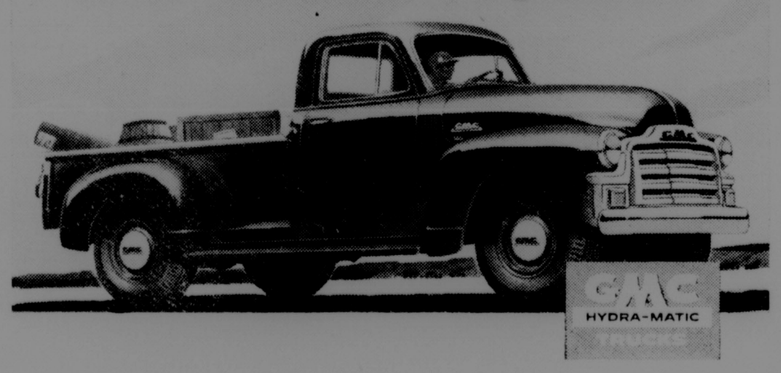
Half-ton beauty with a two-ton punch



THIS new '54 GMC light-duty wasn't born just to win beauty contests.
Sure, its sleek lines, full-width grille and panoramic windshield are handsomely un-trucklike.
There's the same dashing air about the inside, too. Two-tone color scheme. Harmonizing, supple-as-leather upholstery. Smart instrument panel, with dials clustered for instant reading.
But mister—take another look!
A burly, brawny brute of an engine—a real truck engine—makes you think of a Miss America who also can bend horseshoes. 125 horsepower says that this beauty can heft a top load with ease and dash.
That's more power than some makers pack into their two-ton models. That's more usable power than in any other 6-cylinder engine in its class!
And its wide, deep box holds at least 8 cubic feet more than the roomy '53 model. That tail gate is grain-tight—and sand-tight.
Finally, it offers Truck Hydra-Matic Drive* that saves you, saves your cash, saves your time.
(Note to the luxury-minded: there's a DE LUXE model at extra cost, with chrome grille and trim, two-tone paint, curved rear corner windows—the works!)
Come in and drive this great GMC. It will do all its own selling!
Get a modern truck!*
Be careful—drive safely
*Truck Hydra-Matic Drive standard on some models, optional at extra cost on others.

Aren't We Peculiar . . .

People are funny at times—not funny ha ha, but funny peculiar-like. Just take the case of the escaped convict. One minute people were scared to death that the officers wouldn't catch him, and armed themselves with firearms to protect their own properties; and the next minute when he was finally run down and shot in the leg in order to get him to surrender, there was nothing but sympathy for the fellow and criticism for the officers who enforce the law.

Sure, it was a shame to shoot him, but the sorry part is why a man had to be of a criminal nature in the first place. He may have paid no attention to those with whom he was in contact in his youth—his parents, his teachers, his minister, his relatives. Maybe he was disillusioned by some of them somewhere along the line.

But here was a young man who was convicted of a forgery—a felony. He was placed under trust and violated the faith people had in him. One of the first things he did after driving off without permission, was to purchase an automobile and pay for it with another forged check. Sheriff Fisher discovered he had still another check for $800, ready to pass against his father when the opportunity presented itself. Maybe the next person to be victimized would have been you. Maybe your car would have been the next one taken. Maybe your home would be the next one entered upon some pretext.

Maybe the next time the crime would have been something worse, had the officers allowed sympathy to enter into the story.

"So they had to shoot the poor fellow," you say. But could we have printed what you would have said, had the officers allowed him to escape?

May Tie In Fair Site With New Public Park

Town Contemplates Purchase Of Site At Weber Crossroads For Long Range Program

Progress of a move of the town of Oakland toward purchasing the 33-acre William Weber tract at the Weber crossroads for a town park was brought out Monday night at a meeting of the Garrett County Fair committee.

The project was discussed openly along with the possibility that the same site might be the permanent home of the County's Agricultural fair.

In this way, any development done in the way of fair buildings could be of a permanent nature, which was one angle that created a favorable reaction among those interested in the fair.

Mayor Joseph Hinebaugh told the group that he and members of the city council planned to make a thorough inspection of the site in the near future, toward a long range development of a public park.

He said the development of the fair plant in connection with the park also would tend to help in the over-all development of the tract.

Members present Monday night from other parts of the county expressed a hope that such a site would materialize and were of the opinion that a site would aid in disposing of the remaining $10,000 of stock set as a minimum by the committee for getting a fair under way.

A canvass by the finance committee revealed that stock subscriptions had exceeded the sum of $5,000.

The next meeting of those interested in the fair will be held in the Accident elementary school auditorium on Monday evening, March 29, at 8 o'clock. H. G. Gortner, chairman, said announcement would be made next week of meeting places in various towns in the county for cars to take those interested to the meeting. Various communities are to have word to Mr. Gortner by Tuesday evening, March 23, so that details can be announced in next week's issue of The Republican. Those from Oakland plan to leave the Oakland fire department for Accident at 7:15 on the 29th.

Democrat Seeks Office of Sheriff

The first Democrat to announce for political office in the county came forward this week. He is Lee "Doll" McRobie, election district No. 13, Kitzmiller, and he is a candidate for sheriff, subject to the Democratic primary election in June.

Mr. McRobie, 38 years of age, has been a lifelong resident of the county and for sixteen years had worked in and around the coal mines of the county. During the past four years he has been employed by the B. and O. railroad, at the shops in Keyser. He is a son of Wesley McRobie and is married and the father of four children. Prior to going to Kitzmiller to live he resided at Hutton. He promises an honest and efficient administration if nominated and later elected.

Kermit Glotfelty Re-elected President of Turkey Growers

Kermit Glotfelty, Accident, was re-elected president of the Garrett County Turkey Growers at its first annual meeting last Friday evening at the Bittinger School.

Others named were Roy Glotfelty, vice-president; Lowell Loomis, secretary; John Reckner, treasurer. Prior to naming the officers the group elected John Bowman and Roy Glotfelty to the board of directors for three years.

Holdover directors Elwood Glotfelty, John Reckner, Kermit Glotfelty and Russell Teets, met with the new directors and selected the officers.

President Glotfelty appointed John Bowman, Russell Teets and Robert Glotfelty as a banquet committee; and Roy Glotfelty and Russell Teets as an auditing committee.

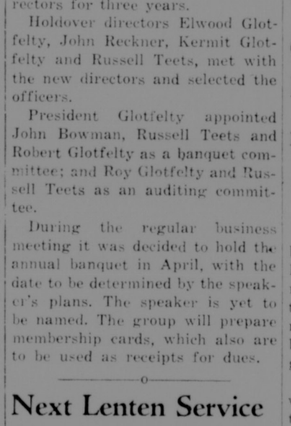
During the regular business meeting it was decided to hold the annual banquet in April, with the date to be determined by the speaker's plans. The speaker is yet to be named. The group will prepare membership cards, which also are to be used as receipts for dues.

Next Lenten Service At Lutheran Church

The Union Lenten Service next week, Wednesday, March 24th, at 7:30 o'clock, will be held in St. Mark's Lutheran church. The subject of the meditation will be "Matthew, Man of Buiness." It will be the fourth in a series on "Followers of the Christ," sponsored by The Mountain Top Ministerial Association.

The service this week was held in St. Paul's Methodist church, with Dr. Paul S. Parker of the Deep Creek Baptist church preaching on "John, the Great Hearted man." "A most cordial invitation is extended to all to attend these services in which the strengthening of the spiritual life is being stressed," declared Dr. W. S. Patterson, who arranged the series of meetings.

Enlists in WAF



DELORES ANN MOON

Miss Delores Ann Moon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Moon, of McHenry, was enlisted in the Women in the Air Force on March 8, through the Cumberland recruiting station and has been sent to Lackland AFB, San Antonio, Tex., for her basic training.

Oakland Quint to Play All-Girl Team

Double-Header Basketball Attraction Offered Friday, March 26

The Oakland Merchants will be host to the Johnstown All-Girl Rockettes at a basketball encounter next Friday evening, March 26, at the Southern High school gymnasium. The main attraction will begin at 8:45 with a preliminary game at 7:30.

Proceeds of the game will go toward the purchase of uniforms for the Merchants and the Oakland Independents basketball teams.

The Rockettes are bringing high scorers with the group including Sara Wentz and Connie Rovida. Both hold several female cage scoring records. Miss Wentz is a former All-American Red Head and has led the team to a number of victories. Miss Rovida is the team set shot artist. Another one, Jane Garshnick, is known as the playmaker and works from the team position of center. Other members are Jeep Gogel, O'Kara, Vi Stosko, Joan Bezek and Coltrin.

The girls' opponents will include Russell Stover, Denver "Big Boy" Sisler, Robert King, Buddy Mills, Timmie Sisler, William Sharps, Kyle Wilson, Jack Veader, Harland Kelley and James Rook.

In the preliminary game at 7:30 the Independents will play Bayard. In the Independents' lineup are Gary Baker, Mahlon Yost, Arthur Wolf, Linwood Davy, Vane Iden, George Stewart, Harrison Stewart and Leo Treacy.

Admission will be 50 and 75 cents.

Experience Thunder Storm and Blizzard

Garrett county citizens experienced a heavy thunder storm followed by a blizzard of mid-winter proportions during the past week, but two days of sunshine served to dim the memory.

Sharp lightning and heavy thunder occurred early Saturday morning with around an inch of rainfall. This was followed by falling temperature and there was snow on Sunday of blizzard variety. This continued Sunday night and Monday with the snow continuing into Tuesday but with much less wind.

Depth of the snow in sheltered areas did not reach more than three inches, but the wind whipped up some drifts several feet high. County and state highways remained open, and clear skies of Wednesday and Thursday brought an end to the stormy period.

Invalid Saved As Home Burns

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. "Rell" Friend Lose All Their Belongings Monday near Sang Run

Fire completely destroyed the two-story, eight-room frame dwelling of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. "Rell" Friend, near Sang Run, Monday morning about 9:30 o'clock.

Mr. Friend, a 200-pound invalid, and about 74 years of age, narrowly escaped with his life. Roy Dillworth, 32, a slightly built man who was employed as a farm assistant there, is credited by Oakland firemen with saving not only his employer's life but also that of Mrs. Friend. He dragged the helpless man from the burning building after leading Mrs. Friend, 69, out of the house.

Oakland Fire Chief Emroy Bolden, said the alarm was received in Oakland, about 18 miles from Sang Run, about 9:50. Volunteer firement responded and arrived at the scene some 25 minutes later after traveling through blizzard weather.

The house was enveloped in flames when firemen arrived and it was impossible to do anything to save the building. However, they kept the fire from spreading to the meat smoke house and a large barn which housed a number of cattle.

Witnesses said Dillworth, answering a call for help from Mrs. Friend, who had discovered the fire, ran from the barn and entered the burning building. It was learned later that Mrs. Friend heard a noise upstairs and upon investigating was met with a wall of flame. Returning to the front porch she called Dillworth. Upon his arrival he discovered Mrs. Friend had re-entered the house, apparently in an effort to save her husband and some of their belongings.

She was partially overcome by smoke. Dillworth led Mrs. Friend out of the house and then returned to get his employer who was bedfast with an arthritic ailment in a downstairs rear bedroom.

First Report Shows $600 For Red Cross

The first report of the annual campaign for funds by the American Red Cross showed receipts of $600, it was announced by the county chairman, Olonzo P. Fike, of Accident, yesterday.

The quota for the year has been set at $3,185.

Fike said all of the communities in the county have been organized and captains chosen to lead the local solicitation for funds. The inclement weather of the past ten days delayed the intensive push that had been arranged, but the chairman said he was looking for better days for the rest of the month.

As the workers headed into the final weeks of the campaign, Mr. Fike asked for the cooperation of everyone throughout the county in helping the workers to achieve the goal, and he declared, "Let those give now who never gave before; Let those who always gave, now give the more."

He said he had found this week in an old newspaper dated 1878, an article on Charity which seemed to fit the present drive for Red Cross funds and asked for space to repeat it.

"Charity is the offspring of the skies! Wherever she fixes her abode, Heaven is there. The existence of this divine principle is alone sufficient to evince the existence of Deity—for nothing less than Divinity can give birth to those sublimely pleasurable sensations, which fill the benevolent soul, in the performance of Heaven's own work—the work of Charity.

"What a harvest of ecstatic delight does the benevolent mind enjoy, when it wipes the tear from the cheek of sorrow, and lights up the smile of serenity in the swollen eye of wretchedness! This pleasure the good man seeks, and never seeks in vain, 'for the poor we always have with us.' But how does his soul expand with compassion, when, by the stroke of Providence, the objects of misery thicken upon his sight! The sympathy, the exertions, the liberality of such a man are bounded only by the UTMOST LIMITS of his power and ability."

He added that he had no doubt that when Red Cross volunteers solicit the many homes of the county for funds that the response would be greater than ever.

BULLET STOPS FLEEING CONVICT—Paul J. Morgan, 26, of Grafton, lies in the cinders along the B. & O. tracks near "88" bridge shortly after he had been brought down by a bullet wound in his left leg just above the ankle, last Saturday afternoon. Serving from two to ten years in the West Virginia penitentiary on a forgery conviction, he had escaped last week from a work gang at Hopemont. He failed to heed an order to halt and led the officers a chase over Crook Crest, the local golf course, and beyond the Youghiogheny river, about two miles west of town. On the left is Maryland Trooper Robert Henline, while on the right is West Virginia police corporal W. L. Pike, whose bullet finally brought him down. Another picture on page eight.

Gets Year for Theft

Gerald Victor Musgrove, of Piedmont, W. Va., colored, aged 20, was sentenced to a year in the House of Correction by Trial Magistrate W. O. Bitzer at a hearing before him on Monday.

Musgrove was charged with larceny of a wrist watch, ring and small bank from the home of Mrs. Belva Louise Ritchie, who resides near Westernport, across the line in Garrett county.

He was arrested last Saturday by State Trooper Milton Hart. He pleaded guilty to the charge. Sheriff Paul W. Fisher said he would be taken to the institution sometime this week.

Plan Control of Oak Wilt Disease

District foresters of three states met yesterday at Bedford, Pa., to coordinate control measures of the oak wilt disease and study the advancement of the disease in forests throughout the area.

William H. Johnson, district forester, said the fungus first was discovered in Maryland in 1951 in this county. At that time a heavy infectious growth had been reported in the midwest.

An aerial reconnaissance of Allegany and Garrett counties was carried out the following year during which 25 acres were located which appeared to be infested. Samples of trees from the infested areas were taken and the disease identified. Control measures were instituted.

Another survey in 1953 showed no further spread.

Extension Meetings

The week's meetings of Homemaker and 4-H clubs were announced by Miss Ethel Grove, home demonstration agent:

March 25, West Vindex Homemakers at home of Mrs. Emeral Evans, 2 p. m.; Oakland Homemakers at home of Mrs. Spencer Graham, 7:30 p. m.

March 26, demonstration on making slip covers by Mrs. Harry Friend, at home of Mrs. Floyd Wensel, 9:30 a. m., to 3:30 p. m.

Four-H—Corunna 4-H club at school, 7:30 p. m., March 23; Monte Vista club at home of Miss Cynthia Nace, 3:45 p. m.

May Organize Boys' Club

Efforts are under way by members of the Oakland Moose lodge, to form a boys' club here that would feature little league baseball, boxing and wrestling and other sports for youngsters. A meeting was held Monday night at the Moose hall, called by William Spiker, who was in charge. Additional meetings are planned.

Classes Planned In Home Nursing

Home Nursing classes are being planned by the county homemaker groups to aid the county civil defense program, it was announced this week. The County Red Cross is cooperating with the Homemakers.

Plans for the classes were made at a recent conference of Mrs. Paul Naylor, Mrs. E. Ray Jones for the Red Cross; Miss Margaret Margrave, national Red Cross field representative, Alexandria, Va.; and Miss Ethel Grove, home demonstration agent.

Instructor for the classes will be Miss Lucy Johns, R.N., national Red Cross nursing representative, and classes are planned at Grantsville and Oakland. The first classes scheduled for the Grantsville school on Tuesday, April 6, at 1:30 p. m., and the Oakland Fire Hall, Wednesday, April 7, at 7:30 p. m. There will be six sessions each of two and one-half hours each session.

The classes are open to all interested persons, and they need not be members of Homemakers clubs. There will be a minimum of 10 and a maximum of 15 in the classes, it was stated.

Mrs. Russell Klotz, county health chairman for Homemakers clubs, recently made a survey of club members who would be interested. Those interested in the Grantsville area are to contact her. Those interested in the Oakland area are to call the county extension office 2-2525.

March Court Term Will Begin Monday

The March Term of Court will be held next week, starting on Monday, March 22, and State's Attorney W. Dwight Stover was looking for all cases to be disposed of in one day.

Associate Judge George Henderson was expected to be on the bench for the criminal trials.

The grand jurors last week returned seven indictments, and these were listed by Stover as the type of cases usually brought before the court.

Already apprehended and out on bond were Alvie Thomas, John Thomas, Elmer Dilsworth, charged with breaking and entering; Vernon R. Ludwig, desertion and nonsupport; Carl Henry Durst, of near Jennings, charged with larceny and receiving stolen goods.

The petit jurors are ordered to report for duty at 9 a. m., on Monday in case there are any jury trials.

Takes Over Farm Machinery Agency

The agency for Allis-Chalmers farm equipment has been taken over by the Oakland Equipment company, it was announced this week. The change was effective Monday, March 15.

The agency was formerly held by the Arthur Savage garage. Mr. Savage is relinquishing this agency to devote his full time to developing the agency for Mercury automobiles.

"Blue Devils" Win Little League Play

The Blue Devils, coached by Larry Friend, won the Little League elimination basketball tournament last Friday night at the Southern High gym, defeating the Highlanders 14 to 5.

The Blue Devils had defeated Ruff Houses, Cardinals and Highlanders to take the title. Players included Vaughn Hardesty, Kenneth Troy, Wesley Lane, Ernest White and Cheston Browning.

The runner-up Highlander team composed of Curtis Rhodes, Harvey Winters, Joe Sanders, Don Stemple, Dorris Updyke and Dwight Kitzmiller, had defeated the Blue Stars, the Yellow Jackets and the Eagles in their path to the finals. They were coached by Knotts.

In earlier games the Eagles had defeated the Globetrotters, the Silver Streaks had defeated the Red Devils and the Cardinals had defeated the Silver Streaks.

Sixth grade cheerleaders were Carol Hordesty, Gail Naylor, Ann Lee Lohr, Caroline Spoerlein, Willard Ann Glotfelty and Jane Hanst. Seventh grade cheerleaders were Lois Swartzentruber, Margaret James, Lorain Kight and Connie Evans.

Three hundred fifty persons paid 10 cents admission to witness the tournament. Proceeds will be used to purchase equipment for next year's participants. The tournament was managed by Kyle Wilson, athletic coach. Referees were Jack Veader, James DeMoss, Leonard Ritchie and James Rook.

To Confer Rank of Knight

The rank of Esquire was conferred on two candidates at a meeting of Garrett Lodge No. 113, Knights of Pythias, last Friday evening.

Officers announced there would be no meeting this week due to the Lions club minstrel, but that the rank of Knight would be conferred at the meeting on Friday, March 26.

Fleeing Convict Shot By Police In Wild Chase

Convicted Forger Had Escaped From Work Gang At Hopemont Last Wednesday

Garrett County officials and Maryland State Police assisted West Virginia authorities in capturing an escaped West Virginia convict last Saturday afternoon after a wild chase in the Crook Crest and Youghiogheny river area that caused a great deal of excitement among Oaklanders. The convict was finally halted by a shot in the left leg just above the ankle while running from officers near the Baltimore and Ohio "88" bridge.

The man was identified as Paul J. Morgan, 26, of Grafton, who was serving a sentence of from two to ten years at West Virginia State penitentiary at Moundsville, on a forgery conviction. He had escaped from a work gang at Hopemont Sanitarium, near Terra Alta, on March 10, where he had been used as a truck driver since August, 1952.

Morgan left the sanitarium in one of the trucks but traveled only a short distance before abandoning it in a nearby woods. He then hitchhiked to Fairmont, W. Va., where authorities learned he purchased a 1948 Buick automobile from Watson Motors and said he paid for it with a forged check.

Learning he was in the Oakland area on Saturday, Cpl. W. L. Pike and Pvt. H. E. Parks of the West Virginia police came to Oakland and obtained the assistance of Sheriff Paul W. Fisher. Fisher also notified Maryland State Officers Cpl. Sam Conrad and Trooper Robert Henline.

The two West Virginia officers and Sheriff Fisher, in the latter's car, located Morgan on North Third street, heading north. Morgan failed to heed Fisher's warning to stop and sped away. He turned back toward Oakland on the old route 219 with Fisher close behind. He was forced to abandon his automobile at the home of Harold Schell near Hawkinson Tread service and fled up over the hill toward Crook Crest. Several shots were fired at him as he ran, by the West Virginia state police, one bullet going through a sheet hanging on a clothesline back of Erval Ream's home.

On the top of Crook Crest he abandoned the loafer type shoes he was wearing to increase his speed and he proceeded westward in his stockinged feet. After losing the trail at the Golf Course, Maryland State Troopers joined in the chase. The search carried them to the Youghiogheny river bridge and out the Fingerboard road toward Hutton. The trail took them to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kitzmiller about two miles west of Oakland. Morgan had stopped at the Kitzmiller home and asked Mrs.

Seal Sale Is High

Garrett county citizens helped in reaching the largest amount ever raised by public subscription in Maryland for tuberculosis control work which was received during the 1953 Christmas Seal Sale.

A total of $450,711.21 was contributed to the Maryland Tuberculosis association and its affiliated county associations. This was an increase of 9 percent over the funds raised during the 1952 sale.

Of the total, $289,064.77 was contributed in the counties and $161,646.44 in Baltimore City.

Figures from Garrett county showed a total of $2,026.54, or $476.38 more than last year, an increase of 30.7 percent.

Receive Their Caps

Four Garrett county girls were among the 42 students receiving their caps at the capping exercises held at the Memorial School of Nursing in Cumberland on Tuesday, March 9.

Students receiving caps were Lynn Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ellwood Adams, Crellin; Fronia Blamble, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Blamble, Red Oak; Emma Lohr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Lohr, Pleasant Valley; and Mary Jean Lohr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lohr, near Deer Park. The four are graduates of Southern High school.

Invalid Is Saved

dragged Friend from the house and put the couple in the smoke house to protect them from the weather and then traveled to a store owned by Mrs. Mary Hinebaugh, who called Oakland firemen and also called neighbors to assist the family. Dillworth then returned to the farmhouse with blankets to keep the elderly man warm, since the latter was clad only in pajamas.

Son Is Burned

Meanwhile the smoke house roof had caught fire and Dillworth had to move the couple to the barn and from there to a station wagon brought to the scene by a neighbor, Martin Friend, 50, son of the couple, employed by the Pennsylvania Electric company at Deep Creek Lake power plant, hurried home when the alarm spread and thinking his parents were trapped in the house, entered the building to save them. He was rescued but not before being burned about the face, neck and hands.

The Friends lived in their home, between Sang Run and the Power House, with their son and a daughter, Miss Mary Martha Friend, an instructor in the Oakland Elementary school. Mr. and Mrs. Friend were taken to the home of Mrs. Doris Rodeheaver, another daughter, who lives nearby, where both were treated for shock and exposure. They will remain there for the time being.

The Friends lost not only their furniture and all their clothing, but also some currency and bonds. Miss Friend is remaining temporarily in Oakland, while Martin Friend is residing at the home of Earl Railey, at McHenry.

Dillworth only recently moved into the Sang Run area, it was learned.

HOYES

The Hoyes WSCS met Thursday with Mrs. Hobart Bishoff with 13 members present. Mrs. Bishoff led the worship service and Mrs. W. W. DeWitt taught the first lesson on the book of Jeremiah. Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Bishoff and Mr. and Mrs. John Bishoff and Miss Ada Leighton visited relatives in Oakland and attended funeral services for their aunt at Terra Alta on Sunday.

Mrs. Claude Bishoff attended the P.-T.A. County Council dinner meeting at Southern High school Thursday evening.

Miss Margaret Loar, University of Maryland; and Miss Ethel Grove were Wednesday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. DeWitt. Sunday dinner guests were Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Bishoff.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our daughter, Sarah Ellen Glotfelty, who departed this life March 15, 1953.

Nine short years she came to stay,
She scattered sunshine along life's way.
One lonely year since she went away,
No sunshine came since that sad day.

How many griefs we had to bear,
As by her bedside we watched with prayer.
No earthly store could save her pain,
She had a higher goal to gain.

No one knows the sorrow we see,
And often we wonder why it must be.
But we know from pain she is free,
And lives in Heaven with Thee.

An angel here, an angel there,
We picture her in beauty rare.
And hope and pray to prepare
To meet again in Heaven so fair.

Her life on earth a glowing light,
Will guide us through the darkest night,
And set our footsteps aright,
'Til we meet in Heavenly delight.

Up there no sadness of the heart,
To meet again and never part.

Sadly missed by Mother, Daddy and Brother.
—Adv. It.

BITTINGER

From whisps of wind, pearls of sleet and very gentle rains,
Is wrought life's golden arch;
Grim winter wanes and spring obtains,
Fair nature is on the March.

ONE WORD . . .

Can Change Your Life

By REV. ROBT. OLEWILER
Pastor, Grace Reformed Church
Washington, D. C.

PROGRAM

One morning a three-year-old was entertaining his playmates in the living room. The absence of the usual boisterous activity aroused the Mother's suspicions and she sneaked near enough to listen in on what was happening.

She heard the little tikers imitating the TV program, "Bride and Groom." Finally, they came to that part in the ceremony where the officiating clergyman solemnizes the wedding and the Mother heard the three-year-old playing the part of the Minister say: "And now I join you together in holy headlock."

We laugh at our children, but are we much different? Don't we get our programs in life all mixed up? Don't we join some odd things together? Our values grow distorted, our obligations get misplaced and our decisions go haywire. To get straightened out, and stay that way, we've got to depend on God's program, the word that can change your life.

U.S. population reached 161,100,000 at the beginning of 1954, a gain of 10 million since 1950.

Congressional Viewpoint

Sen. John Marshall Butler

Washington, March 15, 1954—In view of the program of the Senate Sub-committee on Water Transportation, of great significance to the economy of the State of Maryland, I thought that you might be interested in my activities as chairman, during the past several weeks, which are outlined below:

1. I have contacted President Eisenhower, urging a meeting with the Maryland Congressional delegation to consider measures to relieve distress in the shipbuilding areas. In response, I have received semi-official assurance from the Executive Department that construction will be approved shortly for four and possibly six large passenger vessels. It is also my expectation to meet with the President tomorrow to discuss this matter in great detail.

2. At my request, the Navy made an audit of Navy repair work which was placed in private shipyards during the calendar year 1953. As you know, the Navy has a new policy of increased use of private yards. The results indicate that the Fifth Naval District received approximately 30.23 percent of this business, divided approximately evenly between the Baltimore and Norfolk areas.

3. The staff of the subcommittee is exploring the following points on which tentative hearings have been set for this month:

a. To check closely into activities of Military Sea Transportation Service in order to remove any and all MSTS competition with private shipping in all non-military fields.

b. To resolve the current uncertainty in the law covering ship transports in any emergency.

c. To broaden the application of the provision now in Foreign Operations Administration and other legislation requiring that at least 50% of all U. S. Government-financed shipments be carried in American bottoms, and to make this provision applicable to all Government-financed shipments. I am introducing legislation in the next few days to accomplish this point.

d. To check operations of Public Law 288, 83rd Congress, 1st Session, to promote private ship financing, with view of remedying any defects.

4. Through speeches and articles inserted in the Congressional Record, I have been continuing an almost daily campaign of information to the Senate on Merchant Marine and shipbuilding problems and have endeavored to emphasize the present plight of the shipping and shipbuilding industries, the reasons therefore, and suggested remedies.

Why value-wise buyers are swinging to Ford!

You can't buy better! It's the stunning Customline Fordor Sedan.

Ford's the only low-priced car with all these "Worth More" features

Recognized leadership in styling
You can pay more but you'll never find a car that's more "at home" wherever you may drive it. For the smart new '54 Ford is as modern as tomorrow with the crisp, commanding lines of today's style leader. And it's just as smart inside! The sparkling new decorator-designed interiors have colorful new upholstery fabrics and harmonizing trim that spell quality wherever you look.

Choice of most modern engines
Ford and Ford alone, in the low-price field, offers you a choice of V-8 or Six . . . the brilliant new 130-h.p. Y-block V-8 or the flashing new 115-h.p. I-block Six. Both Ford engines have rigid, extra-deep blocks for smoothest, quietest operation and extra-long life . . . plus the savings and "GO" of modern, short-stroke, low-friction design.

Ball-Joint Front Suspension
For the first time in any low-priced car, you get the smoother riding and easier handling of Ball-Joint Front Suspension—an advance you'd expect to find only in the costliest cars.

Choice of 5 power assists . . . including Fordomatic
Only Ford in the low-price field offers power on all four windows . . . a 4-way power seat which adjusts up and down as well as forward and back. Power steering, power brakes and versatile Fordomatic Drive are also available—and they make your fine Ford even more fun to drive.

Choice of 28 new models
With fourteen stunning body styles available with either of Ford's new engines, Ford offers the widest selection of models in the entire industry.

Top value at resale
Used car prices show that in recent years Ford has consistently returned a higher proportion of its original cost at resale than any other car. And for 1954, with all its advanced new features, Ford is worth even more.

We cordially invite you to Test Drive the 1954

Open Season Better

(Note: This is the third in a series of letters as a result of a study being made by a core class at Southern High School.)

To The Editor:

When Marshal De Villars said, "God save me from my friends, I can protect myself from my enemies," he could have been speaking of our white-tailed deer. No animal has suffered so much at the hands of its well wishers, and none has fought more courageously to survive under conditions which continually and systematically saps vigor of the species.

In the following paragraph is proof that an open season is far better for the deer herds. In West Virginia's deer season, in the last three years, one of the most interesting points concerns the trend of sex-ratios in the kill made during that time. In 1951 the first hunter's-choice season, the ratio was 85 males per 100 females. Since then the trend has been toward a greater portion of males. In 1952 the ratio rose to 93 males per 100 females. The 1953 ratio was even. The number of bucks killed was almost exactly equal to the number of does killed.

One outstanding example of the proper method for managing a deer herd is in the State of Minnesota, where for years the killing of both bucks and does has been permitted. Under the authority of the Director of Conservation of the State of Minnesota, Mr. Chester Wilson, this state does not have a deer problem.

It is regrettable that so many of our sportsmen have been taught to consider a doe something sacred. Whenever there has been an open season on antlerless deer, there have been howls of protest from individuals and sportsmen's organizations decrying the slaughter. Although the females of our other game, from squirrels to bears receive no special consideration without it adversely affecting the reproductive capacity of the species, well meaning, but misguided individuals believe that any open season on female deer would result in a drastic decrease in our fawn crop, and in the eventual decimation of the species.

To a casual observer it appears only logical that any decrease in our females would be followed by a decrease in our fawn crop. However, since our does are now reproducing at a rate far below their theoretical ability, we may harvest a portion of them without sacrificing the reproductive capacity of the herd as a whole, if the remaining females will produce a higher percentage of young than they are doing at the present.

The Adirondack area in New York State has a deer problem the same as we do in Maryland. Do you know why? Because they can't see the idea of a doe season up there, largely because of the selfish opinions of some of the natives, the same as it is in MARYLAND.

Forty years ago, when deer were re-introduced into Pennsylvania, the shooting of the females was prohibited to increase their herd at the maximum rate. The immature males were likewise protected that they might become the sires of their future herds and provide trophies the following season.

They felt that even if a hundred percent of the legal bucks were killed there would be sufficient young males to service the does, and the actual reproductive capacity of their herd would not suffer. (This plan is similar to the one that is used in Maryland at the present time.)

This plan appears logical enough on paper, but any veteran live stock breeder could see that we are headed for disaster. We are constantly removing our most virile males, and retaining our scrubs and young stock for reproductive purposes.

When deer are well fed, a large percentage (60%) or more of the annual kill of bucks are yearlings. In Maryland and the rest of the United States, the hunters are shooting the bucks with the largest antlers. If a farmer with a herd of beef or dairy cattle would consistently butcher his biggest and best bulls and saved the scrawny bulls for breeders, he would soon go out of business. But American hunters manage their deer herds in just that manner.

Our policy of saving the spikes and shooting the trophy bucks may gradually be producing a breed of spike bucks. This is the primary reason why we should legalize these animals.

It is time we looked at our deer problem from a hard-boiled business point of view, and stop squeezing tears of sentiment for the "mothers of our herds" and the fawns which are "too young and pretty to die."

It isn't kindness to protect them during hunting season so they may starve a few months later.

It isn't logical to preserve our runts and undesirable males for breeding purposes.

It isn't good business to try to increase our herds on ranges already over-stocked.

For twenty years we have managed our deer herd with our emotions. It is high time we used our heads.

Signed:
Delbert Bittinger, Jr.

Listen Americans!

BY GEORGE S. BENSON
President of Harding College

President Eisenhower has asked Congress to give American industry the go-ahead for development of atomic energy for non-military production. When Congress approves sometime this summer it will mark another milestone in human progress.

The United States News and World Report estimates that already more than 1,000 industrial firms, including many of the nation's largest businesses, are employing the new atomic science in everyday factory and shop operations and are thus effecting remarkable savings in production costs. But these usages are relatively minor sidelights to the major possibilities that engineers foresee through the development of electric energy in atomic-fueled power stations.

Electricity is the very lifeblood of modern progress. You only need to walk through a modern industry today to realize the importance of this pulsing, surging current. Almost 100 per cent of the manufacturing job is performed with electricity.

In this big industrial job, the atom's importance is in supplying the heat, to make the steam, to turn the turbines which whirl the generators, that send out currents of electricity, to bring to life the great machinery of modern American industry.

Not far from my office in Searcy there is a sprawling aluminum industry. To transfer aluminum oxide into aluminum metal, vast amounts of electricity are required. In a single plant near Hot Springs, more electricity is used than is required for a city of 250,000 population. This electricity is produced by burning natural gas for heat in steam turbines. The gas must be piped from Texas, Louisiana and South Arkansas.

Atomic engineers tell us that heat can be generated in an atomic reactor at a great deal less cost per heat unit than in any other manner; and thus electricity can be producted at drastically lower cost per kilowatt.

It was America's industrial know-how which permitted us to lead the world to the development of atomic energy. DuPont, Westinghouse, General Electric and other great industries have built and operated the government's atom installations. Sparked by the competitive spirit, and the promise of revolutionary new developments in manufacturing, private enterprise can now take the uranium atom and begin to give mankind the fullness of its constructive benefits.

Along The Potomac

With Your Congressman
DeWITT S. HYDE

Last week was one of the busiest on record in Congress since I came to Washington more than a year ago.

I was given a new assignment—to the Joint House-Senate Committee on Immigration and Naturalization Policy—in addition to my regular positions on the Judiciary and District of Columbia Committees.

We passed a good deal of legislation, including the reduction of excise taxes down to ten percent. Some of them ran as high as 25 percent before. This action brings to more than $7 billion the amount of tax savings being provided for the people in the past year. Income taxes dropped $3 billion; the excess profits tax $1.7 billion; the overall tax revision before us this week amounts to $1.4 billion, and the excise tax reduction was nearly $1 billion.

This means less income for the government, and a bigger challenge to the Eisenhower Administration to reduce its expenses. Congress is hopeful that this effort will be made, even to the extent of reducing some of the old expenses so that we can take care of some badly needed new expenses.

For one thing, a greater federal appropriation for the District of Columbia is necessary. Our Committee is now studying a bill to provide $20 million in federal funds for the District next year instead of the customary $11 million. The latter figure has remained constant while the city's expenses have grown, and while the federal contribution used to be 50 percent of the city budget, it is now only about nine percent.

Repairs and additions are necessary to the District's sewer, water, road and bridge facilities. The federal government, though it uses these things, pays no taxes on the enormous amount of property it owns here. It falls to the citizens of Washington, who cannot vote, to pay taxes high enough to provide these services, as well as the fire and police protection which the federal government receives.

This should be a matter of concern for every American. Our Capital City should be the finest in the nation, and we should all chip in a little to maintain it. To provide the money for the proposed public works program here would cost every American only 12 cents apiece.

On my calendar, Tuesday I address the Fairway Citizens Association in Montgomery County. Later that evening I will be initiated into the American Legion.

Garden Glub Meeting Called

Anyone interested in flower gardening, landscaping and otherwise improving the beauty of their homes, is invited to attend a meeting of the Garden club on Monday evening March 22 at 8 o'clock. The meeting will be held at the City hall, and is called by C. W. Englander, Edward Smouse and Guy William Hinebaugh, guidance committee of the club.

Fleeing Convict Shot

Kitzmiller, who answered the knock on the door for a pair of shoes, saying he had lost his in an auto accident. He offered to buy an old pair, Mrs. Kitzmiller found a pair which she gave Morgan. She also gave him a pair of dry socks and a drink of water, she later told police.

Morgan was seen as he entered the Kitzmiller home by Trooper Henline as he cruised in his car in the vicinity. He radioed other officers and they partially surrounded the house. Morgan apparently spotted the troopers and came running out of a side door and headed for the B. and O. railroad tracks. Officers said he ran in "bounding leaps without looking back." Morgan again refused to halt and officers opened fire with 20 or more shots. Cpl. Pike and Trooper Henline kept after him and as Morgan neared the B. and O. "88" bridge one of Cpl. Pike's bullets struck him in the left leg just above the ankle. The bone was shattered and Morgan dropped.

Pike and Henline then rendered first aid and applied splints. By this time others had arrived on the scene. Robert King secured the splints and first aid kit from Henline's car and a number of persons, including Bob Sincell and James Nordeck, of The Republican office, assisted in bringing him to the county road several hundred yards away where an ambulance removed him under guard to the Garrett County Memorial hospital. Dr. Joseph Alvarez, surgeon, performed an operation on the leg and Morgan was placed under 24-hour guard by orders of Moundsville penitentiary officials. Guarding him were John Evans, Gordon Sanders, Ed. J. Frantz, Sheriff Fisher and Roy Sowers. He was released from the hospital on Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, when an ambulance from the medium security prison at Huttonsville with two armed guards, arrived to take him to Moundsville. Officials said Morgan had served about five years of his sentence and was eligible for parole. He gave no reason to officers for his escape and his wild dash to retain his freedom. Sheriff Fisher said he had planned to go to Texas and was trying to make arrangements to marry a girl from this area whom he had met at Hopemont. He readily agreed to waive extradition and said he was ready to go back.

Personal
To Women With Nagging Backache

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

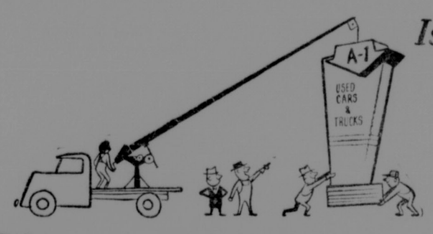
SECOND ST. Treacy's OAKLAND, MD.

Is he in business "to stay?"



When you buy a used car from a Ford Dealer, you're dealing with an established businessman who has a large investment and his good name at stake. We're here today, and we'll be here tomorrow!

Check the used car, (and Truck) sure! But check the dealer, too!

Does he really know cars?

Ford Dealers are in the service business, too; work with cars day in and day out. We know how to spot trouble fast. And, our expert Ford mechanics have the equipment and "know-how" to handle any service job.

Are his prices really fair?

Ford Dealers handle used cars and trucks as a service to customers who trade them for new ones. We get a lot of trade-ins. And we keep these used cars moving to free our working capital. That's one reason why we offer our used cars and trucks at rock-bottom prices.

Is he interested in you?

Remember—we Ford Dealers want to keep your good will because someday we hope to sell you a new car, or another used car, and we want your service business. It's just plain good business for us to play square with you.

Do his cars meet A-1 standards?

When you go to a Ford Dealer's and see the A-1 label on a car, you know it has met with the dealer's A-1 standards. And because you can trust the man you bought it from, you can trust the car.

A-1 USED CARS & TRUCKS

IT'S WHERE YOU BUY IT THAT COUNTS!

Absentee Ballots To Be Available May 4

The executive department of the State of Maryland is publicizing the absentee voting privilege available to those in the armed services, of a member of the Merchant Marine, the War Shipping Administration, the American Red Cross, the Society of Friends, the Women's Auxiliary service pilots, or the United Service organizations, attached to and serving with the armed forces outside of the United States, who are eligible to vote in Maryland.

The department suggests that friends or relatives make a request for the form necessary and send it out so that the person will have his request to the Secretary of State at Annapolis, or to the Board of Election supervisors in his county in time to receive a ballot. Absentee ballots should be ready for mailing by May 4. The primary election is scheduled for June 28, and the General election November 2.

THE GOOD OLD DAYS
(But were they really so good?)

One sometimes hears talk about the "good old days." But were they really so "good"?

In 1890, when the Woodmen of the World was founded, most homes were heated by stoves, had no plumbing. Water was pumped from wells. Travel was afoot, by horseback or horse and buggy.

Things cost less. Butter was 15c a lb.; flour, $1.30 cwt.; milk, 5c qt.; eggs, 12c doz.; coffee, 29c a lb.; a suit, $5 to $25; shoes, $2 to $5. But grandpa worked 10 hours for $1.75.

With today's incomes the average family can afford electric lights, central heating, radio, television, an automobile, better clothes, movies, etc.

Today's higher standard of living calls for greater home protection. If you haven't recently reviewed your life insurance program, make sure that whatever happens, your family can maintain the home with its conveniences.

Call a Woodmen representative to help you analyze your protection and, if needed, select the safe, sound, legal reserve Woodmen life insurance certificate that best meets your needs.

To bring you purity

Where else do purity and quality mean so much as in the things you and your family eat and drink? No food product that you buy is brought to you with more carefully guarded purity than Coca-Cola.

Here in our bottling plant we treat water with modern filtration processes. This equipment treats water to remove anything that might affect or impair the delicate flavor of Coca-Cola. Now, with this added protection, nothing can change or lessen the quality or purity of the water used in bottled Coca-Cola.

This water treating system represents a substantial investment in equipment. Yet it is only one of the many safeguards that we employ to protect the continuous quality of Coca-Cola. It is only one of the many things we do to make sure that whenever you call for Coke, you always enjoy delicious, wholesome refreshment.

Troops to Receive Charters at Meeting

The Oakland and Crellin Boy Scout troops will receive their charters for 1954 at a public meeting next Tuesday evening. The affair will be held in the assembly room of the Methodist church in Oakland.

A special program has been planned by the two scoutmasters, Harold Lantz, Crellin; and Ralph Fauber, Oakland. Jim Gelwicks, scout executive from the regional office in Philadelphia, Pa., will be the principal speaker. Mr. Gelwicks was in this area last November and gave an address before the district scout leaders.

The meeting on Tuesday is open to parents, scouts and all persons who are interested in the scouting program.

Scouts will rededicate themselves to the scout oath and laws, led by Mr. Lantz, while Mr. Fauber will direct a demonstration in knot tying. Willis V. Smith, scout executive, Potomac Council, Cumberland, will attend.

Mr. Smith was present for the monthly Deep Creek scout district meeting Tuesday night, over which Rev. John J. Atwell, district chairman, presided. Leaders were presented with 1954 scout cards and lapel pins.

Elmer Upole, scout commissioner, named Paul Wright as assistant commissioner. Sam Moore, explorer scout of the Oakland post, spoke of explorer activities and his experiences at the Schiff reservation last summer. Following reports of district committee chairmen, Mr. Smith stressed the conservation good turn being pushed by the scout council, in which every pack, troop and post is expected to do its share in accepting President Eisenhower's challenge to arouse public recognition of the need for adequate protection and wise management of our soil, water, mineral, forest, grassland and wildlife resources.

Literature was distributed for each organization in the council located at Deer Park, Mt. Lake Park, Crellin and Oakland.

Tells Story of Boyhood

Mr. Smith also announced that a moving picture of the Jamboree of 1953, telling the story of boyhood in America, will be shown in the Moose hall at Oakland on Monday, March 29, beginning at 7 p. m. There is no admission charge. The picture lasts one hour and twenty minutes.

A companion film, "Letter to Loretta," one-half hour in length, will also be shown. This is open to any person interested.

HOSPITALIZED IN JAPAN—A patient at the Tokyo Army Hospital in Japan, Sgt. Melvin Smith, Accident, plays checkers with a Red Cross Grey Lady. The 26-year soldier, last stationed with 40th Infantry Division in Korea, is the son of Mrs. Ella Smith, of Accident. He entered the Army in October, 1952, and arrived overseas last March.

CRANESVILLE

Lenten Services Held

Special Wednesday Lenten services are being held at the local Methodist church at 7:45 p. m. This week the Rev. W. C. Dunson, of Terra Alta, was guest speaker. On March 24, Robert Fries, ministerial student at West Virginia Wesleyan College, will speak. Rev. S. D. Sawyers of Terra Alta will occupy the pulpit on March 31 and the Rev. E. T. Fike, also of Terra Alta, will speak on April 7. Special Holy Week services will be announced.

Mrs. Coleman Honored

Mrs. John Coleman was surprised last Friday evening when several friends called at the parsonage in honor of her birthday anniversary. Refreshments were served to Mr. and Mrs. Oliver F. Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Linville, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ringer, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Teets, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ringer, Mrs. Chleo Wilhelm, Mrs. Ada W. Vought, Mrs. Vernie Reckart, Darwin Cupp, Fred Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Teets and daughter, Mrs. Pauline Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Teets, Jean Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Denton Reckart, Mrs. Ida Reckart, Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Awman, Mrs. Denver Cramer, Mrs. Delmer Bishoff, Patty Cupp, Mrs. Madeline Sisler, Betty Spiker, Rowena Sisler, Jean Cupp, Shirley Cupp, Mrs. Charles Elliott, Mary Martha Elliott and Mrs. Carl Spring.

Spaghetti Supper

The local P.-T.A. will sponsor a spaghetti supper at the school building Saturday evening, March 20 at 6 o'clock.

A new G. E. refrigerator has been purchased by the P.-T.A. and school and will be placed in the school soon. It will be used in the hot lunch program.

Outside lights have been placed on the school building. C. F. Cuppett and Leo Feather did the work.

Property Changes Owners

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ford have purchased the Lillie Reckart property here and recently moved from Ridgeley. Mrs. Reckart now lives near Friendsville.

Mrs. Merle DeWitt, of Richland, Wash., has purchased the Sypolt property here. The home will be completely renovated this spring as soon as the weather permits. This property was formerly the home of Mrs. DeWitt's grandfather, the Rev. Albert Engle and was one of the nicer homes in Cranesville many years ago.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Teets and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vought visited friends in Grafton Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Coffman and son Bobby were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Kelly.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Teets were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Cline Schrock and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Morey and son Greg were calling on Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fries during the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Vought and family, Terra Alta, were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vought.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Gibson and son Dickie were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Grose and family.

Joseph Haigh, Morgantown, was calling on relatives here Saturday.

Mrs. Mattie Wilhelm remains ill at her home near the Reckart mill.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Cuppett and Charles Falkenstein attended the funeral service for Mrs. Minnie Falkenstein in Terra Alta, Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Harry Fries was ill at her home here last week.

Mrs. Ruby Lewis, of Lake Ford, remains a patient in the Garrett County Memorial hospital in Oakland.

I SEE BY THE DAILIES

The stock market hit a new 24-year high week of March 13 and then retreated.

American republics approved 17 to 1 resolution of Dulles calling for collective action against Communist infiltration of Western Hemisphere.

Five hundred twenty-four persons were killed in accidents on Maryland's streets and highways in 1953. Bad drivers were blamed in 88 percent of fatal mishaps.

Vice President Nixon said "reckless talk" and "questionable methods" of some congressional Communist hunters are threatening President Eisenhower's "great and forward looking program."

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

Copyright by The Baltimore Sun and reprinted in The Republican by permission.

The Stevenson Strategy

Perhaps it is not too late to say a few words about the speech of Mr. Adlai Stevenson, with which he climaxed six days or so of anti-Eisenhower drumbeating, arranged by that glib young fellow, Mr. Stephen Mitchell, chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

First, it is fair to point out that for a gentleman who speaks so highly of himself, Mr. Stevenson (always maintaining a smiling air of piety and a sweet nonpartisan posture) can exude more partisan poison than any other Democratic spokesman now loose. To be sure, he has the advantage of various intellectual egg heads of the Arthur Schlesinger, Jr., type in the preparation of his scholarly addresses, but it must be confessed that to start with he has great natural gifts of his own as a double-talker.

—o—

For example, we are told that it was his own idea not directly to accuse President Eisenhower of the high crimes and misdemeanors which he laid at his door. But, he did everything else. He painted the blackest picture of the Administration yet. He accused it of having deceived and betrayed the American people; of having broken its solemn promises; of feebleness in dealing with foreign affairs; of embracing "McCarthyism"; of vacillation and timidity in handling domestic problems; of turning the Republican party over to the demagogues; of pursuing a course the inevitable end of which is "a malign and fatal totalitarianism" etc., etc. In the entire 30 minutes of his discourse, there was not a single word that could remotely be construed as giving the Eisenhower Administration credit for either good intentions or ordinary common sense. He even cited the charges made by Senator Langer, the wild man from North Dakota, against Chief Justice Earl Warren as part of the Eisenhower Administration record, though it was General Ike who appointed Mr. Warren and his nomination was unanimously confirmed. It would be interesting to know how you can get more partisan than that.

—o—

Mr. Stevenson is too intelligent to believe much of this tripe himself and he certainly does not believe the "answer" which he gave as to the cause of so great a debacle, to wit, that "a group of political plungers has persuaded the President that 'McCarthyism' is the best Republican formula for political success." The clear implication here is that President Eisenhower, for sordid political reasons, has entered into a rather infamous deal with Senator McCarthy. That is the implication, but Mr. Stevenson did not have the guts to say so himself. For one thing, he knows it is not true; for another, he thinks—and rightly—that a direct attack upon the personal integrity of General Ike would react unfavorably upon himself. So, the dirty end of the attack—he is leaving to his chairman, Mr. Mitchell, who already is evincing eagerness to engage therein. "We intend," the chairman said at a press conference following the Stevenson address, to make it clear that Eisenhower is identified with the people as the leader of his party and as the person responsible for what happens in his Administration." In this campaign against the President, Mr. Mitchell said Mr. Stevenson's speech was the "opening gun."

—o—

Obviously, the Mitchell plan is to treat the President and McCarthy as one though he well knows they are anything but one and that the President has done everything he could without degrading his office to make that plain. Actually, the real yardstick by which to measure Mr. Stevenson is Mr. Mitchell, who is not only his closest political friend but one of his closest personal friends. It is inconceivable that Mr. Mitchell, as chairman, would adopt a strategy not indorsed by Mr. Stevenson. The one upon which they have apparently settled may pay dividends. On the other hand, it may be that such a strategy, as carried out by the cocky Mr. Mitchell, might have a very different reaction than the one they expect. It will not be exactly easy to persuade the American people that General Ike is a spineless boob who has permitted a few low politicans to tie him up hand and food with McCarthy just because it seemed "good politics." Not many Democratic politicians themselves will believe that sort of drivel and the intelligent ones recognize the risk of putting it out. However, according to the Messrs. Stevenson and Mitchell that is the gospel the Democrats intend to spread from now on. Perhaps the Nixon speech was unnecessary. Perhaps that kind of charge answers itself. There are even those who take the view that (in different ways, of course) both Mr. Stevenson and Senator McCarthy are "overrated little guys," and once the headlines taken from them each would shrivel.

Transplants In Paper Cups Need Fertilizer

Many gardeners have found paraffin-coated paper cups or milk cartons handy for transplanting cabbage, eggplants, tomatoes and peppers.

Vegetable crops specialists at the University of Maryland warn that plants transplanted in these containers may become stunted and yellowed.

They say that bacteria in the soil go to work to decompose the containers, but that the paraffin-coated paper does not decompose readily and the bacteria take a large amount of nitrogen from the soil as they act on the containers. It is the lack of nitrogen that causes plants to become stunted and yellowed.

The vegetable specialists add, however, that gardeners who like paper cups and milk cartons for transplanting may use them without danger of the plants becoming nitrogen deficient. They suggest that gardeners guard against the fertilizer deficiency by watering them with liquid fertilizer.

AURORA-EGLON

Mrs. Frank Stemple returned recently to her home near Aurora from the Garrett County Memorial hospital where she underwent minor surgery.

Mrs. Effie Henline returned to the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gnegy, near Eglon, from the Garrett Memorial hospital where she had been a patient for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Stemple and family moved Saturday from the former Walter Spiggle farm home, near Aurora, to a cottage at Brookside. Mr. and Mrs. Dale Stemple now own and occupy the farm home.

GETS FREE LIFT—Grafton forger gets a free lift after being captured near the B. and O. bridge across the Youghiogheny river. State police had rendered first aid and placed his left leg in splints after he was brought down with a .38 calibre bullet. The convict had to be carried several hundred yards to the county road where an ambulance awaited. Corporal W. L. Pike, left, and Trooper Robert Henline, extreme right and toward rear, had just completed their turn with the prisoner and he was given over to others who had gathered at the scene of the capture. James Nordeck is on the right, but the other two are unidentified.

It Runs Through My Mind

BY POLLY J. HANST

Ouch!

A Norwegian proverb says "The lazier a man is (a woman too, I reckon) the more he is going to do tomorrow."

Which reminds me—I've got a lot to do tomorrow.

—o—

Our Exits and Our Entrances

"All the world's a stage," says Shakespeare, "and the men and women merely players. They have their exits and their entrances and one man in his time plays many parts."

He could also have said that a home is a stage and every woman plays many a part.

I try to think of this every time I have some awful chore to do—like cleaning the basement and emptying a lot of old jars of food that should have been eaten some time back.

Or sometimes I just plain try to fool myself—like when I scrub and stretch those muscles that make for a slim midriff, and pretend that I'm just exercising, not scrubbing.

There seems to be no way to divide up the roles giving some one part, some another. It just wouldn't be fair. Think of the poor soul who had only dusting to do. The least glamorous of all roles—never a "smidgin" of creative expression and the next day not even the feel of accomplishment. Dust—always about—just like the kid brother when his sister's date arrives!

But every mother knows she has her full share of the "entrances." When she sees that toe reach her baby's mouth, hears him say his first word, watches him balance his body and maneuver a new scooter; sees his soul throught bright eyes as he opens his dirty little fist to show some crawling creature. Well, you can take it on from here, but we all know, whether we're in the center of the stage or not—that on these days we are cast for the leading role.

A Vanishing Flavor

The other day I bit the end of a carrot strip and found the flavor that makes raw carrots superb eating.

"Oh! that tastes just like a chestnut."

But the children pick up a strip and remark, "that's just a good, sweet carrot."

Then I feel sorry for them for I know they can't possibly get the same pleasure out of eating a carrot that tastes like a chestnut that I get out of it. That flavor for them has no association.

But for our generation it not only means luscious eating but it brings back memories of every Sunday afternoon from frost to freeze.

There wasn't a neighborhood anywhere, before the chestnut blight, that didn't have a favorite grove and it was the focal point of every Sunday hike—and there was a hike every Sunday afternoon.

To pass through one of these groves coming and going to school was better than living in clover. Looking back on it I believe it was twice as much fun as going to a snack bar.

But just try to tell your kids about it—and all they can do is look blank—or reach for another orange colored strip and say, "good carrot."

—o—

During the Lenten season the sincere Christian puts forth effort to go to the Union services.

Some folks, out of devotion to their church, go when it's in their church; some out of loyalty to their pastor, go to another church when he is preaching; but when so many go to someone's else church to hear someone's else minister, it is probably devotion to God.

—o—

I Was Impressed

This past week-end I had such a rich experience. I had an opportunity to work with a church denomination that I had never known anything about—the Church of the Brethren. I was so impressed with the strength of their faith. They have a quiet poise and assurance that were stimulating to me.

So many young men who could offer a prayer when called on unexpectedly, like a minister. Their religion seemed strong and manly.

Essay On Democracy May Be Heard Again

An opportunity to listen to a national prize-winning essay on the subject "I Speak for Democracy," delivered by the sixteen-year-old author, will be given next Monday evening, March 29, over the "Voice of Firestone," on radio and television.

This will be the second time this essay will have been presented, because the requests for a repetition have been so numerous. It was given over the same program on March 1.

More than a million high school students throughout the United States recently participated in the contest which was won by Elizabeth Ellen Evans, of Akron, Ohio.

The Firestone company offered to send a reprint of her prize-winning essay to anyone who wrote to the company and they received so many thousands of requests that it hasn't been able to keep up on the printing.

The army planned to draft 18,000 men in May.

Voters to Decide On Nine Questions At November Polls

Nine constitutional changes, among them the home rule amendment to put municipalities in greater control of local government, will be on the November ballot.

Five were passed by the 1953 session, four by the 1954 session.

The home rule amendment regarded as the most important achievement of the 1954 session, would have a profound effect on legislation. It may cut the number of bills passed at 90-day sessions as much as twenty percent.

Other Questions

The other questions proposed for submission to the voters would:

1. Provide a judge for every county except in the Eastern Shore circuit and create additional judgeships in Baltimore, Montgomery, Anne Arundel and Prince Georges counties.

2. Add a judge in Baltimore county if the omnibus judiciary amendment failed.

3. Add a judge in Montgomery county if the voters rejected the omnibus amendment.

4. Delete a requirement, not enforced, that the Secretary of State reside in Annapolis and permit his salary, now fixed at $2,000, to be provided by law.

5. Raise the governor's salary from $4,500 to $15,000.

6. Authorize the General Assembly to provide by law for absentee voting.

7. Amend Baltimore's Port Development authority.

8. Take the Baltimore city sheriff's salary out of the Constitution, which now holds it at $7,500 and permit it to be set by law.

Another proposed amendment on judges, to keep Allegany county from losing one of its two resident judges should the omnibus amendment be approved at the polls, missed passage at this session.

The home rule amendment would not affect Baltimore city. Other municipalities in the State would be divided into four or fewer classes, according to population. The legislature would be barred from passing bills affecting individual towns except to limit tax rates and debt, and such bills would be subject to local referendum. It could pass bills affecting one or more of the classes of municipalities. Other changes could be accomplished at the local level.

If the voters accept the home rule amendment, additional legislation in 1955 could set up classes of towns and prescribe their population limits, spell out procedure for amending charters locally and do the same for creation of new towns.

To Hold Evangelistic Services

REV. AND MRS. CHARLES S. THOMPSON, JR.

Rev. and Mrs. Charles S. Thompson, Jr., will be at the Aurora Methodist church for evangelistic meetings from March 25 through April 4, it was announced this week by Rev. Hugh L. Shiley, pastor.

Rev. Thompson is the son of a Methodist minister who has been coming to Mt. Lake Park Interdenominational camp meetings for a number of years. Young Thompson was graduated from Charleston High school in 1943, and then served three years with the army air corps. He was graduated from Asbury college in 1950, attended Asbury Theological seminary from 1950 to 1952 and was graduated from Chandler School of Theology, Emory university in Atlanta, Ga., in 1953, receiving his B. D. degree. He has served as pastor in the Kentucky conference.

Mrs. Thompson also is a graduate of Asbury college, receiving her diploma in music. She was director of public school music in Nicholasville, Ky., for two years and has had experience in children and youth work.

The couple will provide a full program of music at the meetings.

Delegates To Attend Session Of Jehovah's Witnesses

Announcement was made this week by John W. Weber, presiding minister of the Oakland congregation of Jehovah's witnesses that approximately 30 delegates would attend their semi-annual circuit assembly at the East Fairmont High school this week-end, March 19 to 21, in Fairmont, W. Va. A total of 800 delegates from the tri-state area is expected.

Faculty Has Dinner

The following faculty members, cafeteria personnel of Oakland Elementary school, and guests attended a faculty dinner at the William-James hotel Monday evening at 6 o'clock: Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Elias, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hardesty, Mr. and Mrs. Playford Ryan, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Flinn, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Bolyard, Mr. and Mrs. Erval Ream, Miss Mary M. Friend, Roy Bray, Miss Alice Feather, Miss Josie Iden, Mrs. Alta Duling, Mrs. Margaret Feather, Miss Relecca Lohr, Mrs. Anna S. Harvey, Mrs. Elizabeth Thayer, Miss Lucille Mitchell, Miss Rose Mitchell, Mrs. Margaret Liller, Mrs. Harry L. White, Miss Ellena Pendergast.

Prizes were awarded to Mr. Elias, Mrs. Flinn, Mrs. Thayer, Miss Friend and the Misses Mitchell in Canasta and "500."

Other School News

The Maintenance department expects to have the library shelves completed within the next few days, after which teachers and students will arrange the books.

At a recent election of the safety patrol Dick Stuck was elected captain with Susan Gibson and Mary Kathryn Mosser as lieutenants. Assistants from other grades are Harold Ray Sharpless, Rocksie Bowers, Vicki Carlson, Sandra Skipper, Shirley Warren, Susan Tichnell, Dennis Sanders, Betty Bittinger, J. Billy Umstot, Jimmie Gower, Janet Schlossnagle, George Porter, Margaret White and Terry Bell.

Preparation Needed In Brooder House

Good brooder house management starts before the chicks arrive on the farm, says Dr. Morley A. Jull, head of the University of Maryland poultry department.

Dr. Jull points out that it is a good idea to start at least two days before the chicks arrive to be sure they are working properly.

"At the start," he says, "the thermometer should register about 90 to 95 degrees F., about 2 inches above the level of the litter and at the outside of the canopy of the brooder. The temperature should be lowered about five degrees each week, depending upon the season, until about 70 degrees is reached when the chicks are five or 6 weeks old.

"Chicks are liable to suffer more from too high than too low temperatures, unless the low temperatures are of considerable duration."

Another recommendation from the head of the poultry department is to place a guard around the canopy at a distance of about 18 inches to keep the chicks near the source of heat. He says the circle should be enlarged daily and removed after about five days.

A mistake that many poultrymen make is the failure to provide enough floor space, according to Dr. Jull. "The number of chicks placed under the brooder or in a brooder house is usually kept intact, except for mortality, through the entire brooding season. Enough floor space should be provided at the start to comfortably house the chicks when they reach 8 to 10 weeks, when the cockerels are removed."

The Univresity of Maryland poultry specialist figures that a 10 by 12 foot brooder house will accommodate about 250 chicks if they can be allowed outdoors at about four weeks of age. If chicks cannot get outdoors before six or eight weeks, only about 180 chicks should be started on that floor space.

SANG RUN

Plan to Rebuild Home

Friends and neighbors of the Rell Friend family are planning to help build them a home starting this week. Their home was completely destroyed by fire on Monday morning.

Mr. Friend owns the old Sang Run school and the people of that community are to assist in tearing it down and use the lumber to start another home. The help of any person will be appreciated.

WHEN YOU BUY LAMPS
Choose for Light and Looks

Lamps are lamps but some are much better than others—so far as good light and good looks are concerned.
First, select lamps as an adequate, pleasing light source then be sure they harmonize with and compliment your present home furnishings and color scheme.

Many stores are simplifying the selection of lamps by coordinating them according to modern or traditional, formal or informal.

Our lighting specialists will be glad to give you more detailed information about the hows and whys of lamp selection.

New Commandment

Lesson for March 21, 1954

A MAN who could keep all the Ten Commandments without ever breaking a single one would be a good man, better than most. But from the Christian standpoint that kind of goodness is not enough. A man can keep all the rules of the game and be a poor player. He can observe all the laws of his state and not be a desirable citizen. Something more, something more positive, is needed, valuable though the Ten Commandments are. At the Last Supper Jesus gave his friends there, and through them he gave all his friends since, an eleventh commandment which Christians understand to be more important than all the others. In fact, we have New Testament authority for believing not only that if a man kept all the others and broke the Eleventh, he would be a moral zero; but also that if he really keeps the Eleventh, it will lead to his keeping all the rest. It is what Christ called the "New Commandment"—of Love.

Dr. Foreman

What's New About Love?

Was Jesus exaggerating when he spoke of love as a "new" commandment? Had love never been heard of before? Is it not found in those two ancient Laws Christ himself had quoted from Deut. 6:5 and Leviticus 19:18—Love God, and Love your neighbor? Well, love itself was not then new in the world. But love to the degree that Jesus meant, was indeed new. The careful reader will notice that Jesus does not stop with "Love one another." He goes on to add, "—as I have loved you." Granted that even sacrificial love had been seen in the world before, the fact is that for these disciples in the Upper Room, and for most of us if the truth be known, the kind of self-giving love which Christ had and was is in truth something new. We are all willing to love those that love us. We will love those who understand and appreciate us. We are willing enough to love if we feel we are getting some return, so to speak, on our investment. But which of us in Jesus' place would have loved others as he did? Those disciples were not at first what you would call lovable people. Sinners are not lovable as a rule, and Jesus came to help sinners. The thing that always bothered the Pharisees was that Jesus evidently loved people who did not deserve to be loved. No Pharisee ever understood this. It was something new in their world.

Love Is Not a Blueprint

Christians sometimes become too enthusiastic about this New Commandment. They speak of it as if it did away with the Ten Commandments, or as if it got rid of any need for thinking. If your intentions are good, that's good enough, they say. So they go through life with what they vaguely suppose are good intentions but actually doing a lot of harm. Jesus never meant this New Commandment as a sort of magic charm that would solve all our problems, get rid of all our difficulties, conquer all our temptations. Love is not a blueprint, either. You cannot take "love and love alone" and govern a city or found a college or run a business or a farm, just on pure love. It is something like the law of gravitation. You can't build so much as a pigsty without paying good attention to the law of gravitation. But that law does not tell you how to build the sty, nor a house, nor a skyscraper, though all of them are held together with gravitation's mighty power. So with all human institutions, the church, the state, the school, and so on: without the spirit of self-sacrifice (the New Commandment) they will not stand; yet self-sacrifice is no blueprint by itself. There is no substitute for hard thinking and planning.

Love Is Concern

If self-sacrifice sounds too lofty, let us come down the scale a little. New-Commandment love, to say the least of it, means concern for others. We all know what it is to be concerned about ourselves. We take good care of ourselves, we look for our interests, we worry for fear we may be left by the wayside somehow. We like to see that we ourselves get the most out of anything. All persons except complete fools are concerned naturally about themselves. Now, the New Commandment simply says to turn this concern in the other direction. Be as interested in the other person's welfare as you are in your own.

SOMEONE HAS A LITTLE LAMB

Youngsters are always "cute"—whether they're the woolly type or the romper variety.

Youngsters are appealing because they are fascinating miniatures of the adult of the species. So tiny . . . yet they look, and soon begin to act, like smaller editions of the grown-ups.

That fact should make human parents deeply conscious of their responsibility. Their own example and influence, and their provision for the child's spiritual needs can make or mar a youngster's character.

Churches are the chief allies of conscientious parents. They provide consecrated Christian teachers, interesting graded lessons and the inspiring worshipful setting for a child's moral and spiritual training.

Will you help some church in this vital phase of its work? Will you attend and support the Church? Will you encourage parents you know to give their children the advantage of the Church's teaching ministry?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

To Attend Cattle Show

The Terra Alta F. F. A. chapter is planning a field trip to Chester, W. Va., to witness a purebred Hereford show and sale. The members plan to raise money to charter a bus for the trip.

Eligible members are now filling out applications for the State Farmer degree. To be eligible a member must have earned or otherwise wisely invested $500. The chapter is participating in a farm safety program with 10 teams of five members each. The winning team and adviser in the state win a free trip to Chicago.

The Terra Alta chapter owns four purebred beef heifers, three Angus and one Hereford, and also owns 25 head of purebred Berkshire brood sows.

In a report of activities it was shown that William Collins won first prize of $100 last year in the state farm and home electrification award. This year's winners of foundation awards are: John Wolfe, star dairy farmer; Dick Messenger, farm and home electrification; and farm mechanics; John Wolfe, farm and home improvement; and Tom Clutter, chapter star farmer.

Senate Cloakroom

By J. GLENN BEALL
United States Senator from Maryland

Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas and editors of the Washington Post will rediscover the scenic wonders of nature along the historic Chesapeake and Ohio Canal on a hiking trip which starts from Cumberland on Saturday.

Justice Douglas, who, besides being a distinguished member of the highest court in the land, is an experienced mountain climber, woodsman, and author of books and articles on the wonders of the great outdoors, Justice Douglas is opposed to a Federal parkway along the canal, a project which I originated years ago.

The editors of The Post, despite the strain of publishing one of the great American newspapers, apparently feel up to walking the 185 miles from Cumberland to Washington in an effort to convince Mr. Douglas that a parkway would not destroy what they call "this delightful wilderness at the Capital's back door."

The challenge made by Justice Douglas and accepted by the editors of The Post will direct attention to a little known area of Maryland and to the C. & O. canal constructed during the great canal-building era, and illustrating one of the most interesting phases of the development of our national communication system.

After being hospitably entertained by the Cumberland News and Times, the hikers will start exploring an area which was equally appealing to George Washington, John Quincy Adams, and other historic men whose duties in the Nation's Capital brought them in contact with restful and peaceful atmosphere of nature undisturbed bordering the Potomac and the canal.

It is my belief—and that of many others, including The Post—that a parkway would make the area more accessible to those living in the urban areas surrounding Washington.

Being able to go out in the country and walk on the good earth instead of asphalt, to breathe air uncontaminated with city odors, and to observe the unfolding of a leaf or wildflower can help a person relax and, temporarily at least, believe "God's in His heaven and all's right with the world."

All necessary legislation by the Congress and the State Legislature has been enacted, after ten years' work during my service in the House of Representatives. Appropriations will be necessary now, and I have good reason to believe that the first funds will be recommended by the Department of Interior next year.

In the meantime persons unfamiliar with the area may want to follow the example of Justice Douglas and the editors of The Post and become acquainted with a delightful and historic Chesapeake and Ohio Canal.

Prior to the Revolutionary War transportation was largely confined to the East along the rivers and bays of the Atlantic coast. After the frontier had extended beyond the Allegheny Mountains there was a need for an easy means of communication by a navigable waterway.

As early as 1754, George Washington, then still in his twenties, sponsored a proposal for a canal, and in 1785 when the Potomac Company was organized George Washington was its president.

In the early 1800's, during the great canal-building era, the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal Company was organized, and on July 4, 1828, John Quincy Adams, then President of the United States, formally began this tremendous undertaking by lifting the first shovelful of earth near Little Falls. It was finally completed to Cumberland in 1850, and canal boats carrying coal, flour, grains and lumber were seen on the canal until 1924.

The Indian trail, colonial wagon road, and canal were the first links which brought the far west and eastern regions together in social and commercial contacts.

Today the railroad, super-highway, airline, telephone and telegraph keep us in hourly and daily contact not only with every spot of this huge nation but with the far-flung outposts of the world.

Progress is fine and everyone is for it, but it is comforting on occasions to retreat to the less hurried and harried atmosphere of the world when a trip from Washington to Cumberland was a journey by canal boat through some of the most picturesque countryside in the east.

The well publicized hike by Justice Douglas and editors of The Post will perhaps encourage many Marylanders to discover some of the enchantments of their own State.

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County:

I hereby announce as a candidate for the office of County Commissioner of Garrett County.

Inasmuch as I live in Election District No. 10, under the present system of electing County Commissioners I will represent the first County Commissioner District if nominated and elected to the office which I seek. At the present time, I am a member of the Orphans' Court of this county.

I have lived in Garrett County all of my life, am a farmer, have been interested in a number of business and other organizations and believe that I have a pretty thorough knowledge of affairs in our county and what should be done for its improvement and well being.

If nominated and elected, I will give careful attention to the duties and demands of the office and to the best of my ability will serve all of the people of the county alike.

I respectfully solicit the support of all Republicans at the primary.

Harry F. Paugh

—Adv. 51*

To the Voters of Garrett County:

I hereby announce as candidate for the office of County Commissioner of Garrett County.

I have been a life-long resident of Garrett County, living in District No. 14.

If nominated and later elected to this office, I have but one promise to make—that I will serve the people of my county to the best of my ability.

My motto is, I realize no one can please everybody, but I can keep on trying.

I respectfully solicit your support.

H. D. "Hub" Swartzentruber.

—Adv. 1*

To all Voters of Garrett County:

I hereby announce as a candidate for the office of County Commissioner of Garrett County.

I have lived in Election District No. 13, in Garrett County all of my life. I have always been a Republican and I am now serving my third year as one of the Trial Magistrates of Garrett County.

If nominated and elected, I will to the best of my ability serve all the people of Garrett County alike.

I respectfully solicit your support.

Dwight A. Barrick
County Commissioner
District No. 1

—Adv. 2*

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County:

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of County Commissioner subject to the results of the Republican primary.

Born and reared on a farm near Grantsville, I have lived in Garrett county practically all of my life. I purchased my first farm in District No. 5 in 1923. I believe my experience in the Farm Bureau, Soil Conservation and other organization work will be of great help in administering the duties of this office.

If nominated and elected I shall give just and honest consideration of all matters pertaining to the duties of this office.

I sincerely solicit your support and influence.

Foster Yost

District No. 5

—Adv. 2*

FOR COUNTY TREASURER

To the Republican Voters:

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of County Treasurer, subject to the results of the Republican primary election, and earnestly solicit the support of all the citizens of the county.

I have been a resident of Mt. Lake Park for twenty-nine years and have had bookkeeping and administrative experience for the past twenty-four years which I feel qualifies me to fill satisfactorily the office I seek. For the past four years I have been in the office of the County Roads engineer.

I pledge an honest and efficient administration in the duties of the treasurer's office should I be nominated and later elected.

Joseph H. Welch,
Mt. Lake Park

District 16

—Adv. 51*

FOR SHERIFF

I hereby announce myself as a candidate on the Republican ticket to succeed myself for the office of Sheriff of Garrett county.

My entire life has been spent in Garrett county, mostly in District No. 2, and I have endeavored to carry out the duties of the office without fear or partiality. Having served in this capacity for four years, and previous to that time as your deputy sheriff, I feel that I am in a position to render the type of service which the citizens of our county should expect from this office.

If renominated and reelected I pledge my full effort to the work connected with the sheriff's office. I shall be grateful for your support.

Paul W. Fisher
District No. 2

—Adv. 2*

To the Democratic Voters of Garrett County:

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of Sheriff of Garrett County, Maryland.

I have been a life long resident of Garrett County, and for sixteen years have worked in and around the coal mines of our county. For the last four years I have been employed by the B. & O. railroad.

I, Lee McRobie, do hereby promise an honest and efficient administration, if I am nominated and later elected to the office.

Lee (Doll) McRobie

William T. DeVore, late of Grantsville, Garrett County, Maryland, deceased, and all other persons having or claiming to have any interest in and to that tract of land situate in Election District No. 3, of Garrett County, Maryland, containing four and nineteen hundredth acres, and being the same property which was conveyed to the said William T. DeVore by deed from Althea M. Beachy, widow, dated the 16th day of June, 1938, and recorded in Liber A. G. R. No. 117, folio 590, etc., one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland.

No. 4444 Equity. In the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this proceeding is to secure foreclosure of all rights of redemption in the following property situate in Election District No. 3, of Garrett County, Maryland, sold by the Collector and Late Collector of Taxes for Garrett County and State of Maryland to the plaintiff in these proceedings.

All that tract or parcel of land situate, lying and being in Election District No. 3, of Garrett County, Maryland, containing four and nineteen hundredth acres, and being the same land which was conveyed to William T. DeVore by deed from Althea M. Beachy, widow, dated the 16th day of June, 1938, and recorded in Liber A. G. R. No. 117, folio 590, etc., one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland.

The bill states, among other things, that the amounts necessary for redemption have not been paid, although more than a year and a day from the date of sale has expired.

It is thereupon, this 23rd day of February, 1954, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, in Equity, ORDERED, that notice be given by the insertion of a copy of this order in some newspaper having a general circulation in Garrett County, Maryland, once a week for four successive weeks, warning all persons interested in the said property to be and appear in this Court by the 3rd day of May, 1954, and redeem the property herein described and answer the bill or thereafter a final decree will be rendered foreclosing all rights of redemption in the property, and vesting in the plaintiff a title, free and clear of all encumbrances.

Oberlin Edward Rawlings
Vs.
Dorothy Ann Rawlings

No. 4448 Equity. In the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to obtain a divorce a vinculo matrimonii for the Plaintiff from the Defendant and for the Plaintiff to have the custody and guardianship of the infant children of the said marriage who are Oberta Marie Rawlings and Thomas Edward Rawlings.

The bill of complaint states that the parties were married on May 19, 1948, in Mount Savage, Maryland, and that they lived together following the said marriage in Bloomington in Garrett County, Maryland, until September, 1949, at which time and place the Defendant deserted and abandoned the Plaintiff and their infant daughter and the said desertion and abandonment has continued uninterruptedly ever since September, 1949, and is deliberate and final and the separation of the parties is beyond any reasonable expectation of reconcilliation. That the Plaintiff gave no just cause for the said desertion and abandonment. The infant son who was born after the said desertion and abandonment is now with the Defendant whose whereabouts are unknown but is believed to be a non-resident of the State of Maryland. That the Plaintiff and the infant daughter are residents of Garrett County, Maryland. The Plaintiff seeks the custody of the infant daughter and, if possible, the custody of the infant son.

It is thereupon this 3rd day of March, 1954, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, sitting in Equity, ordered that the Plaintiff by causing a copy of this Order to be published in some newspaper in Garrett County, Maryland, once in each of four successive weeks before the 2nd day of April, 1954, giving notice to the absent Defendant of the object and purpose of this suit and warning her to be and appear in this Court in person or by solicitor on or before the 17th day of April, 1954, to show cause, if any she has, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

Number 4446 Equity. In the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to procure the passage of a decree for the sale of the real estate of Emelia A. Paulie, deceased, situate in the town of Hutton, Garrett County, Maryland, and for the distribution.

The bill states:

That Emelia A. Paulie in her lifetime was seized and possessed of certain valuable real estate situate, lying and being in the town of Hutton, Garrett County, Maryland, known and designated as Lots Numbers 28 and 30 in the Southview Addition to said town, excepting all minerals, mining rights thereunder, it being the same which was conveyed unto the said Emelia A. Paulie, as E. A. Paulie by deed from O. F. Frankhouser et al, dated July 12th, 1950, and recorded in Liber R.L.D. No. 166, folio 379 &c, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, which said deed has been filed as "Plaintiffs Exhibit No. 1;" that the said Emelia A. Paulie while seized and possessed of the aforesaid real estate departed this life on the 29th day of June, 1953, intestate, and leaving surviving her the following children and descendants, to whom, as her heirs at law, the said lands have descended, viz: Fred H. Paulie, a son, who intermarried with Jessie Paulie, and reside in Garrett County, Maryland; Alton Paulie, a son, who intermarried with Ruth Paulie, and reside in Clearfield County, Pennsylvania; Josephine Paulie Sereno, a daughter, who intermarried with Joseph Sereno, and reside in Tioga County, Pennsylvania; Alma Paulie Lemaitre, widow, resides in Delaware County, Indiana; Raynor Paulie, single, whose last known address was Magdalena, Socorra County, New Mexico, but whose present whereabouts are unknown; the child and heir at law of Ernest Paulie, a deceased son of Emelia A. Paulie, who is survived by his widow, but who predeceased his mother, the said Emelia A. Paulie, viz; Janet Paulie Diggins, who intermarried with Ray Diggins, and reside in Marshall County, West Virginia; the children and heirs at law of Minnie Pauline Nine, a deceased daughter of Emelia A. Paulie, who as well as her husband predeceased her mother, the said Emelia A. Paulie, viz; Jessie Nine Hinebaugh, who intermarried with Paul Hinebaugh, and reside in Garrett County, Maryland; Walter Irvin Nine, who intermarried with Betty Nine, and reside in Marion County, West Virginia; Hazel Nine Worley, who intermarried with George Worley, and reside in Kanawha County, West Virginia; Frances Nine Davies, who intermarried with Walter Davies, and reside in Darke County, Ohio; the children and heirs at law of Valesca Paulie Sanders, who is survived by her husband, but who predeceased her mother, the said Emelia A. Paulie, viz; Gladys Sanders Whetsell, who intermarried with Charles Whetsell, and reside in Allegany County, Maryland; Paul Sanders, who intermarried with Mary Sanders, and reside in Allegany County, Maryland; Lawrence Sanders, who intermarried with Glendine Sanders, and reside in Garrett County, Maryland; Forrest Sanders, who intermarried with Margaret Sanders, and reside in Garrett County, Maryland; Elwood Sanders, who intermarried with Martha Sanders, residing in Garrett County, Maryland, all of whom are of full age; Barbara Sanders, single and under the age of twenty-one years, residing in Garrett County, Maryland; Bethel Sanders, single, and residing in Garrett County, Maryland; Dortha Sanders Neimeth, who intermarried with Jerry Neimeth, and reside in Geary County, Kansas, all of whom are of full age; that the said Fred H. Paulie was granted letters of administration on the estate of the said Emelia A. Paulie and notice to creditors were given; that at the time of her death, the said Emelia A. Paulie was indebted to The Garrett County Welfare Board in amount set forth in said bill, and the estate of Emelia A. Paulie is indebted to the said Emroy Bolden, trading as Bolden Funeral Home in amount set forth in said bill, to the said William Hardesty, trading as Hardesty Brothers in amount set forth in said bill, and to the said Fred H. Paulie in amount set forth in said bill, and that the personal assets of said Emelia A. Paulie is insufficient to discharge the said debts against her estate; that the said real estate is not susceptible of partition in kind amongst those entitled to interests therein without material loss and injury, and that it would be for the best interest of all the parties hereto that the said real estate be sold and the proceeds divided amongst them according to their several interests, after payment of the debts against her estate.

TO THE END THEREFORE: The bill then prays for a decree for the sale of said real estate, that the proceeds arising from such sale may be applied to the payments of the said debts of the said Emelia A. Paulie and the balance, if any, be distributed amongst those entitled to interest therein according to their respective interest for general relief, for the writ of subpoena against Barbara Sanders, The Garrett County Welfare Board, William Hardesty, trading as Hardesty Brothers, Emroy Bolden, trading as Bolden Funeral Home, and for the Order of Publication against Raynor Paulie.

It is thereupon this 1st day of March, 1954, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, in Equity, ordered that the plaintiffs by having a copy of this order inserted in some newspaper published in Garrett County, Maryland, once a week for four successive weeks, warning all persons interested in said property to be and appear in this Court by the 3rd day of May, 1954, and redeem the property and answer the bill, or thereafter a final decree will be rendered foreclosing all rights or redemption in the property, and vesting in the plaintiffs a title, free and clear of all encumbrances.

No. 8, folio 202, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, which said deed has been filed as "Plaintiffs Exhibit No. 1;" that the said Emelia A. Paulie while seized and possessed of the aforesaid real estate departed this life on the 29th day of June, 1953, intestate, and leaving surviving her the following children and descendants, to whom, as her heirs at law, the said lands have descended, viz: Fred H. Paulie, a son, who intermarried with Jessie Paulie, and reside in Garrett County, Maryland; Alton Paulie, a son, who intermarried with Ruth Paulie, and reside in Clearfield County, Pennsylvania; Josephine Paulie Sereno, a daughter, who intermarried with Joseph Sereno, and reside in Tioga County, Pennsylvania; Alma Paulie Lemaitre, widow, resides in Delaware County, Indiana; Raynor Paulie, single, whose last known address was Magdalena, Socorra County, New Mexico, but whose present whereabouts are unknown; the child and heir at law of Ernest Paulie, a deceased son of Emelia A. Paulie, who is survived by his widow, but who predeceased his mother, the said Emelia A. Paulie, viz; Janet Paulie Diggins, who intermarried with Ray Diggins, and reside in Marshall County, West Virginia; the children and heirs at law of Minnie Pauline Nine, a deceased daughter of Emelia A. Paulie, who as well as her husband predeceased her mother, the said Emelia A. Paulie, viz; Jessie Nine Hinebaugh, who intermarried with Paul Hinebaugh, and reside in Garrett County, Maryland; Walter Irvin Nine, who intermarried with Betty Nine, and reside in Marion County, West Virginia; Hazel Nine Worley, who intermarried with George Worley, and reside in Kanawha County, West Virginia; Frances Nine Davies, who intermarried with Walter Davies, and reside in Darke County, Ohio; the children and heirs at law of Valesca Paulie Sanders, who is survived by her husband, but who predeceased her mother, the said Emelia A. Paulie, viz; Gladys Sanders Whetsell, who intermarried with Charles Whetsell, and reside in Allegany County, Maryland; Paul Sanders, who intermarried with Mary Sanders, and reside in Allegany County, Maryland; Lawrence Sanders, who intermarried with Glendine Sanders, and reside in Garrett County, Maryland; Forrest Sanders, who intermarried with Margaret Sanders, and reside in Garrett County, Maryland; Elwood Sanders, who intermarried with Martha Sanders, residing in Garrett County, Maryland, all of whom are of full age; Barbara Sanders, single and under the age of twenty-one years, residing in Garrett County, Maryland; Bethel Sanders, single, and residing in Garrett County, Maryland; Dortha Sanders Neimeth, who intermarried with Jerry Neimeth, and reside in Geary County, Kansas, all of whom are of full age; that the said Fred H. Paulie was granted letters of administration on the estate of the said Emelia A. Paulie and notice to creditors were given; that at the time of her death, the said Emelia A. Paulie was indebted to The Garrett County Welfare Board in amount set forth in said bill, and the estate of Emelia A. Paulie is indebted to the said Emroy Bolden, trading as Bolden Funeral Home in amount set forth in said bill, to the said William Hardesty, trading as Hardesty Brothers in amount set forth in said bill, and to the said Fred H. Paulie in amount set forth in said bill, and that the personal assets of said Emelia A. Paulie is insufficient to discharge the said debts against her estate; that the said real estate is not susceptible of partition in kind amongst those entitled to interests therein without material loss and injury, and that it would be for the best interest of all the parties hereto that the said real estate be sold and the proceeds divided amongst them according to their several interests, after payment of the debts against her estate.

TO THE END THEREFORE: The bill then prays for a decree for the sale of said real estate, that the proceeds arising from such sale may be applied to the payments of the said debts of the said Emelia A. Paulie and the balance, if any, be distributed amongst those entitled to interest therein according to their respective interest for general relief, for the writ of subpoena against Barbara Sanders, The Garrett County Welfare Board, William Hardesty, trading as Hardesty Brothers, Emroy Bolden, trading as Bolden Funeral Home, and for the Order of Publication against Raynor Paulie.

It is thereupon this 1st day of March, 1954, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, in Equity, ordered that the plaintiffs by having a copy of this order inserted in some newspaper published in Garrett County, Maryland, once a week for four successive weeks, warning all persons interested in said property to be and appear in this Court by the 3rd day of May, 1954, and redeem the property and answer the bill, or thereafter a final decree will be rendered foreclosing all rights or redemption in the property, and vesting in the plaintiffs a title, free and clear of all encumbrances.

DIED

LEWIS RANDOLPH PIFER

Lewis Randolph Pifer, aged 78, died in Garrett County Memorial hospital in Oakland last Saturday, March 13, after having been a patient there five days.

A son of the late Lewis and Barbara Hampstead Pifer, he was born April 15, 1875, in West Virginia. He was a woodsman.

Surviving are two sons, Wilmer Pifer, Red Oak, this county; and Clarence Pifer, Crellin; also one step-son, William Lower, Antioch, W. Va.; 16 grandchildren and 10 great grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Fairview church with Rev. Ross Speicher in charge. Interment was in Fairview cemetery.

CAROLINE HENRICH

Word was received here this week of the death of Caroline Henrich, which occurred at 7:30 Monday morning, March 15, at Stillwater Sanitarium, Dayton, Ohio. She suffered a heart attack about two years ago and had been in failing health since that time.

Known around Oakland mostly as "Cotolina," she was employed for years at Henry Lauer's bakery on Second Street until about twenty-five years ago. She was born in Germany April 24, 1890.

Deceased has a sister in Germany and a son residing in Indiana. Whether or not the body would be brought to Oakland for burial, was not known, pending location of the son and the arrangements he desired to make.

ANDREW J. STOTTLEMEYER

Andrew J. Stottlemeyer, 59, died last Friday, March 12, at the Newton D. Baker Veterans' hospital, Martinsburg, W. Va., where he had been a patient for the past month.

He was a veteran of World War I. A native of Chaffee, W. Va., the deceased was born April 10, 1894, and was a son of the late Sheridan and Emma King Stottlemeyer.

Surviving are two brothers, Charles A. Stottlemeyer, Danville, Ind.; William Stottlemeyer, Maidsville, W. Va.; and two sisters, Mrs. William Rishell and Mrs. George Kight, Mt. Lake Park.

Funeral services were conducted on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Rev. W. S. Patterson, officiating. Grave-side service was conducted by the American Legion and National Guard, with burial in Oakland cemetery.

JAMES WILLIAM THOMAS

James William Thomas, born October 1, 1863, passed away last Saturday, March 13, at the age of 90 years five months and 12 days. He resided near White Rock his entire lifetime.

On April 20, 1887, he was united in marriage to Sarah Catherine Savage and to this union 10 children were born. His wife passed away November 10, 1910.

On October 11, 1911, he married Minnie F. Savage and eight children were born. Three children preceded him in death with 15 surviving: David Thomas, Hazelton, W. Va.; Bertha Thomas, Markleysburg, Pa.; Charles Thomas, Mt. Morris, Pa.; Effie Bolyard, Philippi, W. Va.; J. F. and Jerry Thomas, Morgantown, W. Va.; Ada Detrick, Farmington, Pa.; Marlow Thomas, Corinth, W. Va.; Theodore, Ralph and Norman Thomas, Mrs. Florence King, Mrs. Violet Schroyer, Mrs. Edna Sines, Mrs. Mildred Friend, all of Friendsville; 65 grandchildren, 30 great grandchildren, 10 great great grandchildren.

He was converted and joined the church 55 years ago. He was a life-long resident of this county.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon from Blooming Rose Methodist church with Rev. L. Curtis Saville in charge. Burial was in the church cemetery.

MRS. LAURA RECKART COVER

Mrs. Laura Mae Reckart Cover was born October 3, 1905, and died Tuesday, March 9, at the age of 48 years, five months and six days.

She was a daughter of Simon and Nora Sines Reckart. Her first husband, Mr. Casteel, preceded her in death, as did a son, Jack Casteel.

Surviving are five children: Mrs. Mary Etta VanSickle, near Hazelton, W. Va.; Mrs. Geraldine Herring, of Kansas City; Janet, of Farmington, Pa., and Ivan and Sammy, in service. Several brothers and sisters also survive.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon from Blooming Rose Methodist church with Rev. Carl Williams in charge. Burial was in the church cemetery.

"Our Growing Edge"

MRS. MARTHA GLOTFELTY

He Had Faith In His Fellow Men

One of the most vicious seeds of that sickness of the mind we call Communism is the spreading of distrust among nations, among people of different races and colors. That distrust is part of their stock in trade. We read how distrust and suspicion divide families, separate husbands and wives, parents and children. Children are used to spy on their own fathers and mothers, and report their political opinions to leaders of the Communist party.

To those of us who read this, we can only think what a monstrous mis-use of their God-given abilities. How intolerable life would become with an attitude like that toward our fellow men.

Yet, I believe even here in Christian America, we are sometimes guilty of mistrusting people too much. Some time ago, here in Garrett county, I sat in a discussion group, and heard some business men and other leaders speaking of dishonesty in filing income tax reports, and other reports involving money. Perhaps they were right. I have no way of knowing. I do know I left that meeting with a feeling of discouragement. Of one thing I am quite sure, I would much prefer to trust my fellowmen than to distrust them, and I firmly believe there are many honest people left. For my own part I would rather err on the side of trusting too much, than to become cynical and hard and trust no one. It seems to me our whole system of Democracy is based on trust of each other.

We Lutherans believe it is a very important part of our Christian creed and faith. Martin Luther in his catechism explains it thus: "We should fear and love God, so that we do not deceitfully betray, backbite, nor slander our neighbor, but apologize for him, speak well of him, and put the charitable construction on all that he does." Maybe we need to take particular note of that last part, and practice it more.

I once knew a man who did just that. He was so completely honest himself, that he was willing to believe other people were, too. I believe that by that very trust and confidence in his fellow-man, he encouraged honesty in others. He was actually able to bring out the best in other folk. Many times our families and acquaintances live up to our belief and trust in them. That is particularly true of our children. Believe in them, tell them you expect the best of them, and they will merit our trust.

This man I am describing was always willing to give others the benefit of the doubt. If there were circumstances pointing to the guilt of a person, he was always ready to wait until all the facts were in before passing judgment. How we need to do that today! We are often ready to jump to conclusions with half-truths, and half-baked facts.

He always had a habit of speaking well of his fellow-men to his family and to those with whom he came in contact. People were drawn to him by his complete honesty, his lack of pretense, and the Christian personality he exemplified.

Many years I knew him, never quite fully appreciating what a man among men he was. He has long since departed this life, but my mind often goes back to former days, and I remember once again his kindness, his honesty and his warm, generous spirit.

I could ask for no greater gift than to carry on a small part of that love of fellow-man which he showed in his lifetime. His life has been an inspiration to me, and a challenge. You see, the man I was just describing was my father.

FINAL NOTICE!

To All Delinquent Taxpayers And Water Consumers!

The Mayor and Town Council of Oakland has, for a number of years, been lenient with the collection of Water Rents and Taxes, due to economic conditions, and thereby showing utmost consideration for those who were unable to pay.

However, the Mayor and Town Council have found that some water users and taxpayers have taken undue advantage of this consideration.

I am employed by the Mayor and Town Council as Clerk-Collector, and they look to me for the collection of water rents and taxes.

Therefore, I, as Clerk-Collector, have been instructed by the Mayor and Town Council to demand immediate payment of all past due water rents and taxes, or I shall be forced to foreclose on properties and discontinue water service. There will be no exceptions made and immediate payment is demanded of every delinquent taxpayer and water consumer.

By immediate payment you may avoid added costs and penalties that would be incurred by carrying out the above order.

All taxes unpaid as of March 31, 1954, will be advertised.

ARTHUR LAWTON,
Clerk-Collector.

THE REPUBLICAN

VOLUME 78 — OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MD., MARCH 25, 1954. — PER COPY, 8c. — NUMBER 4.

Two Tasks for Congress .

What are the two most important things for Congress to accomplish at the present session?

That question, included in The American Press editors' poll, brought out many different answers but when tabulated there were five things which stood out head and shoulders above the rest, in the opinion of the editors.

The five most important things editors want to see Congress accomplish at this session are, in order of importance: 1. Balance the budget; 2. Reduce taxes after balancing the budget; 3. Work out a satisfactory farm program; 4. Cut government spending and waste; and 5. Strengthen our defenses.

In choosing their two "most important" matters for Congress to attend to, the majority of these editors who picked "balance the budget" as one of their choices, picked "cut taxes" as their other choice. A number of them also mentioned "reduce the debt" as a "most important" subject.

Other subjects were mentioned such as strengthen and maintain peace, simplify the tax set-up, cut foreign aid, curb communism in the U. S., back Eisenhower's program, stabilize our economy, but it was clear what are the two most important jobs Congress should accomplish.

The viewpoint of these many editors is also the reflection of the thinking of the nation's citizens at the crossroads. The present government has gone a long way in gaining the first objective, but still more effort should be taken. Former President Hoover has given his report on governmental reorganization that could save billions if his recommendations were carried out.

They can be carried out if we but make our wants known to our legislators.

Harold Roy Killed In Auto Crash

Harold Roy, 26, became the eighth traffic fatality of 1954 in Akron, O., when the car in which he was riding skidded out of control and struck a utility pole and tree early Sunday, March 7.

Driver of the car, John H. Hippert, 24, Cuyahoga Falls, suffered a fractured skull.

A veteran of two years in the army Roy was employed as a painter by the L and L Contractors firm.

Surviving are his parents, Charles H. and Ethel M. Roy; five brothers, Charles H. Jr., Herbert J., John J., Fred A. and Frank B.; and three sisters, Mrs. Betty J. Smith, Mrs. Ethel Carpenter and Miss Barbara Roy.

The young man's mother is a sister of Mrs. Emma Specht, of Second street, Oakland.

Lodges Complaint About Schell Road

Raymond E. Cooper, route 1, Deer Park, in a letter to The Republican this week, declared he was "going to refuse to pay my taxes if the Schell road is not fixed."

Cooper declared in his complaint about the Schell road that it was almost impossible to drive over and isn't wide enough to pass another car. He further declared there had been but very little work done on it in years and that he uses only two miles of it.

Addresses Club on Recreation Areas

Director Of State Forests And Parks Speaks To Rotary Last Friday

The development of recreational areas across the state was discussed by Joseph Kaylor, director of State Forests and Parks, before the Oakland Rotarians at their meeting last Friday evening.

He told of the need for the public park on Deep Creek Lake which has been under discussion for several months and for which Governor McKeldin and the legislature have provided funds for its purchase and development.

The recent legislature provided $40,000 for road construction, sanitary facilities, parking area, picnic facilities and a bath house at the park. This was in addition to the $85,000 provided last year for purchase of a site.

The location of the park is still undecided with the most favored spot being in the area of Meadow Mountain run near where the state already owns a large acreage.

In speaking to a reporter following the meeting Mr. Kaylor indicated that 40 to 50 men could be put to work on the park site this summer if arrangements could be completed for its purchase. The state department is seeking a total of 70 acres there which would have a frontage of 3,000 feet along the lake with a portion of it gentle, sloping shoreline.

Local Election Board Completes Transferal Of Voters To New Books

The task of transcribing the names of over 9,000 voters in the county to the new election books has been completed by the County Board of Election Supervisors.

The job of transcribing the names, affiliation, address, age and other data from the old election books was done by six stenographers and typists, three of Republican and three of Democrat registration. The work was checked three times, according to Robert B. Sincell, clerk of the board.

The figures have been totaled and show a total of 9,435 voters, of which 6,075 are Republican, 3,312 are Democrats, 28 have other affiliation, and 20 have no affiliation. Of the total 5,317 are male and 4,118 are female.

There are now 27 voting precincts, with divisions having been made in Accident, district 5; west Oakland, 14-3 and 14-4; and Mt. Lake Park, district 16. District 5 and district 16 were divided into voters from A to J inclusive being in precinct 1 and voters from K to Z in precinct 2. Since 14-3 already was voters with names from K to Z, this was further sub-divided, leaving 14-3 with names from K to R inclusive, and 14-4 with names S to Z.

The new books consist of a loose leaf binder arrangement and will allow for substitution or elimination of pages. The names are filed in alphabetical order in Christian name as well as surname in all voting precincts and districts.

The tabulation by precincts and districts for affiliation and sex appears below. There will be no changes in figures until after the final registration date prior to the general election.

Football Approved For Southern High With Private Funds; Starts Next Year

Ten Provisions Listed In Presenting Plan To High School Principal

The Garrett County Board of Education, at a meeting last Friday, unanimously approved football for Southern Garrett County Junior-Senior High school, but under ten provisions.

These provisions were made public at a meeting last night with interested citizens, Dr. James Collins, principal, and members of the physical education department. Financing is to be on a local level.

The group accepted the conditions at last night's meeting and indicated that they already had over $2,000 on hand toward provision one, and that they were in the process of adding the remaining $1,000 by May 1.

Provisions Listed

The provisions were listed as follows:

1. It is up to officials of Southern High school to administer the requirement of the $3,000 from community by May 1, with check made to Southern Garrett County Junior-Senior High school.
2. Then, policies henceforth to be 100 percent developed by and under direction of the local school.
3. The coach to receive no pay beyond a regular teacher's salary on the scale by school or any Board or community or individual.
4. No coaching during practice or game to be done by anyone other than by a member of the school faculty.
5. Soccer team to continue to exist.
6. School and community to assume financial responsibility for future fence, bleachers, and lights, when and if desired, with no dependence upon any board; this applies also to replacement of equipment.
7. Football to receive no more emphasis nor require any more time from the school administration than physical education or basketball or soccer.
8. Emphasis to be upon sportsmanship rather than over-emphasis upon winning.
9. The administration of the school to administer the per pupil allotment so that all areas of physical education share.
10. It is up to the officials of the Southern High school to see to it that football is established in compliance with all the rules and regulations now in effect by the State Athletic association which also regulates basketball, baseball and soccer.

The Board, through R. Bowen Hardesty, county superintendent of schools, told Dr. Collins that he had the board's very best wishes in establishing football in the school on the very same basis and importance as basketball, baseball, track, soccer, or physical education. The board said it was of the opinion that the school could move in the same direction in this project and as successfully as other schools across the state have done in like manner without financial support of the Board of Education.

The board revealed that in a study of football in schools of Maryland it was found that fifteen counties had the sport, eight do not; that generally over Maryland, with exception of Allegany county, football is not financed by the County Board of Education.

Seeking Bids On New Hospital Wing

County Commissioners Advertise This Week For New Construction

The County Commissioners are seeking bids for the construction of alterations and an addition to the existing facilities of the Garrett County Memorial hospital at Oakland.

An advertisement to this effect appears in today's issue of The Republican. Drawings and specifications were to be available for distribution to contractors on or about March 24.

The bids are to be opened by the Board of County Commissioners at the court house on Tuesday, April 27, at 2 p. m., EST.

Taken By Death

It was learned this week that Samuel Shellabarger, who resided as a boy in the home that is now the American Legion Home near the hospital, had died this past Sunday.

He was dean of a women's college and the author of a number of books, among which was "Captain from Castile." His parents were summer residents of Oakland for a number of years.

County High Schools Strive For Higher Accredited Rating

Already Approved As Standard High Schools, They Seek Higher Approval

Northern and Southern Garrett County Junior-Senior high schools, which are currently approved standard high schools by the State department of Education, are now seeking higher accreditation by the Middle Atlantic States conference, it was learned this week.

All the better high schools with high scholastic standards across the country are approved by the latter conference.

Both high school principals began last December with their teachers, working through extra meetings and extra hours, preparing for the evaluation. R. Bowen Hardesty, county superintendent of schools, said it will take a team of fifteen persons from across the state three days to survey one school. This team will examine spelling, handwriting, grammar, capitalization, punctuation, sentence structure, arithmetic, reading industrial arts, literature, vocational agriculture, core, history, English, home economics, science, arts-crafts, vocal music, Spanish, band, guidance, French, library, typing, bookkeeping, shorthand, health and physical education, school newspaper, homework, student council, report cards, yearbook, organizations, administration of school, PTA council, cafeteria, nutrition, janitorial services, bus service, and all other areas of school instruction.

For approval, unusual standards must be reached in all these phases of school work, it was stated.

The survey of both schools will be made in the spring of 1955. In the meantime teachers will be constantly at work in preparation of continual evaluation of present instruction and improvement.

Successful rating for the Middle Atlantic States will depend upon constant work and constant cooperation of the PTA council, the local PTA, board of education, teachers, custodians, cafeteria personnel, bus drivers, students and administration, it was stated. Mr. Hardesty said successful certification of our two high schools by the Middle Atlantic States conference will mean much to our students and graduates as they go forth from the schools. He continued, "the bulk of the burden falls upon our teachers. We have teachers willing to exert extra effort whenever tney can to bring better advantages to our boys and girls. Of this we are proud," he concluded.

Golf Club Names Four New Directors

Four new directors were named for the Oakland Golf club at a meeting of stockholders Tuesday evening at the William-James hotel. They are Maurice Brookhart, Dr. H. R. Gibson, William DeWeese, of Oakland, and A. M. Kaiser, of Luke.

Hold-over directors are Bill Smith, Westernport; Harley Dixon, Piedmont; Earl Zepp, L. M. Fraley, Robert W. Lohr, Arthur Calhoun, Irvin Feld and Robert Nichols.

The board will meet Sunday afternoon to elect officers and continue plans for operation of the course this year.

Tri-County 4-H Camp Dates Are Scheduled

A meeting of Extension workers was held in Cumberland the past Monday to plan the program for the Tri-County 4-H Camp. Dates for the camp were set from July 12 to 17 at the Pleasant Valley Recreation Area near Bittinger.

Attending the conference were James McHenry, assistant county agent here; Joe Steger, Allegany county 4-H club agent and R. F. McHenry, county agent; Roscoe Brown, 4-H agent from Washington county.

Eighty-three boys attended the camp last year and a similar number are expected this year. Featured on the camp program will be activity in rifle marksmanship, swimming, crafts and wildlife.

Bloodmobile Unit To Be At Accident Monday, March 29

The second visit of the American Red Cross bloodmobile unit to this county this year will be on Monday, March 29.

The unit will be at the Accident Fire Hall, from 12 o'clock noon until 6 o'clock p. m.

Serving as chairmen for the area are Paul Muha, for Friendsville; and Mrs. Marvin Callis, for Accident. Both communities are cooperating in an effort to obtain a full quota of blood.

Committees have arranged to provide transportation for any citizen pledging a pint of blood, and this service is being offered by the Friendsville Rotary club.

Mrs. Grover C. Stemple, blood recruitment chairman for the county, said the third visit of the bloodmobile will be made to Oakland, and that the date would be May 5. During the bloodmobile's first visit of the year 119 pints were obtained at Oakland. The third visit originally was scheduled for Grantsville, but was changed following an epidemic of infectious hepatitis in that area.

48 Persons Aided By Eye Glass Fund

Forty-eight persons were examined for defective vision and furnished glasses during the past year from the eye glass fund operated by the American Red Cross, it was reported by Miss Floss Shaffer, treasurer.

She pointed out the greatest demand for eye glasses follows preschool examinations by the county health nurses.

The report showed receipts and balance on hand of $610.62, with $545.81 paid out, leaving a balance of $64.81 but $105.56 due on cases completed, leaving a deficit of $40.75.

The receipts come from the special Sunday movie tax at the Maryland theatre.

Report of Red Cross Fund

Miss Shaffer also gave a report of the American Red Cross county unit, with receipts of $1,510.48, which included $1,415.18 from last year's campaign funds.

The expenditures per dollar contribution included .33 for the veteran program, .27 for the blood donor program, .23 for civilian relief; .02 for operating facilities; .003 for first aid program; .007 for campaign fund; with .14 remaining until the 1954-55 fiscal year begins in July.

220 Students to Be In Band Concert

Four music groups will appear in the fourth annual spring band concert, to be presented Thursday, April 8, at 8 o'clock, in the Southern High school gymnasium, it was announced. H. B. Wright, music instructor, will have 220 students under his direction in the senior band, the junior band, the elementary annex band and the elementary band. Mr. Wright has promised a variety of numbers during the concert which would include some of every person's choice.

Spring Arrives– But With Blizzard

Spring arrived in Garrett county last Saturday evening on the wings of a blizzard and cold spell, but the winter weather was short-lived. After a stormy period over the week-end it began to moderate on Tuesday and continued through Wednesday. A heavy rain struck the area early this morning.

Winner Photographed

Donald Fratz, manager of the W. H. Fratz Southern States Agency in Accident, was shown receiving a $40 check from George Boyd, of Fairmont, W. Va., district manager of the Nash Kelvinator Corp., as a feature of the company's 40th anniversary. The photo appeared in the Clarksburg Telegram newspaper, March 15. Also in the picture was Jack McHugh, manager of the Cooperative Feed and Farm Supply Service of Clarksburg.

Donald attended a vocation and training school there last month, and to every 40th registrant, the Detroit office of the Kelvinator Company sent $40 to celebrate the anniversary of the company.

State Sanitarians To Meet Here Again

That the Maryland Association of Sanitarians would come back to Garrett county for their annual summer meeting, was learned over the week-end when Olonzo P. Fike attended a meeting of the association in Baltimore. The meeting was held Saturday.

Mr. Fike announced that the convention would be held June 25, 26 and 27, with meetings at the Mt. Lake Park hotel. Seventy or more members of the association from throughout the state and Baltimore city will be in attendance.

Details of the convention are to be worked out.

Milk Producers To Meet on April 22nd

Dairy Show Planned In Connection—Governor McKeldin To Be One Of Speakers

Milk producers of the Mt. Top area are planning a meeting and dairy show, to be held at the Northern High school gymnasium Thursday, April 22, at 7:30 p. m.

The show will include displays of farm machinery and sanitary equipment.

Speakers will include Governor Theodore R. McKeldin, Robert M. Brown, chief of bureau of environmental hygiene, Maryland State Department of Health; and C. S. Brinsfield, chief of the bureau of food control, Maryland State Department of Health.

Free refreshments will be offered by the dairies of the area. A feature of the entertainment will be music by members of the combined Southern and Northern High school bands.

To Construct New Drive-In Theatre

Work was begun this week on another drive-in theatre at Sand Flat, six miles north of Oakland and about two from Deep Creek Lake.

The theatre will be located on the property of Harvey Speicher, and when completed will have a capacity of 200 in-a-car speakers. Also to be constructed are a concession building and restroom facilities.

The work is being done by the Veterans Electrical Construction and Service Company of Elkins, W. Va., under the direction of Paul J. Zofsak. The latter expects to complete the work in six weeks.

Commands Air Squad

MAJ. FRANKLIN E. WOLF

Major Franklin E. Wolf, of Mt. Holly, N. J., was recently assigned the duty as commander of the supply squadron of the 8th fighter bomber wing, upon his arrival in Korea. Previously, he was assigned to McGuire air force base in New Jersey.

Major Wolf is a son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Wolf, of Oakland. His wife, May Frances, and two children, Mae Frances, 18, and Franklin McConville, 13, reside in Mt. Holly.

Five Propagation Areas For Fish Are Designated in Lake

Five fish propagation areas in Deep Creek Lake were recently established by the State Game and Inland Fish commission, it was announced by Edwin M. Barry, chief of the inland fish management for the commission.

These fish propagation areas may not be fished from March 1 through May 31, as they are temporary reserve spawning areas.

Included in the propagation areas are the waters of the lake where Gravely Run, Red Run, Pawn Run, North Glade Run and Meadow Mountain Run enter the larger body of water. Gravely Run is on the McHenry inlet, Red Run near the breast of the dam, while Meadow Mountain run is at the Glendale bridge, Green Glade Run the first large inlet southeast of the bridge, while Pawn Run is the nearest point on the lake to the Hooppole area near Sand Flat.

Birds Are Stocked

Game officials announced that wild turkey and ringneck pheasants were stocked in Garrett, Allegany and Washington counties last week.

Garrett, Allegany and Washington counties have 43 trout streams and 43,000 adult trout have been allocated for restocking purposes in these three counties.

Teacher Changes, Use Of Gyms, Other Items In Board Of Education Report

Changes in teaching staff and personnel, use of gymnasiums, information on school insurance, and a number of other items connected with Garrett County schools were announced by R. Bowen Hardesty, county superintendent of schools, following recent meetings of the Board of Education.

Changes in teaching staff and school employes were noted: Resignations of Mrs. Patricia M. Orendorf, Zelotes R. Knotts, instructors; and Warner Vondersmith as a member of the maintenance crew.

Earl Statler will retire as of April 1 from Maintenance crew, with Frank Mulliken named acting head custodian in place of Mr. Statler. Joseph D. Carter, on leave of absence, requested that it be terminated.

Mary D. Wald, Grantsville Elementary, was granted a leave of absence as of February 1, on account of illness of her father; replaced by Jennie Durst Stark.

Rebecca Lohr transferred from Friendsville Elementary to Oakland elementary, with Nina V. Lohr being transferred from Oakland to Friendsville. Orville Kitzmiller named custodian at Southern High to succeed Harland Spiker, and Ervin Liller named custodian to succeed Frank Mulliken.

County Superintendent R. Bowen Hardesty reported all individual files of all employees had been examined recently and that each contained the anti-subversive oath that is required by the state.

To Purchase Buses

The Board of Education approved the purchase of busses by contractors including Curtis Miller, 42 capacity; Melvin Faidley, 24; Earl Ault, 54; Roscoe Rohrbaugh, 54; Frank Robeson, 30; Roger Bond, 60; Charles Harvey, 36. A car is to be purchased by Carl Bowman as a feeder vehicle from the Old Mineral School area to Keyser Ridge, effective September 1, 1954.

The Superintendent reported that meetings relative to rules and regulations for drivers, contractors and pupils had been held at Accident, Friendsville, Grantsville, Northern and Southern High schools, Oakland and Kitzmiller elementary schools, and that principals and teachers in the county had instructed the pupils. A copy of pupils' regulations was sent to each family.

Each bus driver is making a map of his route, from garage to school, with each bus stop noted, number of pupils carried, time of each stop, etc., for use of the principal and Board of Education. This will be done at the beginning of each year hereafter.

Watching Where Busses Stop

Mr. Hardesty said the board had been working with Corporal Sam Conrad of the State Police in an effort to eliminate school bus stops opposite double white lines on the highways.

Use of Gymnasiums

The Board agreed that the two gymnasiums should be used to the maximum degree but with the greatest care. Organizations are to make application for use of gyms to principals. They in turn make recommendations to the school superintendent, after which principal and superintendent will meet with the organization representative concerning policy, regulations and cost. It was found that a canvas cover for the gym floor was impractical but that damage to the floor could be avoided by use of certain materials.

Must Obtain Degrees

All teachers are being urged to obtain their degrees. Approxi-

Court Term Of Short Duration

Completed In One Day—Jury Upholds Magistrate In Spotlighting Case

The March Term of the Garrett County Circuit Court was of short duration. It began Monday morning, and ended Monday evening. There was only one case tried by a jury and its members returned a guilty verdict after deliberating less than ten minutes. The case concerned an appeal involving spotlight hunting of deer. Associate Judge George Henderson was on the bench.

Last November 24, Trial Magistrate Dwight A. Barrick, of Kitzmiller, assessed fines of $100 each against James Riggleman, of Kitzmiller; Eugene Smith and Russell Croscoe, both of Kingwood, W. Va., after he found them guilty of violating the game laws against spotlighting deer. All three men noted appeals.

After testimony was given by District Game Wardens Leo Friend, Robert Brown and Francis Ruge, and the case presented to the jury by W. Dwight Stover, state's attorney, the jury upheld the magistrate.

Judge Henderson then assessed fines of $100 each against the two Kingwood men, but raised the $100 fine against Riggleman to $200. The defendants were also ordered to pay costs.

Plead Guilty To Charges

Elmer Dilsworth, Alvie Ernest Thomas and Johnnie Edward Thomas all entered pleas of guilty on charges of breaking and entering. Dilsworth was sentenced to two years in the House of Correction with sentence suspended upon condition he be of good behavior. The other two were each sentenced to three years in the House of Correction, but sentences suspended under same conditions as that of Dilsworth. All three were placed under supervision of the Department of Maryland Parole and Probation.

On a charge of larceny of tires, tubes and wheels from Carl Richter, Carl Henry Durst entered a plea of guilty. Durst was sentenced to serve two years in the Maryland Reformatory for Males, with sentence suspended upon condition of good behavior, and also that he make restitution of $101 and costs. He also was placed under supervision of the Department of Maryland Parole and Probation.

A charge of desertion and non-support against John H. Devine was dismissed at the request of his wife who was the only prosecuting witness.

A charge of bastardy against Arthur Lake, Jr., was dismissed by the court after receiving evidence of a negative blood test.

Vernard R. Ludwig entered a plea of guilty to a charge of desertion and non-support and was sentenced to serve two years in the House of Correction. Sentence was suspended upon condition of good conduct and providing he pay $20 a week for support of his children. This indictment was returned by the grand jury in September, 1952, but Ludwig was apprehended only recently.

Two other appeal cases for motor vehicle law violations, involved Johnnie Edward Thomas. He appealed from a decision of Trial Magistrate W. O. Bitzer, who had fined him for displaying a license plate issued to another person, and permitting the operation of a vehicle before applying for new title. He entered a plea of guilty before Judge Henderson who suspended the payment of fines and costs as imposed by the trial magistrate.

Union Lenten Service

The Union Lenten Service will be held next week, Wednesday, March 31st, in the Church of the Nazarene. Dr. W. S. Patterson will be the preacher, using the subject, "Thomas, the Man Who Doubted." This will be the fifth in the Lenten series on "Followers of the Cross." The service last Wednesday evening was in St. Mark's Lutheran church, with Rev. William A. Renn, of Red House, speaking on "Matthew, a Man of Business."

A great deal of interest is being shown in these services and the attendance has been unusually good, the ministers say. They are sponsored by The Mountain Top Ministerial Association. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend the remaining service in Lent.

New York outlawed mass picketing on the city's strikebound waterfront in an effort to snuff out union warfare on the docks.

A well planned robbery of a moving train in Missouri netted a hold-up man $200,000 in diamonds and cash.

Governor McKeldin urged the public to speak up and demand that legislators increase the state police force.

Man Found Dead

A man identified as Jacob Russell Shearer, 31, of Bowling Green, was found dead Tuesday in one of the tiers of Allegany county jail. Death was caused by strangulation, according to Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy county medical examiner. Dr. Deming said the victim had used his jacket to form a noose in taking his life. The jacket was wrapped around bars in the cell.

State police said they had received a call from Shearer who was quoted as saying he was "going to shoot a couple of people." Two troopers went to Bowling Green and took Shearer into custody. He was to have been taken to the Veteran hospital at Martinsburg.

The victim, a veteran of World War I, was born in Grantsville, and was a son of Mrs. Thelma L. Glotfelty Shearer McIlwee and the late William J. Shearer.

President of Syria resigned because an army revolt had threatened the country with bloodshed.

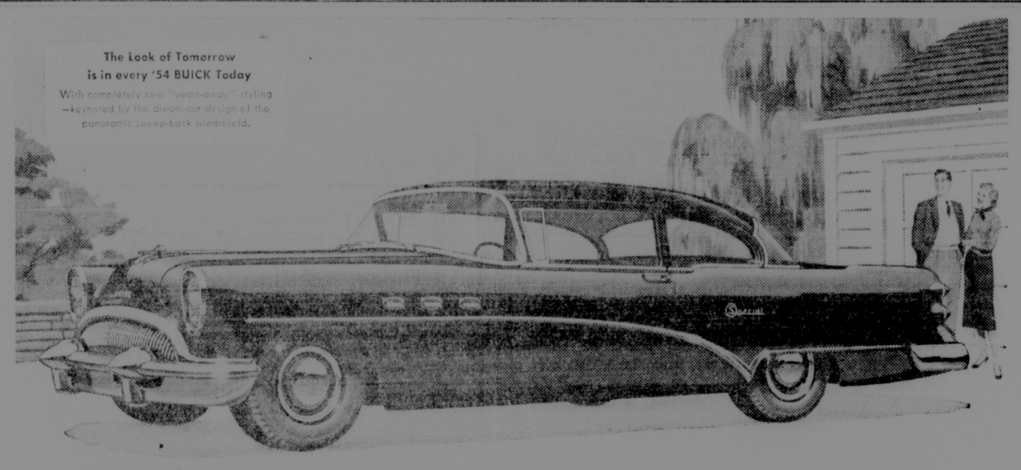
The Look of Tomorrow is in every '54 BUICK Today

With completely new "years-ahead" styling —keynoted by the dream-car design of the panoramic sweep-back windshield.



THIS BUICK V8 delivers locally for only $2285.63*

THE car pictured here is the 1954 Buick SPECIAL 2-door, 6-passenger Sedan—and it's tomorrow in every line and curve and feature—even to the years-from-now design of that broadly arched new windshield.

The price shown here is the price of this glamorous automobile, ready to roll—the local delivered price.

Now—just put this car and this price against anything on the automotive horizon today, and you'll know why it's literal truth when we say, "Buick, the beautiful buy."

It gives you more style modernity, more visibility, more distinction, and more advanced features than other cars in this Buick's price range.

But even more important—it gives you more room and power, more ride comfort and steadiness, and more solidity of structure than other cars at its price.

Come in and check that—in this big, bold beauty of a Buick that delivers to you for just a few dollars more than the so-called "low-price three."

We'll gladly seat you at the wheel and let this sensational automobile tell its own story. Can you make it this week?

MOUNTAIN-AIRES IN NEW ATTIRE—The barber shop singing quartet, the Mountain-aires, are pictured above in their recently acquired new attire. From the rate of engagements this quartet should be an octette so they could be two places at once. Tonight they are singing at the Firemen's banquet in Oakland and also participating in the Kingwood High school minstrel tonight and tomorrow. Last week they were in the Lions club minstrel on Friday and also in the amateur contest at Terra Alta the same evening. From left to right they are Jay Bell, Crellin; Wayne Hamilton, Red House; Harold Holsopple, Oakland; and Harold Benson, Terra Alta. They appear at many affairs in this area and also throughout the tri-state.

DIED

SARAH ALICE CHISHOLM

Sarah Alice Chisholm, born April 26, 1870, and passed away on Tuesday, March 16, 1954, and was 83 years, 10 months and 20 days old. She was the daughter of the late Samuel and Mary Jane Friend Faulkner.

Her husband, Roy Chisholm, and a son preceded her in death. Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Orval Meyers and Mrs. Lucretia Umbel, both of Asher Glade community.

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon at Asher Glade church and burial in Church cemetery.

MELVIN EDWARD WEIMER

Melvin Edward Weimer, 77, died at the home of his brother, Gilbert Weimer, in Mt. Lake Park, on Wednesday, March 24.

A son of the late Jesse and Elizabeth Friend Weimer, he was born October 1, 1876, at McHenry. He lived most of his life at Round Glade until about a year ago when he moved to Mt. Lake Park.

During his life he was a blacksmith and carpenter and had a hobby of making violins and other musical instruments. He was never married.

Surviving are one sister and two brothers, Bertha Weimer, Gilbert and Howard Weimer, all of Mt. Lake Park; and a number of nieces and nephews.

The body will remain at the Bolden Funeral home where funeral services will be conducted on Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock with Rev. Carroll Skipper officiating. Interment will be in Thayerville cemetery.

MRS. MAVEY G. MELLOTT

Mrs. Zella Mae Mellott, aged 74, wife of Mavey G. Mellott, died at the Cuppett Nursing Home near Oakland on Tuesday, March 23, where she had been a patient for over a year.

She was the daughter of the late John and Mary Markley Friend and was born March 19, 1880, at Sang Run.

She was a member of the Methodist church of Blooming Rose.

Surviving are her husband and three children, Loy Mellott, Hutton; George Mellott, Baltimore; and Mrs. Elizabeth Niner, Terra Alta, W. Va.; also one sister, Mrs. Daisy Savage, McHenry; two brothers, James Friend, Hutton, and George Friend, Friendsville.

Funeral services are being conducted this afternoon at 4 o'clock from the Bolden Funeral Home with Rev. W. S. Patterson, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist church, Oakland, officiating. Interment will be in the Blooming Rose cemetery.

INFANT DEATH

John Henry Hardesty, infant son of Bushrod Hardesty, Jr., and Betty Jean Paugh Hardesty, was found dead in bed at their home in Loch Lynn on Wednesday, March 24. He was suffering from an attack of pneumonia.

He was born May 1, 1953, and was aged 10 months.

Surviving are his parents, a twin brother, James, and also Stanley, Kenneth, Betty Lou, David and Brenda, brothers and sisters, all at home.

The body is at the home of his parents. Funeral services will be conducted on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Kurtz chapel, with interment in the Moon cemetery near Deer Park.

MISS MARTHA PLASKETT

Miss Martha Plaskett, born March 19, 1910, passed away March 20 at the age of 44 years and one day. She was the daughter of the late William and Mrs. Grace Fawcett Plaskett, and had formerly resided at Selbysport until moving to Friendsville.

A brother, George, preceded her in death. Surviving is a brother, John.

She became seriously ill on Friday and was admitted to Memorial hospital that afternoon, and passed away on Saturday morning.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon from the home with Rev. L. Curtis Saville, in charge. Burial was in the Addison cemetery.

THURSDAY, MARCH 25, 1954

Senate Cloakroom

By J. GLENN BEALL
United States Senator from Maryland

For the first time in this century the internal revenue laws have been revised, and the political controversy which preceded passage of the bill in the House should be even more partisan when the Senate discusses it.

Not since the Sixteenth Amendment in 1913 made income tax levies Constitutional has the entire internal revenue code been revised—and in fact the House bill, H. R. 8300, is the biggest revision since 1875.

Debate on this bill provoked the sharpest division between Republicans and Democrats since the Eisenhower Administration took office over one year ago. As in all such political maneuvering the real facts are sometimes badly mangled, if not outright distorted.

Briefly—and only briefly since the bill itself is a voluminous 875 pages—this is what the bill provides:

A comprehensive revision of internal revenue laws, including rearrangement of provisions to place them in more logical sequence, deletion of obsolete material, and an attempt to express the law in a more understandable manner, plus cross reference tables as an appendix to the bill itself.

Substantive changes in the law, the purpose of which is to remove inequities, to end harassment of the taxpayer and to reduce tax barriers to future expansion of production and employment.

That is a general summary of the bill's intent, and the House Report explaining the bill is over 400 pages so it is obviously not possible to give a detailed explanation in this column.

Well, what was all the furor about? Why did the opposition party complain so bitterly and fight so hard? The answer is: to create a political issue for the campaign next fall by detracting from the real tax relief given individuals and holding out a promise of greater reductions.

It was claimed that the biggest reductions went to that enemy labelled Big Business. What are the facts? Reductions to corporations total $619 million, however, this is more than offset by the increased revenue of $1.2 billion created by extension of the present 52 per cent corporation income tax rate for one year to April 1, 1955.

Reductions to individual taxpayers amount to $778 million—substantially greater than the corporate reductions.

Now that is what the bill provides, and anyone who takes the trouble to read H. R. 8300 can see for himself, but to listen to the spokesman for the Democratic Party one would believe that the individual, or the "common man" as they are so fond of describing the uncommon, individualistic American citizen, was being sacrificed on the altar of the corporate empires of Wall Street. The Democrats single out Wall Street for much verbal vehemence despite the fact that many of that parties leaders, the Roosevelts, Harrimans, Lehmans, et al, cut their eye teeth in that neighborhood.

For purely political purposes the Democrats shouted that the thing to do was to increase personal exemptions from the present $600 to $700, alleging that the smaller taxpayer would then receive greater benefits—supposedly at the expense of the rich, or Wall Streeter.

Well, supposing the Democrats proposal had been adopted, how would the "poorest" and the "richest" taxpayers fare? In dollars the taxpayer in the lowest bracket would receive a $20 tax reduction for each exemption, while the "rich" man in the highest bracket would receive an $88 tax reduction for each exemption. Despite their claim that they wanted to favor the taxpayer in the lower brackets, the Democrat's tax reduction would return the greatest dollar saving to the man in the higher income level.

The moral of this is quite simple and the taxpayer should always keep it in mind when he is promised tax reductions or threatened by increases. In reducing taxes the man who has been paying the most dollars to the Internal Revenue Bureau is going to enjoy the biggest dollar saving; and when taxes are increased the person in the highest income bracket will be shelling out more dollars in taxes than someone in lower brackets.

Don't be fooled by political demagogues. The tax revision bill now before Congress contains no tax reduction benefit to any rich man that is not also granted to the poorest individual income tax payer.

SWANTON

Boy and girl scout troops from Swanton visited a maple sugar camp at Bittinger Wednesday evening, March 17. The group saw the process from the tapping of trees to the boiling down process.

At a regular girl scout troop meeting Monday Arveta Friend, Mary Teets and Amelia Mellinger won calendars for selling 10 or more boxes of cookies. Each girl was given a maple sugar cake made from the syrup bought at the camp the week previous.

ACCIDENT

The Accident Homemakers club met in the Accident Fire Hall on Wednesday afternoon, May 17, with nineteen members and two guests in attendance. The demonstration, "Color in the Home," was given by Miss Ethel Grove. The group agreed to donate five dollars to the Red Cross drive. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Pearl Rush and Mrs. Olive Spoerlein.

The American Legion Auxiliary members entertained Mrs. Lucille Glotfelty with a surprise stork shower at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Savage, in McHenry on Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ault and family were Sunday evening supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Campbell in Oakland.

The Bear Creek Church of the Brethren will present an Easter play, "Blessed Are They," in the Accident school auditorium, Sunday evening, April 11, at 8 o'clock. There will be a short worship service. A free will offering will be lifted. The public is invited.

Miss Kathryn Speicher was a week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Fritz in Frostburg.

Ross Speicher attended the Farm Bureau discussion group No. 4 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Hummel, near Grantsville, one evening last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Speicher and daughter visited Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Zehner, Somerset, Pa., on Sunday.

Little Douglas Fratz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Fratz, was quite ill due to a throat infection early this week.

Mrs. William Herring has been staying with her daughter, Mrs. Marvin Sunseri, in Washington, D. C. Mrs. Sunseri was taken to the hospital for a major operation, and her mother is caring for Mrs. Sunseri's two children.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Herring and children have returned to their home in Kansas City, Mo., after attending funeral services for Mrs. Herring's mother, Mrs. James Cover, on Friday, March 12th. While here they visited with Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Deal, of Accident.

Miss Helen Georg, of Westminster, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Georg, Accident. Miss Georg is teaching in the High school in Westminster.

Mrs. Harold Georg visited last week with her daughter, Helen, in Westminster. On Sunday Mr. Harold Georg, Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Zinkan motored to Westminster, and were accompanied home by Mrs. Georg.

Miss Ellen Jean Miller spent last week visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Miller.

Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Miller were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kolb and family.

AURORA - EGLON

A number of relatives and friends of the Brookside area went Sunday to the Evans Nursing home in Oakland where they held a little celebration in honor of the 90th birthday anniversary of Mrs. Mary "Mame" Shaffer, formerly of Brookside.

The marriage of Marion "Sally" Myers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Myers, of Aurora, and Charles Beckman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Beckman, also of Aurora, occurred Saturday evening, March 20 at Oakland. Both are seniors in Aurora High school.

Recently a number of musicians of the Accident church accompanied by their pastor, Mrs. Murphy and husband, of Eglon, entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Fike at Eglon. Mrs. Fike's sister, Mrs. Ethel Walters, remains a patient in the home.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Winters and children, of Columbus, were week-end guests of relatives here.

Mrs. Salome Slaubaugh returned last Thursday to her home at Eglan after spending some time with her children.

Miss Nellie Slaubaugh, nurse, is spending a vacation at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Slaubaugh, near Eglon.

IT'S THAT TIME OF YEAR

It seems there are two times in each year when illness is most prevalent—fall and early spring. Then our bodies must frequently adjust to sudden changes in temperature. If they are in a run-down condition or have some habitual constitutional weakness, they cannot cope with these changes and illness takes over. Enjoy good health this spring. See your doctor now before the weather changes. Just as you can depend on him to detect deficiencies and prescribe remedial medicines, so you can depend on us to fill your prescriptions promptly and accurately, to supply you with any of the health needs he may advise.

THE NEW 115-H.P. I-BLOCK SIX

like the V-8, has Ford's deep-block design. It gives more power. And, like the V-8, it has Ford's High-Turbulence Combustion Chambers for more economical fuel combustion.

FORD'S BRAND-NEW 130-H.P. Y-BLOCK V-8 with its extra-deep crankcase has greater rigidity for fine-car smoothness and longer engine life. Shorter piston stroke and Free-Turning Overhead Valves help give 18% more power . . . greater economy.

"I," "Y" and Handsome!

No other car, regardless of price, offers you two such modern engines as Ford with its I-block Six and Y-block V-8. And to go with these and its many other modern features Ford brings you the trend-setting style of the industry.

Once you step into a new '54 Ford for a Test Drive you'll see for yourself the reasons why thousands are swinging to Ford! For besides Ford's new engines there are many other new features that make driving much easier and more pleasant. Ford's modern styling is one. Its smooth eye-catching design is matched in beauty by its completely new trend-setting interiors. Then there's Ford's new Ball-Joint Front Suspension that makes possible a smoother ride and easier steering . . . and, at extra cost, 5 optional power assists. All these features, and many more, add up to make Ford the one fine car in the low-price field.

4-Way Power Front Seat moves up and down, forward and back, at the touch of a button. Like Ford's other optional power assists (power steering, power brakes, power windows and Fordomatic), this power seat gives you so much convenience and comfort that it's almost a "must".

New Ball-Joint Front Suspension replaces the conventional kingpin system used in most other cars. Ford's simple ball-joint system eliminates 12 wear-points . . . helps keep wheels in line longer . . . and means your Ford will keep that new car "feel" for more miles.

Thanks... ...to You
Since observing our 70th anniversary in business two weeks ago, we have been delighted and greatly warmed by your congratulations and well-wishing which have flowed in from all corners of the county and several sections of the United States.
We have re-lived many of those wonderful years while reminiscing with you. It has been a treat to "remember when . . ."
With a great deal of appreciation we say "thanks" for making this anniversary so memorable.

Miss Maryland Joy Vellenoweth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Vellenoweth, of Wadsworth, Ohio, became the bride of Franklin T. Humble, also of Wadsworth, on Sunday, February 28, at Grace Lutheran church in that city.

Rev. J. David Mumford officiated at the double ring ceremony before the altar decorated with vases of white chrysanthemums, tulips and mums, flanked by cybotium fern and schefferlai.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride appeared in a ballerina length strapless gown of white nylon lace and tulle with a matching jacket fashioned with a mandarin collar and matching lace mitts. She wore a finger-tip veil of illusion attached to a crown of seed pearls. Her bouquet of white carnations was centered with an orchid.

Her cousin, Miss Kathleen Beitzel, Wadsworth, was maid of honor. She wore a ballerina length gown of blue lace and net complemented with a corsage of pink carnations and hyacinths.

The groom, a son of Mrs. Harry Mitton, Cleveland, O., and the late Clair Humble, had as his best man, Clair Vellenoweth, brother of the bride. Ray Humble, Cleveland, and Oscar Buterbaugh, Wadsworth, were ushers.

A recital of nuptial music was presented prior to the service by Herbert Rodda, uncle of the bride, as soloist, and Mrs. Eleanor Parker, organist. He sang "O Perfect Love," "The Voice that Breathed Over Eden," and "The Lord's Prayer."

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Vellenoweth chose a light blue dress with a corsage of pink carnations and pink roses. Mrs. Milton wore a navy blue suit with a corsage of red carnations and red roses.

A reception was held in the church social hall following the ceremony. For traveling Mrs. Humble wore a pink dress complemented with black accessories and the orchid from her bouquet.

Mrs. Humble is a graduate of Wadsworth High school and is employed in the office of the Ohio Match company. Her parents were former residents of Accident. Mr. Blamble attended high school in Kittanning, Pa., and is employed at the Ohio Injector company in Wadsworth. Following a honeymoon trip to New York City the couple will reside at 381½ High street, Wadsworth.

Teacher Changes, Use of Gyms

mately fifteen percent of those now teaching in the county schools do not have them. At the request of the State Board of Education, the elementary and high school teachers with emergency certificates are being urged to attend summer school this summer and to "persist thereafter until they obtain degrees."

After several months of study the board officially approved rules and regulations governing pupils, bus drivers and contractors, the standards set up for teaching in the county schools; standards for good custodial services; standards for county superintendent, supervisors, non-teaching and teaching principals. Standards for a good school lunch room operation are being prepared.

1192 Take Insurance

The board reported 1,192 pupils in the county out of about 4,500 had taken out the scholastic accident insurance policy for school children. There were 282 at Southern High and 177 at Northern.

This was a voluntary program wherein parents paid $1.25 for a $2,000 blanket medical benefit, which covers injuries by accident, and sustained while attending school, engaged in travel to or from school, participating in school sponsored activities.

The board is studying the problem of insurance on buildings and contents with the idea of putting all insurance on a five-year plan to reduce costs.

Driver Training

The board accepted a Plymouth automobile from Spoerlein garage for use at Northern High school in driver education; and a standard gear shift Buick from Leighton Brothers garage for use at Southern High, both effective as of September 1.

Revise Substitute Salaries

A revised salary scale for substitute teachers was approved: with degree, $8 per day; no degree but college training, $6 per day; High school training only, $5 per day; and elementary training, $4 per day.

Teacher Retires

The retirement of Mrs. Donna H. Littman, as science teacher in Southern High school, was announced, effective March 19. Her classes will be taught by David Carroll Schwinabart, of Elk Garden, for the remainder of the year.

Mr. Schwinabart was graduated from West Virginia university at Morgantown, at mid-year, with a Bachelor of Science degree.

Ralph Beachley was named as a core teacher for Southern High school, starting this fall. He has been teaching in Cecil county.

Mrs. Caroline Wilson, supervisor, will teach at the University of Florida from six to eight weeks this summer.

The superintendent is making arrangements with Mrs. Beulah P. Beale, supervisor of handwriting in Baltimore City schools, to come to Garrett county to work with teachers in initiating handwriting courses from grades one through twelve.

Plan Cafeteria

Progress was being made on the cafeteria for the Loch Lynn school, which will be put to use next term. The cafeteria is being constructed in the basement of the school.

A corridor for the Accident school also is being contemplated, to make the building safer against possible fires. O. P. Fike and Charles Wilt appeared before the board at its last meeting as trustees of the Accident school, to discuss this matter.

Meeting Dates Announced

Commencement exercises for about 225 persons taking adult education courses, will be held Tuesday, May 4, at 8 p. m., at Southern High school.

There will be a band concert on Sunday, May 16, at 2 p. m., at Northern High school; a career day at Northern High school, 1 to 3 p. m., on April 7.

The Board of Education is now meeting regularly the first Monday of each month at 9:30.

The two high schools will continue to dismiss at 3:15 each afternoon. This practice was started for the winter months, but will be continued the year around, the board decided.

The board will allow an additional five cents a mile, above the regular fee, for bus drivers in sections with bad dirt roads. This ruling affects Joe Falkner, Albert Sisk, Clarence Sisler, George Tichnell, Everett Green, Charles Lee, C. O. Wolf, William H. Bernard and Frank Robeson.

"Our Growing Edge"

MRS. MARTHA GLOTFELTY

Quiet Moments Help Us To Grow

As we read and study again Jesus' life here on earth, we are impressed by the many times he slipped away from the crowds that followed him, for quiet moments to meditate and pray. Since he was always in control of every situation in life, and heeded this, do we not need it so much more? There are so few of the situations of life we can control in our own strength, we need time to also meditate and pray. We need daily more than our strength and wisdom to guide and direct us.

A great religious thinker has said that sometime during each day every one should strive for "the getting of tranquility." He suggested taking at least fifteen minutes out of our busy work-a-day world to completely forget our cares and worries, and think of something that strengthens our faith and peace of mind.

A poverty-stricken boy, John Masefield, became Poet Laureate of England. As a boy he held many jobs, one of them in a carpet mill in Yonkers, New York. He tells the story of how every night he would go home from the mill, lie down on his cot, and practice dropping out of his mind all thoughts about anything which had distressed him during the day. He would sing a verse or two of a hymn. He said the hymn was a tonic to him, because it implanted in his mind thoughts of peace and faith. Because he loved poetry, he would repeat some of his favorite verses.

People who have studied the development of children are agreed that even a child needs privacy, needs a room of his own where he can retreat and think. He needs to have in that room his own books, toys and the things he is interested in most. It is, in a way his own special world.

We adults need that, too. A place to turn to for quietness and rest, even a place where we can retreat from our own families for a few moments of quietness.

How many times there I judge from my own experience) have we thought, out of sheer physical weariness, we could not listen any longer to the noisy world of radio. That popular song, sung over and over, we feel we could not stand listening to once more.

Then there are the demands life makes of all of us. The never-ending routine of cooking, washing, sweeping, preparing meals for a family. There are the demands of our church, our communities, our schools. All of these we want to give service to, but there are times when we falter, and could not go on in our own strength.

Each day we need a few quiet moments to be alone, to get a grip on ourselves, and see the direction in which we are moving.

If you do not believe we need this, read the disturbing, yes, alarming facts about the mental ills of our modern day and age. The alcoholics, the dope takers, the emotionally disturbed folk in all walks of life. One of the most alarming of these facts are the children that are disturbed, reflecting the spiritual unbalance of their parents.

Yes, for a few quiet moments each day, we need to stop and ask Him who was able to still the raging of the seas, to help us still the storms that rage within us, and bring a calmness to us to face what lies ahead for us. Doing that, we will see once again our troubles in their proper perspective.

It really works, for I have tried it, and I am sure many other folk have, too.

ARTHRITIS?

I have been wonderfully blessed in being restored to active life after being crippled in nearly every joint in my body and with muscular soreness from head to foot. I had Rheumatoid Arthritis and other forms of Rheumatism, hands deformed and my ankles were set.

Limited space prohibits telling you more here but if you will write me I will reply at once and tell you how I received this wonderful relief.

New, roomier bodies!
New, rugged construction!

New Chevrolet Trucks...
do more work per day... more work per dollar!

You save extra trips. That's because of the extra load space you get in the new Advance-Design bodies. New pick-up bodies are deeper, new stake and platform bodies are wider and longer. Also, they're set lower for easier loading.

You save hours on the road. Thanks to new high-compression power, you can maintain faster schedules without driving at higher maximum speeds. Increased acceleration and hill-climbing ability let you save time where it counts.

You save time on deliveries. With new truck Hydra-Matic transmission, you save time at every delivery stop. And you can forget about clutching and shifting for good! It's optional at extra cost on ½-, ¾- and 1-ton Chevrolet trucks.

You save on operating costs. New power saves you money every mile! The "Thriftmaster 235" engine, the "Loadmaster 235" and the "Jobmaster 261" (optional on 2-ton models at extra cost) deliver increased operating economy.

You save with lower upkeep, too. Extra chassis strength saves you money on maintenance. There are heavier axle shafts in two-ton models . . . bigger clutches in light- and heavy-duty models . . . stronger frames in all models.

And your savings start the day you buy. In fact, they start with the low price you pay and continue over the miles. Chevrolet is America's lowest-priced line of trucks. It's also the truck that has a traditionally higher trade-in value.

Come in and see all the wonderful new things you get in America's number one truck. We'll be glad to give you all the money-saving facts.

Present Charters To Five Scout Groups

Ceremony Is Held Tuesday Night—Scout Commissioner Is Speaker

Three boy scout troops and two explorer posts of Deep Creek district received their charters at an official presentation ceremony on Tuesday evening in the Methodist church assembly room in Oakland.

Membership cards for the members of the five groups were also presented.

Charters were presented to the troop committee chairmen by Willis V. Smith, of Cumberland, scout executive of Potomac Council. Receiving them were Robert T. Stanton for Troop 31, Oakland; Dr. Harold Ashby for Post No. 31, of Oakland; Homer Shaffer, troop No. 41, Crellin; Ervin Fike, post No. 41, Crellin; and George Comp, chairman, troop No. 68, of Deer Park.

Featured on the program also was a talk on scouting by James Gelwicks, a scout commissioner from the regional office in Philadelphia. He expressed a hope that the leaders of boys were placing a lot of valuable material in each boy's knapsack of life, such as a code of ethics to live by, character, experiences, an opportunity to be good citizens, and also hoped that the parents were putting a little bit of themselves into the knapsack for the boy to carry on life's road.

He compared the qualities of the sequoia tree to those that scout leaders desired to implant in scouts throughout the world, such as resistance to little enemies, power and faith to heal wounds, to keep on growing, and strength of cooperation.

Ralph Fauber, scoutmaster of Oakland troop, had charge of a knot-tying demonstration by members of his troop, while Harold Lantz, Crellin scoutmaster, had a rededication ceremony which concluded the program. John Forman served as program chairman.

Picture To Tell Story of Boyhood

A moving picture of the Boy Scout Jamboree of 1953 in California, telling the story of boyhood in America, will be shown in the Moose hall in Oakland on Monday evening, March 29, beginning at 7 o'clock. There is no admission charge. Another film, "Letter to Loretta," will also be shown. Both films will last about one hour and fifty minutes.

How a Dozen you's grew to Twenty-Two!

There were twelve of you back in 1947—electrically speaking, that is. For electricity helped you do things around the house that would have kept twelve people busy otherwise.

Today, you use a lot more electricity. The twelve you's have grown to twenty-two!

How did it all happen? Well, you found a lot of new ways to use electricity. And your electric company found ways to have more electricity ready for you.

All over America, electric light and power companies are planning ahead, investing billions of dollars in expansion, proving every day that they can meet our country's growing electric needs.

This kind of record should make you stop and wonder whether any new federal government electric power projects—to be paid for with your tax money—are really necessary.

Eight Enter Local Broiler Production Contest In County

Eight Four-H and F.F.A. persons from Garrett and Allegany counties have started their broilers in a Maryland Junior Broiler Production contest, it was announced by James McHenry, assistant county agent.

The project began officially on March 19, and will continue for 10 weeks, or until May 29. Enrolled are a 4-H girl, 5 4-H boys and 2 F.F.A. boys. They include Jean Beachy, North Glade; Forrest Jacobs, Grantsville; Robert Murphy, Friendsville; Carl Paugh, Oakland, all 4-H; Gary Fratz and Donald Glass, Accident, both F.F.A. An Allegany county boy also is enrolled.

McHenry explained the contest in that each entry would start and end the same day. The boys and girl will raise 100 wing banded chicks and keep accurate records regarding mortality, management practices, cost of production, profit or loss per bird. At the end of the project the boys and girl will be able to determine feed cost per pound of broiler produced, other cost per pound, total value or return per pound and total profit or loss per pound.

The contest will be judged on the record book, the contestant's knowledge of broiler practice and a six-bird sample. The six live bird sample will be judged on a regional basis with the two-county entries being judged together. Two boys or girls will be selected to represent the region in the state contest to be held September 15 at the Maryland State Poultry council meeting at College Park. The region winners will have their entries dressed and frozen for the state contest.

The 4-H entries in the contest are under sponsorship of the Acorn Associates 4-H fund. This fund was set up by the Oakland concern for the sponsorship of a worthwhile 4-H project. McHenry explained the program was set up on a cash loan-cash return basis. This fund will continue to be used to sponsor worthwhile 4-H projects.

Fire Auxiliary Meets

The Executive group of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Allegany-Garrett county Volunteer Firemen's association met at the new fire hall in Barton on Wednesday evening.

Forty-five members were present representing auxiliaries from Baltimore Pike, Clarysville, Deer Park, District 16, Friendsville, Kitzmiller, LaVale, Lonaconing, McCoole, Shaft and Barton.

A bazaar is to be held in Lonaconing the first Tuesday in May.

The county convention will be held in Friendsville on June 3. It is hoped to have all auxiliaries present.

The next Executive meeting will be at Baltimore Pike, May 11, at 8 o'clock.

After the meeting refreshments were served by the Barton Ladies.

Welfare Boards Told To Watch Budgets

The welfare boards of Baltimore city and the counties have been warned by the State Department of Public Welfare that expenditures next month must be held to present levels.

Thomas J. S. Waxter, director of public welfare, said steadily rising caseloads are threatening a departmental deficit before the end of the fiscal year. Further curtailments will be necessary in May and June if the caseload does not taper off, Waxter said.

He said welfare payments from state money alone increased from $377,000 last October to $440,000 last month.

39 Delegates Baptized

Local delegates returning from the three-day circuit assembly of Jehovah's witnesses last week in Fairmont, W. Va., reported that 39 from the area symbolized their dedication to God's service as ministers by being baptized while there.

Around 1,200 heard an address by L. L. Roper, Watchtower society speaker, on the subject "Is Civilization's End Near."

Guiding Spirit

Lesson for March 28, 1954

"WHAT kind of evidence could convince you that God exists?" The question was put to a famous agnostic who answered it in a popular magazine last fall. He writes: "I think that if I heard a voice from the sky predicting all that was going to happen to me during the next 24 hours, including events that would have seemed highly improbable, and if all these events then proceeded to happen, I might perhaps be convinced at least of the existence of some superhuman intelligence." This agnostic, who has a brilliant mind and knows a great deal about many things, has managed to lay bare a considerable ignorance about religion on his part. If this is what he insists on before he will believe in God, he will never get it. If we all waited for the kind of thing he wants to hear, no one would be able to believe in God.

Dr. Foreman

The Spirit, Does Guide, But . . .

To begin with, it is most unlikely that God will reveal his plans in detail to this gentleman. He has never done it yet, not to prophets and not to apostles, saints or martyrs. It one of the greatest of these who said we walk by faith and not by sight. So it is not likely that God will give an elaborate set of predictions to a man who does not want to believe in the first place. In the second place, the demand made by the agnostic assumes that the future is just as fixed as the past, that there is no such thing as freedom. Not even God can predict one day's events in advance if there is any real freedom in the person to whom he makes the prediction. (This is a different thing from saying God cannot know in advance—that is another proposition. And yet, and yet—the same Christian church which would with one voice deny that God promises to any man infallible knowledge in advance of even one day's happenings, has affirmed from the very beginning that God does guide his people by His Holy Spirit. We believe that Jesus' promise that the Spirit would guide his people into "all truth," has been fulfilled. It may be a mistake (though this writer thinks not) to suppose that the Holy Spirit has more than we think to do with men's discoveries in science, in geography and invention; it is certainly no mistake to suppose that the Spirit guides men and women in their daily lives and problems. The Spirit does guide us . . . but not as a voice from between the clouds and the moon. How long is it since anybody in your church heard, with his ears, a voice out of the sky? Yet God's voice is heard every day by Christians, the "still small voice," the voice that makes no sound, the "sound of gentle stillness" which is the literal translation of "still small voice."

Spirit of Truth

The most serious practical problem connected with the guidance of the Spirit of God in our daily lives is this, first of all: How can we tell the Spirit's "leading" from notions of our own? When we have an impulse to do or to say something, to go or to wait, is this God that gives us the impulse, or is it only ourselves, or (chilling thought) could it even be an evil spirit? Now we must remember that God can and does speak to us in quite "ordinary" ways. When we are really hungry, we look for food. We don't need any voice from the sky. But in the "natural" instinct of hunger, God who made us is saying to us, "Eat if you want to live." Admitting all this, is there any good way of telling when the voice is God's and when it is not? Yes. One test is this: Is it the voice of truth? Does it push you toward reality or away from it? . . . What would you say to a man who told you that God had commanded him to marry five wives?

The Spirit of Jesus

The Holy Spirit and the Spirit of Jesus are not two Spirits but one. This gives us further insight into how we may identify the true divine Spirit, as different from our own. If ever we are tempted to justify something we want to do, by saying it is God's will, let us stop and think first: Is this what Jesus would do? We know enough about Jesus to know what sort of person he was. We know how he lived. We can be quite certain that the Holy Spirit will never lead a man to do an un-Christlike thing.

Along The Potomac

With Your Congressman
DeWITT S. HYDE

Washington, March 24—The "new look" in our foreign and defense policy has been the subject of much recent discussion between the President, the Vice President, the Secretary of State and former Gov. Adlai Stevenson. This is what they've been talking about.

Last year our foreign policy shifted from an emergency to a permanent basis. We decided the Russian leaders are not changing their views about expanding Communism, in spite of the Korean War and the death of Stalin. So we made our own long-range plans for diplomacy, and, if necessary, military action.

These are our objectives: (1) To keep militarily strong without unnecessary expense; (2) to provide insurance against world war; (3) to show the value of freedom to the world and undermine the Red dictators; (4) to assist backward areas in technical ways so they can build their own economic and military strength.

We have created a capacity to retaliate swiftly against aggression, when, where and how we want to. Secretary Dulles now says that if the Reds start fighting again in Korea, the U.N. won't have to stop its planes at the Manchurian border as we did during the war. Does that sound familiar? Gen. MacArthur tried to achieve that policy four years ago.

We're building a free military force just like a community fire department. There will still be local forces—just as you have means to put out a small fire in your own house, or keep it from spreading till the firemen arrive. With every kind of arms from pistols to H-bombs, the world "fire department" stands ready to answer the call to action in case of more Red aggression.

Building a community striking force is much less expensive than creating a big force in every individual country. We're going to spend ten percent less in our own military budget next year than we did two years ago. We are eliminating foreign economic aid as a major part of our foreign policy because other nations are now able to provide more for themselves.

This all adds up to "the new look." As Secretary Dulles says, let's hope that now that we're able to meet our present danger, we can try to put an end to the danger.

—o—

The House has approved $1,000,000 and $600,000 for flood control at the Peace Cross and at Cumberland. . . . I have introduced a bill to permit veterans to refinance mortgages under the GI Bill to the extent of $7,500 instead of the present $4,000 limit. . . . This Friday I address the Red Cross campaign luncheon here. Saturday the Maryland Historical Society gives a reception in the Senate Office Building for Ellen Marie Johnson, Maryland's Cherry Blossom princess. That night Mrs. Hyde and I will attend the dinner-dance of the Cabin John Volunteer Fire Department.

Mill Run Mines Inspected Recently

Elimination of unsafe roof along the main haulageway and improved ventilation were urged by the U. S. Bureau of Mines for the No. 1 mine of the Gary Coal Company Mill Run.

The 10-man mine averaged 40 tons of coal daily when inspected recently by T. J. Ward.

The Federal inspector recommended electric cap lamps for portable illumination and haulage and electrical betterments. Ward also warned against smoking underground.

Recent improvements included an ample supply of cap pieces, improved storage of explosives, and the adoption of a suitable check-in and check-out system.

ONE WORD . . .

Can Change Your Life

By REV. ROBT. OLEWILER
Pastor, Grace Reformed Church
Washington, D. C.

Our

If you're holding an election to see which word packs more power than another, I'd like to nominate the word "our."

Many men, when they call to their wives, shout: "Get my car out, I'm ready to leave." But the little woman is tired of driving your car, living in your house, eating your food. Why not use a little word-magic and say: "Will you please get our car out, dear?"

We parents can profit from the use of this word. How it helps our children to know and believe they really belong to the family group when they hear Mother and Dad speak of family interests in terms of—not mine and yours—but ours.

Recall again that when Jesus taught His disciples to pray, He began: "Our Father." Yes, for power, pleasure and peace I nominate "our," the word that can change your life.

GORTNER

"In March you face a problem that involves your poise and pride. Just how could you pursue your hat, and yet look dignified?"

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County:

I hereby announce as a candidate for the office of County Commissioner of Garrett County.

Inasmuch as I live in Election District No. 10, under the present system of electing County Commissioners I will represent the first County Commissioner District if nominated and elected to the office which I seek. At the present time, I am a member of the Orphans' Court of this county.

I have lived in Garrett County all of my life, am a farmer, have been interested in a number of business and other organizations and believe that I have a pretty thorough knowledge of affairs in our county and what should be done for its improvement and well being.

If nominated and elected, I will give careful attention to the duties and demands of the office and to the best of my ability will serve all of the people of the county alike.

I respectfully solicit the support of all Republicans at the primary.

Harry F. Paugh

—Adv. 51*

To the Voters of Garrett County:

I hereby announce as candidate for the office of County Commissioner of Garrett County.

I have been a life-long resident of Garrett County, living in District No. 14.

If nominated and later elected to this office, I have but one promise to make—that I will serve the people of my county to the best of my ability.

My motto is, I realize no one can please everybody, but I can keep on trying.

I respectfully solicit your support.

H. D. "Hub" Swartzentruber.

—Adv. 1*

To all Voters of Garrett County:

I hereby announce as a candidate for the office of County Commissioner of Garrett County.

I have lived in Election District No. 13, in Garrett County all of my life. I have always been a Republican and I am now serving my third year as one of the Trial Magistrates of Garrett County.

If nominated and elected, I will to the best of my ability serve all the people of Garrett County alike.

I respectfully solicit your support.

Dwight A. Barrick
County Commissioner
District No. 1

—Adv. 2*

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County:

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of County Commissioner subject to the results of the Republican primary.

Born and reared on a farm near Grantsville, I have lived in Garrett county practically all of my life. I purchased my first farm in District No. 5 in 1923. I believe my experience in the Farm Bureau, Soil Conservation and other organization work will be of great help in administering the duties of this office.

If nominated and elected I shall give just and honest consideration of all matters pertaining to the duties of this office.

I sincerely solicit your support and influence.

Foster Yost

District No. 5

—Adv. 2*

FOR COUNTY TREASURER

To the Republican Voters.

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of County Treasurer, subject to the results of the Republican primary election, and earnestly solicit the support of all the citizens of the county.

I have been a resident of Mt. Lake Park for twenty-nine years and have had bookkeeping and administrative experience for the past twenty-four years which I feel qualifies me to fill satisfactorily the office I seek. For the past four years I have been in the office of the County Roads engineer.

I pledge an honest and efficient administration in the duties of the treasurer's office should I be nominated and later elected.

Joseph H. Welch,
Mt. Lake Park

District 16

—Adv. 51*

FOR SHERIFF

I hereby announce myself as a candidate on the Republican ticket to succeed myself for the office of Sheriff of Garrett county.

My entire life has been spent in Garrett county, mostly in District No. 2, and I have endeavored to carry out the duties of the office without fear or partiality. Having served in this capacity for four years, and previous to that time as your deputy sheriff, I feel that I am in a position to render the type of service which the citizens of our county should expect from this office.

If renominated and reelected I pledge my full effort to the work connected with the sheriff's office. I shall be grateful for your support.

Paul W. Fisher
District No. 2

vs
William T. DeVore, late of Grantsville, Garrett County, Maryland, deceased, and all other persons having or claiming to have any interest in and to that tract of land situate in Election District No. 3, of Garrett County, Maryland, containing four and nineteen hundredth acres, and being the same property which was conveyed to the said William T. DeVore by deed from Althea M. Beachy, widow, dated the 16th day of June, 1938, and recorded in Liber A. G. R. No. 117, folio 590, etc., one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland.

No. 4444 Equity. In the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this proceeding is to secure foreclosure of all rights of redemption in the following property situate in Election District No. 3, of Garrett County, Maryland, sold by the Collector and Late Collector of Taxes for Garrett County and State of Maryland to the plaintiff in these proceedings.

All that tract or parcel of land situate, lying and being in Election District No. 3, of Garrett County, Maryland, containing four and nineteen hundredth acres, and being the same land which was conveyed to William T. DeVore by deed from Althea M. Beachy, widow, dated the 16th day of June, 1938, and recorded in Liber A. G. R. No. 117, folio 590, etc., one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland.

The bill states, among other things, that the amounts necessary for redemption have not been paid, although more than a year and a day from the date of sale has expired.

It is thereupon, this 23rd day of February, 1954, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, in Equity, ORDERED, that notice be given by the insertion of a copy of this order in some newspaper having a general circulation in Garrett County, Maryland, once a week for four successive weeks, warning all persons interested in the said property to be and appear in this Court by the 3rd day of May, 1954, and redeem the property herein described and answer the bill or thereafter a final decree will be rendered foreclosing all rights of redemption in the property, and vesting in the plaintiff a title, free and clear of all encumbrances.

ASSIGNEE'S SALE OF VALUABLE REAL ESTATE

SITUATE ALONG DEEP CREEK LAKE, IN GARRETT COUNTY, MARYLAND

Under and by virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage from Herbert C. Broyhill and Joan R. Broyhill, his wife, bearing date the 31st day of December, 1952, and recorded in Liber R. L. D. No. 178 folio 74 &c., one of the Mortgage Records of Garrett County, Maryland, default having occurred under the terms and conditions of said mortgage and said mortgage having been duly assigned to the undersigned for the purpose of foreclosure I hereby give notice that I will on SATURDAY, THE 27th DAY OF MARCH, 1954

At the Hour of 10:30 A. M.

in front of the Court House in the town of Oakland, Garrett County, Maryland, offer for sale and sell at public auction to the highest bidder the following property, to-wit:

All those lots, pieces or parcels of land situate, lying and being in Garrett County, Maryland, North of the Glendale County Road, about 1000 feet West of the Glendale Bridge that spans Deep Creek Lake, adjoining the property of Pennsylvania Electric Company and William J. Torrington, et al., as follows, to-wit:

1.—All that lot, piece or parcel of land situate as aforesaid, containing the quantity of 0.43 of an acre, more or less; also the right to use in perpetuity as a means of an outlet from and as an access to said 0.43 of an acre of land, a certain strip of land 20 feet wide leading from said land to the Glendale County Road.

SAVE AND EXCEPTING, HOWEVER, so much of the above described land as was heretofore conveyed by Irene McAlpine Young and husband to Jean Arendes Franklin by deed dated June 18, 1936, and recorded in Liber 112, folio 385, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland.

2.—All that other piece or parcel of land containing the quantity of 0.22 of an acre, more or less.

The above parcels of land are the same which were conveyed unto the said Herbert C. Broyhill and wife, by deed from Lloyd Durst and wife, bearing date the 31st day of December, 1952; and recorded in Liber R. L. D. No. 176, folio 422 &c., one of said Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland.

The above property is located on the North side of the Glendale County Road, along Deep Creek Lake, near the Glendale Bridge, and is improved by a one story log cottage, consisting of three bedrooms, kitchen, dining room and large living room, with finished basement used for recreation purposes.

TERMS OF SALE—Cash on day of sale.

Housework Easy Without Nagging Backache

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

Congressional Viewpoint

Sen. John Marshall Butler

With the passing of March 15th, the topic of official and general conversation, quite naturally, has been that of taxes. Each year, at this time, the people of America assume a very direct obligation and burden in the cost of government. Each year, the possibility of tax relief, either immediate or eventual, is the focus of attention. Now, that distinct possibility is very close to a reality. Simply stated, the question is how much and when?

Last Monday evening, President Eisenhower outlined to the Nation a new tax program, which is presently under consideration by the Congress. For the first time in 50 years, our tax laws have been completely examined and reviewed by the Administration and the Congress. These efforts have resulted in a much-needed and far-reaching reform and revision of old tax laws, which will benefit many millions of individual taxpayers.

Certain factions have become exercised by the fact that these reductions have not been of greater magnitude. Such groups, in my firm opinion, completely and deliberately ignore the chaos in fiscal matters which the Republican Administration inherited from its predecessors in January, 1953. At that time, the total national debt was in excess of $266 billion, and with only $4.6 billion in cash in the public treasury, the minions of the New Deal-Fair Deal, had committed our government to obligations, on a "COD" basis, to the extent of $83 billions.

The vital necessity for curbing this extremely dangerous trend is brought into true perspective when one realizes that, in the last 24 years, the federal budget has been balanced in only three years—two of these three instances were primarily attributable to the action of the Republican 80th Congress. In the face of such tremendous deficits, the accomplishment of deep reductions of taxes is a gradual process in conjunction with positive steps to bring about sound and economical government operations.

What has the Republican Administration, under the able leadership of President Eisenhower, done toward achieving this latter goal, which essentially precedes tax reductions? In addition to initiating more efficiency and economy at all levels of government, appropriations last year were reduced by more than $12 billions, with every indication of further eliminations this year. Even so, by reason of the large unpaid inherited debts, the deficit for fiscal year 1955 will approximate $4 billion.

Taxation and the cost of government cannot be separated, and any consideration of a reduction in one must be related to the other. This complex problem must be resolved step by step—there is no short cut. President Eisenhower's program and the new tax legislation are but the framework of the solution. With the enlightened patience and support of the American people the ultimate goal will be achieved more quickly, and this Nation can face the future on a firm and sound footing.

Surprised by devastating power of hydrogen blast, U.S. has more than tripled the danger zone for tests in mid-Pacific.

Number 4446 Equity. In the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to procure the passage of a decree for the sale of the real estate of Emelia A. Paulie, deceased, situate in the town of Hutton, Garrett County, Maryland, and for the distribution.

The bill states:

That Emelia A. Paulie in her lifetime was seized and possessed of certain valuable real estate situate, lying and being in the town of Hutton, Garrett County, Maryland, known and designated as Lots Numbers 28 and 30 in the Southview Addition to said town, excepting all minerals, mining rights thereunder, it being the same which was conveyed unto the said Emelia A. Paulie, as E. A. Paulie by deed from O. F. Frankhouser et al, dated July 12th, 1950, and recorded in Liber R.L.D. No. 166, folio 379 &c, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, which said deed has been filed as "Plaintiffs Exhibit No. 1;" that the said Emelia A. Paulie while seized and possessed of the aforesaid real estate departed this life on the 29th day of June, 1953, intestate, and leaving surviving her the following children and descendants, to whom, as her heirs at law, the said lands have descended, viz: Fred H. Paulie, a son, who intermarried with Jessie Paulie, and reside in Garrett County, Maryland; Alton Paulie, a son, who intermarried with Ruth Paulie, and reside in Clearfield County, Pennsylvania; Josephine Paulie Sereno, a daughter, who intermarried with Joseph Sereno, and reside in Tioga County, Pennsylvania; Alma Paulie Lemaitre, widow, resides in Delaware County, Indiana; Raynor Paulie, single, whose last known address was Magdalena, Socorra County, New Mexico, but whose present whereabouts are unknown; the child and heir at law of Ernest Paulie, a deceased son of Emelia A. Paulie, who is survived by his widow, but who predeceased his mother, the said Emelia A. Paulie, viz; Janet Paulie Diggins, who intermarried with Ray Diggins, and reside in Marshall County, West Virginia; the children and heirs at law of Minnie Pauline Nine, a deceased daughter of Emelia A. Paulie, who as well as her husband predeceased her mother, the said Emelia A. Paulie, viz; Jessie Nine Hinebaugh, who intermarried with Paul Hinebaugh, and reside in Garrett County, Maryland; Walter Irvin Nine, who intermarried with Betty Nine, and reside in Marion County, West Virginia; Hazel Nine Worley, who intermarried with George Worley, and reside in Kanawha County, West Virginia; Frances Nine Davies, who intermarried with Walter Davies, and reside in Darke County, Ohio; the children and heirs at law of Valesca Paulie Sanders, who is survived by her husband, but who predeceased her mother, the said Emelia A. Paulie, viz; Gladys Sanders Whetsell, who intermarried with Charles Whetsell, and reside in Allegany County, Maryland; Paul Sanders, who intermarried with Mary Sanders, and reside in Allegany County, Maryland; Lawrence Sanders, who intermarried with Glendine Sanders, and reside in Garrett County, Maryland; Forrest Sanders, who intermarried with Margaret Sanders, and reside in Garrett County, Maryland; Elwood Sanders, who intermarried with Martha Sanders, residing in Garrett County, Maryland, all of whom are of full age; Barbara Sanders, single and under the age of twenty-one years, residing in Garrett County, Maryland; Bethel Sanders, single, and residing in Garrett County, Maryland; Dortha Sanders Neimeth, who intermarried with Jerry Neimeth, and reside in Geary County, Kansas, all of whom are of full age; that the said Fred H. Paulie was granted letters of administration on the estate of the said Emelia A. Paulie and notice to creditors were given; that at the time of her death, the said Emelia A. Paulie was indebted to The Garrett County Welfare Board in amount set forth in said bill, and the estate of Emelia A. Paulie is indebted to the said Emroy Bolden, trading as Bolden Funeral Home in amount set forth in said bill, to the said William Hardesty, trading as Hardesty Brothers in amount set forth in said bill, and to the said Fred H. Paulie in amount set forth in said bill, and that the personal assets of said Emelia A. Paulie is insufficient to discharge the said debts against her estate; that the said real estate is not susceptible of partition in kind amongst those entitled to interests therein without material loss and injury, and that it would be for the best interest of all the parties hereto that the said real estate be sold and the proceeds divided amongst them according to their several interests, after payment of the debts against her estate.

TO THE END THEREFORE: The bill then prays for a decree for the sale of said real estate, that the proceeds arising from such sale may be applied to the payments of the said debts of the said Emelia A. Paulie and the balance, if any, be distributed amongst those entitled to interest therein according to their respective interest for general relief, for the writ of subpoena against Barbara Sanders, The Garrett County Welfare Board, William Hardesty, trading as Hardesty Brothers, Emroy Bolden, trading as Bolden Funeral Home, and for the Order of Publication against Raynor Paulie.

It is thereupon this 1st day of March, 1954, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, in Equity, ordered that the plaintiffs by having a copy of this order inserted in some newspaper published in Garrett County, Maryland, once a week for four successive weeks before the 2nd day of April, 1954, give notice to the said absent defendant, Raynor Paulie, warning him to be and appear in this Court in person or by solicitor, on or before the 17th day of April, 1954, to show cause, if any he has, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

Oberlin Edward Rawlings
Vs.
Dorothy Ann Rawlings
No. 4448 Equity. In the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to obtain a divorce a vinculo matrimonii for the Plaintiff from the Defendant and for the Plaintiff to have the custody and guardianship of the infant children of the said marriage who are Oberta Marie Rawlings and Thomas Edward Rawlings.

The bill of complaint states that the parties were married on May 19, 1948, in Mount Savage, Maryland, and that they lived together following the said marriage in Bloomington in Garrett County, Maryland, until September, 1949, at which time and place the Defendant deserted and abandoned the Plaintiff and their infant daughter and the said desertion and abandonment has continued uninterruptedly ever since September, 1949, and is deliberate and final and the separation of the parties is beyond any reasonable expectation of reconcilliation. That the Plaintiff gave no just cause for the said desertion and abandonment. The infant son who was born after the said desertion and abandonment is now with the Defendant whose whereabouts are unknown but is believed to be a non-resident of the State of Maryland. That the Plaintiff and the infant daughter are residents of Garrett County, Maryland. The Plaintiff seeks the custody of the infant daughter and, if possible, the custody of the infant son.

It is thereupon this 3rd day of March, 1954, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, sitting in Equity, ordered that the Plaintiff by causing a copy of this Order to be published in some newspaper in Garrett County, Maryland, once in each of four successive weeks before the 2nd day of April, 1954, giving notice to the absent Defendant of the object and purpose of this suit and warning her to be and appear in this Court in person or by solicitor on or before the 17th day of April, 1954, to show cause, if any she has, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

It Runs Through My Mind

BY POLLY J. HANST

Give Them Away

All of us are aware that homes once beautifully landscaped, can in a few years get buried in their plantings. The shrubs and trees have a look of taking over when they were meant to set off the house.

Folks get attached to things they've planted and nurtured through the years and shrink from cutting down and starting over anew.

As I look at the gorgeous blue spruces and other fine species I find myself coveting them—not for my premises—but for the hospital and school grounds.

If everyone who had a tree or shrub that had outgrown its space would donate it to these public grounds, think of the joy they would have in giving.

—o—

Hitching Their Wagon To Our Star

Mrs. Roy Hauser, whose husband is a minister at Clearfield, Pa., sent a notice of their sesquicentennial which will be celebrated in June.

She writes, "The title of our pageant will be 'The Sesqui Story.' If our county can put on a pageant that will compare with 'The Song of the Oaks,' we will be happy."

—o—

To think that five years will soon have pasesd since that pageant. Ah, that the creative urge would overtake us in another five years, and we would revive the "Song of the Oaks," adding to it the imaginative ability that has developed these past years.

—o—

We're Making Progress

Has there been as much progress made in any five year period in our history as this past five?

A new library—which is beautiful—and librarians whose desire is to serve the people and to encourage beauty as well as good reading.

A hospital, efficient, beautiful and already needing its hem let down.

A high school plant to be proud of, though the seams may have to be let out—but something already is taking root there that is of greater value than building.

—o—

We Need A Few Things

"Aren't you ever satisfied?" someone asked me after hearing me wish for a big auditorium.

No, I'm not satisfied. I not only want an auditorium, but an amphitheatre, too, and a park and a fair and a pond for skating that will hold water. (Judge Henderson has the know-how for this. He is as sure as I that it will work.)

Funny how I used to want all these things for my own children—and now that they will not likely get much use of any of them I find the want is just as great for other people's children.

Love has a way of maturing.

—o—

Me Mature?

Our son, home for spring vacation, sat in the chair opposite me reading 900 pages of David Copperfield while I was buried in my required reading of Bowman's "Marriage For Moderns," which is mostly psychology.

"Do you think you're mature?" I asked as we both paused to rest our eyes.

"I don't know," he replied, "Are you?"

"I believe I am."

"Then I've got a long way to go," and his laugh made me wonder if I'm kidding myself.

—o—

Am I Really?

The more I read from Bowman the more I wonder if the basis of all our problems at home and elsewhere is not immaturity.

For instance, the snob is one of those who uses false superiority to cover up inferiority. I think I'm free of that until I realize our attitudes as Americans toward peoples of far greater culture.

The person who has to have flattery, praise and compliments to give him a lift is immature. The mature person enjoys work well done and appreciates praise, but doesn't thrive on it.

The poor sport is immature. So is the fellow who has no respect for property. That includes the one who throws things outside car windows and leaves clutter at picnic tables.

One who will not admit his age—even to himself. One who gets his feelings hurt. One who will not accept responsibility in organizations—labelled immature.

As I read this interesting treatise on maturity I wonder if that isn't the biggest job we have facing us—one that will require a long time?

Me mature? Not yet.

VOLUME 78 OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MD., APRIL 1, 1954. PER COPY, 8c. NUMBER 5.

Driver Education . . . .

The nation's public school superintendents are nearly unanimous in their belief that teaching youths how to drive in high school offers the best long-range hope of reducing highway accidents. We are glad to see that driver education is being continued in both high schools of this county, and we hope Maryland's safety record will improve this year, as a result.

During the past three years, Maryland showed a four percent reduction in automobile fatalities which puts the state below the national average, and there is a feeling that continued driver education will lower highway fatalities still more.

About one and one-half million persons have completed driver education courses since the program was started in the United States in 1936, and surveys conducted by the American Automobile association show that driver education reduces accidents by young drivers approximately 50 percent, compared to untrained drivers with equal experience.

These young drivers are learning not only behind the wheel techniques but proper attitudes and road courtesy that a number of adult drivers would do well to emulate. The latter may get the opportunity since this driver education is being extended in some parts of the country this year to adults and it is estimated that 50,000 adults will learn to drive this year the way the student drivers are learning.

The goal of this year's White House conference on highway safety is for a forty percent improvement in the highway death and casualty toll. If this goal could be achieved it would mean that on January 1, 1955, 15,000 people would be alive who otherwise would have died in highway accidents. Driver education can and should be one of America's big contributions to this goal of greater safety.

Jury Gives Verdict For Defendant

A verdict in favor of the defendant, Robert Edward King, was rendered by a Garrett County jury on Tuesday afternoon in a civil case in which M. C. Galliot sought to collect $750 damages as the result of an auto collision on route 219 last August.

It was brought out at the trial that King ran into the rear of Galliot's automobile at a point where the Swallow Falls road enters route 219. Both King and Galliot were traveling south with another automobile between the two. The middle car turned off. Galliot, who also said he wanted to turn off, went beyond the roadway before stopping. King then rammed into the rear of the automobile. Damage amounted to $399.88 and Galliot was asking for $750 in the suit.

In another civil suit, Hobart H. Speicher, Grantsville, was awarded damages of $353.27 against Charles L. Wilt and Robert S. Hay, both of Jennings. The trial was before the court with Associate Judge George Henderson on the bench.

It was brought out that Speicher had parked his car on the main street in Grantsville and at 4 a. m. on October 11, 1953, Wilt ran into the back of the car. He testified at the trial he had fallen asleep.

Another trial partially heard by a jury on Monday was settled by attorneys. Baer and Company of Meyersdale sued Mr. and Mrs. Melchoir George and Mr. and Mrs. James Georg over funds allegedly due the company for installation of a furnace in the latter's home on Keyser ridge. The case was settled for $550 in favor of the plaintiff. Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris was on the bench Monday and Tuesday.

Dr. Church To Be Keynote Speaker At Career Night

Is Being Held This Evening At Southern High School

Dr. E. E. Church, president of Potomac State school, Keyser, is to be the keynote speaker at the career night program this evening at Southern High school.

The group will gather in the gymnasium at 8 o'clock for the keynote address and also a talk by John L. Estes, associate member of the board of the department of employment security, Baltimore.

After that students will have an opportunity to learn about two careers out of about thirty different ones that will be offered. Two forty-five minute periods will be conducted.

March Exits as Lion

March made its exit similar to the way it entered—like a lion. After a warm Sunday and Monday, fog settled over the area on Tuesday, bringing rain and colder weather, with some sleet falling Tuesday night, Wednesday remained cold with snow falling on Wednesday night.

The skies cleared today, April 1, and the snow melted rapidly. There were prospects of a mild week-end.

Legion Makes $1,000 Available to County

The Department of Maryland, American Legion, is making $1,000 available to this area for underprivileged and crippled children, it was announced this week by Dale Lowdermilk, post commander of Proctor Kildow Post No. 71.

The money will be presented at a public meeting in the Moose hall in Oakland on April 25.

Lowdermilk said that each year the Department of Maryland presents $1,000 to a certain county in the state, and that Garrett county had been recommended for the gift this year. The vice commander of the district and the chairman of the child welfare committee named a committee to handle the funds. It includes Rev. John J. Atwell, Oakland; Edward P. Kahl, Oakland; Dan Hershberger, Grantsville; Rodney Selders, Kitzmiller; and John Shoemaker, Accident.

The money will be used for glasses, shoes, braces, and other needs and the committee will work closely with Miss Grace Jones, physical therapist in the county. The Legion has provided funds in a limited way in previous years, but the organization is trying to establish a permanent group in this type of welfare work.

Out For Congress

F. Byrne Austin, of Takoma Park, announced he would seek the Democratic nomination for Congress from Maryland's Sixth district. The sixth district includes Montgomery, Washington, Frederick, Allegany and Garrett counties.

Austin charged that in 15 short months the Republican party had taken the country back 30 years.

Austin is 50 years of age. He served from September, 1949, to December, 1953, as executive director of the federal War Claims commission. He is married and the father of three daughters. He is currently associated with a realty company in Silver Spring.

He was an unsuccessful candidate against J. Glenn Beall for Congress in 1948.

Landscaping of Two Hi Schools To Begin

James Johnson, landscape specialist from the University of Maryland, will be in the county Friday and Saturday to work with a committee composed of school representatives, members of the Board of Education, representative of the Rotary club, W. W. DeWitt, county roads engineer and others to make final blueprint plans for the landscaping of both high school sites.

Weather permitting, the work is scheduled to begin next week with grading, seeding and the planting of some trees.

Teachers Are Sought

F. D. Bittle, supervisor; Dr. James Collins, Southern High principal; W. J. Fleming, Northern High principal, were interviewing prospective teachers at West Virginia University and Fairmont State Teachers college last week.

Mrs. Caroline Wilson and John Dunn, supervisors, plan to do similar interviewing at Frostburg State Teachers college tomorrow.

New Brownies To Get Pins Monday

Sixteen Brownies who recently entered the Oakland Brownie troop, will receive their new pins at an investiture ceremony next Monday afternoon, April 5, at the City Hall, at 3:45 o'clock.

Parents of those who are receiving their pins are being invited to the ceremony. Those who will receive pins are Mary Kay Alvarez, Bertie Lou Burgwald, Patricia Ann Castilow, Meredith Elliott, Sally Hoffman, Margaret Englander, Jill Jones, Sandra Kight, Patricia Jo Martin, Janie Knotts, Brigitta Maroney, Joan McClung, Louise Mullinex, Margaret White, Barbara Zepp and Katharine Mance.

The Brownie troop was re-registered March 1 with the National Girl Scout organization. Older members include Mary Ann Burgwald, Nancy DeWitt, Roberta DeWitt, Lynn Dusic, Mary Jane Germain, Mary Katherine Gonder, Marie Jo Gonder, Sandra Kay Harvey, Carolyn Leighton, Carolyn Sue Martin, Margaret Ellen Nally, Rebecca O'Gwynn, Patricia Record, Lynda Smouse, Annabell Thomas, Sandra Sue Tibbs and Lucinda White.

Mrs. C. W. Englander and Mrs. Robert Hoffman were added to the troop committee which also includes Mrs. Fred Burgwald, Mrs. Howard White and Mrs. B. I. Gonder. Leaders who re-registered were Mrs. Richard Glotfelty, leader; Mrs. Earl Zepp, Mrs. Haig Jackson, Mrs. Floyd Leighton, assistants.

Should Plow Under Cornstalks–Carter

County Agent Urges Action To Get Rid Of Corn Borer

Farmers were being advised by John H. Carter, county agent, to plow under cornstalks to get rid of overwintered corn borers. He said this should be done by May 10, otherwise the corn borer moths will emerge from the stalks and infest new crops.

Although the infestation is not as great in this county as in other parts of the state, Mr. Carter advised that farmers get rid of the cornstalks and save trouble.

Cornstalks in this county had an average of 13 borers per hundred stalks, according to a survey made last fall by the department of entomology, University of Maryland. This compares with 60 borers a year earlier. The state average last fall was 99 borers per hundred, a rise of 22 from the preceding year.

The European corn borer infests stalks, tassels and ears of corn, sometimes causing stalk breakage and making a problem for corn canners. Wheat, potatoes and a number of flowering plants also are infested.

Seeks Re-election As Register of Wills

Mrs. Vernie R. Smouse has announced her candidacy for renomination and re-election as Register of Wills in the Orphans' Court for Garrett County.

Mrs. Smouse has held this position for a number of years and declares in her announcement that the years of experience better qualify her to render efficient service in the duties and responsibilities of the office. She promises courteous and helpful treatment to all persons having business to transact through the Orphans' court.

Street Repair Work To Begin April 20

Repair work on Third street, between Oak and Green, in the town of Oakland, will begin about April 20, weather permitting, it was announced this week by Joseph Hinebaugh. The work will include construction of curbs and gutters. This will complete the widening of this street as far as the town is concerned. The State Roads commission will then blacktop the area, as well as a portion of Oak street, it was stated.

Wages Campaign To Reduce Accidental Home Deaths

The State health department is waging a campaign to reduce accidental deaths in homes throughout the area, and has issued a bulletin on ways to be careful. Every 30 minutes someone in the United States is killed in an accidental home fall.

Seeks Re-election As Clerk of Court

Richard L. Davis has announced his candidacy to succeed himself as clerk of the Circuit Court of Garrett county.

Mr. Davis was elected to that office eight years ago after having served eight years as deputy clerk under the late E. Z. Tower. Prior to being elected as clerk he served for 11 years years as treasurer for the town of Oakland.

During his term he has installed a new index system for deed records and purchased a new photostat machine for recording purposes which have increased the efficiency of the office. A new index system for mortgage records is now being set up which will take another six months to complete. All improvements are being paid for from excess fees from the office which otherwise would go into the state treasury.

He feels that his experience qualifies him to capably handle the duties required of such an important and exacting office and solicits the support of the voters in the coming primary election.

Country Club Elects Officers For 1954

Robert H. Nichols, Oakland, was elected president of the Oakland Country Club, Inc., at a meeting of the Board of Directors on Sunday night.

William Smith, Luke, was named vice-president; and Irvin Feld, of Oakland, secretary-treasurer.

Committee chairmen were named as follows: William Smith, greens; Robert W. Lohr, house; Robert Forshey, golf, with Robert Stemple as co-chairman; William T. DeWeese, membership; Dr. H. R. Gibson, publicity.

Pro Is Obtained

Woodrow E. (Woody) Pittman, Baltimore, will be the pro and greenskeeper this year and will also operate the clubhouse, Mr. Nichols announced. Nichols said he has had varied experience in golf course maintenance and as a teacher of the sport. He is considered an excellent golfer.

The board of directors will meet again on Tuesday evening, April 6, at 8 o'clock at the club house.

Report on School Program To Be Given At P.-T.A. Meeting

Faculty members of the Oakland Elementary school will continue to report on the school program at the regular meeting of the Parent-Teacher association Monday evening, April 5.

Edwin E. Elias, principal, will be in charge of the program. Topics will include Teaching Procedures including Spelling, Miss Alice Howard; Evaluating, Recording and Reporting Pupil Progress, Miss Alice Feather; Arithmetic, Grades 1 to 6, Mrs. Playford Ryan; Grouping Practices, Mrs. Regina Stork. Mr. Elias said there would be time for discussion of the various topics.

Teachers will be in their classrooms at 7:30 as usual to discuss problems or questions with parents, with the program getting under way at 8 o'clock.

Refreshments will be in charge of a committee headed by Mrs. R. W. Swiger, and assisting her will be Mrs. James Feaster and Mrs. Franklin Custer.

Truck Licenses On Sale

License tags for trucks will go on sale today, G. Harold Yutzy, county treasurer announced. All this month his office has been furnishing almost three thousand people with passenger car license plates.

It was necessary for passenger cars to carry the new tags beginning today.

Remainder Of Lenten Services Are Listed

The Union Lenten service in Oakland next Wednesday evening, April 7th, will be held in St. Paul's Methodist church at 7:30 o'clock. The sermon will be preached by Rev. William A. Renn, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church at Red House, on the theme, "Judas, the Man who Might Have Been." This will conclude the series of Lenten meditations on "Followers of the Christ."

The Union services will continue through Holy Week as follows:

April 12, in St. Mark's Lutheran church with Dr. Paul S. Parker, Deep Creek Baptist church ,giving the first sermon on th theme, "We Follow the Christ." His subject will be "By the Way of Discipline."

April 13th, in the Church of the Nazarene, with Dr. W. S. Patterson, Methodist pastor, preaching on "By the Way of Decision."

April 14th, the service will be in St. Paul's Methodist church. The speaker will be Dr. William J. Scarborough, president of West Virginia Wesleyan college. His subject will be "By the Way of Consecration."

April 15th, Holy Thursday services in individual churches.

April 16th, Good Friday service, noon to 3:00 p. m., in St. Paul's Methodist church.

Mt. Top Ministers To Meet

The Mountain Top Ministerial Association will meet on Monday, April 5, at 2:30 o'clock in St. Paul's Methodist church. Final plans for the Good Friday service will be made and other matters of importance will be considered. All members and ministers are urged to be present.

Railway Managing Its Forest Land

Arranges For Planting Of Seedlings To Reforest Idle Areas

The Western Maryland Railway company which owns around 100,000 acres of forest land in the Upper Potomac region of Maryland and West Virginia is putting its forest land under production management.

Not only is it attempting to manage its existing stands but is spending money to reclaim strip mine spoil banks and to reforest idle land, according to John Adams, Jr., forester for the railroad company.

Permitted timber removals are now being controlled by the cutting of marked timber which limits the cutting to a particular diameter size.

The company arranged for the purchase of 225,000 forest tree seedlings which will be planted on its land in April and May. About 50,000 of this number will be planted on Dobbin hill in Maryland, and 175,000 will be planted in the vicinity of Thomas and Davis, W. Va. The company recently sent Mr. Adams to Syracuse, N. Y., to observe the "TreeP" only sled tree planter on the market. Designated by Adams as the most suitable machine with which to reforest rough and steep ground, the machine was purchased by the company for use in this area.

State Income Tax Is Due April 15

The deadline for filing income tax returns to the State of Maryland is April 15. The report will cover income received by the taxpayer during the calendar year 1953.

Every resident of Maryland who during 1953 had a gross income of more than $1,000 if single, or more than $2,000 if married, is required to file.

The Maryland form is similar to last year's form but no deduction from total tax is permitted this year. The State Income tax brought in nearly 41 million dollars last year of which more than 9 million went back to the counties and incorporated cities and towns of Maryland.

Grantsville To Hold Election on Monday

The town of Grantsville will elect a mayor and two council men at a municipal election on Monday, April 5.

Lee Beachy is the only candidate for mayor. Three candidates are listed for council, Adam A. Hanft, Harry Hoover and Clinton McKenzie.

Red Cross Fund Reaches $1,45953

The fund raising campaign for the American Red Cross reached a total of $1,459.53 in contributions from eleven communities, according to Rev. Olonzo P. Fike, county roll call chairman. This is over half of the quota of $3,185 set earlier in the year.

Mr. Fike announced yesterday that the campaign would be extended for two more weeks, inasmuch as weather conditions early in March were unfavorable to travel. He said that during this additional time he believed the entire county could be solicited for funds for this national and international cause.

The totals reported this week included the following: Oakland, $700; Grantsville, $300; Accident, $125; Jennings, $100; Kitzmiller, $86.75; Mt. Lake Park, $47.78; Red House, $35; Crellin, $25; Bittinger, $20; Associated Women, $10; Sand Flat, $10.

Communities not yet reporting are McHenry, Loch Lynn, Deer Park, Friendsville, Bloomington, Swanton, North Glade, Sunnyside, Swan Meadow and Steyer.

Byrd and Mahoney Seek Local Support

Both Democratic candidates for governor, Dr. H. C. Byrd and George P. Mahoney, selected this week for a visit to Garrett county. Dr. Byrd arrived the first of the week and Mahoney is scheduled here tomorrow.

Dr. Byrd wound up a three-day tour of Western Maryland confident he would defeat Mahoney. Byrd and his candidate for attorney general, Sen. C. Ferdinand Sybert were in this area Monday and Tuesday getting acquainted with various persons. He was guided in his tour of Oakland by Bernard I. Gonder, Sr.

Mayor Joseph Hinebaugh has announced a public meeting for George Mahoney for tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock at the William-James hotel, Oakland.

Two Qualify For Star Scout Award

Two explorer scouts of Oakland and Crellin posts qualified for the award of star scout, at a meeting of the Scout Board of Review last Thursday evening. They were Robert Shaffer, Crellin troop No. 41; and William Moore, Oakland troop No. 31. The former recently enlisted in the Navy and is now at the Naval Training Station at Bainbridge. He completed his requirements before he left Oakland but did not qualify technically until last week's meeting.

Four scouts of Oakland troop also advanced from Tenderfoot to Second class scouts. They were Rodney Barkhurst, Maurice Brookhart III, Richard Stuck and John Updyke.

The Board of Review will meet the last Thursday of each month for any scouts ready to advance from any of the troops in the Deep Creek district.

Fair Meeting Called For Tuesday Evening

Around twenty-five persons attended a meeting of the Garrett County Agricultural Fair group on Monday evening at the elementary school in Accident.

H. G. Gortner, acting chairman, said that certificates totaling 90 additional shares of stock were turned in during the meeting, adding substantially to the amount that had been reported previously.

Another meeting of interested persons has been called for next Tuesday evening, April 6, at 8 o'clock, to be held again at the Accident elementary school.

To Be Named Elder

The Reverend Connell T. Chaney, of Accident, will be elevated to the office of Elder in the Church of the Brethren at a special service this Sunday.

The ordination service will take place at the Bear Creek Church of the Brethren, Accident, April 4, at 7:30 p. m. Rev. Jonas Sines will be in charge of the service, with Rev. Byron Flory, Westernport, assisting. The sermon will be delivered by Rev. David Hannawalt, executive secretary of the district of Western Maryland.

Rev. Chaney is pastor of the Bear Creek church and Oak Grove churches.

Instrumental Music Department To Give Concert Next Week

The instrumental music department of Southern High school will present its fourth annual spring concert in the gymnasium on Thursday, April 8, at 8:00 p. m. A new note has been added for this year's program in the form of the elementary and beginning bands.

The program will consist of selections played by the elementary, beginners, junior and senior high school bands and a newly formed high school orchestra.

Some of the highlights will be "Si, Si, Trocadero," which is a South American novelty; "Little Brown Jug," a number featuring different sections of the band; "Blue Tail Fly," featuring majorettes of both junior and senior high bands; and "Triumphant March from Aida." A wide selection of music is planned to interest all who attend.

Educator Pleased With High Schools

Jerome Frampton, Jr., vice-president of the State Board of Education, visited Garrett county schools on Monday, along with R. Bowen Hardesty, county superintendent of schools.

Mr. Frampton, a native of Federalsburg, was at one time a member of the Board of Education of Caroline county.

Mr. Frampton declared he was pleased to find the two high schools operating on a high level and expressed the opinion that both the buildings and the educational programs compared very favorably with others across the state. He was accompanied to Oakland by his wife.

Southern Baseball Schedule Announced

Will Open At Keyser High Next Tuesday Afternoon

Southern High school will open its baseball season on Tuesday, April 6, against Keyser High school, at Keyser.

Thirty candidates for the team have been practicing for the past two weeks or more under the direction of Coach Leonard Ritchie. They include Howard Sweitzer, Fred Colaw, Don Colaw, Dennis Colaw, Clifford Welch, Tim Sisler, Larry Friend, Edsel Calhoun, Bill Shaffer, Bob Glaze, Don Evans, Don Peck, Harold Garrett, Allen Knotts, Charles Kitzmiller, John Brown.

Bryan Thayer, Edwin Fry, Millard Boyce, Allen Sowers, Robert Marley, Harold Lantz, Carl Simmons, Bill Jenkins, Carl Root, Carl Holtschneider, Howard Paugh, Bill Deckman, Roger Glotfelty and Kent Kisner. Managers are Don Welch, Charles Grubb and Jim Holler.

Local games will be played on the Southern High athletic field in rear of the school with games beginning at 3:30 with exception of the game with Northern. Kyle Wilson, over-all athletic director for the school, released the following schedule:

April 6, Keyser, away; April 9, Keyser, home; April 23, Parsons, home; April 27, Elk Garden, away; May 6, Parsons, away; May 14, Terra Alta, home; May 19, Elk Garden, home; May 25, Northern, away; June 1, Northern, home. Wilson said there may be others added to the schedule later.

Re-elected Head of Band Booster Club

At a meeting of band boosters held in the Northern High school cafeteria last Thursday, the club again elected Ross Speicher, Accident, to serve as president of the organization for another year.

Other officers elected were Russell Wright, Friendsville, vice-president; Mrs. Kenneth Edwards, Grantsville, secretary; Emmons Warnick, Grantsville, treasurer.

The Band Boosters club accepted full responsibility in selecting and paying for the band uniforms. Funds were made available by contributions, by sale of the activity calendar, by a spaghetti supper, rummage sale, quilt sale, etc., all of which have greatly reduced the debt.

Several selections were played by the junior band under direction of Roger Cole, band director at Northern High.

Judge Says Board Lacks Authority On Gas Well Law

A Baltimore Circuit Court judge ruled last week that the Garrett County Board of Commissioners does not have constitutional authority to disregard a state law regulating spacing of natural gas wells.

William A. Gunter, William J. Gunter and William H. Geppert, of Allegany county, represented Orville Eberly, Robert E. Eberly and William E. Snee, Uniontown oil drillers. The County Commissioners here said they were not notified of any hearing and were not represented.

The drillers had asked the court through their attorneys to declare unconstitutional the amendment to the state gas well law that authorized the County Commissioners of Garrett county to accept or reject regulations of the State Department of Geology, Mines and Water Resources.

Snee and the two Eberlys, of the Uniontown firm, claimed they lost money in their operations around Accident because the commissioners rejected state regulations on drilling space control.

In urging passage of the regulations set up in the law before the General Assembly of 1953, Dr. Joseph T. Singewald, Jr., director of the state geology department called drilling of 90 gas wells around Mt. Lake Park in 1951 and 1952 a "shameful record of wasteful exploitation and financial loss." He estimated it cost $2,700,000 to drill the 90 wells, of which only 41 produced about $1,500,000 worth of gas.

After the law was passed, the board of Geology Mines and Water Resources made space requirements as one well for every 600 acres which the Board of County Commissioners did not approve. This was later dropped to 300 acres. Snee and Eberly claimed that the County Commissioners would not approve this spacing and refused to issue any permits, holding up drilling for over a year. The Garrett County delegation said that Singewald had refused to issue any permits for drilling after the Commissioners had rejected the 600-acre spacing regulation.

Judge T. Paul Mason, in his opinion stated: "The amendment gave power to the County Commissioners to disapprove any of the rules promulgated by the department, which in effect gave them an absolute control over the entire subject matter without any conditional restrictions or guides by which such controls should be exercised." He concluded by saying the amendment is invalid, but the balance of the law, being constitutional and effective, is saved by the severability clause.

During the 1954 session of the legislature, a bill was passed repealing the entire 1953 control law. This measure is still in the hands of the Governor who held a hearing on the bill in his office in Baltimore on Monday.

Attending that meeting from this county were Arthur Green, George Coddington and Harry C. Edwards, House of Delegates members; Jonas W. Sines and Stewart F. Stahl, County Commissioners, N. K. Welch, Clifford Friend and Allen S. Paugh. Earl Manges, Cumberland attorney, spoke in behalf of the local commissioners pointing out that the suit had been filed in Baltimore county and not the county affected, and that the local people had not been notified of any hearing.

The governor indicated earlier that the repeal bill would probably be signed by him. In the event the bill is not signed the attorney general, Edward D. E. Rollins indicated he would probably take Judge Mason's decision to the Maryland Court of Appeals.

Nazarene Pastor Is Due Here Next Week

Rev. Glenn Eagle, who recently accepted a call to be minister of the Church of the Nazarene in Oakland, will arrive in the county on Tuesday, April 6, it was announced this week. He will move to Crellin on that date from Woodstown, New Jersey, and will assume his duties as pastor of the church on Sunday, April 11.

Rev. Eagle is married and the couple has three children.

While the church has been without a regular pastor since Rev. Forrest Benner resigned in February, Willis Naill has been conducting the services. He will conduct his final service on Sunday, April 4.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

Copyright by The Baltimore Sun and reprinted in The Republican by permission.

The Answer Is Not Nice

That the tax bill, vital to us all, has gotten heavily into partisan politics is too clear to dispute. The ideal thing, with a Government as deeply and dangerously in debt as this Government and a people as heavily taxed as our people, would be a nonpartison measure wholly free from politics and demagoguery.

—o—

But that, perhaps, is too much to expect of the Democratic party as now constituted, itching to get back into power and with its hopes completely based on the old political formula which enabled it to dominate for twenty years—to-wit, the solidified support of the labor union bosses, the Negro leaders in the Northern states and the farmers. It is an undeniable fact that this support was obtained and maintained by lavish subsidies, outright gifts, unprecedented patronage and outrageous legislative favors, plus demagoguery of a high order—and in the highest places.

—o—

During those days, the Treasury spigots were kept wide open and the obvious undermining of the fiscal stability of the nation was justified by such silly slogans as that the size of the debt does not matter because "we owe it to ourselves." With shoddy catchwords of this character the utterly reckless conduct of the Federal finances was excused. When in 1952 a disillusioned people repudiated these slogans, along with those who invented and used them, they put into power a President pledged to restore national solvency and reduce taxes. Few will dispute that this is the basic need of the country. Even fewer will contend that this is not the primary purpose of the Administration tax bill which withstood amendment in the House by the slender majority of six and is now facing a really terrific fight in the Senate, where the Democrats actually have a majority of one.

—o—

Now what is the position of the Democratic party in this situation? It is one of complete election year demagogic expediency. And it is not original at that. On the contrary, it is copied and adopted from the CIO propaganda as reflected in the cheap speeches of Mr. Walter Reuther and subordinate CIO leaders. This propaganda and these speeches have been widely disseminated for weeks. This strategy is divided into two parts. The first is a deliberate misrepresentation of the Administration bill in which some tax reductions are made. The CIO and Democratic claims are also being echoed by the AFL and the A.D.A.

—o—

The second is a completely unfounded but typically CIO accusation that the Administration bill is designed to lighten the burdens of the rich while adding to those of the poor. This is as unscrupulous as it is demagogic. In the first place, the Democrats know it is not true. Many of them privately—and some publicly—admit it is raised in order to have an appealing issue in the coming campaign. To buttress this false issue they have presented a plan of their own proposing higher personal income-tax exemptions which, if enacted, would push us close to national bankruptcy. This plan will not go through and, for the reasons given above, the Democrats do not really want it to go through. It is, however, distressing to see a great party line up almost solidly in favor of a proposition it knows to be unsound.

This solidity makes the single Democratic exception stand out like a lighthouse in a fog. The exception, of course, is Senator Harry F. Byrd, of Virginia, whose principles are never diluted by partisanship and who knows more about our fiscal illness than any other member of Congress. In a statement a few days ago Senator Byrd made it clear that while he prefers the Republican bill to the Democratic one, he is unhappy about both because both propose to finance tax reduction by borrowing some more money.

"All of us," said Senator Byrd, "should give consideration to the perils imminent in such a procedure. There is nothing before the country today more important than balancing the Federal budget by reducing expenditures to the minimum. Tax reduction then could be financed through retrenchment in nonessential expenditures. Any other course would be foolhardy, leading to ultimate disaster."

—o—

This makes it worth noting that two men as widely apart as Mr. Herbert Hoover, Republican, and Senator Byrd, Democrat, making separate and independent researches, have come to exactly the same conclusion—to wit, that from $5,000,000,000 to $7,000,000,000 can be saved by the Government without impairing any vital function. With a President anxious to co-operate along these lines, why the Congress, knowing the facts, will not make it possible is a question to which there is no answer complimentary either to Congress or the American people.

CARD OF THANKS

We appreciate more than words can tell, the kindnesses of neighbors, friends and relatives during the illness and following the loss of our loved one, Paul Friend, of Friendsville.

We also want to thank all who gave flowers and contributed the use of their automobiles for the funeral service.

Wife, Son and Family

Store Enlarged

The Oakland Pharmacy is in the process of having its store space enlarged. The front of the old store is being widened to include some of the rooms formerly occupied by Dr. James Feaster.

Robert Proudfoot and Harold H. Harned, owners, said the part being remodeled would be used for the Rexall one-cent sale, scheduled to begin April 7.

Dr. Feaster is having temporary quarters on the second floor of the building but will soon occupy the balance of the downstairs where a modern office is being constructed.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Gloftelty motored to Westminster last Saturday for a brief visit with their daughter, Mrs. Daniel Engler.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Beachy, of Huntingdon, Pa., visited Mr. Beachy's mother, Mrs. Silas C. Beachy, at the old Beachy homestead near here. They were accompanied on their return by their daughter, Miss Ruth, who had been spending some time with her grandmother and her uncle's family here.

Mr. and Mrs. Eisel, of Frostburg, and their children and Mr. and Mrs. Naylor Glotfelty and children, of Addison, Pa., spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. Agnes Brenneman here.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Nesline, of near Baltimore, spent the weekend with Mrs. Nesline's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Buckel.

A number of folk from here attended services in the Maple Grove Church of the Brethren last Sunday evening and a number of others attended a double wedding in the Grantsville Amish church the same evening when two daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Bender were married.

A Japanese fisherman, 71 miles away from the March 1 hydrogen explosion, said the H-bomb rivaled the sun itself in brightness.

"Our Growing Edge"

MRS. MARTHA GLOTFELTY

A Drama of Springtime

It was Spring again, and all over the land, farmers were getting ready for a new growing season. Most of them were busy with their spring plowing.

On a warm day, John and Tom are plowing a field. These two farmers are alike in many respects. Each one has a family sized farm, modern machinery, and each one is plowing with a tractor. All in all, they look like very commonplace men doing a commonplace task.

Yet, there is drama there. A closer look at the two men reveals it. Let's follow them and see.

First, there is John, who has lived on a farm all his life, and as he plows he thinks of his work as "just a pain in the neck." Those are the words he uses to describe it. In other words he does not like being a farmer. Secretly, he envies his city cousins, who come to visit ever so often, always driving shiny new cars, and boasting of the big money they make in the city. He grunables about his hard work, the low prices farmers are getting, and in general finds everything wrong, with little to be thankful for. He scolds his wife, and manages to make life rather miserable for his children.

But, ah, there is Tom. His attitude is entirely different. He enjoys his work, and he knows that his task of plowing, though it seems commonplace, is very important. The fact of the matter is, it is one of the really important things men do, for he is helping to produce a commodity, without which the world could not survive. As a partner with God, he is helping to produce the food and fibre to sustain human life.

As he plows, he reflects on how very fortunate he is, and how many of the good things of life he enjoys. He thinks of his fellow farmers in other lands who do not have modern machinery like he has, who have lost the freedoms he enjoys, and all too often takes as a matter of course. He breathes a prayer of thankfulness that his life has fallen into such pleasant paths, and that he can help to create, rather than destroy. He likes the smell of the freshly turned earth, and he realizes he is a steward of the soil. It is his duty to cultivate it well, so that others may use it after him.

The news headlines tell of the miracles of science, yet he realizes he too, works with a miracle. It is the great miracle of new life, new growth, new hope. The budding leaf, the grass beginning to turn green, the song of the birds tell of a whole season's awakening and he is glad.

There is permanence and stability about his work which he appreciates. From the soil, if he cultivates it well, will come the income needed for his family's needs, his children's education, his community contributions.

He is alert, and is constantly finding new ideas and discoveries about this important business of farming. His work is neither boring nor uninteresting. There is always change, and new growth. Today a field is green, soon there is a field of beautiful golden grain.

Evening comes and two men have completed a day's work. John, tired after a day's work, comes in to his family, complaining and cross.

Tom, tired also, comes in with a feeling of gratitude for a day's blessing, bows his head with his family, and gives thanks that he has made a step forward in a great creative process of Nature.

There is a moral to this drama. Tom and John are there, but if you look closely, and use your imagination, you can find yourself there. Each one of us, like these two men are given tools, and tasks to perform as we go through life. Some find everything wrong, with little to be thankful for. Others find life to be interesting, creative, joyful. Aren't you glad you can decide which it shall be?

Down the Line with Johnny Bell

When steps add up to miles

Someone once said, "The steps you save are often as important as the steps you take." If you live on a farm, you'll probably agree with that. For instance, suppose you are to pick up a piece of equipment in town, but you're not sure it's ready. So you turn to the telephone to avoid an unnecessary trip. Time and trouble saved . . . by a single telephone call. That's why so many people say, "Telephone service is my biggest bargain."

The right recipe

You probably have a favorite recipe—one that you have had the best success with. And so it is with party-line telephone service. People have found that the best recipe there is good, old-fashioned courtesy—neighborly consideration for the other fellow. This means keeping calls reasonably brief and spaced out so that others may make use of the line in the intervals, and making sure the receiver is replaced properly after each call. Simple things, but they pay off in better, more useful telephone service for all.

THURSDAY, APRIL 1, 1954

Senate Cloakroom

By J. GLENN BEALL
United States Senator from Maryland

The excise tax bill, containing one billion, 34 million dollars in reductions, has now passed the Senate and goes to a conference committee composed of members of the House and Senate.

The Senate version reduced excise taxes by $122 million more than the bill passed by the House, and the conferees must now reach an agreement that will be satisfactory to both Houses of Congress.

Taxes extended for one more year on such articles as liquor, beer, cigarettes, gasoline and automobiles will bring into the treasury a total of one billion, 77 million dollars.

In any Congressional debate on tax reductions, or revenue increases, a great deal can be learned—and in this particular case it became a matter of record, and positive affirmation, that the Eisenhower Administration and the Majority Leadership of Congress is determined to cut taxes judiciously so as to stimulate our national economy and at the same time to hold down the Federal deficit.

It became equally obvious that the opposition, especially that little band of New Dealers who have treated our economy so recklessly and irresponsibly, are still depending on such trick slogans as "trickle down" and "percolate-up" to take the place of sound economic planning.

The reduction of over one billion dollars in excise taxes will reduce prices on such articles as luggage, toilet articles, household appliances, movie tickets, travel tickets and telephone bills.

The cuts on such household appliances as refrigerators, stoves, and other articles, will alone reduce Federal revenue by one hundred million dollars. The reduction of taxes on movie admissions of 60 cents or less will total 65 million dollars.

Now I personally am opposed to excise taxes and would like to see them eliminated entirely. However, we are faced with certain unavoidable facts which make it economically and fiscally unsound to do this.

President Eisenhower, equally concerned with high taxes and high Federal spending, explained recently what might be called the economic facts of life by saying "Every dollar spent by the government must be paid for either by taxes or by more borrowing with greater debt".

When Eisenhower and the Republican Party came to power they accepted unpaid bills from the Truman Administration totaling approximately 79 billion dollars. These bills were for obligations which the Truman Administration had made but had not paid for.

In addition, the government had been borrowing for over twenty years and the Federal debt was almost to the statutory limit. The Federal Government had to continue supplying necessary services to the people and to provide for our national defense. Therefore, the Eisenhower Administration accepted the responsibility of not only raising revenue to meet its own current expenditures but to pay off back debts as well.

It was pointed out recently that if all the revenue the government had received from the time President Eisenhower came into office until the present had been set aside in its entirety, it would barely be sufficient to pay for the unrecorded bills of the Truman Administration—bills which had not been included in the national debt figure.

Tax cuts—if they are to have the desired effect on our national economy and permit the Federal Government to meet its obligations without contributing to inflation or deflation—must be carefully placed.

Right now there is a lot of talk about a down swing in our economy and one way of halting this adverse trend is to stimulate business and consumption. Tax cuts to effect this cannot be delayed for a period of months or a year, as income tax reductions effective in 1955 would be.

Therefore, we can expect these reductions in excise taxes to have a stimulating impact on business activity very promptly. The reductions should become law by Thursday of this week. It is hoped that they will help ward off unemployment and the decline of production.

This Administration's tax and spending program does not rely on any appealing slogans like "trickle down" and "percolate-up" but upon the faith that the huge potential of these United States can be made to work for the general betterment of our people, and the knowledge that our economy is a delicately balanced mechanism that needs precise adjustments—not the irresponsible hand of an amateur mechanic.

Congressional Viewpoint

Sen. John Marshall Butler

The subject of taxation was treated in a previous newsletter devoted principally to an explanation of the Administration's tax program and the reasons why I thought it was generally sound and deserved the support of the American people. Some sources have tried to poison the wells of public opinion against the Administration's tax program by labeling it a "rich man's" tax bill. This is not true. Here are some of the savings the Administration's proposal would provide the man who is not "rich":

A deduction will be allowed on all medical expenses over 3% of gross income instead of above 5% as the old law provides. The maximum dollar amount which may be deducted as medical expenses would be doubled. The importance of this feature is illustrated by the fact that more than 5 million taxpayers are able to take advantage of these medical deductions. Approximately 80% of those reaping this benefit will have incomes less than $5,000.

In certain cases, a deduction up to $600 will be allowed for expenses incurred for child care to make it possible for a parent to hold a job. This is intended especially to aid working mothers who must pay nursemaids or nursery care.

Present law denies the taxpayer the right to take credit for a dependent of the dependent earns over $600 in the tax year. The Administration's new bill would remove this limitation on dependents under 20 years of age or who are still in school if the taxpayer furnishes more than half the dependent's support.

The new bill would exclude from taxation $50 of dividend income this year, and 5% of remaining dividends can be deducted from the total tax liability. This provision has been subjected to much abuse by Administration critics. How justifiable this criticism is can be judged by the small amount of the permitted deductions and the further fact these benefits will be shared by more than 2 million taxpayers whose income is less than $5,000.

Adoption of the increase in personal exemptions proposed by Senator George and other opponents of the new tax bill would absolve from four to eight million Americans from paying any Federal income taxes. I think most Americans would reject the idea that someone else should pay their way. Besides, that idea, apart from its fatal effect on our capitalistic, free-enterprise system, just would not work. The Tax Foundation says that if the Government took every cent of all individual incomes above $10,000, this would bring in only 4½ billion dollars, enough to run the Federal Government less than four weeks.

In 1948 when the budget was in balance and we were at peace the Republicans raised personal exemptions from $500 to $600, and the very people who today demand greater personal exemptions then expressed outrage by the increased exemptions and opposed increased exemptions as irresponsible and favoring the rich man. Now it should be embarrassing to be caught in such an about-face, but the "rich man" demagogues don't seem the least bit perturbed by their contradictory pronouncements. I think the American people should be quite perturbed and more than a little angry.

ONE WORD . . .

Can Change Your Life

Pill

Some say a good way to get to sleep without taking a pill is not to care whether or not you go to sleep. Attention to it holds it off. More than one person has waked up to see whether he was going to sleep!

A healthy appearing woman once went to see Dr. Josephine Jackson, a noted authority in this field. "I came to get relief from insomnia," she said. "For 20 years I haven't slept more than one or two hours a night." "Why do you want more?" the doctor asked. "Why, isn't it very unhealthy not to sleep?" "Evidently not," was the answer.

Cecil B. DeMille says that reading the Bible is the best way he can get to sleep. That's Frederick March's testimony, too. Take such a passage as "In peace will I both lay me down and sleep, for thou, the Lord, makest me to dwell in safety." There's little to equal the 23rd or 91st Psalms. Try this and see whether or not it works for you. Maybe you'll find you won't need a pill, the word that can change your life.

COME ONE—COME ALL

Listen Americans!

BY GEORGE S. BENSON
President of Harding College

Some influential people today are saying that "the American way of life" is an abstract term, that our political and economic system is "too complicated for anyone to define." In my opinion they are either not thinking straight or they are deliberately seeking to lead Americans away from the basic principles of our system.

The more clearly our citizens can define our system, the more certain we are that its fundamental elements will survive. Last week, a dramatic definition was given by a member of the Freedom Forum workshop staff to our high school assembly.

Working with simulated granite blocks, he built, on the stage, "The Structure of the American Way of Life." The big gray foundation stone, five feet across and 12 inches thick, bore the chiseled inscription: "A Fundamental Belief in God." On this, the speaker placed another great stone, a little smaller in dimension, on which was inscribed: "The United States Constitution—Designed to Serve the People."

On the left side of this foundation, he began to build the column of "political rights," a thick granite slab for each: "Right to Worship, Right to Free Speech, Right to Assemble, Right to Petition, Right to Privacy, Right to Habeas Corpus, Right to Trial by Jury, Right to Move About Freely, Right to Vote Freely." With each stone, the speaker pointed up the significance of the right it contained.

Then the speaker built a twin column of "economic rights:" "Right to Own Property, Right to Choice of Work, Right to Bargain Collectively, Right to Go Into Business, Right to Opportunity, Right to Make a Profit, Right to Save, Right to Compete, Right to Contract." Across the two columns he placed a binding stone inscribed: "Protected by our Law."

"Government agencies administer the laws which protect these political and economic rights," he explained. Then he placed the beautiful capstone on his pyramid-like structure. In the granite-like face of the stone was inscribed: "The American Way of Life," and just below this, "Our Freedom." In the center of the capstone, he thrust the American flag. Then he stepped back. The high school student body gave resounding applause.

This is a good way to define the American way of life to school youngsters of our nation. And the definition it contains should be acceptable to all Americans of all ages.

Is Your Name BITTINGER

DID YOU KNOW THAT:

BITTINGER, an old and honored German surname, is of relatively simple origin. It is the equivalent of Bedinger and was originally spelled Budingen, the latter being the name that was bestowed in many instances upon residents of, or emigrants from, the town of Budingen in Hesse, Germany. This is in line with the practice, common in mediaeval times, of designating a person by his place of residence or birth.

Adam Budinger (1698-1768) who was born near Strasburg, Germany, emigrated to this country in 1737, settling first in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, and then moving to what is now the city of Hanover, York County, Pennsylvania. An interesting genealogy of his descendants, among whom are a number of BITTINGERS, was compiled by LUCY FORNEY BITTINGER and dedicated to the memory of her father, the Reverend JOSEPH BAUGHER BITTINGER, D.D.

NICHOLAS BITTINGER (1725-1804) served as a captain in the York County, Pennsylvania troops during the Revolutionary War.

JOHN LAWRENCE BITTINGER (1833-1911), who was born near Chambersburg, Pa., started his career as a farm laborer, and was employed by several newspapers for a few years, and in 1862 bought a half-interest in the St. Joseph (Missouri) Herald of which he was managing editor until the time of his death. It is said that he soon made that newspaper the most powerful and influential journal west of the Mississippi River.

DESMOND WRIGHT BITTINGER, an educator of note, is president of McPherson College, McPherson, Kansas.

CHARLES BITTINGER of Washington, D. C., has earned widespread recognition as an artist. The recipient of many prizes and awards, his works have been exhibited in the leading galleries and museums, both in the United States and abroad.

MORRIS HENRY BITTINGER is professor of economics and dean of men, Hampden-Sydney College, Hampden-Sydney, Virginia.

Baseball League To Have 4 Teams

At a reorganization meeting of the Mountain Top Baseball League last night at the Moose club in Oakland, a four-team loop was arranged. This will include Loch Lynn, 1953 champions; Terra Alta, Bittinger and Oakland. Swanton and Accident indicated they would not be able to enter teams in the circuit.

Charles Shaffer was re-elected president of the group. Other officers are Earl Wolf, Oakland, vice president; Dwight Gauer, Mt. Lake Park, secretary; Veryl Weimer, Mt. Lake Park, treasurer.

League play will probably get under way May 9th. Gauer said another meeting would be held next Tuesday night at 8 o'clock.

One-Cent Sale Begins April 7 At Oakland Rexall Pharmacy

A single penny will be worth as much as $4.95 to local shoppers for a four-day period, beginning Wednesday, April 7, when Oakland Pharmacy opens its Rexall Spring One-Cent Sale of drugs, toiletries and sundries.

Double quantities of articles included in the Sale may be obtained for a penny more than the regular unit prices, which range as high as $4.95. All items are freshly stocked and carry the usual Rexall money-back guarantee of satisfaction.

Sale merchandise comprises hundreds of items, including men's and women's toiletries, vitamins, medicinal remedies, baby needs and stationery. Scores of popular, nationally advertised products are among these items. Special savings will also be offered on a wide variety of products not included in One-Cent Sale merchandise.

As a time-saving convenience for shoppers, advance order blanks listing all One-Cent Sale and special items are available at the local Rexall store. These blanks may be completed and left at the store. The orders will then be filled and may be called for at any time during the Sale—Advertisement.

Little Sue Richter, of Grantsville, spent several days with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Richter.

Firemen Roll Out For Four Alarms

Three grass fires and a false alarm summed up the four calls received by the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department since Sunday afternoon.

The alarm at 1:30 a. m. Wednesday was a false one. Emroy Bolden, fire chief, said he had been informed some motorist had passed Arthur Lake's home where a number of electric lights were burning and he reported a fire. The Oakland department was stopped by the Deer Park department before it had gone as far as Altamont.

A grass fire got beyond control near some lake cottages south of McHenry Sunday afternoon; another one was spreading at the north edge of Second street Monday about 12:15, while the third grass fire occurred near the Southern High athletic field Monday evening about 7 o'clock.

Handwriting To Be Taught In Schools

Miss Beulah Beale, supervisor of handwriting in the Baltimore schools, plans to arrive in the county next Wednesday to work with principals, supervisors and representative teachers to demonstrate the teaching of handwriting in the 2nd, 6th and 12th grades.

POISON IVY PROVIDE IMMUNITY?

... A strange question, yet some American Indians believed that eating the leaves of the poison ivy plant would make them immune to disease. Now we scoff at such whimsical superstitions. We can afford to, for today we have proven methods for making us immune to many common diseases. Our children receive shots and vaccinations at a very early age to protect them from the more prevalent diseases. We have hosts of antibiotics to fight infections and shorten illness, scores of vitamin-rich dietary supplements to help build up our resistance to disease. Benefit by the many wonderful present-day health protectors. See your doctor regularly and see us for dependable prescription service and all your daily health needs.

$24,420.02 Expended In February Welfare

Seven hundred thirty-four persons received $24,420.02 through the Garrett County Welfare Board for February, it was reported by Thomas J. S. Waxter, director of the State Department of Public Welfare. This is around $1,200 more than for the previous month when 708 persons received assistance.

Two hundred fifty-nine persons under old age pension category received $9,606.56, an average of $37.09 each. There were 12 new applications with 8 cases being added and 6 cancelled.

Under the category of aid to dependent children 121 families of 341 children received $9,419.15, an average of $77.84 per family. There were 12 new applications with 10 cases added and 5 cancelled.

Five blind people received $275-.25. Ninety-five persons listed as permanently and totally disabled received $3,593.70, an average of $37.83. Two new applications were received here with 5 being added and 2 cancelled.

Under general public assistance 25 individuals received $861.46, an average of $34.46. There were 6 new applications here with 3 being added and 5 cancelled.

Nine children listed under foster home care received $363.90, an average of $40.43.

Throughout the state the total payments for February were $1,-531,885, compared with $1,440,245 for February, 1953, and $1,491,277 for last month.

Michael Mine Is Inspected In County

Improved rock-dusting at the 8-man 20-ton-a-day Michael No. 3 mine of the Mill Run Georges Creek Coal company was urged in a Federal coal-mine inspection report released by the U. S. Bureau of Mines. The report lists 46 violations of the Federal Mine Safety Code.

Inspector T. J. Ward warned against stemming boreholes with fine coal. He recommended improved storage and handling of explosives, preshift and weekly examinations for explosive gas and other hazards, and haulage and electrical betterments.

Other suggestions called for suitable fire-fighting equipment, an approved check-in and check-out system, and the wearing of goggles by employees exposed to eye hazards.

The inspector noted with approval that cap pieces had been provided, dangerous roof material had been removed from the main haulageway, and ventilation improved.

Gives Information On Construction of Farm Septic Tanks

With a number of farmers arranging to install sewage disposal systems on their farms to fulfill regulations on grade A milk, Ray W. Carpenter, extension agricultural engineer at the University of Maryland, has released information on proper construction.

Failure of individual sewage disposal systems generally is due to faulty design, and too small. A general recommendation is a minimum of 500 gallons actual work capacity and an additional 250 or 200 gallons capacity per family member over two.

A common mistake, according to Carpenter, is burying the disposal tile too deep. A recommended depth is from 18 to 24 inches, depending on type of soil. Those in tight soil should be bedded in medium-fine gravel.

Information on the proper type of disposal system and other facts are available through the Extension service.

Over Anxious?

Mayor Joseph Hinebaugh, of Oakland, may have been a little over anxious to see if there were any fish in a beaver dam on Miller's Run, Mt. Nebo section. He cast a line into the water last Sunday and was spotted by Game Warden Leo G. Friend.

At a hearing before Trial Magistrate W. O. Bitzer in Oakland on Monday, he pleaded guilty to a violation of Section 216 of the public local laws of Maryland, to-wit: fishing without a license. Magistrate Bitzer suspended the fine and costs.

Attend Regional Meeting

Members of Southern States cooperative, at their annual regional meeting in Oakland March 24, were told that the organization's net worth had increased over two million dollars during 1953. Net worth is now $27,427,305.

Feed tonnage increased, petroleum volume was up, dollar volume on farm supplies showed an increase. Decreases were reported in fertilizer and seed. Approximately 90 members of community advisory boards, directors of affiliated cooperatives and agency managers attended the meeting.

IN MEMORIAM

Herman—In loving memory of my dear father, John W. who passed away one year ago April 1, 1954.

God saw the road was getting rough,
The hills were hard to climb;
He gently closed his loving eyes
And whispered, "Peace be thine."
His weary hours, his days of pain,
His suffering nights are past.
His ever-patient worn-out frame
Has found sweet rest at last.
We'll meet again some day I know,
Beyond the distant blue;
But until then my dearest one,
I'll always think of you.
When you departed from this life
The blow was so severe
That deep inside my aching heart,
There falls an endless tear.
Some say time heals an aching heart,
But, no, it isn't true,
For one long year has passed dear father,
And my heart still aches for you.

Loving daughter, Carolyn Mills

ARTHRITIS?

I have been wonderfully blessed in being restored to active life after being crippled in nearly every joint in my body and with muscular soreness from head to foot. I had Rheumatoid Arthritis and other forms of Rheumatism, hands deformed and my ankles were set.

Limited space prohibits telling you more here but if you will write me I will reply at once and tell you how I received this wonderful relief.

It Runs Through My Mind

BY POLLY J. HANST

April Fool

There ought to be one day in the year that we could be silly and do tricks and have a carefree time in general.

Let's turn ourselves out to pasture—you know how a colt acts—or do you? We see so few. Anyway, they're carefree.

We have reason to be gay. March came in like a lion, remained a lion and now has gone out like one. 'Tis time for lambs to play.

—o—

Silly-ettes—Try Them

These will help you get started. They'll liven up a meal.

Wouldn't it be awful—

To be a potato and have your eyes full of dirt?

To be a banana, and get skinned?

To be a bullfrog, and croak every night?

To be a commandment, nobody wants to keep?

To be a cornstalk and have your ears pulled?

To be a window, with a lot of panes?

Take it from here—nothing wrong in having fun—you'll be surprised at your cleverness.

—o—

Or Try This

Read it once—then say it.

"I bought a wooden whistle and it wooden whistle. I bought a steel whistle and steel it wooden whistle. And I bought a lead whistle and it steel wooden lead me whistle. So I bought a tin whistle—Now I tin whistle all the time."

—o—

Mercy Sakes

"Mother, did you play ball when you were a girl?" my daughter inquired of me.

"Yes, I loved it."

"How old were you?" she asked.

"Around 12 or 13 was when I liked it best.

"Well, I guess you could have played if you didn't have hooped skirts to get in your way."

Just how old does a daughter think a mother is! It's enough to give one a complex.

—o—

Lend Lease

At least it gave her a new lease on life.

A little girl from the shabbiest kind of home came to school with a very dirty face. After recess the teacher noticed her face was clean, and complimented her for it and inquired how it got that way on the school ground.

"I used my spit," she replied, "and borrowed some."

That's a true story!

—o—

Me, Too

Mark Twain said, "It isn't the things in the Bible I don't understand that worry me; it's the things I do understand."

After reading some of St. Paul's letters it isn't the things I do that make me feel sinful—it's the things I don't do!

—o—

Thanks, Dr. Patterson

Our community is certainly indebted to Dr. Patterson, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist church, for the wonderful job he has done in providing Lenten services for the Protestants this season. He has carried the responsibility even though others from the Mountain Top have helped; he being the only local minister for the union services.

The churches are fuller than I have ever seen them, and last week reached Easter Sunday capacity. How easy it could have been for Dr. Patterson to have said, "We'll just take care of our own this year."

Then how easy for the rest of us to say, "We don't have a minister, so we'll skip services."

I once heard a widely experienced pastor say that Dr. Patterson was one of the most cooperative ministers he had been privileged to work with. How lucky the new ones coming to Oakland will be to be thrown into that kind of an atmosphere.

School Has Program For Maryland Day

A program depicting the first settlement at Maryland was presented by the student body of the Oakland Elementary school last Friday, March 25, Maryland Day, by Miss Alice Howard's fifth grade class. There were seven scenes, beginning at the palace of Charles I of England and concluding at Cornwally home in Mary Land.

Bobby Leighton was King Charles I with Maria Pauline Dragovich as Queen Henrietta. Others were Vaughn Hardesty, Cecil Calvert; Barry Sanders, Leonard Calvert; Dorothy Peck and Barbara George as Mr. and Mrs. Cornwally; Karen Rohrbaugh and Eleanor Vetter as Richard and Elizabeth Cornwally; Sue Martin and Barbara Glotfelty as Mr. and Mrs. Clay; Wellington Frazee, Father Andrew White; Carl DeWitt, Indian chief; Patty Tasker, cabin boy; Tommy Skipper and Helen Johnson as king's guards; Helen Johnson and Linda Ream as queen's attendants; Philip Criss as page; Hazel Bittner, Douglas Cargo, Roger Broadwater and Rodney Barkhurst as court musicians. Others in the class were colonists, sailors and Indians. Rodney Barkhurst was narrator.

Local Rifle Team Loses Championship

Hercules team copped the Western Maryland Rifle league championship Sunday afternoon by defeating the Falcons of Oakland 2281 to 2271 at the Oakland National Guard armory in the second match of a two-out of three shoot-off series. Last week Hercules defeated the Falcons at Bowman's Addition for their initial victory of the series.

Mrs. Helen Grosh and Jim Spitznogle paced the league champions with 574 points each over the sixty shot any sight course. Wilson White was high for the losing Falcons with 582 markers.

Struggling for runner-up honors the Eagles of Oakland brought Fort Hill to a standstill, 2257 to 2239, tying up the series at one win apiece. A third and final match for these teams will be held Sunday at Oakland. Ed Michael led the Eagles with 569 points.

Individual scoring for the Falcons in the prone, sitting and standing positions: W. W. White 200, 197, 185, 582; J. M. McClintock, 200, 194, 181, 575; D. E. Helbig, 196, 194, 168, 558; C. E. Miller, 194, 196, 166, 566; team total, 2271. Also Firing, A. Calhoun, 533; R. Sims 549.

Eagles' scores—E. E. Michael, 200, 189, 180, 569; G. L. Porter, 199, 192, 176, 567; R. L. Wiles, 199, 188, 174, 561; C. H. Calhoun, 200, 195, 165, 560; team total 2257. Also firing, H. Shillingburg, 548; C. Englander, 539; H. Samples, 522.

Legislative Process Explained To Club

The procedure necessary in getting a bill through the legislature and enacted into law was outlined Tuesday afternoon at a meeting of the Oakland Civic club at the William-James hotel.

The discussion followed a dessert course in the banquet room of the hotel, with Mrs. Neil Fraley, chairman of legislation, in charge of the program. Guests were State Senator Neil C. Fradey and Delegate and Minority Floor Leader, Arthur H. Green.

Fraley explained a bill is prepared by a legal adviser, its title read for the first time at a regular session, a committee named, then read a second time if reported favorably, then placed in printed form and a third reading given. If voted upon favorably it then goes to the other branch of the legislature and receives the same procedure. If passed there it goes to the governor for signature.

Mr. Green discussed some of the bills presented at the recent legislature including the home rule bill, the budget, the bonus bill, and others.

He indicated the budget bill which was $238 million this year and the highest in the state's history, would be higher next year because of higher budgets for education, health and welfare. He said some 87 to 90 million comes back to local subdivisions.

At a short business session Mrs. Wilbur Close was appointed the club's chairman of civil defense, succeeding Mrs. George Deacon who resigned. Mrs. Neil Fraley, Mrs. F. E. Rathbun and Mrs. W. W. Grant were named as a nominating committee.

Mrs. E. I. Baumgartner reported on a meeting she attended in Washington of the hospital auxiliary, and of attending a tea at the White House, given by Mrs. Eisenhower, wife of the President.

Announcement was made of the first district meeting at Frederick on April 21, and the state convention in Baltimore April 25, 26 and 27.

ENGLANDER'S PHARMACY Monthly News

A Message from Clinton W. Englander,
"Your Pharmacist"

PHARMACY IS A MOST UNUSUAL PROFESSION. A Pharmacy Student studies in a College of Pharmacy for four years. He has to then work at least two years in a Pharmacy to get practical experience. If he passes a State examination he receives a license to PRACTICE PHARMACY.

THEN, WHEN HE OWNS HIS OWN Pharmacy, he finds out that he must not only know everything about the action, compounding, and dispensing of medicines, but also know how to successfully operate a Pharmacy.

HE MUST BE A GOOD BUYER, who knows how to have thousands of different items in stock, and yet not overbuy, because everything must be fresh and in perfect condition.

HE MUST PRICE EVERYTHING COMPETITIVELY, because that is the American way, and also make a sufficient profit to continue in business.

HE MUST TREAT EVERY PATRON COURTEOUSLY, and give every possible service, otherwise he will not own his Pharmacy very long.

ALL THIS WE KNOW FROM EXPERIENCE. We try our best to operate a Pharmacy that you like to call "your own personal Pharmacy." We welcome and appreciate your patronage, and try to show it by the way we take care of your needs.

AND DESPITE THE HANDICAPS OF LONG HOURS, and the mental concentration the compounding of prescriptions requires, we would not want to be anything but a Pharmacist.

AT THE END OF EACH DAY, we have the comforting thought, that our medicines have helped folks to get well and stay well.

Pray for Others

Lesson for April 4, 1954

WHAT Christ prayed for, we have a right to pray for. This is not to say that we can, so to speak, simply quote his prayers after him and sign our name in place of his. He prayed for objects for which we need not now pray, as when he prayed for Simon Peter. But the kind of thing for which he prayed is the kind of thing for which his followers can boldly pray. For no one has ever known the mind of God so well as Jesus. To pray against the mind of God is to pray in vain: to pray with God's mind is to pray with success. One point is clear from all Jesus' prayers, but especially from the great prayer in John 17: it is that the blessing of God rests on sincere prayer for others.

Dr. Foreman

They Should Know It

Let us hope it is not impertinent to pass on a few thoughts suggested by this prayer of Christ, especially with regard to praying for other people. Intercessory prayer in the true sense is always unselfish, though one may literally pray for other persons with a selfish motive. For instance, if a woman whose husband is a candidate for office prays for his election, that is praying for some one else, right enough; but maybe she is saying one word for him and two for herself. So an ambitious mother might pray that her child would make good in Hollywood. (—and bring home the bacon.) This is not intercessory prayer in the Christian sense. Christ's prayer for others shows that he deeply and completely desired their highest good. But he does not offer this prayer in silence and solitude. He prays in their hearing, they knew they were on his heart. We cannot always pray in the presence of those for whom we pray, but it does them great good to know we are carrying them on our hearts before God. No service of friend or loved one is more cherished than the simple yet sublime service of intercessory prayer.

It Should Be for the Best

Prayer for others should be for the best—and this in two senses. It should be in line with God's best purposes, and it should be for the best things. When Christ prayed in Gethsemane that the cup might pass from him, the prayer was not granted, because what God willed would not be possible, or would not have been possible, if Christ had not been willing to drink that bitter cup to the dregs. God will not grant requests that upset his plans, no matter how earnest and apparently right the requests may be. But prayer for others ought to be for the best things. Not that we should not pray for lesser things. It surely is not wrong to pray that mother may find her wedding ring that got lost in the laundry, or that Uncle Harry may get over his cold. But surely as we grow more mature in the Christian life we can begin to appreciate the kind of prayer that Christ offered for his friends. He did not pray there at the Last Supper for their health, long life or "prosperity." He prayed for their inner spirits, he prayed for their unity of heart, for their vision of God. How often we pray for something to happen to our loved ones, how seldom do we pray for them! When a child lay dying of rabies, hundreds of prayers went up for his recovery. These were not granted. But other prayers were offered for his parents' faith; and these were granted.

Nothing You Ask—?

"Nothing you ask will be denied," a popular hymn says. But the Bible does not promise that. Jesus never promised it. What is promised, and what is true, is that the more our prayers harmonize with the will of the God of Love, the more surely they will find answer. Now we often pray for our friends, as we do for ourselves, that God will help them do what they want to do, or get what they want to have, or get rid of what depresses or pains them. Give them what they want! is our cry. (Many of us are too selfish even to get that far in praying for others.) But there is no guarantee that God will give all men, or any man, exactly what he wants. This poor world would be in a much worse mess than it is, if God simply acted at everybody's dictation. The best we can ask for those we love is that they may learn to desire what God himself desires.

IN THE LAND OF MAKE-BELIEVE

Suppose we were all wealthy . . . and all healthy. And suppose we had to work only one day a week, and could devote the others to recreation and rest. And suppose we had no worries, no problems, no responsibilities!

Would we all be happy . . . really happy?

Of course not! For a week or two we might revel in our good fortune, and enjoy our freedom from care. And then suddenly life would become colorless and empty. For where would we find incentive? How would we recapture ambition? What would we substitute for perseverence and fortitude and hope: the qualities that crown existence with achievements?

And what would happen to FAITH—the true foundation of happiness?

In this work-a-day world, with all its turmoil and care, the man who depends on God lives with a smile in his heart. And week after week his shoes wear smooth the threshold of his Church as he rejoices in the love of His Saviour. He doesn't dream of happiness in a land of make-believe! He has found happiness.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

NEWS FROM THE Ruth Enlow Library

BY EDITH BROCK

A number of books have been donated this week by Susy Smith, Jane Humbertson, and Mrs. James Bell, Jr.

Russell King, of Cumberland, has given several National Geographic magazines and maps.

Among the books on religion which have been added to the library during the past year are several of special value in the study of the Bible. "Opening the New Testament" by Floyd Filson is an introduction to the meaning of the books of the New Testament and to the early Christian community in which they had their origin. "The Man from Nazareth" by Harry Emerson Fosdick is a study of Jesus as the people around him saw him. "The Greatest Faith Ever Known" by Fulton Oursler and April Oursler Armstrong is the story of the founding of Christianity. It retells the story of the Book of Acts and gives the setting in which the Epistles of Paul, Peter, and James were written.

"Spokesmen for God: the Great Teachers of the Old Testament" by Edith Hamilton is a short, very readable and interesting study of the prophets. Bewer's "Literature of the Old Testament" is a useful guide to all of the books of the Old Testament.

"Women of the Bible" is a series of character studies by H. V. Morton. "The Encyclopedia of Bible Life" and the "Westminster Dictionary of the Bible" offer a rich background of information in convenient form, with many illustrations. "The Treasure of Free Men" by Taylor presents the highlights in the history of the Bible.

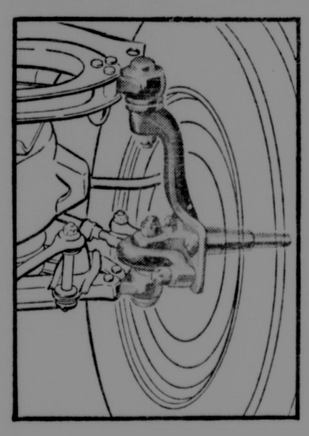
In most cars each front wheel has a kingpin pivot for turning right and left and two hinge-like joints for moving up and down over rough spots in the road.

In the 1954 Ford you won't find either the kingpin or the hinge-like joints which most cars have. In their place are two sealed ball joints about which each front wheel moves both up and down and right and left. This new suspension not only makes the car easier to steer but permits greater total up-and-down front wheel travel for a smoother ride.

These new ball joints pivot in specially shaped seats so that wheels will turn more easily and are far less likely to get "out-of-line." This new ball joint system eliminates 12 points of wear.



Here's how Ford's new Ball-Joint Suspension works

It's the greatest advance in chassis design in 20 years!

Not since 1932, when independent front wheel suspension was introduced, has there been such an improvement in both riding and steering in an American car. Of course, only Ford in the low-price field has this new Ball-Joint Suspension.

With Ford's new Ball-Joint Front Suspension, your car actually "steps over" the bumps—even the big ones—now you ride "first class" all the way! These new ball joints are spring-loaded to help keep that "new car feel" longer. And because they're permanently sealed against water and dirt, they never require lubrication—ever!

It's just one of the "dividends" you get in a '54 Ford which make it worth more when you buy it, worth more when you sell it!

Ford also brings you the most modern high-compression, low-friction engines in the industry: the new 115-h.p. I-block Six and the new 130-h.p. Y-block V-8. These two new deep-block engines bring you dividends of greater horsepower, smooth, quiet performance, less wear due to friction, and more GO per gallon.

You can choose from 14 new body styles, each with completely new interiors and a beautiful Astra-Dial Control Panel. And as fine car options you can have power steering, power brakes, power windows, a power front seat and Fordomatic Drive. One Test Drive in this "worth more" Ford and you'll want to drive it home!

Candidates Announce

Announcement of candidates for nomination at the primary election to be held in Garrett County on Monday, June 28, will be published in this column until immediately prior to the above date.

Rates for inserting these announcements, not to exceed three inches, are as follows:

State Senator, $35; Member House of Delegates, $35; Clerk of the Circuit Court, $30; Register of Wills, $30; Sheriff, $25; State's Attorney, $25; County Treasurer, $25; County Commissioner, $20; Judges of the Orphans' Court, $10; County Surveyor, $10; Members of the State Central Committee, $10.

Photography of candidates, to be used in conjunction with their weekly advertisements, extra according to the space used.

Advertising other than formal announcement would be at the regular advertising rate of 70 cents per column inch, payable in advance.

CLERK OF CIRCUIT COURT

To the Citizens of Garrett County:

I am a Candidate for re-nomination as Clerk of the Circuit Court for Garrett County, subject to the coming Primary Election.

I feel that the experience that I have attained in the past 7½ years as your Clerk and the eight years previously as Deputy Clerk, fully qualifies me to capably handle the duties required of such an important and exacting Office. I will continue, as in the past, to conduct the Office according to law and to be helpful and courteous to all.

I respectfully solicit your support in the coming Primary Election.

Richard L. Davis.

—Adv. 5*

REGISTER OF WILLS

To the Voters of Garrett County:

In announcing my candidacy for renomination for Register of Wills for Garrett County, a position which I have filled for a number of years, I do so in the belief that those years of experience better qualify me to render efficient service in the duties and responsibilities of the office. If reelected it shall be my pleasure to continue to be helpful to all persons having business to transact through the Orphans' Court and I shall be grateful for your support.

Sincerely yours,
Vernie R. Smouse.

—Adv. 5*

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County:

I hereby announce as a candidate for the office of County Commissioner of Garrett County.

Inasmuch as I live in Election District No. 10, under the present system of electing County Commissioners I will represent the first County Commissioner District if nominated and elected to the office which I seek. At the present time, I am a member of the Orphans' Court of this county.

I have lived in Garrett County all of my life, am a farmer, have been interested in a number of business and other organizations and believe that I have a pretty thorough knowledge of affairs in our county and what should be done for its improvement and well being.

If nominated and elected, I will give careful attention to the duties and demands of the office and to the best of my ability will serve all of the people of the county alike.

I respectfully solicit the support of all Republicans at the primary.

Harry F. Paugh

—Adv. 51*

To the Voters of Garrett County:

I hereby announce as candidate for the office of County Commissioner of Garrett County.

I have been a life-long resident of Garrett County, living in District No. 14.

If nominated and later elected to this office, I have but one promise to make—that I will serve the people of my county to the best of my ability.

My motto is, I realize no one can please everybody, but I can keep on trying.

I respectfully solicit your support.

H. D. "Hub" Swartzentruber.

—Adv. 1*

To all Voters of Garrett County:

I hereby announce as a candidate for the office of County Commissioner of Garrett County.

I have lived in Election District No. 13, in Garrett County all of my life. I have always been a Republican and I am now serving my third year as one of the Trial Magistrates of Garrett County.

If nominated and elected, I will to the best of my ability serve all the people of Garrett County alike.

I respectfully solicit your support.

Dwight A. Barrick
County Commissioner
District No. 1

—Adv. 2*

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County:

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of County Commissioner subject to the results of the Republican primary.

Born and reared on a farm near Grantsville, I have lived in Garrett county practically all of my life. I purchased my first farm in District No. 5 in 1923. I believe my experience in the Farm Bureau, Soil Conservation and other organization work will be of great help in administering the duties of this office.

If nominated and elected I shall give just and honest consideration of all matters pertaining to the duties of this office.

I sincerely solicit your support and influence.

Foster Yost

District No. 5
—Adv. 2*

FOR COUNTY TREASURER

To the Republican Voters:

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of County Treasurer, subject to the results of the Republican primary election, and earnestly solicit the support of all the citizens of the county.

I have been a resident of Mt. Lake Park for twenty-nine years and have had bookkeeping and administrative experience for the past twenty-four years which I feel qualifies me to fill satisfactorily the office I seek. For the past four years I have been in the office of the County Roads engineer.

I pledge an honest and efficient administration in the duties of the treasurer's office should I be nominated and later elected.

Joseph H. Welch,
Mt. Lake Park

District 16
—Adv. 51*

FOR SHERIFF

I hereby announce myself as a candidate on the Republican ticket to succeed myself for the office of Sheriff of Garrett county.

My entire life has been spent in Garrett county, mostly in District No. 2, and I have endeavored to carry out the duties of the office without fear or partiality. Having served in this capacity for four years, and previous to that time as your deputy sheriff, I feel that I am in a position to render the type of service which the citizens of our county should expect from this office.

If renominated and reelected I pledge my full effort to the work connected with the sheriff's office, I shall be grateful for your support.

Paul W. Fisher
District No. 2

—Adv. 2*

To the Democratic Voters of Garrett County:

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of Sheriff of Garrett County, Maryland.

I have been a life long resident of Garrett County, and for sixteen years have worked in and around the coal mines of our county. For the last four years I have been employed by the B. & O. railroad.

I, Lee McRobie, do hereby promise an honest and efficient administration, if I am nominated and later elected to the office.

Lee (Doll) McRobie
Election District No. 13

—Adv. 3*

Wives Listed As Secretaries By Many Legislators

During the annual General Assembly sessions at Annapolis each State Senator may hire a stenographer at State expense, and this year nine senators hired their own wives at $10 a day.

In the House of Delegates where there is but one stenographer to about every seven members, the wives of four delegates and the brother of a fifth reached the legislative payroll.

A list of the senators whose wives collected $300 apiece for the session as published in The Baltimore Sun on Tuesday morning included Neil C. Fraley, (R., Garrett.)

The most highly paid wife of a legislator was Mrs. Phyllis E. Reed, who was collected $360 as secretary to the minority floor leader, Delegate Arthur H. Green, (R., Garrett.) Mrs. Reed's husband, Delegate Lester B. Reed, is a Republican from Mount Savage, Allegany county.

The senators acclaimed the efficiency and skill of their secretary-wives. Senator Phoebus declared, "She's worth more than I am. She's been my secretary the twelve years I've been to Annapolis; if I stay twelve more she'll still be there." Senator Goldstein declared his wife to be "the best secretary in Annapolis—I'm lucky to have her." Mrs. Goldstein interrupted her stenographic duties to give birth to their child on March 1, three days before the Legislature ended.

State legislators already have turned in expense accounts totaling $28,024 for the 30-day session. Eight senators and three delegates have yet to be heard from.

Each of the 152 lawmakers is entitled to a maximum of $200, and most reported greater expenses. Out of pocket costs make up possible income-tax deductions.

The accounts, authorized by the 1953 general assembly at a maximum of $600 in 90-day sessions and $200 in 30-day meetings, list four specific items—lodging, meals, travel and "miscellaneous, including entertainment." The maximum includes set allowances of $25 for stationery and varying sums fixed by law for a round-trip between home and the capital. Travel pay ranges from $15 for legislators in Anne Arundel county to $110 in Garrett county. The amounts were based on horse-and-buggy day costs in a law passed in 1868 and not amended since 1924.

None of the Garrett county legislators was listed in the article as having turned in any expense accounts yet. They have until June 30 to do so.

Number 4446 Equity. In the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to procure the passage of a decree for the sale of the real estate of Emelia A. Paulie, deceased, situate in the town of Hutton, Garrett County, Maryland, and for the distribution.

The bill states:

That Emelia A. Paulie in her lifetime was seized and possessed of certain valuable real estate situate, lying and being in the town of Hutton, Garrett County, Maryland, known and designated as Lots Numbers 28 and 30 in the Southview Addition to said town, excepting all minerals, mining rights thereunder, it being the same which was conveyed unto the said Emelia A. Paulie, as E. A. Paulie by deed from O. F. Frankhouser et al, dated July 12th, 1950, and recorded in Liber R.L.D. No. 166, folio 379 &c, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, which said deed has been filed as "Plaintiffs Exhibit No. 1," that the said Emelia A. Paulie while seized and possessed of the aforesaid real estate departed this life on the 29th day of June, 1953, intestate, and leaving surviving her the following children and descendants, to whom, as her heirs at law, the said lands have descended, viz: Fred H. Paulie, a son, who intermarried with Jessie Paulie, and reside in Garrett County, Maryland; Alton Paulie, a son, who intermarried with Ruth Paulie, and reside in Clearfield County, Pennsylvania; Josephine Paulie Sereno, a daughter, who intermarried with Joseph Sereno, and reside in Tioga County, Pennsylvania; Alma Paulie Lemaitre, widow, resides in Delaware County, Indiana; Raynor Paulie, single, whose last known address was Magdalena, Socorra County, New Mexico, but whose present whereabouts are unknown; the child and heir at law of Ernest Paulie, a deceased son of Emelia A. Paulie, who is survived by his widow, but who predeceased his mother, the said Emelia A. Paulie, viz; Janet Paulie Diggins, who intermarried with Ray Diggins, and reside in Marshall County, West Virginia; the children and heirs at law of Minnie Pauline Nine, a deceased daughter of Emelia A. Paulie, who as well as her husband predeceased her mother, the said Emelia A. Paulie, viz; Jessie Nine Hinebaugh, who intermarried with Paul Hinebaugh, and reside in Garrett County, Maryland; Walter Irvin Nine, who intermarried with Betty Nine, and reside in Marion County, West Virginia; Hazel Nine Worley, who intermarried with George Worley, and reside in Kanawha County, West Virginia; Frances Nine Davies, who intermarried with Walter Davies, and reside in Darke County, Ohio; the children and heirs at law of Valesca Paulie Sanders, who is survived by her husband, but who predeceased her mother, the said Emelia A. Paulie, viz; Gladys Sanders Whetsell, who intermarried with Charles Whetsell, and reside in Allegany County, Maryland; Paul Sanders, who intermarried with Mary Sanders, and reside in Allegany County, Maryland; Lawrence Sanders, who intermarried with Glendine Sanders, and reside in Garrett County, Maryland; Forrest Sanders, who intermarried with Margaret Sanders, and reside in Garrett County, Maryland; Elwood Sanders, who intermarried with Martha Sanders, residing in Garrett County, Maryland, all of whom are of full age; Barbara Sanders, single and under the age of twenty-one years, residing in Garrett County, Maryland; Bethel Sanders, single, and residing in Garrett County, Maryland; Dortha Sanders Neimeth, who intermarried with Jerry Neimeth, and reside in Geary County, Kansas, all of whom are of full age; that the said Fred H. Paulie was granted letters of administration on the estate of the said Emelia A. Paulie and notice to creditors were given; that at the time of her death, the said Emelia A. Paulie was indebted to The Garrett County Welfare Board in amount set forth in said bill, and the estate of Emelia A. Paulie is indebted to the said Emroy Bolden, trading as Bolden Funeral Home in amount set forth in said bill, to the said William Hardesty, trading as Hardesty Brothers in amount set forth in said bill, and to the said Fred H. Paulie in amount set forth in said bill, and that the personal assets of said Emelia A. Paulie is insufficient to discharge the said debts against her estate; that the said real estate is not susceptible of partition in kind amongst those entitled to interests therein without material loss and injury, and that it would be for the best interest of all the parties hereto that the said real estate be sold and the proceeds divided amongst them according to their several interests, after payment of the debts against her estate.

TO THE END THEREFORE:

The bill then prays for a decree for the sale of said real estate, that the proceeds arising from such sale may be applied to the payments of the said debts of the said Emelia A. Paulie and the balance, if any, be distributed amongst those entitled to interest therein according to their respective interest for general relief, for the writ of subpoena against Barbara Sanders, The Garrett County Welfare Board, William Hardesty, trading as Hardesty Brothers, Emroy Bolden, trading as Bolden Funeral Home, and for the Order of Publication against Raynor Paulie.

It is thereupon this 1st day of March, 1954, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, in Equity, ordered that the plaintiffs by having a copy of this order inserted in some newspaper published in Garrett County, Maryland, once a week for four successive weeks before the 2nd day of April, 1954, give notice to the said absent defendant, Raynor Paulie, warning him to be and appear in this Court in person or by solicitor, on or before the 17th day of April, 1954, to show cause, if any he has, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

Oberlin Edward Rawlings
Vs.
Dorothy Ann Rawlings
No. 4448 Equity. In the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to obtain a divorce a vinculo matrimonii for the Plaintiff from the Defendant and for the Plaintiff to have the custody and guardianship of the infant children of the said marriage who are Oberta Marie Rawlings and Thomas Edward Rawlings.

The bill of complaint states that the parties were married on May 19, 1948, in Mount Savage, Maryland, and that they lived together following the said marriage in Bloomington in Garrett County, Maryland, until September, 1949, at which time and place the Defendant deserted and abandoned the Plaintiff and their infant daughter and the said desertion and abandonment has continued uninterruptedly ever since September, 1949, and is deliberate and final and the separation of the parties is beyond any reasonable expectation of reconcilliation. That the Plaintiff gave no just cause for the said desertion and abandonment. The infant son who was born after the said desertion and abandonment is now with the Defendant whose whereabouts are unknown but is believed to be a non-resident of the State of Maryland. That the Plaintiff and the infant daughter are residents of Garrett County, Maryland. The Plaintiff seeks the custody of the infant daughter and, if possible, the custody of the infant son.

It is thereupon this 3rd day of March, 1954, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, sitting in Equity, ordered that the Plaintiff by causing a copy of this Order to be published in some newspaper in Garrett County, Maryland, once in each of four successive weeks before the 2nd day of April, 1954, giving notice to the absent Defendant of the object and purpose of this suit and warning her to be and appear in this Court in person or by solicitor on or before the 17th day of April, 1954, to show cause, if any she has, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

Classes In Home Nursing Listed

The first class in Home Nursing will be held in the Oakland Fire hall Monday, April 5, at 7:30, instead of April 7, as previously planned, it was announced this week.

The County Civil Defense, County Homemakers' clubs and County Red Cross are cooperating in having these classes at Grantsville and Oakland. Textbooks for these classes are being ordered by Mrs. E. Z. Tower, county Red Cross director; Mrs. Paul Naylor and Mrs. E. Ray Jones, also of the county Red Cross, arranged for the meeting places and equipment necessary.

Miss Lucy Johns, R. N., of National Red Cross, will teach two classes, one at Oakland and one at Grantsville. Beginning April 5 there will be six classes of two and one-half hours each. Miss Grove said there were some homemakers who planned to take the instructors' training at the same time so they would be able to hold other classes in the county.

In the Grantsville area the classes will be held in the Grantsville school with the first class scheduled for Tuesday, April 6, at 1:30 p. m.

Any adult interested in the course may call the County Extension office, for the Oakland area, and contact Mrs. Russell Klotz, Accident, for the Grantsville area.

Essay Contest Due To Conclude Today

Today is the deadline for entries in the essay contest being sponsored by the Garrett County Bar association for high school students at Northern and Southern. Twenty-five or more students have entered the contest.

The subject of the essay is "Our Liberties Under the American Bill of Rights." Entries are being received by Lewis R. Jones, chairman of the committee, and W. Dwight Stover who is assisting him.

Five county prizes are being offered. The First National Bank of Oakland has offered a $50 savings bond for the best essay in the county. The Garrett National Bank in Oakland has offered two $25 savings bonds for the best essay in Northern High school and Southern High school, other than the county-wide prize winner.

The First State Bank of Grantsville has offered two $25 savings bonds for the second best in each school other than the county-wide winner.

The county winner will be submitted to the State Bar association before May 1, and the state-wide winner will receive $500. The state winner will be a guest of the bar association at Atlantic City in June.

Length of the essay is limited to a maximum of fifteen hundred words.

IN MEMORIAM

McRobie. Alice V.—In loving memory of our darling mother, Alice V. McRobie, who was called from us, six year ago, March 27, 1948.

My mother was all on earth to me,
I did not have a truer friend.
Many a sad, lonely hour have I spent,
Since her life here on earth came to an end.
Ever before me is her sweet, cheerful smile
That I worshiped so from a little child;
I shall forever hold you near,
Never forgetting, Mother dear.

Your children,
William H. McRobie
Occa McRobie
Bessie M. Hudson.

THE REPUBLICAN

VOLUME 78 — OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MD., APRIL 8, 1954. — PER COPY, 8c. — NUMBER 6.

No Silly Promises . . . .

It would be mighty refreshing in this primary campaign that's now upon us if the candidates for the various offices would make no silly promises—ones that they knew would be imposible to keep or carry out.

Those who have announced thus far have been very moderate in their statements, but a glance at the records reveals that actually only a few candidates have formally announced. For most of them the step is still in the talking stage, and they have only until the 19th to declare themselves.

An Oregon newspaper recently made an apt editorial observation: "Some of the most amusing literature in America is now being published. We refer to the announcements of candidates. Funniest is he who promises (itself futile) great social reforms and reduced expenditures and lower taxes."

That may sound funny to some, but actually there's nothing funny about that kind of political bunk. We've seen such stuff on some of the platforms of local candidates in former years, such as a promise for a soldier bonus payment, higher welfare payments and lower taxes.

There were enough politicians in the last legislature to push through a bonus bill which if the voters upheld, would have doubled our state sales tax. The national CIO leaders today are urging higher pay for some workers, regardless of their worth, while demanding that the president inaugurate a public handout program for those out of work.

The financial nightmare of the tax and spend era of Roosevelt and Truman is hard to overcome by the present administration, but people saw that President Eisenhower did not promise any easy roads if the voters elected him.

Today Eisenhower is backed by a majority of people even more firmly than when he was elected, and it is because people have faith in his honesty of purpose and his trust in humanity.

Locally, candidates should have a sincere desire to serve Garrett county and its citizens. If they promise honesty and sincerity and keep those qualities they will better serve their fellow men.

Two Appointments in Civil Defense Made

John Elliott, civil defense director for the county, announced two appointments for the county. John P. Savage has been appointed civil defense director for Friendsville; and Charles C. Bender, Jr., has been appointed deputy director for Grantsville.

Elliott also announced that 200 blankets had been stored at the Garrett County Memorial hospital, and were available for emergency. He said they were made of paper composition and had been purchased by Civil Defense department of the state for $1.50 each, instead of the usual $8 to $12 for blankets. They are fireproof and may be discarded after use.

One 7½ h.p. siren has been ordered for Oakland and Friendsville fire companies, and one 5½ h.p. siren for Deer Park. The state is paying 50 percent of the cost with the fire companies bearing the other 50 percent.

Elliott said that walkie talkie portable radios had been ordered for the Bloomington and Grantsville fire companies which may be used inside burning buildings, or at forest fires.

The Federal government pays 50 percent of the cost, the state 25 percent, with fire companies paying the remaining 25 percent cost.

The Bloomington fire company will receive without cost 150 feet of discharge hose, with a 60-lb. pressure and a capacity of 100 gallons per minute.

Rotary Clubs Name Officers for Year

Oakland and Friendsville Rotary clubs elected officers for the year at recent meetings.

Earl Zepp was named president of the Oakland club and will succeed C. Melvin Kight. Others named were Willard Elliott, vice-president; O. T. Glaser, secretary; Mason Glotfelty, treasurer. The board of directors includes C. Melvin Kight, Willard Elliott, Robert Hoffman, Mason Glotfelty, Harvey Winters and Merrill C. Cargo.

At Friendsville the Rotarians there elected Eddie Bartholomew as president, to succeed Karol Rush. Others named were Leslie Savage, vice-president; August Neil, secretary; Charles Miller, treasurer; Rev. W. E. Carlson, club service chairman; Roy Turney, vocational service chairman; Ralph Swauger, community service chairman; and Merle Frantz, international relations service.

Installation of officers will occur in July.

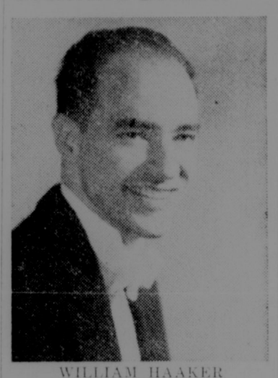
Mr. and Mrs. Kight and Ralph Weber plan to go to Seattle, Wash., in June to attend the international Rotary convention in that city.

Answer Two Alarms

Members of the Oakland Fire department answered two fire alarms yesterday as the result of brush burning. One at 2 o'clock was near the Hoffman property on Crook crest. Later in the day, about 5 o'clock a brush fire was threatening some homes in the Swallow Falls area and they called the local department.

BLOWING ITS TOP—Oakland "shot" its second water well last Friday, and reports today were that the operation was considered most successful, with the flow of water being considerably increased. The well is located on the town's water farm near the golf course. Ninety quarts of nitro glycerine were used for the blast, which threw mud and rock some 300 feet into the air. Another well "shot" early in January is flowing steadily without the aid of pumps. Staff Photo.

To Conduct Virginia Orchestra Session



WILLIAM HAAKER

Under sponsorship of the Garrett County Family Concerts association the Virginia orchestra, under direction of its founder and conductor, William Haaker, will be presented in concert at the Southern High school on Wednesday evening, April 21, at 8:15.

Oakland is one of thirty communities included in a tour of six states by the group of twenty-four professional artists.

The orchestra consists of the first desk men from the Virginia symphony orchestra. It will have full instrumental constituency but of a size appropriate for usual stages.

Mr. Haaker, prior to taking over the Virginia Symphony orchestra, formed and directed the Arkansas State symphony orchestra. He served his conducting apprenticeship with Iturbi at the age of sixteen with the Iturbi Mexico City Orquesta. He returned to conduct his own series of concerts there and also guest-conducted in Havana, Cuba and has served as musical director of the Blue Ridge and Ozark Summer Music Festivals.

There will be a special student program to be presented to the students of Southern High school on the afternoon of April 21, at 2 p. m., in the school gymnasium. The evening performance will be in the school cafeteria.

Girl Scouts To Take Washington Trip Next Week

Around forty intermediate girl scouts of Oakland and Mt. Lake Park troops accompanied by several leaders, will leave here next Wednesday morning for a two-day trip to the nation's capital.

They are scheduled to leave by bus about 4:30 a. m., arriving in Washington about 10 o'clock. The details of the tour were arranged by Charles L. Briner, secretary of the Mt. Top Chamber of Commerce, through the office of Congressman DeWitt S. Hyde. The trip will include a visit to the Bureau of Engraving and Printing and the capitol building, the latter tour conducted by Congressman Hyde's page. Wednesday afternoon the group will visit the various monuments and at night see "Cinerama." On Thursday they will visit at the White House and the F. B. I., and if time permits tour the marine gardens. Other activities are planned for Thursday afternoon. The group will return after midnight Thursday.

Miss Catherine Spiker, nurse, will be one of those accompanying.

Adults—Miss Catherine Spiker, R. N., Mrs. Richard Davis, Mrs. George Sukow, Miss Heather Robinson, Miss Cara Weber.

Mt. Lake Girl Scouts—Darlene Bray, Barbara Compton, Patty DeWitt, Pat DeWitt, Delores Riley, Barbara K. Rodeheaver, Sandra Savage, Connie Savage, Eileen Tasker, Beatrice K. Zimmerman.

Adults—Mrs. John E. Veader, Mrs. A. O. Savage.

Retains Rating

The "Acorn," school newspaper at Southern High School, announces that it has retained its second place rating in the annual Columbia Scholastic Press Association which held its 30th convention in New York on March 11, 12, 13, 1954.

More than 4,000 youngsters who work on school papers and magazines attended this convention.

Four One-Teacher Schools To Close At End Of Term

There will be four less one-teacher schools in the county at the start of the 1954-55 school term, it was learned this week following a regular meeting of the County Board of Education.

This will reduce the one-teacher schools in the county to seven. The board announced that Bethlehem, Wilson, Lynndale and New Germany schools would be closed on June 10 of this year. R. Bowen Hardesty, county superintendent of schools, said the action was being taken "in order that children may have better educational advantages and at the same time save money for the taxpayers for schools which are very low in enrollment. Enrollment in these schools has been from 11 to 15, it was stated.

Beginning in September students previously going to Bethlehem would be transported to Loch Lynn and Oakland, those at Wilson, to Deer Park, those at Lynndale to Swan Meadow, and those at New Germany to Grantsville.

At present there are 11 one-teacher schools, eight two-teacher schools, ten graded schools and two high schools.

The board also announced that three rooms additional in the Oakland Elementary annex on Green street would have asphalt tile placed on floors, acoustical ceilings and modern lighting installed, rooms redecorated in pastel colors, to absorb grades 4, 5 and 6 from the Mt. Lake Park elementary school where children are now attending classes in two basement rooms. All seventh graders over the county will continue to attend classes in the two junior-senior high school buildings.

To Redecorate

Altman and Altman, architects, Uniontown, have been contacted relative to improvements in the Accident school during the summer, Mr. Hardesty said the board also had placed Oakland Elementary school in second spot for redecoration and improvement summer.

Other Board Business

Among other business conducted by the Board of Education on Monday was the appointment of several persons as follows:

Raymond Barbour, graduate of West Virginia university with master of arts degree, to Southern High school as industrial arts teacher, effective April 5, to fill position caused by resignation of Donald Greenwood, who left March 31.

Leave of absence granted to Mrs. Alvina Livengood, Yoder school; transfer of Mrs. Esther E. Yoder, Grantsville, bachelor of science degree at Goshen, to Yoder school.

Appointment of Mary E. Lambert, W. V. U., B.S. degree, to

Will Open Yough Bridge For Traffic

The new bridge over the Youghiogheny river west of Oakland, was open for general traffic today, it was announced by W. W. DeWitt, county roads engineer.

Construction of the bridge was started last fall and the bridge abutments and steel floor were completed at that time. In addition there was some backfilling on both sides of the river. With the arrival of some needed steel, the construction work was completed and this week the pavement on both sides of the bridge was completed.

DeWitt said there was no foundation to the rumors that an inspection of the structure had revealed it was unsafe. He declared it was in excellent condition. A small crack in one of the piers was noted last fall but was termed of no consequence.

Is Candidate For Democrat Committee

Lawrence "Davey" Sellers, of Accident, has announced his candidacy for a member of the Democratic State Central committee, subject to the primary election on June 28.

Mr. Sellers has been in the employ of the Potomac Edison company for fifteen years and is foreman of a construction group.

Members of the Democratic and Republican committees will be chosen in the primary elections for both parties.

Governor McKeldin vetoed the veterans' bonus measure as illegal.

Dr. E. I. Baumgartner Re-elected Council President; Three Are Sworn In By Mayor Hinebaugh

The Oakland City council was reorganized Monday evening at the regular monthly session with Dr. E. I. Baumgartner being re-elected president. The three members of council elected March 8 were given the oath of office by Mayor Joseph Hinebaugh. They were Harry L. Stemple, Maurice Brookhart and Robert Maroney.

The following appointments were approved: Arthur Lawton, clerk-collector; Henry Arnold, chief of police; Leslie Baker, night police; James Lewis, water superintendent; Clyde Sines, street superintendent; Lewis R. Jones, attorney; Lee R. Mason, weighmaster.

The following committees were named: water and streets, Dr. Baumgartner, chairman, Emeric Dusic, Harry L. Stemple, Donald M. Browning, Robert E. Maroney and Mayor Hinebaugh, ex officio; golf, Brookhart, chairman, Dusic and Browning; finance, Stemple, chairman, Dr. Baumgartner, and Brookhart; public relations, Dusic, chairman, Brookhart, Maroney and Mayor Hinebaugh.

The council ordered the purchase of a new pump for well No. 4 which came in Monday with a good supply of water after the hole was widened with an explosion of nitroglycerin. The well was drilled to a depth of 252 feet and is north of well No. 3 which came in last fall with a good supply. All wells are flowing without the use of pumps, it was stated.

A report of the clerk-collector showed March collections of $3,020.46 and expenditures of $3,709.74, not including the electric bill which will run approximately $650. The expenditures of $3,709.74 left a balance of $293.84 in the treasury. Collections included $1,028.14 for water, $1,172.11 for taxes and $820.21 for miscellaneous. The miscellaneous total included $540 for parking meters.

A health department test showed the city water supply pure. Sunday movie tax was listed at $67.80. The council approved a permit of I. R. Rudy, Jr. to construct a frame and stone veneer house on 9th and Green streets, at a cost of approximately $13,000. Permission also was granted to Dr. James Feaster to dig a well on his property on Green street.

Turkey Growers To Have Annual Dinner

The first annual dinner meeting of the Garrett county turkey growers will be held next Wednesday, April 14, at 7 o'clock, at the Hoyes Methodist church.

Principal speaker will be H. M. Devalt, specialist from the Live Stock Sanitary service, University of Maryland, who will discuss the diseases of poultry. Earl Poorbaugh, director of information for the state of Maryland; members of the legislature from this county, and others are on the guest list. W. W. Dawson will be toastmaster. Invited guests include Senator Neil C. Fraley, Delegates Harry C. Edwards, George Coddington, Arthur H. Green; John H. Carter, James McHenry, Miss Ethel Grove, Newton Coplin, president of the Mt. Top Chamber of Commerce; Rev. Curtis Saville, of Friendsville; and a representative from The Republican office.

18th Store Opened

The H-P Stores, Inc., announced the opening of its 18th unit at Spencer, Roane County, W. Va., within the past few days. Donald Robinson has been named manager of the new plant and William Agnew has been named manager of the store at Romney, W. Va., to replace Mr. Robinson.

The corporation, with headquarters in Oakland, has locations in Maryland, Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

Trout Fishermen Await Opening of Season Next Week

Maryland trout fishermen will be out to officially welcome the opening of the season next Thursday morning, April 15, about 5:30 o'clock, and they should find the streams plentifully supplied.

More than 100,000 adult trout, many of which will exceed 8 inches in length will have been stocked in 65 trout streams of the ten northern counties of Maryland.

This will be a banner year for the trout hatchers of the state as to size, quantity and quality, according to Albert M. Powell, superintendent of fish hatcheries. Fish are being stocked from Bear Creek hatchery, Accident; Bever Creek hatchery, Hagerstown; Lewistown hatchery, Lewistown. More than a dozen tank trucks and 30 field personnel have been engaged in stocking the trout, assisted by clubs and service groups, during last month and this.

Streams which already have received their quota of fish for the opening day and which will receive additional stockings at frequent intervals, until the middle of June, include the following:

Savage river, Laurel run (Schell) Casselman river, Red run, Puzzley run, Piney run, Big Yough river, Little Yough river, Cherry Creek (lake) Bear creek, Mill run, Salt Block run, Buffalo run, Laurel run at White Rock mountain; Muddy creek, Wolfe Den, Cherry Creek, (Gortner) Crabtree run, (Swanton) Poplar Lick run, Bluelick run, Big run, Middle Fork run, Sand run, Red Oak run, Murley run and Bull Glade run.

A map of information on fishing may be secured by writing to the Maryland Game and Inland Fish commission, 516 Munsey building, Baltimore 2.

Trout fishing extends from April 15 through September 15, with a minimum size of 7 inches and a creel of 5 in the aggregate.

Ernest A. Vaughn, director of the commission, said it had been the policy in recent years to stock the same streams in the counties with satisfactory numbers of fish in order that licensed fishermen may reap a reasonable harvest on most of the streams which are not excellent trout streams for carrying over fish due to drought, flooding, siltation and numerous other man-made causes.

Temperature at 78

The temperature rose to 78 degrees yesterday but the summer-like weather was of short duration. A hard rain this morning brought cooler atmosphere and some welcome moisture to a land that is still dry from last summer's drought.

Last Friday and Saturday were cool with snow falling early Sunday. Monday remained cold but the temperature moderated in the evening. Yesterday's 78 degrees was registered at the government station at Weber's.

Governor Signs Gas Well Bill

A Garrett County measure ending State power to regulate the spacing and working of natural gas wells received Governor McKeldin's signature last Friday.

Sen. Fraley, (R-Garrett) and the county's three delegates had protested that a clause in 1953 legislation giving the County Commissioners veto rights had caused trouble with the Department of Geology, Mines and Water Resources' wherein the latter would issue no new drilling permits, thus halting new operations.

So they had the whole act repealed, including the department's authority to regulate. McKeldin signed Fraley's bill, vetoing as unnecessary a similar measure sponsored by the delegates.

Last week a Baltimore court had declared the County Commissioners did not have constitutional authority to disregard a state law regulating spacing of natural gas wells. Drillers had asked the court to declare unconstitutional the amendment to the state gas well law that authorized the county commissioners to accept or reject regulations of the State Department of Geology, Mines and Water Resources.

Training in Home Nursing Under Way

Home nursing classes started in the county with a large attendance with thirty-one reporting for the class in Oakland. Since that number is too large for one class, members of the Oakland club withdrew and will enroll in a class later. Those receiving instructors' training in Oakland are Mrs. Wayne Hamilton, Mrs. Kenneth Ridder and Mrs. W. J. Ritchey.

In Grantsville those receiving instructors' training are Mrs. Morris Beachy, Mrs. Ralh Buckel, Mrs. Durst of the New Germany club; Mrs. Joseph Fahey and Mrs. Russell Klotz. Mrs. Lee Beachy was the pupil at Tuesday's classes.

The meeting dates are: Oakland, April 9, 12, 14, 19, at Oakland fire hall, 7:30 to 10; Grantsville, April 8, 12, 14, 19, 20, at the Grantsville school, 1:30 to 4.

Home nursing classes are held by Miss Lucy Johns, R. N., of the National Red Cross service. The classes are the result of some cooperation on the part of the County Civil Defense, the County Red Cross and the Homemakers' clubs.

Demonstration on Plow Hitching Is Scheduled Friday

A demonstration on hitching plows to tractors and plow adjustments will be given at two meetings tomorrow, April 9, it was announced by John H. Carter, county agent.

The demonstrations will be given by Guy Gienger, agriculture engineer, University of Maryland Extension service. The first one will be at the home of Robert DeWitt, south of Oakland, at 10 a. m. and the second will be at Northern High school at 1:30 p. m.

Five farmers in each area will bring their tractors and the plows they are using. Carter said proper adjustment of the plows to the tractors will save in fuel and power. Mr. Gienger will demonstrate direct hitches and trailer type hitches.

Farmers and implement dealers have been invited to attend.

Daylight Time Is Decreed By City Of Oakland

All But Three Schools To Remain On Standard Time Along With County

The city of Oakland will have daylight saving time, it was decreed Monday night at a meeting of the Mayor and Town Council. The clocks will be turned ahead one hour on Sunday morning, April 25, at 2 o'clock, and will remain ahead until the appointed time in September.

Arthur Lawton, clerk-collector, said the vote for the daylight time was unanimous with the six members of council and the mayor.

The time question was not mentioned at the regular meeting of the Board of County Commissioners this week, and it was presumed that the county would remain on standard time.

The Board of Education, at its meeting on Monday, approved standard time for all schools operating on standard time last year. The three exceptions are Bloomington, Finzel and Johnson schools which operate in conjunction with Allegany county school buses.

R. Bowen Hardesty, county superintendent of schools, said however, that the Board of Education offices would operate on daylight time in accordance with the town of Oakland.

It was learned that Crellin and Grantsville probably would move to daylight time, same as last year.

Low Bidder On Bridge Announced

The George F. Hazelwood company of Cumberland, was low bidder on the construction of a new bridge over the Potomac river at Kitzmiller, it was announced yesterday by the State Roads commission. The amount of the bid was $311,901, for construction of the bridge and also the approaches on both the Maryland and West Virginia sides.

G. Bates Chaires, district roads engineer from the Cumberland area, said he felt the contract would be awarded by the State Roads commission within a few days and that work would begin very shortly.

The Roads commission asked for construction of a five span steel beam bridge, 28 feet wide, with two five-foot sidewalks. The bids were to include the grading, paving and construction of drainage facilities for 1,200 feet of approach roadway in Maryland and 50 feet of approach roadway in West Virginia.

Construction details are being handled through Maryland's roads commission, but West Virginia roads authorities are assisting on the cost.

There were two other bids, with Buckley and Company of Philadelphia bidding $314,611; and the S. T. Brotemarkle Construction company of Cumberland bidding $353,215.

Red Cross Fund Reaches $1,850

The total in the annual Red Cross campaign for funds in Garrett county reached $1,850, it was announced by Olonzo P. Fike, county roll call chairman.

The areas reported the following amounts: Crellin and Hutton, $160; Accident, $125; Grantsville and New Germany, $400; Jennings, $100; Bittinger, $50; Oakland, $715.85; Sand Flat, $30; Kitzmiller, $111; Swan Meadow, $40; Mt. Lake Park, $56.28; McHenry, $10 and Associated Women of the Farm Bureau, $10.

The quota set for this year was $3,185.

Furnish 55 Pints at Bloodmobile Visit

At the bloodmobile visit at Accident on Monday, March 29, citizens of the Accident and Friendsville areas furnished 55 pints of blood, it was announced by Mrs. Grover C. Stemple, blood recruitment chairman for the Red Cross.

There were 72 persons scheduled, with 71 reporting. There were sixteen rejects.

Mrs. Stemple said the next visit of the bloodmobile from Johnstown would be made to Oakland on June 23.

Four One-Teacher Schools To Close

Southern for core and physical education as of September 1; Barbara L. Shoulds, W. V. U., B.S. degree, Southern High, core, as of September 1; Barbara Lee Colabrese, W. V. U. B.S. degree, Southern High, to teach music, as of September 1, now teaching at Rainnelle, W. Va.; H. Joanne Tobin, Fairmont State college, A.B. degree, to teach physical education at Northern as of September 1.

The board also appointed Pete Miller as bus inspector; Dr. Thomas Lusby and Dr. John Whitehill as physicians to examine bus drivers; Dr. A. E. Mance as physician to examine new teachers; J. M. Jarboe and G. J. Dilley as auditors and A. T. Matthews as attorney.

Purchase of a panel truck for 16 pupils, for transportation replacement by Bernard Merrill, was approved as was purchase of two others, one a 36-passenger bus by Charley Miller to be operated between Bethlehem and Oakland, and a 24-passenger bus by Harry E. Rice to be operated from his home to Swan Meadow. The board also approved Dale Brenneman as a substitute school bus driver for Jonas Beachy, bus contractor.

Complain Of Walkers

Mr. Hardesty said the board had received complaints from motorists relative to students walking along the highway between Mt. Lake Park and Southern High. The board's attorney advised that no student could be forced to ride buses although seats were provided and available; that the school had jurisdiction over students while in school and on school grounds, but not if they desired to walk home on pretty days.

Proposals for tractors and equipment for both high schools were submitted by Oakland Equipment company and B. and G. Sales, for use of students in agriculture education. The plan is similar to the driver education program where automobiles are furnished without any capital outlay by the schools.

The board is making a study of graduates now in colleges as to their scholastic achievement, ability to adjust to situations and growth into responsible citizens.

Landscaping at both high schools began this week.

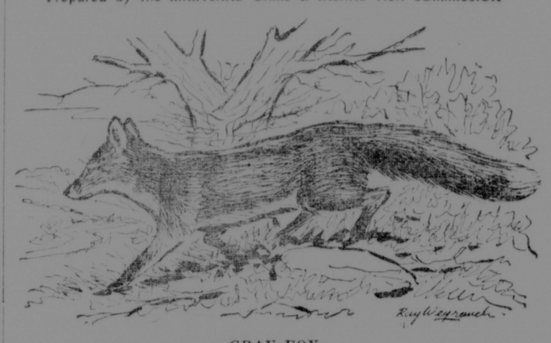
Homemakers Meet

The Oakland Homemakers club met at the home of Mrs. Spencer Graham March 25 with twenty-one members and two guests present.

A report was given by those attending an upholstering meeting. Several points on rubberized plastic and proper fitting were brought out. The club gave $5 to the Red Cross. The demonstration, "Color in the Home," was presented by Miss Ethel Grove, home demonstration agent. The April meeting will be at the home of Mrs. John Sharps.

MARYLAND WILDLIFE

Prepared by the MARYLAND GAME & INLAND FISH COMMISSION



GRAY FOX

(Urocyon cinereoargenteus. Derivation, "urocyon" from the Greek: meaning tail-dog, and Latin "cinereoargenteus" meaning gray-silvered.)

RANGE: Found in all counties of Maryland; more common in wooded and farm areas and rapidly increasing.

BREEDING: Mates in January and February. Young born 50-60 days later, in clean den in hollow log, cave, or tunnel; 4-5 born blind and helpless; take solid food at 6 weeks of age. Average life span 14 years.

HABITS: When pursued by dogs, will either "hole" in a tree, or climb one; red fox never climbs trees, but if hard run will go to the earth. Does not store food as does the red fox, lacks its endurance, is more nocturnal and less intelligent. Individual range 1-2 square miles.

MANAGEMENT: Reputed to be destroyer of rabbits, grouse, quail and pheasants, as well as smaller species of birds and mammals. Studies indicate fox relies primarily upon rodents and rabbits for food; game species being taken more often by gray. Red fox probably world's greatest destroyer of mice. Many States have demonstrated high fox population has not been major factor in shortage of game, nor has predator control permanently increased game. Many States recommend control but have found benefits not equal to cost. No indications rabies in foxes reduce population nor has it become a serious problem—not to the degree found in dogs.

VALUE: Probably an enemy of game, but this is offset considerably by destruction of mice; certainly no worse than cats or some dogs. Not as desirable for sport as red by fox hunter; fur of little value.

DIED

MRS. MARY GILPIN

Mrs. Mary Jane Gilpin, 87, died at her home near Grantsville on Thursday, April 1. She was a daughter of the late Othey Fazenbaker and Myra Fazenbaker and was born in this county January 17, 1867.

Survivors include two sons, Joseph Gilpin, Grantsville; Otey Gilpin, Cumberland; four daughters, Mrs. Mary Bittinger, Mrs. Myrtle Brotemarkle, Louise Porter, both Keyser, W. Va.; and Mrs. Moleta Butler, Akron, O.; a brother, Emerson Fazenbaker, Morgantown, W. Va., and two sisters, Mrs. Toole Murphy, Westernport, and Mrs. Virginia Hall, Fredonia, Pa.; also twenty-five grandchildren, 34 great grandchildren and two great great grandchildren.

She was a member of the Broadwater Chapel Brethren Church of near Piney Run. Funeral services were held Saturday at North Glade Methodist church at 2 p. m., with Rev. Albert Taylor, Hyndman, Pa., officiating. Interment was in the church cemetery.

Singers To Sponsor "Night of Harmony"

Oakland's chapter of SPEBSQSA will sponsor a "Night of Harmony" on Saturday evening, May 8, in the Southern High school gymnasium.

The entertainment will be provided by several quartets from West Virginia, Pennsylvania and Ohio. The local chorus and quartet will participate.

The new 200-horsepower Buick CENTURY Convertible—sleek, smart, spirited—and available in gorgeous new summer colors.

We have a line the gals go for
(Have you seen our Spring Fashion Show?)

You can't fool the ladies when it comes to styling.

From clothes and hemlines, to cars and color schemes—they insist on a fresh new look and a fresh new change—and anything else won't do.

So it's easy to see why the gals—bless 'em!—have been going for Buick in a great big way—going for the glamorous modernity of these new-day automobiles ever since the first public showing a few short months ago.

From the beginning, they've been going for the sleeker, longer, lower lines—the futuristic shaping of the new windshields—the stunning décor of the striking new fabrics—the clean simplicity of the new instrument panels.

But you ought to see how they go for the gay new car models in Buick's Spring Fashion Show! Fresh new Convertibles, Rivieras and Estate Wagons never before available—and in gorgeous new summer colors never shown before!

And you ought to see how they go—as the men certainly do—for the thrilling new V8 power, the buoyant new ride, the superb new control, and the almost effortless handling ease that are all part and parcel of every new 1954 Buick.

Why not visit our Spring Fashion Show and see for yourself the fresh new tomorrow that's here now—in today's Buick? Then we can show you the prices that make this beauty the buy of the year.

AURORA-EGLON

Funeral rites were conducted March 30 at Stemple Ridge church for Mrs. Lilley Shipp, of Corinth. She was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Knotts, of near Aurora.

Delmis Evans, small son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Evans of near Eglon, is a patient in an Elkins hospital. Also a patient there is his grandmother, Mrs. Sylvia Evans.

David Wilhelm has been ill at his home at Eglon. Mrs. Grace Wilhelm, of Rowlesburg, has been visiting in the home.

Mr. and Mrs. Arvin Harsh and daughter, of near Eglon, left Tuesday for Pottsdam, Ohio, to visit the former's brother-in-law and sister, the Rev. and Mrs. John Weaver and family.

The sophomore class of the Aurora High school will sponsor a festival at the school building on the evening of April 24.

William David Wilhelm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claud Wilhelm, of near Aurora, returned recently from overseas.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilmour Fike, of Eglon, spent the week-end with friends in the southern portion of West Virginia.

Pastor and Mrs. Paul Crumley and little daughter returned Monday to Eglon from a week's visit at the former's home at Ewing, Va.

Word was received here that Mrs. Mary Wenzel, of Oakland, received a badly lacerated hand Monday when she got it caught in the clothes wringer. She was treated by her husband, Dr. J. W. Wenzel, and remains in the home.

A public auction, sponsored by the Women's Work Group, will be held Saturday, April 24, at the new Aid Memorial building at Eglon, beginning at 1:00 p. m.

Relatives here were notified of the death on Tuesday, April 6, of Howard Luke Werner, of Culver, Indiana. Death followed a long illness. He was a brother of Mrs. Lephia Gustafson, formerly of Eglon, and a first cousin to Dr. Harold Miller, who remains a patient in a Philippi hospital.

Delayed

Relatives here were notified of the death of Mrs. Grace Winters, widow of the late Ross Winters, formerly of Cash Valley. Funeral and burial took place near the late home in Ohio. Mr. Winters passed away several years ago and is buried in the Eglon cemetery.

Mrs. Ora Slaubaugh, of Eglon, accompanied her daughter to her home Sunday, and on Monday she went to Morgantown where she visited an eye specialist.

Everett Fike spent several days last week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Fike, of Cash Valley, and other relatives prior to leaving Wednesday for overseas. His wife and family are remaining at their home in Ohio.

D. B. Spaid went Saturday to Tear Coat and after services at church there he went to Yellow Springs where he spent the night with his sisters, the Misses Elva and Bertha Spaid and Mrs. Caudy Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. Kirk Cosner, of Akron, were recent guests at the home of Mrs. Cosner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Abernathy, of Eglon.

Insulated Building Needs Vapor Sealing

With the increased use of insulation in farm storages and the home, there is growing appreciation of the necessity for effectively vapor sealing that insulation against penetration of moisture.

Vapors condensing within the body of insulation reduce its value and may cause decay, points out Ray W. Carpenter, University of Maryland extension agricultural engineer.

Vapor barriers capable of restricting the movement of water vapor to not more than one grain of water vapor per square foot of surface per hour, are needed to properly protect insulation from moisture, says Carpenter. The barriers must have a continuous surface free from tears or breaks and with all joints well lapped and cemented, he adds.

Suitable vapor barriers listed by the building specialist include building papers saturated and coated with a high gloss asphalt to bring the paper weight to at least 8 pounds per 100 square feet; laminated kraft papers having a continuous layer of asphalt between them at the rate of 2 pounds of asphalt per 100 square feet; metal foils of continuous material mounted on paper or composition backing; paints of lead and oil, rubber base, asphalt and aluminum in sufficient thickness to present a smooth, unbroken glossy finish.

According to the engineer, vapor seals should be applied on the warm side of the wall protected. If cold and warm sides reverse for appreciable lengths of time during the year, both sides of the wall should be vapor sealed.

Harry C. Edwards, hotel, $45; meals, $127; traveling, $173; miscellaneous and entertainment, $49; total, $394.84.

Arthur H. Green, hotel, $60; meals, $125; traveling, $35; miscellaneous and entertainment, $22; total, $242.00.

Is Your Name ASHBY?

DO YOU KNOW THAT:

ASHBY is an old English surname of relatively simple origin. It stems from the Old English "aesc" and "by", meaning respectively "ash tree" and "dwelling"; and it therefore was bestowed upon those who lived near an ash tree. The ash tree was one of the most useful trees in England, for its tough, stout wood provided spears and weapons for early warriors. It should be noted also that surnames first came into use about the year 1,000; and it obviously was logical to apply to people names that were indicative of their place or residence, occupation or physical appearance.

JOHN ASHBY (1740-1815) and NATHANIEL ASHBY (1748-1811) both of whom were born in Fauquier County, Virginia, served respectively as captain and lieutenant in the Virginia troops during the Revolutionary war.

TURNER ASHBY (1828-1862), also a native of Fauquier County, Virginia, was a brigadier general, Confederate Army, and was killed in action a few miles south of Harrisonburg, Virginia. He was a grandson of the aforementioned Captain JOHN ASHBY; and his father was Col. TURNER ASHBY who fought in the War of 1812.

SAMUEL ASHBY (1868-1943) of Indianapolis was admitted to the bar of Indiana in 1892 and earned widespread recognition as a corporation attorney.

LOWELL DeWITT ASHBY is associate professor of economics, University of North Carolina.

AUDREY LEONARD ASHBY, an attorney of note, has been a member of the legal staff of the National Broadcasting Company for a number of years and is now its general counsel, with headquarters in New York City.

CARROLL W. ASHBY is known widely in transportation circles as the president and general manager, Kentucky and Indiana Railroad Company, Louisville, Ky.

LEO ASHBY is professor of social studies at George Peppердine College, Los Angeles, Calif.

PFC. CARROLL B. FRANTZ

Promoted to Private First Class recently were nine platoons of Marines who successfully completed 10 weeks of intensive training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, at Parris Island, S. C.

Graduating with Platoon 476 was Carroll B. Frantz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Frantz, of Friendsville.

The job of transforming the recruits into Marines necessitated many hours of field training and classroom lectures. In addition to their training, the recruits were also given various aptitude tests to determine the type of duty for which they are best suited.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

Attacks On "Ike"

The first thing to remember when you read one of those hair-raising columns from Washington depicting the Eisenhower Administration as a "Captainless Ship" and General Ike as below decks playing bridge while the storm rages is that that is not an accurate picture at all but a distorted and one-sided view.

—o—

Another thing to remember is that the radio news commentators who call for the President to have a "show-down" with the villainous McCarthy, to speak up like a man, cast him out of the Republican party, abolish his committee and tell the Senator in unmistakable terms exactly what he thinks of him—those gentlemen do not care anything at all about the country. They represent Democratic elements which would rejoice to see General Ike and Senator McCarthy rolling on the floor in fierce personal conflict, not caring who got the better of it just so the Republican party was well smeared and widely split.

—o—

It may be painful but they are going to be disappointed. The Stevens-McCarthy episode is not going to destroy the Eisenhower Administration any more than the Brownell-Truman-Harry Dexter White episode destroyed it. There was an immense display of fireworks and much drum-beating in both, but Ike took no visible part in either except to express 100 per cent confidence in his two subordinates while they were under fire and again to rebuke McCarthy in a flat, frank statement which no one who did not want to disbelieve could disbelieve—or sneer at. It is reported that the British press is in a furor over the feud between Eisenhower and McCarthy. But their memories must be as short as ours if they do not recall more bitter feuds between Presidents and senators of the past which did not split the parties nor sink the ship but seemed pretty awful at the time.

—o—

For example, one recalls that Mr. Truman and the late Mr. Roosevelt had the bitterest kind of feud with Senator Byrd. Mr. Byrd strongly opposed all their pet policies and would not be moved by White House patronage, White House social invitations or personal presidential telephone appeals. Mr. Roosevelt also was bitter against ex-Senator Tydings because of the independence of his voting and unsuccessfully tried to "purge" him when he ran for re-election. It was generally agreed he greatly enhanced Senator Tyding's majority. Woodrow Wilson also entered Missouri during a senatorial election to oppose the late James A. Reed, who had most bitterly fought him on the League of Nations, but nevertheless was re-elected. Also there was the violent feud between President Theodore Roosevelt and the late Senator Joseph B. Foraker, of Ohio, known as "Fire Alarm Foraker." On one occasion that feud almost reached the point of blows. Foraker, a Republican, was re-elected while Roosevelt was still President. Also there was a memorable feud between President Grover Cleveland and Senator Arthur P. Gorman, of Maryland, but it cannot be recalled that in any of these feuds there was any popular demand for the President to destroy the Senator or for a "showdown." These senators made a lot of trouble for their Presidents, but it cannot be recalled that every time Mr. Cleveland went fishing or Mr. Roosevelt went to Warm Springs his opponents yelled that the ship was sinking because there was no captain.

—o—

These incidents are recited not only to make the point that there is no way to have an effective showdown but further to point out that under our system there is no way of dealing with a demagogue save at the polls—and then he most often wins. The British, with their experience, should know this, but then the British very often are quite dumb, indeed. Senator McCarthy is not an admirable fellow. Perhaps it is not nice to speak of him in the same breath as Senator Byrd, or for that matter with Tydings or Reed. Foraker is the only one of the lot with whom he should be compared. The real similarity lies in the fact that they all fought the President of their party and were detested by him. If ever at any time Ike had toward Senator McCarthy any trace of friendly feelings it disappeared when he made his attack upon General Marshall.

—o—

Now he gives him as little as possible, gives him no patronage which he is justified in withholding and joins with his Secretary of the Army in a strong statement insisting upon decent treatment of men in uniform before congressional committees. And still the Washington columnists shout "the ship is without a captain," "we are lost! we are lost!" In the undying words of General McAuliffe, the answer to that is "Nuts." Probably this claptrap about the captainless ship and the leaderless nation will keep on straight through tonight when the holy and jocular Mr. Adlai Stevenson climaxes a week of Democratic propaganda to show how General Ike has made a mess of clearing up the mess.

Daylight Time

Elmer D. Schrock, Grantsville, obtained permission from the editor of the Pennsylvania Farmer, M. C. Gilpin, to reprint the following which appeared in a recent issue of that magazine.

Daylight Saving Time

We will soon approach the time when we can go to the barn at 5 o'clock in the morning by daylight, and how we appreciate that! Then if we would turn our clocks ahead one hour, we would have to use our lights one hour again in the morning. Is that daylight saving time? What is daylight saving time or how is it done? Did you can a lot of daylight or did you store it in your home freezers? If you did I believe you forgot to let it out last winter, because the days around here were just as short as they always were.

One man wrote that he works in a mill, has a small farm, and can work at home longer in the evening. We appreciate people who are willing to work and make an honest living. But God made the summer days so long that you can work in the morning or evening. We are not trying to tell you when to work or how long to work. There are 24 hours in every day, so help yourself. I think it is a selfish idea for any one to ask to turn the clocks ahead. It is always best to follow a standard. That is why a standard time was set, not to go in extreme.

We also should obey our state laws. The law does not permit a changing of clocks in our capital buildings, court house, railroads and air lines. If we should obey some laws why not obey all the laws? For example, if I would drive out on some main highway and not stop ot the stop sign, even though there were not a car in sight either way and there were an officer parked around the corner, he would have the right to arrest me. But here we are violating our standard-time law year after year and putting quite a hardship on thousands of farmers who are preparing food for the public, not only to farmers but to a lot of other folks whom I have received letters from last spring.

We are facing enough trouble, so why ask for more confusion in our country. If all the farmers who make a living at farming would just farm a little in the evening, there would be millions of people starving in a short time because there are millions of people who do not have a bit of ground to raise food.

What is farming? Farming is just preparing food for the public. So if we want success in life we must follow a standard.

I would make a move that we keep standard time.—Abram K. Nissley, Dauphin County, Pa.

Listen Americans!

BY GEORGE S. BENSON
President of Harding College

The situation in our nation today, as industry cuts down on its war production and builds up its peacetime production, is a challenge to the private enterprisers. Contrary to the propaganda moanings of the advocates of Big Government, I predict that the American enterprisers will win this "Battle of Distribution." They've had tougher battles and they have won them.

In 1941, when America was suddenly thrust into war, President Roosevelt called for war production quotas which everybody thought impossible to achieve. Nevertheless, American enterprisers set to work building planes, ships, tanks and guns, and new factories to produce still more armaments, and this achievement won World War 11.

Then came 1945 and the war's end, and the necessity to reconvert from military production to the production of civilian goods. It was imperative that this be done without creating serious unemployment. The private enterprise system achieved new records of peacetime production; employment rose to new peacetime highs!

Next came June, 1950, and the Korean War. The government called for vast new armament production, and the economy shifted once more to one predominantly influenced by war and preparations for war. This time the government asked private enterprise to expand production facilities so that an almost adequate flow of consumer goods would be continued, averting the need for rationing. And American business and industry responded.

With the Korean War ended, we now hear the complainers saying that production is going to be overdone, that the markets will become glutted, that unemployment will result, and that we will have another depression. It is my conviction that the private enterprisers will also win the battle for distribution and consumption.

If government gives the right kind of encouragement—vitalizing the inherent incentives in our American system—there will be a great peacetime production, adequate distribution, and adequate consumption. Our standard of living under these conditions will go up four or five per cent a year for the next 25 years, thus improving 100 per cent in a generation.

Six Inches Of Topsoil - - -

It has been said that "Civilization rests on six inches of topsoil."

This is not just a dramatic statement. It is a fact of nature. These six inches are all that stand between us and famine. Many conservationists believe that before this country was settled by whites the layer of topsoil was nine inches thick. Three inches—one third of the original deposit—has been lost forever, through floods, winds, erosion, and destructive forest and agricultural practices.

Here is why soil conservation is as important a need as this nation knows. The federal and local governments have naturally played an important role in the conservation movement. But the success or failure of the movement is determined at the level of the individual farm. Each acreage of farm or forest presents different problems. Each requires different treatment. The experts in and out of government can provide invaluable advice and other assistance—but they can't do the job that is the individual farm-owner's and no one else's.

A comparatively few years ago agriculture lacked the tools for effective soil conservation and improvement. Now it has those tools and they are marvelously swift, economical and efficient. The tractor and all the other machines that come from the farm equipment industry make relatively easy what would have been impossible in the past. We can, and must, save that six inches of topsoil on which civilization rests.

ONE WORD . . .

Can Change Your Life

By REV. ROBT. OLEWILER
Pastor, Grace Reformed Church
Washington, D. C.

Contradiction

Are you congenial at the office and contrary at home? Some folks are; too many, I suspect. What a contradiction we mortals can be!

Here's a salesman who turns on the charm to impress a prospective customer. He doesn't care that it's taking an hour to quote prices and make comparisons in the trade. Even if he misses the sale, he's as friendly as an old hound dog. Yet, just as soon as that salesman gets past the front door of his home his whole disposition undergoes a radical change. He doesn't care to be genial now. He doesn't take pains to give a favorable exhibition of himself. What a contradiction!

If there are some wonderful sides to your nature, some attractive features to your personality—and we all have some—surely you ought to share them first with those you know the best and love the most. Try not to contract with contradiction, the word that can change your life.

Want Roads Worked

Two groups were before the Board of County Commissioners this week in regard to work on roads. George Tichnell was before the board concerning the road from Jack Taskers, at the top of the mountain above Swanton, to the Kitzmiller road. The board said it was waiting to see what route the State Roads commission was taking in its improvement program there.

Gordon Callis and Robert Collins asked that work be done on the road from the Bethlehem crossroads to the William Paugh farm. The board agreed to investigate but said the road was a private one and that probably nothing could be done.

James McCroskey was low bidder on furnishing coal to the Court House and Jail at $4.75 per ton, and was awarded the contract. There were bids up to $6.10 per ton by Robert Collins, Sr. Other bidders were Denzil Sines, Stancie Bowers, William Upperman, Mrs. Ruth Callis.

E. M. Akers, chief investigator of the Alcoholic Beverages Division for the Comptroller's office, requested approval to grant a branch warehouse license to National Brewing company in Oakland for distributing beer in West Virginia. The board, through its attorney, S. R. Pagenhardt, advised that in its opinion the issuance of such a license would be a violation of the Alcoholic Beverage law of Garrett county and it could not sanction issuance of such a license.

Fair Group To Meet

Anotner meeting of those interested in the formation of a Garrett County Fair association will be held at the Oakland fire hall on Monday evening, April 19.

H. G. Gortner, acting chairman, said that at Tuesday night's meeting this week at Accident some additional pledge certificates were turned in. He urged that those solicitors who had pledge certificates to turn in, to do so by the meeting on the 19th.

Crellin Youth Falls On Stick

Jay Gordon Bell, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Lewis Bell, of Crellin, fell while at play last Friday evening and sustained a punctured abdomen with a reed. The stick broke off in the body. An emergency operation was performed at Garrett County Memorial hospital in Oakland and the lad remained in the hospital until Tuesday when he was released.

Suit Is Settled By Compromise

A $1,000 compromise settlement of a $2,500 suit brought against the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad company by the widow of a Garrett county man killed by a locomotive, was filed last Friday in Allegany County Circuit court with the suit.

The suit had been filed in the name of the State of Maryland, for use and benefit of Bessie Pearl Root, widow, and Carl Root, 17-year-old son of George Edward Root, against the B. and O. railroad company.

In the declaration filed by Attorney Edward J. Ryan, Mrs. Root noted that her husband, then 79 years old, was crossing the B. and O. tracks at Beckman's Crossing, west of Mt. Lake Park, last August 31. He was pushing a wheelbarrow and fell between the rails in the path of an approaching locomotive when the barrow's wheel become entangled in some planking, she added. He was killed instantly.

Filed with the declaration was the settlement which bore the signatures of Ryan and William A. Gunter, attorney for the railroad.

Students Get Practical Work Experience In Recent Project

Members of senior core and mathematics classes at Southern High school recently received some practical work experience along with their classroom learning.

Most of the students spent two weeks observing and working on a job in which they were interested. They planned objectives and procedure to be followed, got approval of the school administration and contacted local business people.

Cooperating in the project were the C. and P. Telephone company, Liller's Barber shop, Rudy's department store, Hamill's Stationery and Book Store, the Music Shop, The Half Price Store, Jackson's 5 and 10, Treacy's department store, Oakland Lumber company, Board of Education, Englander's Pharmacy, Browning, Inc., B. and O. railroad tower at Loch Lynn, Ernest Spoerlein, guidance officer, and the Forestry department.

Students said it was a worthwhile learning experience, feeling they were more capable of holding down jobs than before they had the experience.

The class in core is now evaluating this work experience and discussing possible ways of improving the project. In math the students will learn to do the type of mathematics needed to get ahead in their particular job. Other students have started a project on future job opportunities in the county.

THE AMERICAN WAY

Build Faith In Our Youth

BY GEORGE PECK

Chairman of the Board of the National Labor-Management Foundation and Executive Editor of its official publication, "Partners."

What this nation needs above all else is to build FAITH in its youth—the same kind of faith with which the Founding Fathers were imbued. America's Sunday Schools can build this FAITH in our youth if parents will see to it that their children attend regularly.

The Laymen's National Committee, founded in 1940, is endeavouring to reawaken religious thinking in every possible way. For the past fourteen years it has conducted a campaign of public education for the purpose of encouraging the reading and study of the Bible; and to promote Church, Synagogue and Sunday School attendance.

As part of this program, the Laymen's National Committee sponsors National Sunday School Week each year during the second week in April. The 1954 National Sunday School Week is to be observed April 12-18. For this special event, Irving S. Olds, formerly Chairman of the Board, U. S. Steel Corp., is serving as National Chairman. In a statement to the press, Mr. Olds had the following to say regarding the great value of the Sunday School.

"Sunday School always has constituted a vital link in our chain of national development. Today religious faith and understanding furnish greater possibilities for accomplishing widespread good than perhaps ever before in history.

"Our youth need full opportunity through Sunday School to secure religious instruction and guidance for eventual wise citizenship. Sunday School will build faith in our children."

There is no denying that Sunday School is of paramount importance. It takes the boys and girls during their formative years and the lessons taught by the Sunday School teacher are never entirely unlearned. Individuals rarely change their habits after reaching majority age. Statistics show that only one person out of a thousand is converted after the age of 20. A questionnaire sent to 1,500 preachers revealed that the average age at which they had been converted was 12 years.

The Eastern Bible Institute of Green Lane, Penna., has made a survey of the descendants of two men, both of whom lived in New York State. The result of this survey graphically demonstrates the great benefits that accrue to a nation whose youth are given a religious training.

Max Jules, the first of these two men, did not believe in religious training. He married a girl of like character. From this union, the lives of 1,026 descendants were studied. Three hundred died prematurely before they could become a force for good or for evil. Of the remaining 726, one hundred were sent to the penitentiary for an average of 13 years each, 190 were public prostitutes. And there were more than 100 drunkards. This family cost the state of New York $1,200,000 and made no contribution to society.

Now, consider the descendants of the second man, Jonathan Edwards. He believed in religious training and he wed a girl of like belief and character. From this union, 729 descendants were studied. This family gave the nation 300 preachers, 65 college professors, 13 university presidents, 60 authors of good books, 3 U.S. Congressmen and one Vice President of the United States. With the single exception of Aaron Burr, a grandson of Jonathan Edwards, who married a woman of questionable character, this family has not cost the State of New York a single dollar.

Early religious training enabled the one family to contribute so much toward the general welfare of America; the absence of early religious training made the other family a liability and a detriment to society.

The Sunday School offers this early religious training to our youth. Remember that April 12-18 is National Sunday School Week. Send your children to Sunday School on the Sunday of that week and every Sunday thereafter. Better still, don't send them—take them and attend with them. Let's build faith in our children and revive our own.

DIED

MISS DORA M. MARTIN

Miss Dora Madaline Martin died early Wednesday morning at her home on Oak street after an illness of about a month.

A daughter of the late Thomas and Ellen Graham Martin she was born in Oakland October 24, 1881, and was aged 72 years.

She had resided in Oakland all her lifetime and was the last member of her immediate family.

Surviving are two nieces, Miss Elizabeth Kennedy, of Needles, Calif., and Mrs. William Biddle, Parkersburg, W. Va.; also two grandnieces and one grandnephew.

Funeral services will be conducted on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from St. Matthew's Episcopal church, of which she was a member. Rev. Alfred J. Haines, rector, will be in charge, and interment will be in Oakland cemetery.

The body will be at the Leighton Funeral Home in Oakland until time for the service.

Southern High Nine Defeats Keyser 11-5

Making its 1954 debut under its new coach, Leonard Ritchie, Southern High school defeated Keyser High school's baseball team in the opening game for both schools on Tuesday before a large crowd at Keyser. The score was 11 to 5.

An eight-run explosion in the third inning put the game on ice for the local team.

Keyser used 22 players in an effort to stage a comeback but it was unable to overcome the big lead given Fred Colaw in the first three innings.

Colaw let Keyser down with seven hits, two of which were credited to Tom Melody. Bob Glaze and Fred Colaw shared four of Oakland's eight safeties. Tim Sisler and Howard Sweitzer of Oakland and Melody of Keyser rapped three-baggers.

Colaw struck out six. Keyser tried five pitchers.

Southern will play Keyser in a return engagment on the local diamond on Friday afternoon.

Game time will be called at 3:30 o'clock.

Playing for Southern were Glaze, F. Colaw, T. Colaw, Sisler, Holtschneider, Sweitzer, Friend and Schaeffer.

With Our Men In The Service

Army Sgt. Robert E. Enlow, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Enlow, route 1, Accident, recently spent a seven-day rest and recuperation leave in Kobe, Japan. Sgt. Enlow, who arrived overseas last September, is normally stationed in Korea as a platoon sergeant with the 7th infantry division's 31st regiment. He entered the army in 1949 and was last stationed in Germany with the 22nd infantry regiment.

Mrs. Mamie Adams, of Oakland, received word that her son, Cpl. James Adams, of the 40th division medical corps, in Korea, would sail for home on April 10. Cpl. Adams has been in Korea for 18 months and was stationed at Camp Pickett, Va., ten months before going overseas.

Pvt. Harry C. Beckman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Beckman, Swanton, recently completed his basic training at Fort Knox, Ky. After spending a ten-day furlough with his parents he reported to Fort Sheridan, Ill., for assignment and was permanently assigned to clerical work at Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri.

Pvt. Edmund L. Butler, son of S. E. Butler, Oakland, and Pvt. Benjamin E. Field, son of Mrs. Gladys Field, Oakland, have completed their basic military training at Fort Jackson, South Carolina.

They are members of a unit which was designated to take part in an important training experiment by the department of the army. Men assigned to a platoon were kept together during training and are being assigned to new duty stations as a complete platoon, instead of individual replacements.

Army Pvt. Sylvan Warnick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Warnick, Route 2, Grantsville, is serving in Korea with the 71st Chemical Smoke Generator Company which was recently awarded the Meritorious Unit Commendation.

Warnick's unit screened bridges, roads, valleys and installations to prevent enemy observation of UN movements during the final months of the Korean conflict.

Private Warnick, a truck driver, entered the Army in July, 1953, and arrived overseas last December.

Dinner April 22 To Honor Governor

McKeldin Will Be in County To Attend Milk Producers' Meeting

A dinner honoring Governor Theodore R. McKeldin, will be held by the milk producers of the county on April 22, when he comes here to deliver an address at a milk producers' meeting in Northern High school gymnasium.

The dinner honoring the governor will be held at 5:30 p. m., on that day in Zion Ev. Lutheran church at Accident. Tickets for the dinner are limited and will be given on a first-come, first-served basis. The cost of the ticket will be $2 and may be procured from Allen S. "Dick" Paugh, of near Oakland.

The Milk Producers' meeting later that evening is being held in connection with a dairy show sponsored by the Garrett County health department, at Northern High school. Olonzo P. Fike, sanitarian for this county, will be chairman of the program.

A fifteen-minute concert at 7:30 will include members of both Northern and Southern High school bands.

Two addresses will be given by members of the Maryland Health department, "The Effects of Sanitation in Quality Milk Production," by C. S. Brinsfield, chief, division of food control; and "The Problem of Water and Sewerage on the Farm," by Robert M. Brown, chief, division of environmental hygiene.

Neil C. Fraley, state senator, will have some brief remarks before he introduces the governor.

Refreshments will be provided by the milk plants serving the area following the governor's address. A tour of the exhibits also will be made. William L. Gibson will be at the piano for group singing prior to the governor's talk.

Holy Week Services

The Union Services sponsored through the Lenten period by the Mountain Top Ministerial Association and which have been considered most successful, will be concluded with services during Holy Week as follows: Monday, April 12, Dr. Paul S. Parker will speak in St. Mark's Lutheran church on "We Follow the Christ—By Way of Discipline." The service on Tuesday evening, the 13, will be in the Church of the Nazarene with Dr. W. S. Patterson speaking on "By the Way of Decision." Dr. William J. Scarborough, President of West Virginia Wesleyan College, will preach in St. Paul's Methodist church on Wednesday evening, the 14th, on "By the Way of Consecration." The services on Thursday, the 15th, are being planned for the individual churches. On Good Friday, the 16th, the Union Good Friday service will be held from 12:00 noon until 3:00 in St. Paul's Methodist church. The meditations will be based on "The Seven Last Words from the Cross," with special Good Friday music by the choir of St. Paul's church.

DIED

WALTER F. GEORG

Walter Frederick Georg, 32, son of Alex and Catherine Georg, of near Oakland, died Thursday, April 1, in San Fernando, Calif.

Born April 1, 1922, in Accident, he entered the Army on February 5, 1945, and trained at Fort Meade before going to the Philippines to serve with a military police unit.

Honorably discharged December 15, 1946, Mr. Georg reenlisted on April 15, 1950 and was sent to Fort Belvoir, Va. Stationed in Korea for fourteen months, he was discharged April 18, 1953, with the grade of corporal.

Mr. Georg was a member of Zion Lutheran church, Accident, and Proctor Kildow Post No. 71, American Legion, of Oakland.

Surviving besides his parents are three brothers, Harold Georg, Accident; Howard Georg, Holgate, Ohio; and Randall Georg, Canton, O.; and a sister, Mrs. Fred Glotfelty, Oakland.

Funeral services were conducted on Tuesday afternoon, April 6, from Zion Lutheran church in Accident, by Rev. C. F. Dauphin, pastor. Interment was in the church cemetery at Accident. MARYLAND WILDLIFE

Prepared by the MARYLAND GAME AND INLAND FISH COMMISSION

COTTONTAIL RABBIT

(Sylvilagus floridanus. Derivation, "sylvilagus" from Greek and Latin meaning woods rabbit, and "floridanus" from Latin meaning of Florida.)

RANGE: Found in all sections of Maryland including town or country, more common in crop farming areas.

BREEDING: Breeds several times a year—first being as early as January and February. Four to seven born thirty days after breeding; hidden in hollowed fur-lined depression among vegetation; tiny, naked, helpless, each about four inches long; by two weeks run from nest. Mother makes nest and protects young. Life span to eight years, few live beyond 1 year because of predation; serves as a "buffer" for smaller rodents since larger meat-eating animals prey extensively on the cottontail.

HABITS: Usually when danger approaches will thump the ground with its hind feet to warn others of approaching danger.

MANAGEMENT: Food—a variety of plants including herbs, tree bark, and vegetables. Varies in numbers through years. Sheds fur in May-June again in September-October. Management practices includes field border and thicket plantings of woody shrubs, evergreen trees and shrubs, plot or strip plantings of grasses and legumes to provide winter food, nesting and escape cover. Brush piles along woods edges and small waste areas is desirable.

VALUE: Pest as crop and tree destroyer. Appeals to hunters for flesh and sport but carrier of tularemia; fortunately, few cases in Maryland. Fur used in manufacture of felt hats. Animals not profitably raised in captivity.

DeWITT S. HYDE

Top news this week is the Administration's bill to admit wiretapping as evidence in federal courts, cleared last week by the Judiciary Committee, of which I am a member, for floor debate.

It only applies to cases involving treason, sedition or subversive activities. Contrary to a widespread impression, wiretapping itself is not now illegal or unconstitutional. The Federal Communications Act does make it illegal to divulge information obtained from wiretapping. The current bill will change that law to make it okay to divulge the information in court.

This is not a new idea. Most states have laws permitting wire tap evidence in criminal cases. The Administration feels it needs such a law as a strong point in its new "get tough" policy regarding subversives.

J. Edgar Hoover, the FBI Director, says there are a number of incomplete espionage and treason cases which could go to grand juries with good results if the wiretap evidence concerning them could be used.

The House debate centers around a procedural matter—whether the Attorney General or a federal judge should be the one to sign an order permitting the wiretapping. Some have argued that individual rights will be better protected if the permission is sought from a court. But the Attorney General and the FBI feel this might take too long when a quick decision is necessary.

They're also afraid too many people would be in on the essential secret if the courts came into the picture. Weighing the arguments, and with slight misgivings, I have concluded that the way to tap wires to obtain evidence is with the express, written approval of the Attorney General.

This gives our law enforcement agencies another important scientific weapon in tracking down crime. We should remember that traitors and subversives use science, too, as shown in Attorney General Brownell's testimony about secret government documents having been microfilmed and processed for transmittal to Russian agents in a laboratory in the basement of a Treasury Department employee's home right here in Washington.

—o—

Reps. Small, Broyhill and myself failed last week in our attempt to secure an appropriation for a new veterans' hospital in Washington. It's badly needed, and we will try again at our earliest opportunity. . . . Friday night I'll attend the 25th anniversary dinner of the Landon School of Bethesda to help congratulate Paul Banfield, the founder. . . . Saturday Mrs. Hyde and I will be on hand for the Bethesda-Chevy Chase Izaak Walton League outing. . . . Wednesday the Oakland Girl Scouts will visit the Capital.

NEWS FROM THE Ruth Enlow Library

BY EDITH BROCK

The library will be closed all day on Friday, April 16, in observance of Good Friday. It will be open for the usual hours on Saturday, April 17.

The decorations in the young people's room include a large picture made by Mr. Bolyard's sixth grade at the Oakland Elementary school and Easter eggs colored with native dyes by Mr. Callis' class at the Mt. Lake Park school. Ceramics made by Mrs. Iman's first grade at the Kitzmiller school are displayed in this room. A book on transportation made at the Swan Meadow School by Mrs. Calhoun's pupils is also on exhibit.

A book in memory of Paul Friend, Sr., of Friendsville is being presented by Dr. and Mrs. H. R. Gibson.

Three well-known religious leaders of America have recently written books which are arousing interest among many readers. Norman Vincent Peale's "Power of Positive Thinking," although published in 1952, is now in great demand at bookstores and libraries all over the country. This book stresses the modern psychological application of fundamental Christian principles, illustrated by many examples from the experiences of people in all walks of life. "Life is Worth Living" is a collection of Bishop Fulton J. Sheen's television broadcasts. In these 26 telecasts, Bishop Sheen emphasizes the spiritual values in everyday living. In "Peace with God" the famous evangelist Billy Graham presents his message, speaking in simple terms of the way toward a better relationship with God and the peace that follows this acceptance.

Looks for More Consumer Buying of Milk Products

A report of the Carnation Milk plant given by Herbert S. Glenn, superintendent of the Oakland plant, indicated that the reduction in government price supports on dairy products would result in lower retail prices and an increase in consumer buying of dairy products.

He felt this would probably reflect in larger purchases of milk by America's dairy industry. Mr. Glenn reported that most of the $233,207,168 which the company spent for raw materials during 1953 was paid to farmers all over the nation for their milk and grain, or about 73½ cents of each dollar sales. The company's payroll put another $42,493,804 into circulation for about 13 1/3 cents on each sales dollar. The net income was 2¼ cents of each sales dollar.

No Real Cause For Alarm

BY GEORGE PECK

Chairman of the Board of the National Labor-Management Foundation and Executive Editor of its publication, "Partners."

The conflicting reports coming out of Washington these days about whether or not the slight recession which the nation is now undergoing will develop into a serious depression, are most confusing to the ordinary citizen. Not being an economist, I admit to being one of those who has been a bit bewildered. It would seem that it all depends upon which side of the Congressional aisle one sits, those on the Republican side are wearing rose-colored glasses, those on the Democratic view the situation with alarm.

The Republicans feel that if they are to maintain their slender majority in the House and improve their position in the Senate at the elections next November 2nd, the nation's economy must be hitting on all six. The Democrats know that if the slight recession is still only a slight recession when the voters go to the polls in November, they will not recapture the Congress.

Therefore, in trying to evaluate the situation, it is futile to accept the opinion of a politician. We must look to other sources. And what better source of information can one tap than to listen to the words and to view the performances of the men who are managing the nation's top industries?

The top-ranking executives of practically all of our largest industrial companies have made public pronouncements expressing their convictions that the recent slight increase in unemployment indicates only an adjustment period. Further, most of them feel positive that this falling-off of employment will be of short duration. And still further, they are backing up talk with action, are proceeding with plans for expansion of production.

As a case in point, General Motors plans to spend one billion dollars in the next year and half in expanding its production facilities. That is a mighty big bet to be wagering that the Prophets of Gloom either do not know whereof they speak, or are deliberately trying to scuttle the nation's economy for political reasons.

General Motors' management is not simply being blindly optimistic. That it has a real basis for its vote of confidence in America's immediate future is proved by a statement made in mid-February of this year by H. W. Anderson, Vice President of General Motors in regard to employment in that company's plants. These are the facts according to Mr. Anderson:

1. General Motors hourly employees in the U. S. are working more than 40 hours per week on the average.

2. The more than 170,000 hourly-rate G. M. employees in Michigan are also working on the average in excess of a 40-hour week. There are 20,000 more G. M. employees currently working in Michigan than there were working in February, 1953. There are 30,000 more G. M. employees working in the U. S. than there were doing so a year ago.

3. Many of G. M.'s automobile plants are working over-time, including some assembly operations. Some G. M. assembly operations are currently scheduled to work only between 32 and 40 hours per week, but G. M. management expects this to be temporary.

From the foregoing, it is small wonder that General Motors management sees no cause for alarm, but, on the contrary considers this a propitious time to expand.

Actually, if one looks carefully at the employment and unemployment figures for the past 20 years, the 59.8 million civilians who were at work in the U. S. as of February 1, 1954, with approximately 2.5 million unemployed, are cause for optimism rather than pessimism.

During the years 1933-1941, the monthly average of Americans gainfully employed was only 44.5 million, while those out of work averaged 9.5 million.

During World War 11—1942 to 1945—we had a monthly average of 53.8 million Americans at work, and 1.4 million out of work.

Between January, 1946, and December 31, 1953, the gainfully employed averaged 59.4 million and the unemployed 2.3 million.

And if these statistics do not convince you that things are not so bad, take the word of our elder statesman, former President Herbert Hoover, that prospects are bright. Addressing a meeting on Washington's Birthday he stated that there were none of the storm warnings visible that preceded the depression of the 1930's. Mr. Hoover's further statement that he is an expert on depressions was greeted with an outburst of laughter by his audience.

I believe I will string along with the thinking of this expert and the top brass of industry, by turning a deaf ear to calamity howlers who are trying to shout America into a depression. There seems to be no real cause for alarm.

Band Concert Is Set For Tonight

The annual spring band concert will be held Thursday, April 8, at 8:00 p. m., in the Southern High Gymnasium. There will be over 200 students taking part in this program. It will consist of the elementary students, beginners' band, Junior Band and Senior Band. The program for the Junior Band is: "Honor Band", "Trombone Tobogan", featuring the Junior Band trombone players; "Afrikonder Overture" and "Cathedral Hour," which is a tone poem.

The elementary students will play: "Lightly Row", "A Church Hymn", and "Twinkle, Twinkle Little Star".

The beginners' band will play the following: "Commander March" and "Choral and America."

The senior band will play the following: "Fairest of the Fair", "Gate City", featuring "Maryland, My Maryland", "Men of Ohio"; "Blue Tail Fly" featuring a square dance by the Junior and Senior band majorettes; "Si, Si"; "Trocadero", which is a mombo and which features the drum section; "Little Brown Jug Goes to Town", which features all sections of the band; and "Coronation Overture", which will also be played at Martinsburg for the Band Festival.

The orchestra will play three selections which are as follows: "Honey", "Talk of the Town", and "A Pretty Girl Is Like A Melody"; "Triumphal March From Aida."

The Senior and Junior bands combined will play "Front and Center" and "The Star Spangled Banner."

New Labeling Plan For Rayons, Acetates

Be on the look-out for a new labelling plan for rayons and acetates. It's set up on the traffic light system—green, yellow and red—to indicate how to wash or clean the fabrics.

According to clothing specialist Helen Shelby, the plan is on a voluntary basis and some fabric manufacturers have already put the new standard into effect. The establishment of this standard gives confidence to the consumer since the cost of upkeep of clothing is as important as the figures on the price tag, Miss Shelby says.

The new standard calls for tags with color indicators. A green stripe means "Washable." Go ahead and wash the fabric as you like—by hand or by machine. Use any good soap or detergent in water not over 160 degrees.

A yellow stripe means caution. The fabric is washable but be careful. Handwash with suds in a mild soap or detergent. Water not more than 100 degrees must be used.

A red stripe indicates that there is danger ahead if you try washing. Dry cleaning is recommended.

Light Vote Cast At Grantsville

Only 47 voters turned out in Grantsville's annual municipal election Monday afternoon.

Lee Beachy, unopposed for mayor, was re-elected with a total of 42 votes.

Clinton McKenzie, candidate for re-election to council, easily retained his seat with 39 votes. Only one vote spelled the difference between victory and defeat for the two remaining council candidates. Successful was Harry Hoover with 24 votes, while Adam A. Hanft was counted out with 23 tallies.

Holdover council members who have another year to serve are Luther Hoff, William Biddington and John Hershberger.

The council will organize next Monday night.

CRELLIN

Rev. and Mrs. Murry Titus, missionaries in India for forty-one years, conducted services in the Crellin church last Sunday afternoon. Rev. and Mrs. Titus are well known throughout the country. They returned from India in 1951.

Revival services will start on Sunday evening, April 11, in the Crellin church and will continue until after Easter. Everyone is invited. Rev. Don Jackson, Methodist minister, and Rev. Edsil Bragg, Ev. United Brethren minister, will deliver the sermons.

Saturday evening dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Calhoun at Terra Alta, were Mr. and Mrs. Herman Welch, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jordon and family, George Knotts, Crellin; Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Calhoun, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Calhoun and family, Terra Alta; and Cpl. and Mrs. Kenneth Knotts, New Orleans, La.

Mrs. Theodore Henline has been ill at her home here for a week, also two of her children.

George Edwards, of Grantsville, visited Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Shaffer Friday evening.

Normal Amounts Of Methoxychlor Not Secreted In Milk

Pasture and hay crops sprayed with recommended amounts of methoxychlor for insect control will not harm dairy cows that feed on the treated forage nor will it be excreted in their milk, according to John Dietrich, University of Maryland Extension dairyman.

Dietrich says that methoxychlor has been tested in experiments carried out by the U. S. Department of Agriculture at Beltsville, Md.

In one of a series of experiments designed to test the effects of various new organic insecticides, alfalfa hay containing methoxychlor residues ranging from 16 to 109 parts per million was fed to dairy cows for periods of 40 to 80 days. This concentration of methoxychlor equals the maximum amount likely to be encountered on forage treated for insect control.

Samples of milk from the cows were analyzed at 10-day intervals. No methoxychlor could be detected in the milk.

In another series of tests methoxychlor was fed at much higher concentrations and compared with normal residues of DDT. When a normal application of DDT is made to pasture the insecticide is detectable in the milk of cows feeding on the pasture. Approximately 100 times as much methoxychlor as DDT must be fed for it to be detectable in milk.

Dietrich recommends that farmers be on the safe side when methoxychlor is used on pasture and hold dairy cows off the pasture for seven days after the insecticide is applied.

The Extension dairyman emphasizes that DDT is not recommended for control of insects on pasture and hay crops for dairy cattle, or as a spray for fly control on dairy cattle. If DDT is consumed by cows or sprayed on their bodies, the insecticide is absorbed and secreted in the milk.

Dietrich points out that proper use of insecticides can increase forage yields up to 50 percent, and reminds farmers that we need all the forage we can get in this area.

SWALLOW FALLS

Members of the Radio Group of Echoes from the chapel will present an Easter play, "In The Shadow of the Cross," on Friday evening, April 16, at 7:45 p. m., in the Pine Grove Church of the Brethren. Everyone welcome.

"Thinclads" Train For Spring Events

The track team at Southern High School, piloted by Coach Tom Stevenson, has begun its spring practice. At the present time there is no fixed schedule, but Coach Stevenson is trying to get a couple of meets in Pennsylvania and the area around Cumberland. There will be no entries in pole vaulting or the hurdles in any of the meets.

From last year's track and cross country team the following boys are out for practice: Richard Deems, Delbert Bittinger, Pete Johnson, Don Glaze, Dave Benner, Charles Mason, Harold Dove, Jack DeWitt, Dennis Colaw, and Bill Savage. The following are out for the first time: Jimmy Rechard, Harold Harsh, Bob Waller, John Marple, Connie Savage, and Dale Schlossnagle.

It Runs Through My Mind

BY POLLY J. HANST

It's The Man In Him

We can't have everything in life but one of the things I've felt I was left out of was not having a mother-in-law. Now, I know that word brings smiles to many and a joke is usually close behind. But I've felt the lack. Always thought I could run to her about my husband's short-comings and after I poured out my tale of woe she would still love him as much as ever but would have understanding for me too.

I'd expect her to say, "I know just how you feel, he's just like his dad."

Not having that privilege we sisters-in-law occasionally let out to one another and we always conclude, "It's just the Hanst in him."

Well, did I get taken back! I have been delving into masculine and feminine behavior and have discovered that the things that disturb me most about my husband are just the man in him.

A good half of the trouble is because I am a woman.

Just Because

Just take the "because" which we use to explain everything. Woman does most all her reasoning with intuition which is enough to put the logical thinking man on his tin ear. He cannot understand why she always changes her mind. But wouldn't it be silly to have a mind and not be able to change it? After all, we do change it for the better—nearly always.

Man charges that he can never please a woman and wonders why she may be more thrilled with a clump of trailing arbutus than an orchid on Easter Sunday (never noticing that an orchid doesn't do well with a tangerine colored coat.) He may read over and over that it's the little things that make women happy—yet he will continue to neglect them and work his fingers to the bone to please her with automobiles and television sets.

—o—

Men Could Be Smarter

With all their brain and know-how men aren't too smart in a lot of ways.

For instance, take window shopping. Now, woman craves companionship, and nothing does her soul so much good as shopping. To be able to move from window to window of a large department store locked arms with her dearly beloved, is a joy almost as great as wearing the gorgeous apparel herself.

But man just charges at the bit and can see no reason for looking at things when you have no intentions of buying them. If he'd charge less at the bit she's charge less on her account for a good spree of window shopping will satisfy an urgent urge in her.

Woman is usually the thriftier of the two so it's the smart man who lets her share the bank account. She has less urge to spend when she knows it's hers too.

—o—

Take The Easter Bonnet

How many men ever say, "Honey, I think you need a new hat for Easter." Now if he'd say that it would thrill the "little woman" to the marrow in the bones.

He'll reason, "if she wants a new hat she'll get it anyway," or "she ought to know when she needs a hat." (As if there was ever a time she didn't NEED one.) Since he's so good at reasoning why can't he reason a little further and see how happy it makes her just to have him suggest it.

Just Because

But nature didn't make all the masculine and feminine traits to jar. Many of them work together for harmony. And in spite of what we say about the males we know there are farm women who place their windows so they can see their men folk come and go at the barn. Others who get a lift every time the car turns in the drive, or hear footsteps on the walk—and if they were asked why that is—they'd all say, "just because"—and that's reason enough for any woman.

—o—

Now men, don't get discouraged if you don't measure up to these masculine traits—it could be that you've just learned the ropes.

—o—

When license plates from all the states have been collected, what cereal will we next eat?

MARRIED

Harman-Thomas—A beautiful wedding was solemnized in the Lutheran church, Cove, on Sunday, April 4, at 2:30 p. m., when Miss Beulah Catherine Harman became the bride of Paul C. Thomas, both of Cove. Rev. M. C. Franke performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Harman. Mr. Thomas is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Thomas, all of Cove.

The altar vases were filled with snapdragons and carnations.

Miss Louise Dillon at the organ played a medley of hymns as the bride entered the church. Mrs. Connell Chaney sang "A Wedding Prayer," "O Perfect Love" and "Whither Thou Goest."

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and wore a gown of white satin and nylon net with a lace jacket. Her fingertip veil fell from a halo with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses and an orchid satin streamer.

Her maid of honor was her twin sister, Miss Bertha Harman. She wore a gown of soft pink satin with nylon net and lace jacket and matching head piece of rosebuds, and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

The bride's mother wore navy blue and a corsage of white carnations.

Mr. Thomas chose as best man his only brother, Mr. Hubert Thomas.

Ushers were Fred Bentz and Homer Reichenbaker.

A reception was held in the church social room. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Henry Glass, Mrs. Clarence Glass and Mrs. Harvey Harman. A wedding cake was the centerpiece of the table. The cake was served by Miss Louise Dillon.

Mrs. Thomas is a graduate of the Accident High school, class of 1948, and at present is a member of the cafeteria staff at Northern High school. Mr. Thomas is employed in Garrett county roads work.

Following a honeymoon to Washington, D. C., to see the cherry blossoms and other places in the East, the young couple will be in their new home at Cove.

For her going away outfit Mrs. Thomas wore a navy blue two-piece dress with a white orchid and black accessories.

Listen Americans!

BY GEORGE S. BENSON
President of Harding College

A group of 50 people sat in a small private motion picture preview room in New York City recently. They watched intently as a sound-slide film entitled "The Future of America" was given its national preview. At the end of the 25-minute presentation, a man sitting near the rear of the room turned to the person on his right. "This story makes me a piker," he said. "I've been uncertain about our economic future, and so I've been holding back on building a new home. Now I'm going ahead and build."

The thing that had eased his uncertainty about America's economic future was the dramatized story of our dynamic economy, the measure of its continuing growth, its unlimited frontiers with their ever-widening opportunities for all Americans.

Here are some of the facts: In 1953 there were 4,000,000 babies born in the U. S. A. That's a record. And our people are living longer than ever before. By 1960 our population will be approximately 180,000,000. Constantly more jobs are being created. Total employment, including agriculture, was 62,000,000 in September, 1953. This is 17,000,000 more jobs than existed in 1939.

Although our population has had a net shift of almost six million away from the farms since 1940, we have at the same time increased our farm production to higher levels than ever before. We have 80 per cent more high school graduates in our population than in 1940. School enrollment totaled 32,796,000 last year. College enrollment has increased 55 per cent since 1940.

We're making great technological progress. Today only five per cent of the work is manual; 95 per cent is done by machine. We're eating better. We're drinking 18 per cent more milk per person, eating 33 per cent more eggs, and 5 per cent more meat, fish and poultry per person than we were at the end of World War II. Forty-million Americans this year will get paid vacations. We have entered the Atomic Age and are witnessing a miraculous advance in industrial chemistry.

When all the facts are reviewed our citizens can be enthusiastic about the economic potential of our nation. There is only one big IF in the picture. These advances are sure to come IF we safeguard the basic elements of the American private enterprise system and give it the freedom and incentives that keep its life and strength surging forward.

Kidney Slow-Down May Bring Restless Nights

When kidney function slows down, many folks complain of nagging backache, headaches, dizziness and loss of pep and energy. Don't suffer restless nights with these discomforts if reduced kidney function is getting you down—due to such common causes as stress and strain, over-exertion or exposure to cold. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

To Plan Air Force Academy in 1955

The air force has announced plans for the Air Force Academy which was recently authorized by an Act of Congress. It plans to activate the Academy on an existing air force base as soon as practicable, and the first class of 300 cadets will be enrolled in July, 1955, it was announced by DeWitt S. Hyde, congressman from the sixth district.

The number of vacancies allocated to each state is proportionate to the representation in Congress, and Maryland is allocated four vacancies for the first class.

Each member of Congress from Maryland is authorized to nominate not to exceed ten persons who shall be eligible to compete for these vacancies. Based on competitive examinations, appointments shall be made from among qualified candidates in order of merit, according to Mr. Hyde.

Detailed information concerning the nomination and selection of candidates is being prepared and will be furnished in the near future. Any young man interested in entering the air force academy may write to Mr. Hyde, House of Representatives, Washington, D. C., and he will furnish information as soon as released by the air force.

New York's longest and costliest waterfront strike ended as wage-hungry longshoremen returned to work. They were out 20 days and cost the port $500 million.

ALSO HAS COUNCIL—The Oakland Elementary School annex, now housed in the old Oakland High school building, 4th and Green streets, also has a student council of its own. Recently, the student council at the Elementary school was shown. This week we show, seated left to right: Terry Colaw, Barbara Snyder, James Callis, Georgia Ann Glotfelty, Paul Clary, Carolyn Spoerlein, George Glotfelty, Bonnie Shaffer, Wellington Frazee and Sue Martin.

Nominate Officers For P.-T.A. Group

Officers in the Oakland Elementary school Parent-Teacher association were nominated at the regular meeting of the group on Monday evening. Election will be held at the meeting on May 3.

Those nominated for president are Robert Forshey, Howard White, James Bell, Jr., and Mrs. Floyd Custer. One of these will become vice-president following the election next month.

Nominees for secretary are Mrs. Robert Ault and Mrs. Robert Orr. Nominees for treasurer are Willard Elliott and Mrs. Wilbur Close.

Officers this year are C. W. Englander, Mrs. Robert T. Hoffman, Mrs. Fred Burgwald and Mrs. William Martin.

The nominating committee included Charles L. Briner, Harry Coddington, Mrs. Fred Tichnell, Mrs. Wilbur Close and Mrs. R. Kight.

The program Monday night was a continuation of a report on the school program by the elementary teachers.

FFBL Families Have Only Short Time To Enroll

Garrett County farm families who wish to enroll in this year's Farming for Better Living program must get their name into the county agricultural agent's office during the next two weeks, S. T. Naylor, chairman of the Garrett County Farming for Better Living Council, stated yesterday.

Farmers who enroll, he explained, will want to have their 1954 Farming for Better Living booklet on hand before the beginning of the crop year. The book explains the best farming practices adaptable to Garrett County for the various enterprises. Books have already been mailed to the 75 families already enrolled. Those families who are enrolled in the program will compete for the champion family award to be given at a banquet in November for those families who complete the project. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hummel, Grantsville, were last year's winners.

Enrollment cards may be obtained from County Agent, John Carter, or any of the other agricultural workers in the county.

Accident Personals

The Young Peoples Group of the Church of the Brethren will present an Easter pageant in the Accident school auditorium, Sunday evening, April 11, at 8 o'clock. The public is invited.

To The Taxpayers of Garrett County Who Have Not Paid Their 1953 Taxes:

Chapter 382, Section 108 of the Acts of 1947, passed by the Legislature, provides a new law for the collection of delinquent taxes as follows:

It shall be the duty of the Treasurer to enforce the payment of all taxes remaining unpaid on the first day of April in the year succeeding that in which the same shall have been levied provided the notice required by the preceding section shall have been given if the taxes be due and owing upon real property or upon real and personal property, the said taxes shall be a lien on said real property and said real property shall be liable for the payment thereof in whatsoever manner or to whomsoever the same may be assessed until paid, and the Treasurer shall be authorized to enforce the payment thereof in the manner hereinafter prescribed by a sale of either real or personalty: etc.

As you will note, this law makes it mandatory upon me, as the Treasurer of Garrett County to collect all delinquent taxes of 1953 during April, 1954.

If there is any reason why you believe this collection should not be enforced on your property during April please contact me at the Court House.

Failure to contact me or to pay the taxes, past due, will constitute a desire on your part for such enforced collection through sale as outlined in the law.

Betrayal

Lesson for April 11, 1954

THERE would have been no crucifixion if there had been no betrayal. At this Good Friday season, it may help us (though it cannot be pleasant) to think a while about the betrayal of Jesus. We never understand the story of the Cross when we think of it as simply a historic event, something that happened once long ago, to other people. "Were you there when they crucified my Lord?" the old song asks. Yes, but not only at Calvary—we were in the Garden of Gethsemane, we took part in the betrayal. For the betrayal of Jesus by Judas is a picture of the way each of us has at some time or other betrayed the Master. Judas was not alone.

Dr. Foreman

Judas Didn't Do Much

The betrayal was such a tremendous thing, really, yet perhaps to Judas at first it did not seem like much. We wonder why Judas could ever have done such a crime, and the answer may be that Judas did not think of it as a crime, beforehand. No doubt the men of the Sanhedrin urged that point on him. We can imagine hearing them say: "Now, Judas, why not? We are not asking you to do anything. All we are after is one fact. Where can we find this Jesus of Nazareth after hours? Where does he spend his nights? We aren't asking you to arrest him, or to strike him or hurt him a particle. All we want is information. What we do with the information, what happens afterwards,—that isn't your affair. Your Master may turn out to be quite innocent of all the charges going around. You'd like to see him cleared, wouldn't you? We'll give him a trial; you surely don't object to justice being done! All we ask of you is one little thing: just tell us where to find him."

They All Forsook Him

Let it be repeated: Judas was not alone. All the apostles had sworn loyalty, and Peter in particular. But given the chance to escape from that garden, they made the most of it. We are told that they ALL forsook him and fled. Every disciple running away into the shadows was just as truly denying Jesus as was Simon Peter there in the courtyard by the fire. Every sound of running feet growing fainter in the distance was just as sickening a sound as was Judas' kiss. Judas was the first traitor but none failed to follow his example. So it is with us. Like Judas, we don't intend to betray Jesus,—we who are Christians. Yet every sin is a turning of the back on him. Every sin is a betrayal of trust. Every sin is the same as saying, "I do not know Jesus." Every sin is a going over to Jesus' enemies. It is lining up with the forces that would destroy Jesus and all that he stood for. Jesus has many friends in the world today, but he also has many enemies. And sin of every sort simply helps Jesus' enemies and hurts Jesus and his cause. Like Judas, we seldom realize what we are getting into, at first. Smooth tongues can make evil look almost benevolent. It was not hard to rope Judas in. Do we, too, make easy victims for the devil?

Judas, Too Late

D. L. Moody's imaginative story tells much of the meaning of the Cross. Christ had just told his disciples to preach the gospel to every creature. "To every creature?" protests Peter. "I saw a soldier cram a garland of thorns down on your forehead till it bled . . . to him?" "Yes," replies Jesus' too him. Tell him that blood was shed for him, too." "To every creature?" asks Peter. "I saw a soldier strike his spear into your side when you were helpless in the very moment of death . . . preach to him?" "Yes," answers the Lord, "to him, too. Tell him there is a nearer way to my heart than that." To every creature—yes, but not to Judas. For him it was too late. Why was it, so many ask, that Judas was not forgiven, while Peter was? Was not Peter also a betrayer? Of course he was. But the difference was that Peter came back to Jesus, but Judas never did. The Christian church believes that Christ died for our sins, and not for ours only but for the sins of the whole world. Yet there are those whom the sacrifice of Christ on the cross does not save. Christ did not save Judas, it is true. But whose was the fault?

Thy KING Cometh

Amid joyous hosannas and waving of palm branches, He rode into the city of Jerusalem, past these same walls which are standing today.

Long ago in ancient Palestine, the prophet had heralded the coming of a king. But now few thought it more than the usual procession of some new earthly ruler. Yet no king ever came as He came. No king ever built such a kingdom.

This was the King of Heaven who rode into the hearts of men and built there a Kingdom of Love!

They crucified Him, but death could not stop His coming. He comes in every age to all who will believe. He comes to you.

Go to church this Palm Sunday, for "thy king cometh." Let the King of Heaven ride into your heart.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

United States Senator from Maryland

Existence of hydrogen bombs capable of devastating the largest cities in the world has now been confirmed.

To those of us who once considered the atom as indestructible, and used the phrase "smashing atoms" only as an exaggerated comparison, the reality of seemingly unlimited power is difficult to accept.

Yet we must not only accept the existence of such power, realizing its potential for war or peace, but also accept the burden of responsibility among the free nations for producing and utilizing this new power.

Military secrecy keeps most of us from learning very much about this new form of energy, and nine years after the first bomb was dropped we still regard the atom as primarily a military weapon and have little concept of its peacetime uses.

Our national security depended on keeping atomic information from the Soviet Union, and after they achieved the capacity of constructing an atomic bomb this government immediately proceeded with research into the possibilities of a hydrogen bomb.

Reports from the test areas in the Pacific, elaborated on at a Presidential press conference by Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, are that the new H-Bomb compares to the atomic roughly the way the old TNT explosive did to the atomic bomb.

The most encouraging part of Mr. Strauss' statement was his conclusion, "Finally, I would say that one important result of these hydrogen bomb developments has been the enhancement of our military capability to the point where we should soon be more free to increase our emphasis on the peaceful uses of atomic power—at home and abroad. It will be a tremendous satisfaction to those who have participated in this program that it has hastened that day."

President Eisenhower in his address at the United Nations pointed the way to peaceful uses of atomic energy and Mr. Strauss' statement shows that, because of the rapid work done in development of the A-Bomb and the H-Bomb, the day when this newly discovered energy can be used for other than warlike purposes is much nearer at hand.

The taxpayers would have been reluctant to finance, and the government hesitant to sponsor, a costly research project which had no promise of success except through the pressure of war—the fact that we did spent the billions and billions necessary produced a military weapon now vital to our defense, and as President Eisenhower said in his message to Congress, industrial power from atomic energy sources "is clearly in sight—largely a matter of further research and development, and the establishment of conditions in which the spirit of enterprise can flourish."

So far we have considered and used the potential power of the atom as a military weapon. Mr. Strauss has now said that we are approaching the day when our military requirements will be met.

Atomic power—developed under the impetus of war—has now been perfected to the stage where we can build a bomb to do any job desired. We must now realize its peacetime potential.

President Eisenhower has submitted recommendations to Congress which would encourage and speed the domestic development of atomic energy. His recommendations will, he said "Help make it possible for American atomic energy development, public and private, to play a full and effective part in leading mankind into a new era of progress and peace."

The day we ride on a train driven from power from the atom, or flick a switch and use electricity which comes from an atomic power plant, we will undoubtedly be much better equipped to accept the realities of the atomic age.

To Note Anniversary of Vocational Rehabilitation

April 2 marked the 25th anniversary of the signing of Maryland's Vocational Rehabilitation act, and the State Board of Education is planning to take special recognition of the occasion in a public ceremony in the Lord Baltimore hotel on April 12, at 6:30 p. m.

Principal address will be by Charles E. Potter, U. S. Senator from Michigan, a double amputee of World War II. Governor McKeldin and Dr. Thomas G. Pullen, Jr., state superintendent of schools, will also speak.

During the first year a total of 113 disabled persons were served. This past year more than 7,000 disabled persons were served, with 1,000 of them being rehabilitated into full-time employment after they had received vocational training.

Colleges were advised to prepare for twice as many students by 1970.

Extension Meetings

Extension meetings for the week were announced by Miss Ethel Grove, home demonstration agent.

Mars Hill, April 13, 1:30 p. m., at the home of Mrs. Guy Stanton; Deer Park club, same day at 8 p. m.; McHenry club, April 14, 1:30 p. m., at home of Mrs. Arthur Savage; April 15, Friendsville club, 8 p. m., at home of Mrs. Ransler Sisler.

Loch Lynn 4-H club at 7 p. m., in the Ev. U. B. aid hall on April 14.

Officials of Puerto Rico vigorously condemned the shooting of U.S. Congressmen by Puerto Rican extremists as an act of savagery.

Sharing With Others

A famous American writer has said that it is possible for each of us to live more than one life. Yet, how is that possible, you ask? By the fact that we have the privilege of entering into the lives of our friends and those with whom we come in contact, by sharing with them the strengths and truths we have found in our own lives.

By this process of sharing our lives with others, we make our own lives more complete, more meaningful. Think back to a time when you shared with others some of the good things of life you possessed, and they did not. You helped another over a hurdle in life's journey, which had been easy for you, but for him it was very difficult. You found a sense of joy and satisfaction in helping him, and your own life was happier, more complete. I am sure if you have done that, you will know just what I mean.

At the time of my mother's death, I received a letter of sympathy from a former teacher of mine in High School. I had not seen nor heard from him in twenty-five years, yet he remembered and wanted to share with me something of himself. He wrote a long and interesting letter, recalling our happy days together as teacher and student. That letter I consider one of my treasures.

Some time ago, I made a professional visit to a man in another state. The family had just moved into a lovely, new home. After our professional visit was over, he suggested to his wife that she show me through their new home. This lovely, gracious lady shared with me her art treasures on the wall, her beautiful things, many from a foreign country. She had never seen me before, yet she wanted to share something of herself with me.

Dr. Laubauch, who has probably taught more people to read than any other man who ever lived, has a method by which each literate person helps him carry on his work, by having "each one teach one." By this method of sharing, he carries on his literacy campaign faster.

However, there are some things we should not share. They are our doubts, our fears, our misgivings. Telling them to others actually helps to magnify them in our own minds.

We should share only the good things, the positive things. Our Christian faith, our belief in the right, are things to be shared. When we share them, they become greater and stronger.

When we have tried to develop this ability to share with others, we discover one of the secrets of an abundant life. Our most valuable possessions are those which can be shared without lessening, those which when shared, multiply.

"All who joy would win, Must share it. Happiness was born a twin."

Eisenhower termed North Atlantic Treaty organization as symbolizing the unity of free men in an age of peril.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

Copyright by The Baltimore Sun and reprinted in The Republican by permission.

Trying To Pull Ike Down

General Ike is not making the sort of President a considerable number of persons care for and these are vigorously voicing criticism of him and his Administration. It pours out in a fairly steady stream in the press and over the air seven days a week. It covers about everything the President has done, has not done, plans to do or plans not to do. It is disseminated not only in all parts of this country but quite widely abroad.

—o—

A good many of the President's friends in all sections are disturbed by this hostile flood. And it is not surprising. Naturally, it depresses them to read or hear that the President in whose character and courage they so deeply believe has turned into a weakling, unable to supply the leadership to which the nation and his party are entitled; that he is under the sinister influence of big business, indifferent to the plight of the farmer and the working man, utterly ignorant of politics, bewildered by the problems that confront him. Nor is it pleasing to be informed that he is "afraid of McCarthy," who, it is charged, is trying to control the Republican party and nominate himself in 1956. Or that General Ike has "surrendered" to this or that malign element.

These are a few of the major allegations which have been spread since his inauguration. Another is that while he has presented a constructive program to Congress he will not be able to get any of it through. If these allegations were founded in fact, there would really be cause for general alarm. If in this critical period the United States had at its head so spineless, uninformed and craven a man as the anti-Eisenhower propagandists depict we would, indeed, be in a tragic state.

There are two reasons that make all these inimical allegations ridiculous. One is that no evidence or proof to sustain them is presented. They are clearly charges made by partisan people for partisan purposes. In many instances those who sponsor them do not believe them. The second reason they are ridiculous is because none of them at any time or anywhere come from any person or source which was not thoroughly anti-Eisenhower and pro-Stevenson during the 1952 campaign. This is a very pregnant and significant fact. It ought to comfort the disturbed friends of the President and it ought to throw an illuminating light upon the character of the campaign. So far as can be recalled no person of substance or standing who voted for General Ike in 1952 has made any public criticism of him or said he would not vote for him in 1956. Inasmuch as he had a majority of nearly 7,000,000 and carried 40 of the 48 states last time, this would seem to indicate he has lost no ground with the American people.

Why, then, is this anti-Eisenhower program disturbing? And from whom does it come? The answer is that the majority of the widely syndicated columnists out of Washington are original New Dealers. They were strongly pro-Roosevelt and pro-Truman and now pro-Stevenson. They were almost without exception against Mr. Eisenhower in 1952, and they are equally without exception trying to damage the President so that the so-called intellectual eggheads can triumph with Stevenson in 1956. They did not have much influence two years ago and there is no reason to believe they will have any more two years hence. But no one can say they are not trying. To them must be added the radio commentators. Nearly all of these were favorites of the Roosevelt New Deal Deal. They long for a return to the days when they had the run of the White House and were more or less looked upon as "presidential aides."

Of course, too, there is the slick Mr. Mitchell and his Democratic National Committee publicity agents. Also the A.D.A. (Americans for Democratic Action), which embraces many talented demagogues and a well-financed publicity staff. And there are, likewise, the publicity-seeking senators such as Monroney, of Oklahoma; Humphrey, of Minnesota, and Douglas, of Illinois. More important than all, however, is the labor union propaganda. Both the CIO and the AFL maintain expensive and elaborate publicity bureaus. Hardly a week goes by that they do not produce one or two major attacks upon the Administration.

In cost and in volume the anti-Eisenhower propaganda is many times as great as the pro-Eisenhower and the Republicans are able to produce. So true is this that often Democratic charges go unanswered. This ought not to be the case, but it is. Yet, in 15 months there has been no real diminution in Eisenhower's support in the country. Despite the efforts to disparage him, the voters seem to be standing by him pretty sturdily. Some of the more clear-headed of the Eisenhower detractors admit discouragement over this—but offer no explanation.

Candidates Announce

Announcement of candidates for nomination at the primary election to be held in Garrett County on Monday, June 28, will be published in this column until immediately prior to the above date.

Rates for inserting these announcements, not to exceed three inches, are as follows:

State Senator, $35; Member House of Delegates, $35; Clerk of the Circuit Court, $30; Register of Wills, $30; Sheriff, $25; State's Attorney, $25; County Treasurer, $25; County Commissioner, $20; Judges of the Orphans' Court, $10; County Surveyor, $10; Members of the State Central Committee, $10.

Photography of candidates, to be used in conjunction with their weekly advertisements, extra according to the space used.

Advertising other than formal announcement would be at the regular advertising rate of 70 cents per column inch, payable in advance.

CLERK OF CIRCUIT COURT

To the Citizens of Garrett County:

I am a Candidate for re-nomination as Clerk of the Circuit Court for Garrett County, subject to the coming Primary Election.

I feel that the experience that I have attained in the past 7½ years as your Clerk and the eight years previously as Deputy Clerk, fully qualifies me to capably handle the duties required of such an important and exacting Office. I will continue, as in the past, to conduct the Office according to law and to be helpful and courteous to all.

I respectfully solicit your support in the coming Primary Election.

Richard L. Davis.
—Adv. 5*

REGISTER OF WILLS

To the Voters of Garrett County:

In announcing my candidacy for renomination for Register of Wills for Garrett County, a position which I have filled for a number of years, I do so in the belief that those years of experience better qualify me to render efficient service in the duties and responsibilities of the office. If reelected it shall be my pleasure to continue to be helpful to all persons having business to transact through the Orphans' Court and I shall be grateful for your support.

Sincerely yours,
Vernie R. Smouse.
—Adv. 5*

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County:

I hereby announce as a candidate for the office of County Commissioner of Garrett County.

Inasmuch as I live in Election District No. 10, under the present system of electing County Commissioners I will represent the first County Commissioner District if nominated and elected to the office which I seek. At the present time, I am a member of the Orphans' Court of this county.

I have lived in Garrett County all of my life, am a farmer, have been interested in a number of business and other organizations and believe that I have a pretty thorough knowledge of affairs in our county and what should be done for its improvement and well being.

If nominated and elected, I will give careful attention to the duties and demands of the office and to the best of my ability will serve all of the people of the county alike.

I respectfully solicit the support of all Republicans at the primary.

Harry F. Paugh
—Adv. 5t*

To the Voters of Garrett County:

I hereby announce as candidate for the office of County Commissioner of Garrett County.

I have been a life-long resident of Garrett County, living in District No. 14.

If nominated and later elected to this office, I have but one promise to make—that I will serve the people of my county to the best of my ability.

My motto is, I realize no one can please everybody, but I can keep on trying.

I respectfully solicit your support.

H. D. "Hub" Swartzentruber.
—Adv. 1*

To all Voters of Garrett County:

I hereby announce as a candidate for the office of County Commissioner of Garrett County.

I have lived in Election District No. 13, in Garrett County all of my life. I have always been a Republican and I am now serving my third year as one of the Trial Magistrates of Garrett County.

If nominated and elected, I will to the best of my ability serve all the people of Garrett County alike.

I respectfully solicit your support.

Dwight A. Barrick
County Commissioner
District No. 1
—Adv. 2*

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County:

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of County Commissioner subject to the results of the Republican primary.

Born and reared on a farm near Grantsville. I have lived in Garrett county practically all of my life. I purchased my first farm in District No. 5 in 1923. I believe my experience in the Farm Bureau, Soil Conservation and other organization work will be of great help in administering the duties of this office.

If nominated and elected I shall give just and honest consideration of all matters pertaining to the duties of this office.

I sincerely solicit your support and influence.

Foster Yost
District No. 5
—Adv. 2*

FOR COUNTY TREASURER

To the Republican Voters:

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of County Treasurer, subject to the results of the Republican primary election, and earnestly solicit the support of all the citizens of the county.

I have been a resident of Mt. Lake Park for twenty-nine years and have had bookkeeping and administrative experience for the past twenty-four years which I feel qualifies me to fill satisfactorily the office I seek. For the past four years I have been in the office of the County Roads engineer.

I pledge an honest and efficient administration in the duties of the treasurer's office should I be nominated and later elected.

Joseph H. Welch,
Mt. Lake Park
District 16
—Adv. 5t*

FOR SHERIFF

I hereby announce myself as a candidate on the Republican ticket to succeed myself for the office of Sheriff of Garrett county.

My entire life has been spent in Garrett county, mostly in District No. 2, and I have endeavored to carry out the duties of the office without fear or partiality. Having served in this capacity for four years, and previous to that time as your deputy sheriff, I feel that I am in a position to render the type of service which the citizens of our county should expect from this office.

If renominated and reelected I pledge my full effort to the work connected with the sheriff's office. I shall be grateful for your support.

Paul W. Fisher
District No. 2
—Adv. 2*

To the Democratic Voters of Garrett County:

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of Sheriff of Garrett County, Maryland.

I have been a life long resident of Garrett County, and for sixteen years have worked in and around the coal mines of our county. For the last four years I have been employed by the B. & O. railroad.

I, Lee McRobie, do hereby promise an honest and efficient administration, if I am nominated and later elected to the office.

Lee (Doll) McRobie
Election District No. 13
—Adv. 3*

DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE

To the Democratic Voters of Garrett County:

I hereby announce my candidacy for the position of member of the Democratic State Central Committee, subject to the primary election on June 28.

I am a resident of Accident, Election district No. 5, where I have been in the employ of the Potomac Edison company.

If named to this office I will carry out the duties incumbent upon me in a fair and impartial manner and with interest to the Democratic constituents of the county.

Lawrence "Davey" Sellers
—Adv. 6*

Lower Excise Taxes Benefit Phone Users

The effect of Federal excise tax reductions on Oakland telephone users was explained today by R. K. Dayton, local C. and P. manager.

"The lower excise tax rates went into effect for both local and long distance service on April 1," Dayton said, "which means that Oakland subscribers will see the first reductions on their April bills."

The Federal excise tax rate was formerly 15% on local service and long distance calls up to 25c. On call of 25c and over, a 25% tax rate applied. The flat 10% rate now applies on monthly service charges as well as local and long distance calls.

It was explained that the change does not apply to the operating taxes paid by the company from its revenues. These taxes amounted to $25.97 per Maryland Customer in 1953.

According to Dayton the reductions "will mean, for example, an immediate saving of about $20.00 a year for a businessman in Oakland who has individual line service and averages $10.00 per month for out of town calls." Residence users will benefit proportionately.

As a result, he said, general business activity in the community will intend to increase as telephone usage increased, especially on long distance calls.

Treatment Helps Seeds Get Started

Vegetables must overcome many hazards before they finally produce a crop. The first of these hazards are organisms and insects in the soil that may destroy the seed or the young seedling plant.

Dr. L. O. Weaver, plant pathologist in the University of Maryland botany department, reminds vegetable growers that chemical treatment is one of the first steps to insure a good crop. He points out that chemical dusts such as Arasan, Spergon, Semesan and Captan kill organisms that might be on the surface of the seeds and also acts as a protective barrier against organisms in the soil.

All common garden vegetables benefit from the seed treatment.

Treated seed may be planted immediately, or held until favorable planting weather without risk of injury from the treatment. Dr. Weaver says any unused chemical may be kept in a safe place in a tightly closed container from year to year.

The plant disease specialist says that many vegetable growers have long used chemical seed treatment to protect against decay organisms, but do not know a combination treatment is on the market that gives some vegetables protection against organisms and insects.

Plant pathologists and entomologists at the University of Maryland have cooperated in experiments with the combination chemical. They have found it beneficial on snap beans, lima beans and sweet corn. Complete results have not been obtained on other crops.

Fungicide-insecticide chemical is available in small packages for home gardeners and in larger quantities for commercial growers. Recommendations for easy application are given on the package.

BITTINGER

Why lounge beneath that gnarled old tree,
With fruit both sweet and sour—
When in that shade there ne'er can be,
One single peaceful hour.

The wintry conditions, with freezing temperature at night, during the past week brought to the owners of maple sugar orchards an unusual flow of sweet water and many gallons of excellent maple syrup were made in various camps nearby.

Work has begun upon the construction of a building in this village, by the C. and P. Telephone Co., in which will be housed the automatic switching equipment to serve the telephone subscribers in this section. It is said that the lines will be completed and in operation by next August.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bittinger, of Reisterstown, visited relatives last week-end.

County Commissioner Stewart Stahl was a business caller in this village last Friday.

Robert Brenneman is completing his new residence near the Pleasant Valley Recreation Area and will move there with his family in the near future.

The young people of the local Lutheran congregation are practicing an Easter program, which will be presented in the church at Easter time.

Homemakers Meet

The Bittinger Homemakers club met recently at the home of Mrs. James Opel with 17 members and five guests present.

Representatives from Browning's Store in Oakland gave some helpful hints on painting. Miss Ethel Grove, H.D.A., gave a demonstration on "Color in the Home."

The April meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Kermit Glotfelty.

Toscanini, world famous conductor, retired at 87.

THE REPUBLICAN

VOLUME 78 OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MD., APRIL 15, 1954. PER COPY, 8c. NUMBER 7.

Mobilize for Mercy . . .

As this year's Red Cross campaign in Garrett county nears its close there are surely many who have not yet renewed their membership in the organization. An all-out effort to enroll every adult as a Red Cross member must not fail if the organization is to continue to carry its responsibilities locally and throughout the world.

As a meeting of the Red Cross executive board this week the members were positive that the public didn't realize the importance of the county reaching its quota. Last week only $1,850 had been reported compared to a quota of $3,185, and this week only about $100 was added to the total. The figure is $1,200 short of the goal.

Few organizations in the world today typify the democratic American way of doing things and helping the other fellow as completely as does the American Red Cross. Its aid is freely extended to all who need it, regardless of race or creed.

Here locally 27 cents out of every Red Cross dollar spent goes for the blood donor program which makes blood available to people at a critical time in their lives, free of charge. This blood donor program can be withdrawn if the county chapter fails in its financing.

Just a few weeks ago the annual report showed how each dollar was spent. The money goes to those who need it and should be supported by all the people. Through our individual memberships we play a vital part in everything the Red Cross does nationally and internationally, locally and state-wide.

So we urge a renewed effort to help this county reach its quota. If you have not been solicited, volunteer your membership fee. If you have joined ask others to join too. If you have joined and feel that you would like to add something to your former gift, that will be all right too. We really should not let this fund raising campaign fail.

Red Cross Fund Reaches $1,956.76

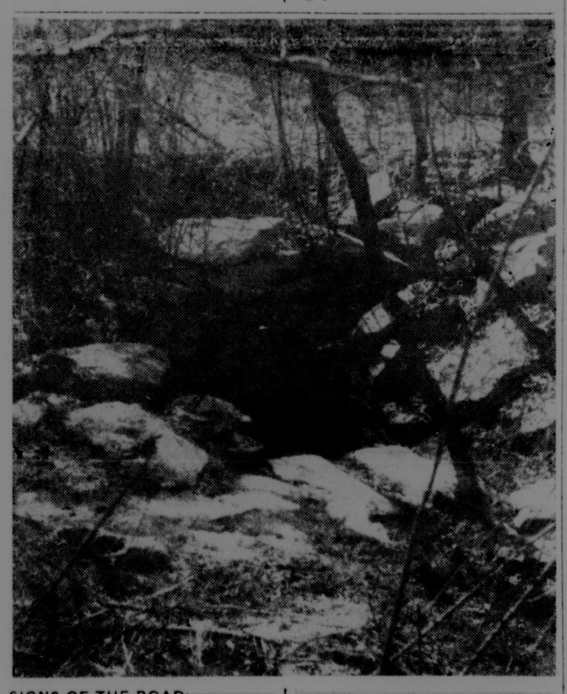
The total in the annual Red Cross campaign for funds in Garrett county reached $1,956.76 this week, it was announced by Olonzo P. Fike, county roll call chairman. This was an improvement of a little over one hundred dollars from the previous total and is still around $1,200 short of the goal of $3,185.

The areas reported the following amounts: Crellin and Hutton, $160; Accident, $140; Grantsville and New Germany, $400; Jennings, $100; Bittinger, $50; Oakland, $755.85; Sand Flat, $30; Kitzmiller, $111; Swan Meadow, $40; Mt. Lake Park, $56.28; McHenry, $12.05; Associated Women of the Farm Bureau, $10; Bloomington, $25.98; Swanton, $10.22, North Glade, $11.07; Sunnyside, $4.31; and Red House, $40; total. $1,956.76.

Southern Hi P.-T.A. Postponed Until May

The regular meeting of the Southern High school Parent-Teacher association, previously scheduled for Monday, April 19, has been cancelled, due to Easter school vacation. The next meeting will be held on Monday, May 17, it was announced by H. D. Naylor, president.

A style show, sponsored by the Home Economics department, will be featured. Officers for the coming year will be elected.



SIGNS OF THE ROAD:

Washington's Visit To Area Recorded

The 1784 journey of George Washington through Garrett county and to the vicinity of Oakland is remembered locally, oddly enough, by what he ate and where he drank.

It was while seeking a passage for the Chesapeake and Ohio canal through the mountains to connect with the Ohio river that Washington stopped, on September 26, 1784, at the home of Charles Friend, near the future site of Oakland. This event is recorded on a highway marker near Oakland on the Crellin road, reproduced in the small photograph. According to his diary entries for the day, at the Friend home he dined on "boiled corn," which was all the larder of the early settler offered his distinguished dinner guest. The meal probably was right tasty to the tired traveler for Washington noted that he had spent the preceding night in the open, "with no shelter or cover other than my cloak, and was unlucky enough to have a heavy shower of rain."

The larger photograph shows the Washington Spring, also near Oakland, where the General is reported to have refreshed himself on this same journey. At one time the spring was a popular attraction of the section, and was embellished with a wooden canopy and benches for the benefit of strollers from the grounds of Oakland's fashionable hotels close-by.

The photograph shows the spring as it is today, and it can be reached from State Route 39, leaving the highway near Rosedale and walking toward the Little Youghiogheny river.

Local Churches List Special Easter Services

Churches of Oakland and surrounding communities have planned special services for the balance of Holy Week and on Easter in observance of the death and resurrection of Jesus Christ.

Two Good Friday services are planned in Oakland Protestant churches, from 12 o'clock noon until 3 p. m., one at the Episcopal church and one at the Methodist church.

The service at the Methodist church is the final meeting of the union Lenten series sponsored by the Mt. Top Ministerial association. During Lent the three Protestant churches, Lutheran, Methodist and Nazarene, have held union mid-week services, alternating the place of meeting, with the theme, "Followers of the Christ."

At Friday's service in St. Paul's Methodist church six ministers will participate in giving the seven last words of Christ from the cross. They include Rev. William A. Renn, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church, Red House; Rev. Paul S. Parker, pastor of the Deep Creek Baptist church; Rev. Hugh L. Shiley, pastor of the Aurora Methodist charge; Rev. Randall Prince, pastor of the Bethel Methodist charge, Mt. Lake Park; Rev. Glenn W. Eagle, pastor of the Nazarene church, Oakland; and Rev. W. S. Patterson, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist church, Oakland.

There will be special music by members of the Methodist choir, with anthems, "God So Loved the World," "I Walked Today Where Jesus Walked," "O Sorrow Deep," "Go Not Far From Me," "Lamb of God," and "Go to Dark Gethsemane."

St. Matthew's Episcopal

Maunday Thursday commemoration of the institution of the Lord's Supper will be held Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

The three hour service on Good Friday will be from 12 noon to 3 p. m. There will be Easter day celebrations of Holy Communion at 8 and 11 o'clock a. m., Rev. A. J. Haines, rector, announced.

St. Peter's Catholic

Good Friday mass of the Presanctified at 12 noon, followed by stations of the cross; confessions after stations of the cross; church open all day.

Holy Saturday, blessing of the new fire, the Paschal candle and the Easter and Baptismal water, 6:30 a m.; high mass at 8 a. m. with confessions, morning, before and during mass, afternoon 4 to 6, evening beginning at 7:30.

Easter Sunday, high mass and benediction of the Blessed Sacrament at 8 a. m., low mass at 10, confessions before each mass.

St. Mark's Lutheran

Having no regular pastor the church will omit the Holy Thursday communion service this year. The regular Sunday school at 9:30 on Sunday. The Easter service at 10:45 with brief sermon by Rev. Edwerth Korte, chaplain of Gettysburg college. Holy Communion will be administered. The choir will sing the anthem, "Hallelujah! Christ Is Risen!"

St. Paul's Methodist

Sunday school at 9:30, nursery for children at 10:30; 10:45, morning worship with sermon, "What Has Easter to Say This Year," by Rev. W. S. Patterson, pastor. Easter anthems by the choir, "How Lovely Is Thy Dwelling Place," from Brahms Requiem, and "Gloria in Excelsis," by Mozart.

Youth Fellowship at 6:30. Topic for discussion: "The Bible, Designed for Use—Let's Dust It Off." Janet Wolf will be the leader.

Wins Prize

John Hummel, son of Harry Hummel, of Grantsville, was recently notified that he had won fifth prize in a contest sponsored by "Four Seasons," the quarterly farm magazine published for the U.S. Royal Tire distributors.

The contest tested the skill of boys and girls under 18 in estimating the tons of silage in a silo under given conditions.

The cash award was presented on behalf of the company through their distributor, Hawkinson Tread service in Oakland.

John is 13 years old and attends Northern High school at Cove. He has three sisters and belongs to the Accident 4-H club. He has been interested in dairy activities.

Trade Mark For Turkey Growers Is Now Complete

Shown For First Time Last Night At First Annual Dinner of County Turkey Growers

The new trade mark for the Garrett County Turkey Growers was on display for the first time last night at the first annual dinner of the growers held at Hoyes Methodist church. Dinner was served by members of the Hoyes WSCS.

Kermit Glotfelty presided and Rev. Curtis Saville gave the invocation. Following the dinner Walter W. Dawson, toastmaster, called for remarks from Senator Neil C. Fraley, Earl R. Poorbaugh, director of Information, Annapolis; Delegates George Coddington and Harry C. Edwards; and James McHenry, assistant county agent.

Dr. H. M. Devolt spoke on diseases of turkeys and stressed their relationship to good management.

The new trade mark was displayed in both color for turkey bags and cartons, along with black and white for letterheads, billheads, and newspaper advertising.

This finished trade mark is the result of a contest conducted by the Garrett County Turkey Growers last spring. No entry qualified completely. The trade mark committee finally made a split award. The idea of the torn shield was submitted by Carlton Knox, Bittinger. The GarLand suggestion was submitted by Rev. Henry J. Von Schlichten, Port Washington, N. Y.

From these Aza Stanton was commissioned to develop a combination of the two in color, using the Maryland State Seal as a background. It was necessary to secure permission to pierce the Maryland seal. This was received. Mr. Stanton worked up a color sketch, color separation for turkey bag printing, as well as the sketch for black and white cuts.

The trade mark was used for the first time last night on a souvenir program.

When the contest was held last spring no suitable slogan was submitted. The Turkey Growers are considering a contest later for a slogan. It was felt that the trade mark might assist the contestants in submitting a slogan, should such a contest be held.

The committee arranging for the dinner included John Bowman, R. O. Glotfelty and Russell Teets.

To Conclude Home Nursing Classes

The Home Nursing classes now being conducted by Miss Lucy Johns, R.N., of the American Red Cross, and sponsored through the joint efforts of the local Red Cross chapter, Home Demonstration clubs and Civil Defense, will be concluded on April 19th.

The course is being conducted to train people to care for the sick in their own homes and to work as "Nurse Assistants" in the Civil Defense program.

Procedures included how to take temperatures, pulse, respiratory, give a bed bath, give medicine and treatments according to a physicians' orders, and other items. Students are shown how to apply these procedures so that large numbers of patients could be taken care of in event of modern atomic warfare.

Nine instructors are being trained so that others in the county desiring the course in "Home Care of the Sick" will have the opportunity to attend classes May 4 and 6, at 7:00 p. m., EST.

Gets First Prize

The Northern High school band received a first prize of $75 for the best out of county band attending the Maple Festival at Meyersdale last week. The band is directed by Roger Cole.

Daylight Time For County Towns Set

The Mayor and Town Council of Mt. Lake Park announced that the park would go on Daylight Saving time, officially, beginning Sunday morning, April 25, and remain under that schedule until the latter part of September.

The Grantsville town council took action at a recent meeting for daylight saving time to be effective in that community during the summer months. They also voted to conduct a clean-up drive on May 12.

License Board Is Upheld In Revoking Hotel Beer License

The Circuit court affirmed the decision of the Board of License Commissioners in revoking the class D beer license issued to Margaret Fay Sheehe, at an appeal case before Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris last Thursday. The license had been issued for the place of business known as the Manhattan hotel in Oakland.

Judge Harris, in giving his written opinion on the decision, declared it was not necessary for the court to state its reasons when it was sustaining a decision of the Board of License Commissioners but would do so in this case.

"The revocation is based on criminal violations of employes of Mrs. Margaret Faye Sheehe, the employees being James McNelis and Richard Sheehe.

"The burden of proof is on the appellant to show that the decision complained of was against the public interest and that the Board's discretion is rendering its decision was not honestly and fairly exercised or that such decision was arbitrary or procured by fraud, or unsupported by any substantial evidence, or unreasonable, or illegal.

"The legislature intended that the local Board of License Commissioners should have broad discretionary powers in the execution of its duties. The statute provides that any license issued under the provisions of the act MAY BE revoked or suspended for any cause when in the judgment of the court or board

$1,000 For Child Welfare Work To Be Given April 25

American Legion Department Of Maryland To Make Presentation to Local Committee

The sum of $1,000 is to be presented to a county committee to aid in child welfare work, at a public meeting in the Moose hall on Third street on Sunday afternoon, April 25, at 2 o'clock.

The sum is being given by the American Legion, Department of Maryland, Child Welfare commission, and is for the aid of all children in the county in need.

The need must be presented to and considered by the Child Welfare committee of the county, and this committee is set up so that it will cooperate with all groups and organizations already organized in working with children of the county.

It was explained that each year the Legion of Maryland presents this amount to a certain county in the state in the hope that a permanent group will be established to aid in this type of welfare work among underprivileged and crippled children.

The committee includes Rev. John J. Atwell, Oakland; Edward P. Kahl, Oakland; Dan Hershberger, Grantsville; Rodney Selders, Kitzmiller; and John Shoemaker, Accident, all members of Legion posts in those areas.

Extension Meetings

Arthur H. Green Seeks Office of State Senator

Conference Indicates That Neil Fraley Will Not Be Candidate For Re-Election

Arthur H. Green, Swanton, minority floor leader in the House of Delegates for the past three legislative sessions, on Tuesday announced his candidacy for the State Senate. The announcement came after a conference of political leaders, when it was indicated that Senator Neil C. Fraley would not be a candidate for re-election.

Delegate Green has been a resident of Garrett county for the past forty-three years, coming here in 1911 and engaging in the business of farming in the Swanton area. He followed this occupation until 1926 when he entered the merchandising field at Swanton where he owned and conducted a general store for twenty years. Following the sale of this business to his former clerk, R. E. Reckner, Mr. Green has been operating and driving his school bus between Swanton and Oakland.

A veteran of World War I, Green served as a sergeant in G company, 313th infantry, 79th division, saw active service overseas and was in the battle of the Argonne.

He was county treasurer from 1947 through 1950; has served in the House of Delegates 1927 to 1930, 1945 and 1946, and from 1951 to the present time. In 1952 he was elected minority leader by the Republican members of the House and re-elected in 1953 and 1954. As such he was a member of the Rules committee, the Ways and Means committee and the Legislative council, an interim committee of the legislature which studies proposed legislation.

Locally he was president of the Garrett County School Bus Operators association for nine years, is financial secretary of the Woodmen of the World, Camp 10, Swanton, is a member of the Odd Fellows lodge at Mt. Lake Park and also a member of the Garrett County Farm Bureau.

Mr. Green declared that the information and knowledge gained through his experiences in the legislature and with the legislative council would be of great value to the citizens of the county if he is chosen for the State Senate. He further feels that his background as a farmer, veteran, merchant, worker for the Board of Education, his experiences as treasurer and member of the House of Delegates fit him for the office to which he now aspires.

He promises to follow the same policies in the future, if elected, welcoming suggestions and endeavoring to make himself worthy of the confidence the voters place in him.

Mr. Green is married to the former Elsie E. Shank and they have one son, Harold W. Green, of Cumberland.

McKeldin Files For Re-Election

Governor Theodore R. McKeldin officially became a candidate for re-election yesterday and declared he was highly pleased with "progress and improvements" during his administration.

His formal entry into the Republican primary, a step long anticipated but never flatly announced until he filed, was timed to form at the same stroke two-thirds of a GOP organization ticket. The other third, involving a candidate for comptroller, may not be filled.

As the governor signed for renomination, a messenger delivered certificates of candidacy for Atty. Gen. Edward D. E. Rollins, for re-election. McKeldin appointed Rollins in 1952 after elevating Democrat Hall Hammond to a judgeship of the Court of Appeals.

Three others have filed for the Republican nomination for governor and they are listed in another article in this week's issue.

Scout Leaders To Meet

Members of the Deep Creek district of the Boy Scouts of America will meet next Tuesday, April 20, at 7:30 p. m. in the assembly room of St. Paul's Methodist church in Oakland.

Governor To Speak At Dairy Meeting

THEODORE R. McKELDIN

The Honorable Theodore R. McKeldin, governor of Maryland, will be the principal speaker at the Mt. Top Milk Producers' meeting and Dairy show, to be held in Northern High school gymnasium, Accident, next Thursday evening, April 22, 7:30 p. m.

Also appearing on the program will be Robert M. Brown, chief, bureau of Environmental Hygiene; and Carroll S. Brinsfield, chief, division of Food Control, both of the Maryland State Department of Health. Mr. Brown wil speak on "The Problem of Water and Sewerage on the Farm," and Mr. Brinsfield will speak on "The Effects of Sanitation in Quality Milk Production."

The combined bands of Northern and Southern high schools will give a fifteen minute concert at the beginning of the program. Neil C. Fraley, state senator, will make a few remarks and introduce the Governor.

The program will be interspersed with group singing with William L. Gibson at the piano. Olonzo P. Fike, sanitarian for the Garrett County health department, will be chairman of the meeting.

Various businesses serving this area will place exhibits in front of the school building and also in the cafeteria. These exhibits will be open to the public beginning at 6 o'clock p. m., and continuing after the program is adjourned. Following the program free refreshments will be served in the cafeteria by the milk plants serving this area.

Fike stressed the fact that the public was invited to attend.

A dinner honoring Governor McKeldin will be held by the milk producers at Accident at 5:30 p. m., on that day. The dinner will be served in the Zion Lutheran church. Tickets are limited and are being given on a first-come, first-served basis.

Large Crowd at Annual Band Concert

With 220 pupils participating the Spring Band concert at Southern High school last Thursday night was considered a great success. The special numbers, "Si! Trocadero," and "Little Brown Jug Goes to Town," were considered outstanding. Over eight hundred persons attended.

Art classes under the direction of Miss Frances Patterson painted the Mexican backdrops. Dances and routines by the majorettes were worked out by Miss Ann Dilgard and Wilma Long. Because of the large number of students participating it was necessary to borrow some additional instruments from the Northern High band.

The numbers were directed by H. B. Wright, instructor.

Other School News

Class rings for the juniors arrived last week.

Future Teachers of America had a tour of the Frostburg State Teachers college campus. College students served as guides. They were accompanied by Ernest Spoerlein, sponsor of the group.

Calls Fair Meeting

Another promotion meeting for the County Agricultural Fair has been called by H. G. Gortner, acting chairman, for Monday, April 19, at the fire department rooms in Oakland at 8 o'clock p. m.

He stated that 104 people in the county thus far had signed subscription blanks in an endeavor to raise $10,000. Any person with signed blanks and unable to attend the meeting on Monday is asked to leave them with Howard C. Biggs at the Garrett National Bank before Monday evening.

Thirteen File As Candidates For Six Offices

Deadline For Filing Is Next Monday Night, April 19

With the deadline for filing announcements of candidacy for political office rapidly approaching, there was an outbreak of office seekers this week. Thirteen persons announced for various offices, making a total of twenty-three up to the present. The deadline for filing is next Monday night, April 19, before midnight.

When Senator Neil C. Fraley announced definitely that he would not be a candidate for re-election, Arthur H. Green immediately filed for the nomination for that office, leaving a vacancy in the House of Delegates, a seat he had held for several years. Details of his candidacy are carried in another story in today's issue.

Also filing for the State Senate on the Republican ticket was William M. Nazelrod, of Sand Flat, district No. 14. In his platform he promised to encourage industrial enterprise to locate in the county; lower and more reasonable taxes for seasonal dwellers at Deep Creek; to encourage building activity, and a bill to give eevry war veteran the right to own a dwelling free from all taxation up to an appraised value of $5,000.

Candidates for House

There are three candidates for the House of Delegates, George E. Coddington, incumbent, announced for re-election. He has served in the General Assembly for the past seven and one-half years. He is from district No. 7.

Arthur G. Cullers, Gorman, who represented the county at Annapolis from 1930 to 1938, also aspires to represent the county again. He is in the general farming and dairy business, specializing in purebred Hereford cattle and purebred sheep. During his term he points to a record of never missing a roll call during his eight years.

A newcomer to politics is Carlis Burton Helms, of district 14, at Sand Flat, who announced for the House of Delegates. He has been a truck driver for the County Roads department for eight years and a taxpayer for 13. A resident of the county all his life he would like to see some legislation requiring back filling by strip coal miners.

For County Commissioner

Among the four candidates for County Commissioner this week, two seek re-election. They are Stewart F. Stahl, of near Grantsville. Having served for the past seven and one-half years he declares he stands on his record. He would be in Commissioner district 2.

Jonas W. Sines aspires to be re-elected to the position he has held for the past several years. At various times he has served as president of the group. He would be in Commissioner district 3.

The two new candidates seeking that office are Curtis C. Miller, of North Glade, and Fred D. Trickett, district No. 14.

Miller has resided in the county for 36 years, is a son of Howard Miller and has conducted a grocery and feed business in the North Glade section for the past four years. He is president of the North Glade P.-T. A., is married and has three children. He would be in Commissioner district No. 1.

Trickett would be in Commissioner district 3. He has been a resident of the county his entire life

Sentenced to Year House of Correction

Ross Carney, 67, of near Hutton, was sentenced to serve a year in the House of Correction when given a hearing before Trial Magistrate W. O. Bitzer on Monday. Carney was charged with petty larceny by Harry Warren who resides near him.

Sentence Suspended

At a hearing before Trial Magistrate W. O. Bitzer on Wednesday Vernon Virts received a suspended sentence upon a charge of violating section 207 of the code of public local laws, to-wit: Fishing in Savage river tributary in closed season. This was Crab Tree Creek.

The arrest was made by Francis Ruge.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

Choose Your Leadership

There are so many great national and international issues in the country today, and they are so complicated and confused, that it is exceedingly difficult for the average citizen to know enough about any of them to really judge for himself. In fact, it isn't easy for a congressman, a candidate, a journalist or anyone else whose business it is to be fully informed to become so on more than one or two.

—o—

This is an unhappy state of affairs. It means that in the coming campaign the ordinary voter must be at a loss to gather accurate and uncolored facts. He does not know where to look. And who can tell him? Certainly, he can get no unbiased information from the politicians of either party. These naturally are intent only upon the success of their own side. Every partisan will magnify his own virtues and picture those of the opposition as vices. Certainly, he will not get a purely objective view from the radio or television news commentators—nor from the columnists, who are all biased one way or another. Some of the better newspapers honestly try to be impartial in the presentation of the facts, but not all succeed. The great bulk of the press, of course, is editorially slanted by the predilection and preference of the owners.

This is natural, human and right and there isn't anything to do about it. Those papers which are controlled by high-minded, intelligent men stamp their character on their papers. But these are by no means in the majority and it would be misleading to hold that the newspapers, our most important channel of information, are an infallible guide on the so-called "issues of the hour." It is the best channel we have but by no means perfect. And all of the weeklies are openly biased. Conceding the formidable nature of these barriers to an informed electorate, the most depressing part of the story has not yet been told. As one looks forward to this campaign, in which 435 members of the House of Representatives, 35 senators and 34 governors, in addition to many judges and other local officers, are to be chosen, it seems safe to predict that all previous records for bunk, bilge, bombast and demagoguery will be broken.

The nation will be literally flooded with propaganda not only from the high-powered publicity departments of the two political parties and from the expensive and elaborate bureaus of the great labor unions—the CIO and AFL—but also from many of the 200-odd "pressure groups" which Mr. Herbert Hoover is convinced are the chief reason the saving of between five and seven billions of dollars in Government expenditures cannot be made. But that is not all. In every district and state candidates for office will be on the air. Vast sums of money will be spent and the raucous voices of the congressional office holders and office seekers will drown out most everything else. From Vice President Nixon to "Jimmie" Roosevelt in the West to Governor Dewey and Franklin Roosevelt in the East, hundreds of nominees for one thing or another and their partisans, will be telling us what to think and how to vote.

If anyone believes he can get the unvarnished truth about any issue from these sources, he is, indeed, an optimist. Where, then, is the independent voter seeking the facts and wanting a reliable guide to look? There seems no adequate answer. There seems, in face, nothing for that type of voter to do except choose the leadership he prefers and follow that. For example, if he wants to break the Eisenhower Administration down, restore Democratic control of Congress and elect, in 1956, a Democratic President, he will follow the leadership of Mr. Adlai Stevenson, Mr. Truman, Mr. Walter Reuther of the CIO, the Americans for Democratic Action, and other various and comparable advocates of the New and Fair Deal spending policies.

—o—

On the other hand, if he has confidence in President Eisenhower and his program, if he is convinced of the President's personal sincerity, truthfulness and competence, likes the character of his Cabinet, believes in economy and feels that, in these critical times, he is the safest man to have at the head of the nation—if this is the way he feels, then he will follow the Eisenhower leadership, vote in November for candidates who will support his policies and hope for his renomination in 1956. In brief, no matter how intelligent the voter may be, there is no use pretending that he can himself get at the merits of all the issues involved in both foreign and domestic policies. Furthermore, there is no use deluding himself that any editor, columnist, radio or television commentator knows all the answers and is wholly without some prejudice. The sensible thing for the voter to do seems to be to choose his leadership and follow it.

License Board Is

it would be necessary to promote peace of safety of the community, and that such license MUST BE revoked or suspended for other causes one of which is conviction of licensee for violation of any of the provisions of this act."

Attorneys for the appellant pointed out that although there are three members of the Board that J. Edward Helbig was unable to attend, and that one of the two who did attend, Jonas W. Sines, did not readily assent to issuing licenses but does readily assent to revocation.

The judge continued "The burden is upon the appellant to show that Jonas W. Sines did act in an arbitrary or unreasonable manner in rendering the decision. The court cannot go along with this contention because there is ample reason for revocation of the license because of admitted violation of provisions of Article 2B, and the decision cannot be said to be arbitrary or capricious or contrary to the intent and purpose of the statute. They had ample reason for doing what they did, namely in revoking the license." McNelis and Richard Sheehe had pleaded guilty to the sale of whiskey in January.

Following the decision of the judge the License Commissioners immediately sent for the license, which the hotel had retained during the course of the appeal from the decision of March 2. S. F. Hamill, Jr., and W. O. Treacy represented Mrs. Sheehe. S. R. Pagenhardt and Walter W. Dawson represented the Board.

AURORA - EGLON

The little son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Snyder, of near Red House, was taken Monday to a Philippi hospital where he remains a medical patient. Mrs. Snyder is the former Miss Zelda Slaubaugh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Slaubaugh, of near Eglon.

Mrs. Lace White, of Eglon, was notified Tuesday that her father, Howard Henline, was badly burned about the legs and hands when his trousers caught fire while burning brush at the home of another daughter near Gormania. He was treated at the Garrett County Memorial hospital after which he returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sell and three children, of North Carolina, were recent guests at the home of the former's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Donham, near Aurora.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Judy left Eglon Wednesday for Bridgewater, Va., where they were joined by their son, Billy, on a trip to Chicago, Ill., where they plan a short visit with their son-in-law and daughter, the Rev. and Mrs. Don Robinson. The latter is a Biblical student at Bethany Seminary.

Denzil Shillingburg, of the Navy, is spending a leave at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Shillingburg, near Brookside.

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Wotring and daughter left Saturday for a trip to Washington, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Early and daughter, Elizabeth Ann, of Broadway, Va., were week-end guests at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Pastor and Mrs. Paul Crumley and daughter, Eglon.

Rev. and Mrs. Joe Miller, Broadway, Va., were week-end guests of Rev. and Mrs. Galen Fike of Eglon.

On Sunday the Rev. Millers visited Dr. Harold Miller in the Philippi hospital.

THE AMERICAN WAY

THE GREAT DELUSION
BY GEORGE PECK

Chairman of the Board of the National Labor-Management Foundation and Executive Editor of its official publication, "Partners."

In an article a few weeks ago, I made the statement that a relatively few union officials had succeeded in bluffing the Eisenhower Administration into believing they can deliver a substantial part of the 63-million work force vote in return for concessions to these officials—concessions that are in their own interests and against the interests of their members.

Since then I have been confronted with further evidence that the Administration still clings to its idea of making these concessions. It favors weakening the Taft-Hartley law so as to return to these union officials, a large measure of the dictatorial power over workers and the public, which the enactment of that law took away from them. It seems to overlook the fact that this power was taken away in response to worker and public protest against the extent and abuse of that power.

One bid of such evidence is a speech which was made by Secretary of Labor Mitchell on March 11th to the American Management Association in session at San Francisco. Scolding employers who are opposing the Administration's proposed revisions of Taft-Hartley, the Secretary said: "Business organizations and management groups commenting upon the President's recommendations have unfortunately generally been critical of them. They have supported before the Congress those recommendations which they felt promote their own interests and have opposed those recommendations which in their judgment would have been helpful to workers . . ."

In making the foregoing statement, the Secretary of Labor does business management a grave injustice. I know of no individuals or groups among employers who are opposing any Taft-Hartley changes that are directly in the interests of all concerned. The only changes they oppose are those demanded by certain short-sighted, selfish union leaders.

On the other hand, while Secretary Mitchell has taken industrial leaders to task, in his appearances before union groups, I can find no instance where he berated union officials for not abandoning the unreasonable stands they take in promoting their own interests in preference to promoting the interests of employees. In fact, Mr. Mitchell, in talking to these union groups, has plead that the Administration is moving heaven and earth to give these union leaders that for which they clamor—the very things which union members and the public have indicated they do not want in every poll that has been taken and by every political election where these things have been the issue.

Secretary Mitchell must know that union members do not always approve what their leaders recommend. It is true that when the labor boss proposes something that the members believe is in their own interests, they cheerfully string along. But when the members disagree with and are not willing to follow what the union leaders recommend, they should not be forced to go along. That is why in the interests of employees, great care must be exercised in making amendments to Taft-Hartley, to safeguard and strengthen the protection of the employee against any union leader who would exploit him.

The Wagner Act took the whip away from the bad employer boss, but unfortunately it made that whip available to the bad union labor boss. The Taft-Hartley law was enacted mainly for the purpose of seeing to it that neither bad employer boss nor bad union boss has any weapon with which to force his will upon the workers of this nation. Taft-Hartley has gone far toward emancipating the worker but not quite the entire distance. Any changes made in the law should be to complete the journey to full protection from all predatory bosses.

One of the good changes recommended by President Eisenhower is that union members must be permitted a secret strike vote. I have talked to many union members since the President advocated this. To a man or woman they have been enthusiastically for it. From where do you suppose the only opposition has come? You guessed it! From union leaders who want no interference with this power to call a strike even against the will of the vast majority of their constituents.

But let's get back to the Administration's delusion that labor leaders can deliver their members' votes. Union members know that when they go to the polls, they vote as their consciences dictate. Those union leaders who claim they can deliver their members' votes, know in their hearts "it ain't so." When will our political leaders become as smart as the workers whose votes they seek and realize the fallacy of mollycoddling or appeasing the dictatorial labor bosses?

Consumers Can Solve Dairy Surpluses

By Ezra Taft Benson
Secretary of Agriculture

One of agriculture's biggest problems is also one of the easiest to solve.

The solution lies not with government or its officials but with millions of Americans who can and should drink an extra glass or two of milk each week and eat a few additional pieces of butter.

At present the dairy industry is confronted with production and marketing problems that stem from increasing output, declining exports and a reduction in per capita consumption. It is important to see that these troubles are not perpetuated.

The government now has more than 1,320,000,00 pounds of dairy products in storage. These surpluses were acquired by supporting dairy prices at 90 percent of parity. They are products that should have gone to consumers but instead went into government ware houses.

To make dairying a strong and independent part of our agricultural economy these surpluses must be disposed of and a proper adjustment made between production and consumption. The easiest way to do this is to increase consumption.

Since 1945 the annual per capita consumption of fluid milk and cream has declined 47 pounds. For the same period consumption of butter dropped the equivalent of an additional 45 pounds of milk.

Our people need to eat more dairy products. If the full dietary needs of the nation are being met, there would actually be a shortage of these products. Milk is good. It is the most nearly perfect of all foods for children, young people and adults. Milk is cheap. A recent study shows that the nutrients contained in a quart of milk would cost 42 cents if obtained from other sources.

In an effort to encourage the use of dairy products and in compliance with the law, I recently reduced the dairy price support level from 90 to 75 percent of parity. It is my belief that more realistic prices, coupled with a vigorous educational and promotion program stressing the value of dairy products, will go a long way toward reestablishing the industry on a firm and profitable basis.

I am required by law to fix dairy supports at a point between 75 and 90 percent of parity that will assure an adequate supply. In view of both the large surpluses and a production rate exceeding consumption, the Solicitor of the Department of Agriculture ruled I would have to set the supports for the coming year at 75 percent.

There has been some complaint that under the President's new farm program the reduction in dairy supports should have been gradual. Actually the President proposed gradual changes in moving basic commodities from a rigid to flexible support program and from old to modernized parity. There was no such recommendation on dairy products, which were already on a flexible basis.

There is considerable difference between the basic commodities and dairy products. The basics are storable and they are subject to production control. Dairy products are perishable. In fact they are the only perishable commodity on which price supports are mandatory. In addition, there is no control of production.

While it would appear that the dairy supports were cut 15 points, the actual reduction is 12 and 9 points. Because of wider marketing margins last year, 90 percent supports reflected 87 percent of parity to the farmer on butterfat and only 84 percent on manufactured milk.

As I understand the law, the full 75 percent of parity must now be passed on to the farmer. I will see that this is done.

Gives Demonstration On Handwriting

Mrs. Biehl, Baltimore City Department of Education, conducted handwriting demonstrations in grades 2 and 6 last Wednesday afternoon and Thursday morning, April 7 and 8, in the Oakland Elementary school.

These demonstrations followed one held at Southern High School for administrators, supervisors, teachers, and representatives of P.-T.A. groups Wednesday morning.

Easter, 1954 - - -

Christianity is a paradox, for it is a story of defeat and of victory, of sorrow and of joy, of the Cross and of the Resurrection.

Good Friday and Easter go hand in hand in the Gospel as they do in life. Only those who have tried humbly to take up a cross in the service of the Christ can fully experience the deep abiding joy of Easter morning. There are those who view Christianity as a means of escape from the labor, the burden bearing, the human failure and the penitence, which are a part of daily living.

But Christianity is deeper and more realistic than that—courage, unselfishness, sacrifice are Christian virtues. Easter does not give us exemption from the need of such. Rather, Easter tells us that the battle is worthwhile and assures us of the power to live victoriously. For the joy that was set before Him, He endured the Cross. There is the promise of Eastertide, a joy which no man or circumstance can take from us.

—The Rt. Rev. Henry Knox Sherill, Presiding Bishop, Episcopal Church.

Great Possibilities - - -

The band programs at the two high schools of the county show great promise of increasing the cultural aspects of education to a great degree.

Last week the Northern High band was declared to be the best out of county band at the Maple Festival in Meyersdale and was awarded a prize of $75.00. The performance of its members at the basketball games this past winter was an indication of the degree of perfection they were attaining under their instructor, Roger Cole.

It was a revelation to watch and hear the fourth annual band concert last Thursday night at Southern High school. Presented by 220 musicians, under the direction of Harold B. Wright, the concert was one of the nicest given in a long, long time.

Mr. Wright has developed four band groups, one in the elementary school, one called a beginning band composed of students in the sixth, seventh and eighth grades; a junior band and a senior band. The selections by the junior band would do credit to most high schools, but when the senior band took over, that was really something. They played like professionals.

A few weeks ago we remarked how fortunate the school was in having persons like Mrs. Russell H. Brown to teach music so that students could present operettas like "The Belle of Bagdad." So now we add that the school is also fortunate in having a director like Mr. Wright who can get such music out of those instruments through the coordinated efforts of his students.

It points out strongly the advantages that our children are having in having the opportunity to attend some decent high schools.

DEER PARK

Members of the Methodist Youth Fellowship attended the district meeting at Hoyes on Monday evening.

Glenn Solomon, Texas, is visiting his mother, Mrs. Grace Solomon.

Mrs. John Steyer, Augusta, Ga., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. McKinley Faugh.

Holy Communion services were given at the Methodist church last Sunday evening.

The Episcopal Church will have Holy Communion services Easter Sunday at 7:30 p. m.

TO REFRESH YOUR MEMORY—The above photograph should jog the memory of the old timers and give the younger generation a picture of Alder street in Oakland, as of Memorial Day, May 30, 1903. The photograph was brought to the office this week by T. A. Kimmell, of Mt. Lake Park. The picture was taken looking west on Alder street. One or two of the buildings are still familiar. The little building on Second street, seen in the picture, is one that has been moved to most every location in the business area. Its latest move was from Liberty street to Second and it is now the residence of Bern Nally. Lined up for a Decoration day parade were members of the Knights of Pythias on the right, the Knights of Columbus on the left, and members of the Junior Order UAM in the background. Known to have been in the picture were Dr. Henry W. McComas, Truman West, William McRobie, Benjamin H. Sincell, Charles Liller, Charles Newman, Norman Heindell, Daniel Vaughn, Oscar Vaughn, B. F. Crane, T. A. Kimmell, Charles Deffinbaugh, James D. Hamill, A. T. Matthews, Robert C. Townshend, E. I. Baumgartner, Samuel Lawton, D. E. Bolden, Albert Heide, H. L. Daugherty, Claude Brown, Austin Brown, G. Semmes Hamill, Henry Lauer, W. H. Bartlett, Edward H. Smouse, George Little, Ellsworth G. Naylor, W. H. Maffett and William Newman, members of the K. of P. Of this number only Messrs. Kimmel, Matthews and Townshend are living today. Of the Knights of St. John, K. of C., were James Treacy, William Broderick, H. A. Loraditch, George Kerins, Peter Broderick, Edward H. Shaffer, Elmer Shaffer, John Wolfe, Henry Shaffer, Michael Maroney, Jerry Stanton and Edward O'Donnell. Of this group only Loraditch, Kerins and O'Donnell are living. Names of the Junior Order members are not known.

and has been employed by the Garrett County Roads department for fourteen years. He promises to serve in the interest of the taxpayers.

R. C. Turney, Accident, seeks to be a judge of the Orphans' Court. From district No. 5, he has been secretary-treasurer of the Mutual Fire Insurance company for 25 years and is also associated with the Farm Bureau in the county.

All the above candidates seek the Republican nomination in their respective fields.

Two Oakland residents yesterday filed for members of the Republican State Central Committee. They were Lawrence M. Fraley and Francis W. Sanders. Four persons will be selected on that committee.

George D. Meese, of district No. 9, near Grantsville, announced his candidacy as a member of the Democratic State Central committee. Six men will be named on this committee. Meese has been a lifelong resident of the county.

Four other persons have filed their candidacies with the clerk of the Board of Election Supervisors. They are C. F. Hammond for judge of the Orphans' Court on the Republican ticket; Harvey B. Sines of district 14, Democratic candidate for County Commissioner; S. F. Hamill, Sr., and George M. Browning, for members of the Democratic State Central committee.

Southern High Takes Second From Keyser

Southern High School defeated Keyser High's tossers for the second time in four days to sweep their two-game series Friday by the score of 18 to 9.

Fred Colaw who turned back the West Virginians in Keyser the previous Tuesday by the score of 11 to 5, duplicated the performance last Friday. He yielded nine hits, issued five bases on balls and fired the third strike past eleven in the 7-inning contest.

Coach Leonard Ritchie's Highlanders exploded for 12 runs in the first inning by grouping three hits with five passes and five errors. The Southerners closed with a six-run outburst in the sixth.

Southern massaged the offerings of five pitchers for ten safeties including two doubles by Toby Colaw and three-base wallops by Howard Sweitzer and Bill Schaeffer.

Individual hitting honors went to Jimmy Davis, Keyser left fielder, who smashed a triple, double and single in four trips to the plate.

Playing for Southern were Glaze, F. Colaw, Glotfelty, T. Colaw, Sisler, Holtschneider, Sweitzer, Friend and Schaeffer.

SWALLOW FALLS

Ladies' Aid was held at the home of Mrs. Arthur Ream Wednesday. A stork shower was given for Mrs. William Ream.

Scout Activities

Girl Scout troop No. 11 met Monday at the home of Mary J. Harvey, leader. Leader Mareva Teets and the junior patrol hiked to a beaver dam and searched for wild flowers, leaves and birds. The seniors cooked the meal in the open, the menu consisting of Spanish rice, toasted bread and butter and a dessert of graham crackers with chocolate and toasted marshmallows. Games for the juniors followed while the seniors cleaned the camp site. Badges earned during the past six months will be presented at next Monday's meeting, it was announced.

A new amphibian assault vehicle was recently tested by Marine corps.

Booklet Features Vacation Areas

Garrett and Allegany counties are given considerable mention in a new 42-page booklet entitled "Your Maryland Vacation," which was published recently by the State Department of Information, Earle R. Poorbaugh, director.

One picture shows the old stone arch bridge on old route 40, just east of Grantsville, built in 1813. Another one shows four hunters with three deer they bagged on Green ridge, Allegany county.

Descriptive material about four recreation areas, three state forests and one state park in the two counties also is included. Among them are Potomac State Forest, Green Ridge State forest, Savage River State forest and New Germany, Pleasant Valley, Herrington Manor and Swallow Falls recreation areas, and Dan's Mountain state park near Lonaconing.

Referring to public shooting grounds, in Garrett county the wildlife management area is Mt. Nebo forest, north of Oakland. It has 1,855 acres open to hunting and only 40 acres as a game refuge. Deer, grouse and squirrels are found there.

A final feature of the booklet is the listing of the location of some 80 picnic areas in 21 of the state's 23 counties. Garrett county has four, one each on routes 40, 219 and 50, and State route 38.

Southern Thin Clads To Comete April 21

The Southern High school's track and field team, coached by Thomas Stevenson, will open its season next Wednesday at Cumberland with a dual meet with the Fort Hill High school reserves.

The track candidates have been holding daily practice sessions in an attempt to give a good account of themselves in the opening meet and others scheduled.

Stevenson said the team would attend the Beall High school invitational meet at Frostburg on Saturday, May 1, and would also travel to Beall High again on May 21 for a quadrangular meet with Beall, Southern, Keyser and Ridgeley high schools. A date for a dual meet with Bruce High is also pending.

Coach Stevenson listed some tentative entries in the various events: Bill Savage and Skip Sowers, 100 yard dash; Charles Mason, 220 yard dash; Dave Benner and Dale Schlossnagle, 440 yard run; Richard Deem and Harold Dove, 880 yard run; Dennis Colaw and Harry Johnson, mile run. Members of the track team also will participate in the discus throw, shot put, broad and high jumps among the field events, and that they also would place entries in the 440 yard relay race, 880 yard relay race and the mile relay.

It Runs Through My Mind

BY POLLY J. HANST

These Women!

Women have their angles too, and all of them are not as pleasing to the masculine eyes as the ones that slightly curve.

You'd think that since her job is to be a wife and mother she'd set out to be just that. But no, she has to be "uplifting" the human race whether it's sending clothes to Korea or helping to promote "build a better bird house" campaign.

She usually does all right by her children, but it's the poor husband who has to suffer.

For instance he can be out all day, working hard to make the living and looks forward to coming home and dropping in a chair, with nothing to worry about.

She Feels Differently

But the little wife has been home all day and she's just dying for a change of scenery, so she'll scheme and maneuver until she finally gets her way.

Or she may be in to one of her changeable moods, tearing down today what she built yesterday. That part wouldn't be so bad, if she'd do it on her own, but she'll say, "What I need is a strong right arm" — meaning her husband's right arm. She is forever thinking up things for him to do.

—o—

Companionship?

Women go on about wanting companionship. Yet how seldom do they try to see it the man's way? Now take sports. Conversation with her on this subject is about as stimulating as with a three-year-old. You can explain to her what a hit is and she'll come right back with "How stupid! You know when a ball is HIT it is HIT, regardless of where it lands."

Chatter Chatter

Women's conversation is enough to drive a man nuts. They usually rattle on about nothing. When a couple go out for a call and they're finally inching themselves toward the door, wifey is sure to say, "Oh, have you seen my new material (meaning yard goods) and that's good for another hour.

All that is left for the men to do is sink in despair.

—o—

Then She Has Moods

You can't ever please her—or at least it seems that way. In fact you just can't understand her. You can make a very reasonable and simple statement and she'll read all manner of things into it.

To decipher the Chinese language would be easier than to try to read her mind. In fact you don't know what she wants until you've seen the job to the finish—then she lets you know exactly how she did want it.

Even little things like bringing home a loaf of bread—seeing it's white she's apt to say, "I wanted whole wheat."

But in spite of it all—men keep right on trying to make their wives happy and regard them as their most precious possession (at least we FEEL that that is the way THEY feel).

Which may be why we think they're wonderful!

—o—

No Words Between Them

I was attacked last week for my column "It's just the man in him" by an elderly friend.

She said with feeling, "I was just real put out about that column of yours. The terrible things you said about your husband—which just aren't so."

"Now do you mean," trying to defend myself "that you and your beloved never had any basic disagreements?"

"No sir!" she said. "Whenever I got on something he didn't like he'd just go out and slam the door."

This One is On Me

"Did you get all you expected from marriage?" I asked.

"Yes," he said enthusiastically. Then added, a shade less enthusiastically—"and a lot I didn't expect."

—o—

Wishful Thinking

This is the season of the year that day dreaming is at its height. Every vegetable and flower I see featured in a seed catalog or magazine starts me to dreaming about the scrumptuous garden we will have.

I can never vision drought, wet weather, crop failure, blight or insects at this time of year. Gardening as it can be viewed from the month of April is a highly successful experience.

—o—

Couple To Wed

Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. "Dewey" Rice have announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Rose Marie Rice, of Oakland, to James C. Foley, Jr., son of Mrs. Rose Foley Lee, of Mt. Lake Park, and the late James C. Foley, Sr.

The ceremony will be performed Saturday afternoon, May 1, at 3 o'clock, DST, at St. Peter's Catholic church. Rev. Fr. Michael K. Carney will officiate.

Mrs. Elizabeth Dressman, LaVale, will be her sister's matron of honor and Edward Rice will be best man. Organist for the occasion will be Miss Marcella Kerins while soloist will be Charles L. Briner.

This will be an open church wedding and a reception will follow the ceremony at the home of the bride-elect's parents, for all friends and relatives.

Miss Rice is a graduate of Mt. St. Agnes High school in Baltimore and attended Catherman's Business school, Cumberland. She has been employed in the First National Bank in Oakland for four and one-half years.

Mr. Foley is a graduate of Oakland High school and is a veteran of World War II, having served overseas for 18 months. He is now employed at the Timken Roller Bearing company in Canton, Ohio. The couple will reside in that city.

—o—

MARRIED

Harvey-Bowers—In a quiet home ceremony on Saturday evening, April 10, Miss Virginia Bowers became the bride of Ray Harvey. She is the daughter of Frank Bowers, Red Oak, and Mr. Harvey is the son of the late Dorse Harvey, Fairview.

Rev. Ross Speicher performed the ceremony with Mrs. Norma Truban as the bride's matron of honor and Leo Truban as best man.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Cooper, son Boyd, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Gibbs, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Truban and children, of Greenbelt; Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Bowers, Washington, D. C.; Frank Bowers, Mrs. Ross Speicher and daughter, Iva Kathryn.

Refreshments were served following the ceremony.

Governor Warns Magistrates On Political Front

Governor McKeldin last week delivered this ultimatum to county trial magistrates who have been doubling in brass as candidates for elective office:

1. They must resign from their seats on these benches, or

2. Step out of primary election contests.

"Anything tending to undermine public confidence in the trial magistrate system must be avoided," he said in a letter to all county magistrates. Such a letter was received this week by Trial Magistrate W. O. Bitzer, Oakland. Up until yesterday H. D. Swartzentruber, substitute trial magistrate, had received no such notice. Dwight A. Barrick, Kitzmiller magistrate, also had received notice from the Governor. Both Swartzentruber and Barrick are candidates for County Commissioner. Both indicated they intended to stay in the race for nomination on the Republican ticket. Bitzer has not filed as a candidate for any office, and his intentions are not known.

The Governor's letter:

"It has come to my attention that several trial magistrates in various counties of the State are planning to file, or have filed, as candidates for elective public office.

"Commendable" Aim

"It is entirely proper and, indeed, commendable, for men of high caliber to be willing to seek public office, and I do not intend by this letter to indicate in any way that anyone should not feel free to do so.

"However, as Governor, I am compelled to consider the propriety of a trial magistrate seeking elective office at the same time that he is acting in this judicial position.

"I am confident that none of my appointees would permit possible political advantage to influence a judicial decision.

"Nevertheless, the general public would undoubtedly feel that there is inconsistency between the duties of a trial magistrate and the activities of a campaigning candidate.

"No matter how small the inconsistency, anything tending to undermine public confidence in the trial magistrate system must be avoided.

To Maintain "Respect"

"Accordingly, I have decided that to maintain the fullest respect for the integrity and dignity of the trial magistrate system, it is desirable that any trial magistrate, filing as a candidate for elective office, should tender his resignation.

"That there should be no disruption of public service in the magistrate's court, I request that if you tender your resignation under this decision, you continue to perform your duties until a proper replacement is secured, when I will so notify you.

"I regret that the law, applicable only in the counties, does not permit me to grant you leave of absence, as an alternative procedure."

The Governor added that "I trust that the basis for this decision will be understood and that it will not deter anyone from a prospective candidacy."

Among those promoted to Private first class, USMC, upon successful completion of 10 weeks of intensive training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot here was Henry C. Lewis, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Lewis, of Route 1, Oakland.

The job of transforming the recruits into Marines necessitates many hours of field training and classroom lectures. In addition to their training, the recruits are given various aptitude tests to determine the type of duty for which they are best fitted.

Returns To States

Cpl. Ervin R. Nazelrod of Star Route, Oakland, has recently returned from overseas to the 2053d ASU Reception Center at Fort George G. Meade, where after a brief processing period he will be placed on rotation leave. During his leave, the Reception Center will complete the processing of his records and reassign him at some post within the continental limits of the United States. After completion of his leave, he will return to Fort Meade for orders of reassignment.

He is the son of Mrs. Hazel Nazelrod.

Returns To States

A/2c Earl L. Boyce, son of Mr. Forrest L. Boyce, Swanton, has returned to the United States from an eighteen-month tour of duty with the U.S. Air Force in the Philippines.

DEBONAIR REVUE—The Debonair Revue with eighteen persons will feature dance routines of originality at the annual dinner meeting of the Garrett County Teachers' association, to be held at Northern High school on Wednesday evening, May 5. The dinner will be served at 7 o'clock p. m., standard time. The ones shown above are a portion of the group which will furnish the entertainment for the teachers. They have appeared in over 50 shows in the area in addition to being on television in Baltimore. Their last appearance in the county was at the anniversary celebration of the Knights of Pythias lodge in February.

Airman Boyce, whose next duty assignment will be with the 636th Aircraft Control and Warning Squadron at Condon Air Force Station, Ore., is scheduled to arrive in San Francisco in the middle of April on the USNS "Barrett."

A graduate from Wilson High School, he was employed by the Bell Telephone Co. prior to joining the service in October of 1951.

He performed duties for the 6200th Food Service Squadron on Clark Air Force Base, north of Manila during his Philippine tour.

Home on Furlough

A/1c Arthur R. Bowser, who has been located in Eielson, Alaska, with the army air force, is at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Bowser, near Grantsville, on a month's furlough. Upon his return to active duty he will be stationed in Mississippi.

Recently on his Alaskan post he was named transportation's outstanding airman for which he received an award. Prior to entering the service he was a school bus driver. Prior to going to Eielson, Bowser was stationed at Wright-Patterson AFB, near Dayton, O. He has been in the air force for almost three years.

Steel production was at 68 percent of capacity.

Public Hearing On Regulations For Game And Fish

Will Be Held At Easton On Friday, April 23

A public hearing on six proposed regulations regarding game and fish laws, will be conducted at Easton on Friday, April 23, it was announced by Harold Smith Kolmer, assistant director of the Game and Inland Fish Commission.

One concerns a method of hunting waterfowl which would not affect this area. Others concern regulated pheasant shooting grounds, special raccoon dog training season, open season, etc., for game birds and game animals, and the season on deer, with both firearms and bow and arrow.

The hearing will be at 7:30 p. m., on that day in the Talbot County auditorium, adjacent to the Court House.

Briefly, the proposals cover the following:

1. To substitute a regulation giving Commission power to prescribe by regulation the open and closed season for taking of pheasants on licensed regulated pheasant shooting grounds as set forth in Section 180, paragraph "B," Chapter 555, Acts of 1951.

2. Make it lawful between Sept. 10 through October 31, for any person to run or train any dog on raccoons, provided an attendant accompanies said dog or dogs; and no person to carry firearms of any description, climbers, saws, axes, or to dislodge a raccoon from any tree.

3. Provide for adopting and publishing seasons and bag limits on game birds and game animals annually on or before April 25 of each year.

4. Add Baltimore, Calvert and Talbot counties to list where male deer with two or more points to an antler may be hunted, whether or not ground is covered with snow, but in Baltimore, Calvert, Harford, Kent, Queen Anne's, Caroline and Talbot counties it shall be unlawful to use any rifle in the hunting of deer.

5. Adding Calvert, Frederick, Caroline, Talbot counties to ones where deer of either sex may be hunted by use of a long bow.

New Lions Addition

At the regular meeting of the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions club on Monday evening, J. S. Cooper was received as a transfer member from the Thomas Lions club.

It was announced that the club would clear approximately $750 from their 5th annual minstrel show presented last month.

The club is planning to hold its spring ladies' night on Monday night, May 10.

Shocked By Action of Trial Magistrate

Editor, The Republican.

Dear Sir:

I have just finished reading an article appearing in your paper of April 1 to the effect that your mayor, Joseph Hinebaugh, was spotted by Game Warden Leo G. Friend, while he was fishing in a beaver dam on Miller's Run, Mt. Nebo Section. The shocking part of this article is that at a hearing before Magistrate W. O. Bitzer in Oakland, the Mayor pleaded guilty to a violation of Section 216 of the Public Local Laws of Maryland, to-wit: fishing without a license. The article continues that Magistrate Bitzer suspended the fine and costs.

The Maryland records show that I have been purchasing a non-resident hunting license in Maryland for quite a few years and I have always thought that you had some real sportsmen in Garrett County; but now it appears that you also have some privileged residents. Not only does the Honorable Mayor elect to go fishing on the Sabbath but he also does the same without a license and, I suspect, before the fishing season has opened. Further shocking news is that Magistrate Bitzer would suspend the fine and costs.

While hunting in Maryland last season, I recall having heard of a case where a couple of young men were caught hunting at night with the aid of the headlights of an automobile. They pleaded guilty and were fined appropriately and their fire-arms were confiscated.

Being a member of the Izaak Walton League of America, I cannot condone any illegal practices but more particularly so when it comes down to the discriminatory practices wherein the Mayor can knowingly flaunt the laws and then presumably have such influence with the Magistrate that he is released without the payment of any fine or costs and, also, it would appear that his fisning equipment was not confiscated.

It is not my intention to write an essay with respect to such matters but if there is any one thing that causes such disrespect for our Government in general is such discriminatory practices as when an elective official is set free and other poor people are prosecuted.

Yours truly,
James B. Watson, Sr.
Uniontown, Pa.

* * *

Editor's Note: In fairness to Oakland's mayor, we can state definitely that he did not seek any special concessions or privilege when he appeared before the magistrate. He asked for no favors.

He has always been one of the first to get his license in former years.

The Mayor said yesterday that he planned to go before the magistrate and pay the regular fine and costs some time this week, of his own accord, but that as yet he had not done so. The magistrate declared to the editor and to a number of other people that the mayor had paid a fine at the hearing on March 29. Another look at the records yesterday, on page 105 of the magistrate's docket, disclosed the wording "Fine and costs suspended" in regard to the mayor's violation charge.

MRS. MARTHA GLOTFELTY

A Song and A Message

The scene is Queen's Hall, London. A stylish, cultured audience has gather for a concert. One item on the program is a song by a young, unknown singer. It is her first appearance before the critical music public of London. With perfect voice and artless grace she sings a song she has practiced long hours with her distinguished tutor. At the end of the song, the applause is deafening. Once again, she sings the same song, and the call for an encore is insistent. The tutor is not willing to risk another number, but quietly the young girl takes a song from her music case and hands it to the accompanist. As she goes to the platform, the noise and cheering die away. In perfect stillness she begins.

There is a green hill far away,
Without a city wall,
Where the dear Lord was crucified,
Who died to save use all.

The effect is electrical. It is a long time since many who listen have heard any religious message. The voice goes on.

We may not know, we cannot tell,
What pains he had to bear:
But we believe it was for us
He hung and suffered there.
He died that we might be forgiven,
He died to make us good,
That we might go at last to heaven,
Saved by His precious blood.

There are no whispered comments as the song carries them on its wings to far off Calvary.

There was no other good enough
To pay the price of sin:
He only could unlock the gate
Of heaven, and let us in.

The singer pours out her heart in adoration of her crucified Lord.

O dearly, dearly has He loved,
And we must love Him, too,
And trust in his redeeming blood
And try his works to do.

There is no applause as she finishes—only a great silence. A silence of awe and reverence, such as all of us must have as we bow before the mystery and love of a Cross.

(This true story is told by Leslie Weatherhead).

Senators reported agreement on 2-year public housing program of about 35,000 units a year.

Government launched investigation of alleged frauds against home owners.

Listen Americans!

BY GEORGE S. BENSON
President of Harding College

The Finance Director of our Arkansas state government has just announced that by 1970 the last $10,000,000 of our state highway debt will be paid off. On that date there probably will be a state-wide celebration and every man, woman and child will heave a great sigh of relief.

Arkansas' borrowing to build highways would have been all right if it had kept within reasonable bounds and had the money been spent wisely, without political considerations. But it wasn't. The big borrowing started nearly 30 years ago. First one governor and then another discovered the political magic of floating bonds to get things done without having immediately to tax the people for it. The money was spent loosely and sometimes with political design rather than wisdom.

Quickly our state was $150,000,000 in debt. When unexpectedly hard times came, Arkansas defaulted—it couldn't meet the terms of its debt contract, and for a short time the bondholders were in serious jeopardy. The temporary injury to the state affected the welfare of every citizen. Then, 15 years ago, Arkansas refunded its highway-bonded debt and began a stiff program of debt liquidation. But under this program our debt service has been so heavy (interest and principal payments) we haven't been able to keep pace with the wear and tear on our highways.

That's why our citizens can look ahead with unbounded gladness to 1970 and the throwing off of the bail and chain of this debt.

The $275-billion national debt averages an obligation of $4,250 on every job holder in the U.S.A. And it must be paid in taxes. Not only that, but the interest, the cost of borrowing, must be paid in taxes. The interest now amounts to about $7-billion each 12 months, which is more than the entire federal government cost as recently as 1938. Also each 12 months, about $60-billion is needed to redeem the debts coming due; and this must be borrowed. With the debt climbing, it is an endless cycle. It all adds up to frenzied financing.

The sensible thing to do about the national debt is, I think, to institute a program for gradually cutting it down out of current tax revenue. This would mean reducing the $65-billion 1954-55 budget proposed by the Administration, by just 5 per cent. Is this too much for the citizenry to ask of Congress—that 5 per cent be cut from the $65-biillion budget? Of course not!

MARYLAND WILDLIFE

Prepared by the MARYLAND GAME & INLAND FISH COMMISSION

OPOSSUM

(Didelphis virginiana. Derivation, "didelphis" from the Greek meaning two wombed, and the Latin "virginianus," meaning of Virginia.)

RANGE: Common in wooded areas of Maryland where dens may be established in hollow trees or stumps and food is convenient.

BREEDING: From 5 to 14 young born 12-13 days after mating; each smaller than honeybee—a tablespoon will hold more than twenty; crawl to brood sac or pouch, each seeking a nipple, where they are nourished and kept for about 6 or 8 weeks, then shift for selves. Breeds at one year. 1-2 litters yearly. Only North American marsupial (mother carries young in pouch.) Life span 8 years.

HABITS: Feigns death when disturbed—this accounts for expression "playing 'possum." Nests in hollow trees; sleeps during day; active throughout year, mostly at night.

MANAGEMENT: Eats most anything; eggs and persimmons favorite food; important part consists of insects of various kinds, ground-nesting birds, mice, moles and young rabbits. Preservation of den trees and hollow logs are important management practices.

VALUE: Enjoyed as food by some persons. Undoubtedly a pest to poultrymen but provides sport for hunters and destroys mice and many insects. Fur of low quality. Important source of food for foxes.

Journey

Keep a clear lookout for what is still ahead. "Ye shall henceforth return no more that way." The Bible is right.

Victor Hugo confessed to a friend that the most disagreeable advance in age to him had been from 39 to 40. "But I should think it a great deal brighter to be 40 than 50," his companion remonstrated. "Not at all," said Hugo. "Forty years is the old age of youth, while 50 is the youth of old age."

Our spiritual faith assures us that the glory of every true life is in the time to come. God hasn't yet exhausted himself on behalf of those who trust Him. There is still that ahead which "the eye hath not seen nor ear heard." Wise men will think of those wonderful revelations of God awaiting them as they go jogging along on their journey, the word that can change your life.

Senate Cloakroom

By J. GLENN BEALL
United States Senator from Maryland

President Eisenhower last week took the American people into his confidence and the reaction has demonstrated the enormous respect which he enjoys.

Experts in assessing a speaker's television personality give the President top rating, and those of us who lack the technical knowledge were equally impressed with the President's easy informality and the manner in which he talked with the people about this nation's "strength, its problems, its apprehensions, and its future."

President Eisenhower covered the entire range of problems from domestic difficulties, such as our economy and internal security, to Indo-China, to the potential for peace in the H-Bomb.

The American people heard their President discuss with them the problems of the world today—he didn't belittle these problems, but rather pointed out their complexity and seeming insolvability. "Sometimes you feel, almost," he said, "that we can be excused for getting a little bit hysterical, because these dangers come from so many angles, and they are of such different kinds, and no matter what we do they still seem to exist."

But hysteria, he said was not the way to overcome our present day difficulties. "Now, the greater any of these apprehensions," President Eisenhower explained, "the greater is the need that we look at them clearly, face to face, without fear, like honest straightforward Americans, so we do not develop the jitters or any other kind of panic, that we do not fall prey to hysterical thinking."

Believing that even the President of the United States may at times enjoy receiving an approving letter, I wrote to him as follows:

"Dear Mr. President:

Your address last Monday evening was an example of eloquent, logical reasoning with the American people. I am confident that it did much to calm unwarranted fears and apprehensions, and to replace these irrational emotions with the resolute understanding so necessary if we are to succeed in maintaining a prosperous United States in a world at peace.

Unfortunately, there are some who have sought to exploit the risks and dangers of the world we live in, and, therefore, aroused and confused the people of our great nation. Your talk—taking the entire nation into your confidence—has made it clear to all that there are risks and dangers, necessary and unavoidable ones, but our problems cannot be overcome by hysteria or panic.

As I reviewed your remarks I took great pleasure in the knowledge that I am a member of your team, and especially in reflecting on my voting record during the 83rd Congress to know that I have actively supported your program.

It would be mere repetition for me to comment on your message in any detail—suffice to say I was pleased with, and endorse every word of it. However, I was particularly happy with your reference to faith in our traditions and beliefs. As you so magnificently phrased it, 'there must be something in the heart as well as in the head'.

Mr. President, this nation is fortunate and justly proud to have as the head of our State a man with your capabilities, and above all with your rare perception and insight into the spirit of America.

Despite the problems and difficulties facing this nation and its leaders, I am convinced that we shall not despair but meet the challenges of today and tomorrow with the faith of our forefathers and the wisdom which comes from unfearful reasoning.

I join you in your confidence and determination, and pledge my continued support to your program for a stronger America in a free and prosperous world.

Respectfully yours,
J. Glenn Beall"

Critical problems face the President and his Administration. He has the ability to meet them if he has the support of the people—in order to preserve our freedom and our democratic way of life that is a small contribution for each of us to make.

OFF FOR WASHINGTON—Girl Scouts of Oakland and Mt. Lake Park Intermediate troops left at 4:30 yesterday morning for the Capital City on their annual two-day tour. They are scheduled to return to their homes sometime after midnight tonight after an intensive schedule arranged largely through the Mt. Top Chamber of Commerce working with Congressman DeWitt S. Hyde. Around 40 scouts took the trip, accompanied by seven adult leaders. Bells' Studio Photo.

DeWITT S. HYDE

President Eisenhower has taken the lead in dispelling the "fears which have been spread around the country by speakers and writers who seem to be overly alarmed by many international and domestic events."

In his informal radio and television talk last week, the President did not try to hide or gloss over the serious problems confronting us. He named them: Our concern about the next moves of the men in the Kremlin; possible loss of more areas to Communism; fear of the H-bomb, and of Red infiltration in this country; fear that we won't make the grade economically in our transition from war to peace.

His main point, however, was that we should look at our problems optimistically. We should have confidence in coming out on top, as proved by our long history of success.

Thinking about this question of pessimism versus optimism, I ran across a magazine editorial written by a very gloomy editor. Evidently he had been examining the news reports from home and abroad, and wrote:

"It is a gloomy moment in history. Not for many years, not in the lifetime of most men who read this, has there been so much grave and deep apprehension; never has the future seemed so incalculable as at this time.

"In France the political caldron seethes and bubbles with uncertainty; Russia hangs as usual like a dark cloud, dark and silent upon the horizon of Europe. . . .Of our own troubles no man can see the end. It is a solemn moment . . ."

I suppose the editor went home that night after writing his article, knowing that a great many people would read it and share his views the next day, when they bought their copy of "Harper's Weekly" for October 10, 1857!

That little illustration shows how humans can easily be led to think that their problems are the worst anyone ever faced. If each of us would pick up our daily paper and look for the good news, and try to read the bad news optimistically, I think we will move forward to the solution of our problems a lot more swiftly. As Ike said the other night:

"There must be something in the heart as well as in the head. So as we do this, as you and I approach our problems in this way, I assure you we don't have to fear. I don't mean to say, and no one can say to you, that there are no dangers. Of course there are risks, if we are not vigilant. But we do not have to be hysterical. We can be vigilant. We can be Americans. We can stand up and hold up our heads and say: America is the greatest force that God has ever allowed to exist on His footstool."

On Saturday, the 24th, I'll be in my office in the Cumberland post office building all day; visitors welcome.

Sharpless Mine Is Recently Inspected

Elimination of a dangerous roof condition along one haulageway, removal of dangerous accumulations of fine loose coal from active underground workings, and adequate rock-dusting of mine surfaces that were not definitely wet were urged today by the U. S. Bureau of Mines for the Sharpless Coal Company's Rawlings No. 1 mine near Kitzmiller, Md.

The 12-man mine averaged 70 tons of coal daily when inspected recently by T. J. Ward.

The Federal inspector recommended improved ventilation in one section, preshift and weekly examinations for explosive gas and other hazards, stemming boreholes with incombustible material, and adequate fire-fighting facilities underground.

Ward also proposed frequent roof and rib tests by all face workers, removal of obstructions from the clearance space along haulageways, several electrical betterments, and the wearing of goggles or shields by workmen exposed to eye hazards.

A copy of this report is available for inspection at the Bureau of Mines, Fairmont (W. Va.) office, Jacobs Building, Fairmont, W. Va.

CRELLIN

A Sunrise service will be held Sunday morning at 6:00 o'clock in the Crellin church. Rev. Edsil Bragg and Rev. Don Jackson will be in charge. Rev. Bragg will deliver the sermon. Everyone is invited.

"THIS CAR IS A KNOCKOUT! . . . AND REAL EASY TO DRIVE!"
Walt Woron—Don MacDonald MOTOR TREND
"You'll like the 1954 Mercury, if you like power that'll make you sit back in your seat when you stomp the throttle.
"If there is no other reason for the increase in horsepower (now 161) the added acceleration for passing is enough.
"Lincoln-type ball-and-socket joints on Mercury's front wheels eliminate familiar kingpin, reduce front end vibration, and cut the number of forward grease fittings from 16 to four."

GOVERNING OFFICIALS—Oakland's Mayor and Town Council posed for its official photograph at last week's council session following the swearing in of three members, but there was only one new face around the table. At last month's election, Mayor Joseph Hinebaugh was re-elected without opposition, and Councilmen Maurice Brookhart and Harry Stemple were returned to office. One new member of the council was elected, Robert Maroney. Shown, left to right, are Maroney, Brookhart, Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, renamed president; Stemple, Donald M. Reforestation Here Nearing Completion

Western Maryland's reforestation program is nearing completion for this year with the deliverance of approximately 1,500,000 trees from the state nursery to district foresters in the four westernmost counties of the state.

William H. Johnson, district forester, reported many of the trees already had been planted under the program to build up the state's forest lands. This year will see over 3,000,000 trees planted throughout Maryland.

The orders for trees for Western Maryland this year totaled 1,499,000. Garrett county received the most trees for planting, Johnson said, with 435,000 delivered here since planting began March 20. Frederick county has received 346,000 trees, while 195,000 have been sent to Allegany county and 183,000 to Washington county.

The trees, largely white, scotch and red pine and Norway and white spruce, with some locust and Virginia pine, are being planted by the state foresters both by machinery and by hand.

Approximately 270,000 trees have already been planted by machines on both state and private lands, Johnson said, and slightly in excess of a half million trees are expected to be planted by machine. The remainder of the trees will be planted by hand in areas which are too small or too steep for use of machinery. These include areas where less than 5,000 young saplings can be planted.

K. of P. Meeting Cancelled

Lodge officers announced that there would be no meeting of Garrett Lodge No. 113, Knights of Pythias, tomorrow night, because of Good Friday, but that the meetings would resume regularly again next Friday evening, April 22.

MARRIED

Pope-Durr— Miss Mary Durr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Durr, Erwin, W. Va., became the bride of Earl Pope, son of Mrs. Dorothy Pope, Gormania, W. Va., on January 1, it was announced recently. Rev. H. O. Teagarden, Oakland, performed the ceremony.

Only attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Liller, uncle and aunt of the groom, and Willis Dixon.

A wedding shower and serenade were given in the couple's honor Saturday night, April 10, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Liller, at Gormania. A taffy pull followed the opening of gifts.

Among the guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wolfe, Della Wolfe, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Nine, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Friend, Sara Friend, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Wolfe, Colleen, Dottie, Clayton, Russell and Clifford Wolfe, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Willt, Carol Willt, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Paugh, Mrs. Robert Davis, Mr. and Mrs. George Friend, Benny and Ernest Friend, Mrs. Charles Shafer, Rodney Shafer, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Liller, Jerry, Jackie, Betty and Ronald Liller, and the honored guests.

Make Inspection Trip

R. Brooke Maxwell, chairman of the State Board of Forests and Parks, accompanied by Joseph F. Kaylor, director of the department of Forests and Parks, and William H. Johnson, Cumberland, district forester, were in Garrett county on Wednesday on an inspection of appropriate sites for a public park on Deep Creek Lake and inspecting other forest interests. They were met here by Paul B. Naylor, also a member of the State Board of Forests and Parks.

Heat Protection Makes Poultry Profits Bigger

Extreme heat costs Maryland poultrymen more money than extreme cold. Heat lowers egg production and slows the growth of broilers and replacement pullets and males.

Wade H. Rice, University of Maryland Extension poultryman, says temperatures above 82 degrees F. in laying houses reduces feed use efficiency by laying birds. Growing birds can stand a little more heat—their feed use efficiency starts falling off when temperatures reach 85 degrees F.

Temperatures in the State are certain to reach these points before very long. Rice suggests that poultrymen make preparations now to cool houses where birds will be confined so there will be little loss in production in case of an early-season hot spell.

There are two ways to keep the birds comfortable. One is to keep heat out of the building, the other is to ventilate and lower the temperatures that cannot be prevented by the first method.

Rice says heat can be kept out by the following means:

1. Use aluminum roofing or aluminum paint or roll roofing to reflect the heat rays of the sun. This can reduce the temperature as much as 6 degrees at bird level and 15 degrees at ceiling level.

2. Use structural roof insulating materials. This method has reduced temperatures at bird level up to 4 degrees in tests in which the insulation was applied under the rafters and the trapped air in the loft exhausted by fans.

3. Run water over the roof. If water is available sprinkling probably won't cost more than ½ cent an hour and can reduce the temperature as much as 7 degrees.

The Extension poultryman recommends open windows and doors on all sides of the building to let heat out. Roof ventilators at the peak of gabled buildings also exhaust heat. Exhaust fans push or pull the heated air from the building and give added circulation within the room.

To Conduct Revival

ESTELLE CRUTCHER
Miami, Florida

Mrs. Estelle Crutcher, Miami, Florida, will be preaching nightly, April 21 to May 2, during a revival at the Church of the Nazarene, on Eighth street, Oakland, it has been announced by Rev. Glenn Eagle, pastor.

Mrs. Crutcher was born in India of missionary parents and spent the early years of her life in that land. In recent years she returned to give three months in evangelism in the Nazarene field, and as a sidelight also visited the near East, Damascus, Syria, Amman, Transjordan and Jerusalem.

The mother of three sons and three daughters, her eldest daughter is now serving as missionary in India with her husband, Rev. Earl Lee. Mrs. Crutcher has been in the ministry of the Church of the Nazarene for twenty-nine years as pastor and evangelist.

To Wed Thursday

Miss Joyce Ann Brant, of McHenry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Brant, will become the bride of Rev. Vincent C. Parker, son of Dr. and Mrs. Paul S. Parker, Deep Creek Lake, this evening, April 15, at 8 o'clock, at an open church wedding.

The candlelight ceremony will be performed by the prospective groom's father, who is pastor of the Deep Creek Baptist church. Assisting will be an uncle, Rev. Millard E. Wetzel, of Baptistown, N. J.

Miss Brant will have Mrs. Charles D. Parker, Lewes, Del., as matron of honor, and Miss Pauletta Wetzel, of Baptistown, as maid of honor. George G. Edgar, of McHenry, will be best man. Paul S. Parker, Jr., Buffalo, N. Y., will be an usher. Ringbearers will be Paul S. Parker, III, and Dale M. Parker, Buffalo. Flower girl will be Darline Parker, of Lewes.

A reception will be held in the parsonage following the ceremony.

Miss Brant is a senior student at Southern High school where she is taking a secretarial course. Rev. Parker served two years in the Army Air force, having been discharged last October, and since that time has been an assistant pastor in the Deep Creek Baptist charge. Prior to his military service he attended Wake Forest college in North Carolina.

British announced steps to restore Iran's billion dollar oil industry, with aid of five American oil companies.

Three Republicans File for Governor

Three Republicans are challenging McKeldin's GOP leadership as of this week. That many candidates have filed for the Republican nomination for governor.

Latest one to file was James Wolcott Gum, lawyer and farmer who placed his certificate for nomination with the Secretary of State in Annapolis on April 13.

Lt. Gen. Pedro DelValle entered the race on April 12. He is a retired Marine corps general who has had a hand in international business and counter-intelligence.

Temus R. Bright, Baltimore auto dealer, entered the contest last year with promises of a campaign by helicopter and such trappings as hillbilly bands.

Actually Governor McKeldin has not filed for nomination as yet, but has until next Monday night within the following week. The at midnight. Candidates may withdraw and regain their filing fee primaries will be held June 28.

New strength and stamina! Lower upkeep costs!

New Chevrolet Trucks...
do more work per day... more work per dollar!

You save hours on the road. Thanks to new high-compression power, you can maintain faster schedules without driving at higher maximum speeds. Increased acceleration and hill-climbing ability let you save time where it counts.

You save time on deliveries. With new truck Hydra-Matic transmission, you save time at every delivery stop. And you can forget about clutching and shifting for good! It's optional at extra cost on ½-, ¾- and 1-ton Chevrolet trucks.

You save extra trips. That's because of the extra load space you get in the new Advance-Design bodies. New pick-up bodies are deeper, new stake and platform bodies are wider and longer. Also, they're set lower for easier loading.

You save with lower upkeep, too. Extra chassis strength saves you money on maintenance. There are heavier axle shafts in two-ton models . . . bigger clutches in light- and heavy-duty models . . . stronger frames in all models.

You save on operating costs. New power saves you money every mile! The "Thriftmaster 235" engine, the "Loadmaster 235" and the "Jobmaster 261" (optional on 2-ton models at extra cost) deliver increased operating economy.

And your savings start the day you buy. In fact, they start with the low price you pay and continue over the miles. Chevrolet is America's lowest-priced line of trucks. It's also the truck that has a traditionally higher trade-in value.

Come in and see all the wonderful new things you get in America's number one truck. We'll be glad to give you all the money-saving facts.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

International Uniform Sunday School Lessons

BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

Scripture: John 19:41-42; 20-21.
Devotional Reading: 1 Peter 4:1-11.

Our Living Lord

Lesson for April 18, 1954

TO SPEAK about Jesus as if he were simply a historical character is a mistake, said William Adams Brown. When other men die, their obituaries can be written. There is nothing to add to the tale of their life. Even in the case of the great and famous men about whom new books appear every so often, each biographer merely edits newly discovered material at the most. If he adds a chapter to other biographies, it is simply the record of a chapter hitherto unknown—but it adds nothing new to the facts, only to men's knowledge of the facts. With Jesus, as Dr. Brown points out, the case is altogether different. You could not write a "definitive," a lastword, biography about him even today, because he still lives and is active in the world. Jesus is not someone who was; that is not the whole truth. Jesus is. The message of Easter is not only that Jesus did not die forever; it is more that he lives forever, that he lives now.

Dr. Foreman

In the Church

The Church is called in the New Testament the "body of Christ." In a very real way, that is true. One contemporary theologian has put this in a startling way. He says that Christ and the church are the complete Christ, just as a man and his body together are the complete man. This may be putting it too strongly. But no thoughtful Christian will deny that without the church, without some church, Christ would be bodiless in this earth. Without the church he would be a "houseless wraith of deity," but with the church he has eyes, ears, hands and feet. This is not to say that any church is perfect; in the best of churches Christ walks lame and speaks in a murmur often hard to understand. Just as any musician would be hampered by a broken arm, so Christ is hampered by broken and self-seeking churches. Yet taking it all in all, Christ does live and speak and work through his church today. He is there in the sacraments, there in the message of truth and grace, there in the life and service of every church that ministers to men in his name.

In Men and Women

But the church does not exist apart from the men and women who are its members. (We mean real members, not just people whose names appear on the membership lists.) Christ lives again in every individual who loves him, is devoted to him and (to use St. Paul's memorable words) is "growing up in all things into Him." When St. Paul said, "I live, yet not I, but Christ liveth in me," he was saying only what countless Christians have said because they had discovered it was true. Christians less famous than Paul have known him in their lives. A man who had had a great deal of trouble with a certain temptation was asked one day by his pastor how he was getting along. "You know," the man replied, "I used to have a lot of bother from the devil and I didn't always get the best of him. But now when Satan rings, I just say, 'Lord Jesus, won't you answer the door?' "

At the Right Hand of God

The Apostles' Creed, which Christians in all lands know by heart, declares that Christ "sitteth at the right hand of God." By this the church has never meant that Jesus is spending eternity sitting down on a throne somewhere. What we mean is that Christ is not only alive on this small planet but that he lives and works with God. Just as in ancient times when a king held royal court, the seat on his right was reserved for his most trusted and most active personal representative, so Christ lives on in the presence of Eternal Power today, in ways that the heavenly glory hides from our sight. We dare not guess at all what he plans and does; but the Church is certain of one thing: he is praying for his people. "He ever liveth to make intercession for us." If it is a comfort to know of the prayers of any friend, how much more to know that the living Lord is praying for us! So on Easter Sunday the church sings—how can she help it? The flowers and the music are not to keep alive the memory of one who once upon a time rose again, but are in honor of one who lives now, in and above the church and the world.

"There's No Business Like Show Business"

There has never been anything like it in the history of Northern's Music Department!

That's what everyone was saying about the new TV Variety Show which was staged at the gymnasium on Tuesday, April 6th.

Dale Frazee served as master of ceremonies, and the entire evening was the most outstanding entertainment ever offered by the music department to the public here.

Other special added attractions were the Studio singers, Jr.-Sr. Chorus singing, "It's a Grand Night for Singing," and "Your Land and My Land." Sr. Chorus sang "I Hear America Singing" and "Hallelujah."

Monologues were by Audrey Schaefer, "Somethin' Ain't Right;" Kay Hare, "Yes Sah, Folks, No Foolin;" Betty Gould, "Lissen', Sinnahs."

Piano numbers were by Delores Wright and Elsie Wright. Flute solo, "The Waltzing Doll," was by Juanita Buckel. Tap duet, "Buttons and Bows," was by Vida Jean Yommer and Gertrude Robinson. Boys octet, "East Side, West Side," and "I Had a Dream," was by Glenn Bittinger, James Short, Troy Wilburn, John Paul Fike, Larry McCurdy, Richard Stanton ,and John Monohan.

Skits by Gail Savage and Doris Ohler, "Who's Afraid;" Dorothy Glotfelty, Barbara Rush, Janet Beachy, "The Three Pirates;" June Resh, Nancy Layman, Shirley Mickey, Shirley Yoder, Vida Jean Yommer, and Janet Beachy, "Siss, Boom, Bah."

PUTTING MORE "Sense" in FARM FEEDING

by Uncle Fred...

In the nearly three quarters of a century the Kasco folks have been making feeds—farmers have made profits by using them. It may seem strange, but Kasco wants you to spend less money for feed. However—we want you to get more feed nutrition with that money. We feel that Kasco feeds cost less when fewer pounds do the same job . . . better and faster. Doesn't that make dollar sense?

Fall profits depend on the feed you give chicks now. For that reason you'll want to give them the best—Kasco Chick Starter.

We could talk about K-Blending—our miraculous new manufacturing process—or antibiotics, or the greater nutrition in our bright, clean ingredients that grow chicks into big, healthy, early producing pullets. But your chick's development will tell the story better than words.

You'll be satisfied with Kasco results, the only true measure of a feed's value. Kasco's whole feeding program from chick to hen is based on the results of hundreds of tests by Kasco research. But, don't take our word—try a few bags and compare results. Prove that Kasco does a better job.

Today's chicks are tomorrow's profits. Protect them with pretested Kasco Chick Starter. You'll be starting ahead today and staying ahead by using Kasco all the way.

State Senator, $35; Member House of Delegates, $35; Clerk of the Circuit Court, $30; Register of Wills, $30; Sheriff, $25; State's Attorney, $25; County Treasurer, $25; County Commissioner, $20; Judges of the Orphans' Court, $10; County Surveyor, $10; Members of the State Central Committee, $10.

Photography of candidates, to be used in conjunction with their weekly advertisements, extra according to the space used.

Advertising other than formal announcement would be at the regular advertising rate of 70 cents per column inch, payable in advance.

FOR STATE SENATOR

To the Citizens of Garrett County:

I am a candidate for the office of State Senator from Garrett County.

I have been a resident of Garrett County for the past forty-three years. I was County Treasurer from 1947 through 1950 and have served in the House of Delegates during the years 1927 through 1930, in 1945 and 1946 and in 1951 up until the present time. In the Sessions of 1952, 1953 and 1954 I was elected Minority Leader by the Republican members of the House. As such, I was a member of the Rules Committee, the Ways and Means and of the Legislative Council. The information and knowledge I will gather at the Council meetings this year will be of great value to our County and State if I am elected to this office.

I feel that my background as a farmer, a veteran of World War I, a merchant, an employee of the Board of Education (all of which I have been in the past) together with my experience as County Treasurer and as a member in the House of Delegates for seven regular and three special sessions fit me for this office.

I make no idle campaign promises, but, if elected, I pledge to follow the same policies and serve my County and my State in the same manner as in the past. I will give careful and thoughtful consideration to any suggestions and will earnestly endeavor, at all times, to keep myself worthy of the confidence placed in me by the Citizens of Garrett County.

Arthur H. Green
Swanton, Maryland
District No. 1

—Adv. 7*

To The Voters of Garrett County:

I hereby announce my candidacy for the State Senate on the Republican ticket, subject to the June primary election.

If nominated and later elected I will encourage industrial enterprise to locate in Garrett county, especially the city of Oakland, to improve employment and the economic status of the community; I will advocate lower and more reasonable taxes for seasonal dwellers at Deep Creek Lake, to encourage greater building activity and more tax revenue; I will encourage a bill to give every war veteran the right to own a dwelling free from all taxation up to the appraised value of $5,000, thus encouraging home building and better economy for the state of Maryland.

Your vote is solicited.

William M. Nazelrod
District No. 14

—Adv. 7*

FOR HOUSE OF DELEGATES

To the Voters of Garrett County:

I am announcing my candidacy for Member of the House of Delegates from Garrett County. I feel that the eight years of experience that I have had from 1930 to 1938 as member of the House of Delegates should fully qualify me to capably represent the people of Garrett county and the State of Maryland. I am engaged in general farming and dairying. I own and operate my own farms and specialize in purebred Hereford cattle and purebred sheep. If nominated and elected I will represent all the people of Garrett county.

Arthur G. Cullers
District No. 8

—Adv. 7*

To the Voters of Garrett County:

I am a candidate for re-election for member of the House of Delegates for this county, subject to the coming primary election. I feel that the experience I have had as your representative for the past seven and one-half years fully qualifies me to again capably represent the people of Garrett county in this important office.

I respectfully solicit your support in the coming primary election to be held June 28. If nominated and elected I promise you I will do my best for Garrett county.

George E. Coddington

—Adv. 7*

To the Republican Voters:

I hereby announce my candidacy for a member of the House of Delegates on the Republican ticket, subject to the results of the primary election.

I have been a resident of Garrett county all my life and I feel that I know the needs of the people. If nominated and later elected I pledge my earnest efforts toward an honest and efficient administration and will endeavor to represent this county in the legislature to the best of my ability.

Carlis Burton Helms
Election District No. 14

—Adv. 7*

CLERK OF CIRCUIT COURT

To the Citizens of Garrett County:

I am a Candidate for re-nomination as Clerk of the Circuit Court for Garrett County, subject to the coming Primary Election.

I feel that the experience that I have attained in the past 7½ years as your Clerk and the eight years previously as Deputy Clerk, fully qualifies me to capably handle the duties required of such an important and exacting Office. I will continue, as in the past, to conduct the Office according to law and to be helpful and courteous to all.

I respectfully solicit your support in the coming Primary Election.

Richard L. Davis.

—Adv. 5*

REGISTER OF WILLS

To the Voters of Garrett County:

In announcing my candidacy for renomination for Register of Wills for Garrett County, a position which I have filled for a number of years, I do so in the belief that those years of experience better qualify me to render efficient service in the duties and responsibilities of the office. If reelected it shall be my pleasure to continue to be helpful to all persons having business to transact through the Orphans' Court and I shall be grateful for your support.

Sincerely yours,
Vernie R. Smouse.

—Adv. 5*

FOR COUNTY TREASURER

To the Republican Voters:

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of County Treasurer, subject to the results of the Republican primary election, and earnestly solicit the support of all the citizens of the county.

I have been a resident of Mt. Lake Park for twenty-nine years and have had bookkeeping and administrative experience for the past twenty-four years which I feel qualifies me to fill satisfactorily the office I seek. For the past four years I have been in the office of the County Roads engineer.

I pledge an honest and efficient administration in the duties of the treasurer's office should I be nominated and later elected.

Joseph H. Welch,
Mt. Lake Park
District 16

—Adv. 51*

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

To the Republican Voters
of Garrett County:

I hereby announce as a candidate for the office of County Commissioner of Garrett County.

Inasmuch as I live in Election District No. 10, under the present system of electing County Commissioners I will represent the first County Commissioner District if nominated and elected to the office which I seek. At the present time, I am a member of the Orphans' Court of this county.

I have lived in Garrett County all of my life, am a farmer, have been interested in a number of business and other organizations and believe that I have a pretty thorough knowledge of affairs in our county and what should be done for its improvement and well being.

If nominated and elected, I will give careful attention to the duties and demands of the office and to the best of my ability will serve all of the people of the county alike.

I respectfully solicit the support of all Republicans at the primary.

Harry F. Paugh

—Adv. 51*

To the Voters of Garrett County:

I hereby announce as candidate for the office of County Commissioner of Garrett County.

I have been a life-long resident of Garrett County, living in District No. 14.

If nominated and later elected to this office, I have but one promise to make—that I will serve the people of my county to the best of my ability.

My motto is, I realize no one can please everybody, but I can keep on trying.

I respectfully solicit your support.

H. D. "Hub" Swartzentruber.

—Adv. 1*

To all Voters of Garrett County:

I hereby announce as a candidate for the office of County Commissioner of Garrett County.

I have lived in Election District No. 13, in Garrett County all of my life. I have always been a Republican and I am now serving my third year as one of the Trial Magistrates of Garrett County.

If nominated and elected, I will to the best of my ability serve all the people of Garrett County alike.

I respectfully solicit your support.

Dwight A. Barrick
County Commissioner
District No. 1

—Adv. 2*

To the Republican Voters
of Garrett County:

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of County Commissioner subject to the results of the Republican primary.

Born and reared on a farm near Grantsville, I have lived in Garrett county practically all of my life. I purchased my first farm in District No. 5 in 1923. I believe my experience in the Farm Bureau, Soil Conservation and other organization work will be of great help in administering the duties of this office.

If nominated and elected I shall give just and honest consideration of all matters pertaining to the duties of this office.

I sincerely solicit your support and influence.

Foster Yost
District No. 5

—Adv. 2*

To the voters of Garrett County:

I hereby announce as a candidate for renomination for the office of County Commissioner of Garrett County, a position which I have filled for a number of years. I do so in the belief that those years of experience better qualify me to render efficient service to the taxpayers of this county.

If re-elected it shall be my pleasure to continue to serve the people of this county to the best of my ability, if nominated and elected I shall give a just and honest administration and always working for the best interest of this county.

I sincerely solicit your support and influence.

Jonas W. Sines
District No. 14

—Adv. 7*

To the Republican Voters
of Garrett County:

I hereby announce myself as a candidate on the Republican ticket for the office of County Commissioner of Garrett County.

Since I live in Election District No. 1, if nominated and elected to this office, I will represent the first County Commissioner District.

If nominated and elected to this office, I pledge an honest, just and fair consideration to all problems and matters of that office, and will serve all the people of this county to the best of my ability.

I shall be grateful for your support.

—dv. 7* Curtis C. Miller.

After consulting many citizens and voters of the County, I have decided to seek re-election to the office of County Commissioner. I have served in this capacity for the last seven years and I feel that the experience I have gained during that period fully qualifies me to fill this very important position, and I stand on my record.

I solicit the support of all Republicans in the primary election on June 28th.

Stewart F. Stahl

—Adv. 7*

To the Voters of Garrett County:

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of County Commissioner of Garrett County.

I have been a resident of this county all my life and having been an employee of Garrett County Roads Department for approximately fourteen years, I feel I am acquainted with some of the procedure of the office I am seeking.

If nominated and later elected, I shall serve, to the best of my ability, in the interest of all taxpayers and the benefit of the county.

Your support and influence will be appreciated.

Fred D. Trickett

—Adv. 7*

FOR SHERIFF

I hereby announce myself as a candidate on the Republican ticket to succeed myself for the office of Sheriff of Garrett county.

My entire life has been spent in Garrett county, mostly in District No. 2, and I have endeavored to carry out the duties of the office without fear or partiality. Having served in this capacity for four years, and previous to that time as your deputy sheriff, I feel that I am in a position to render the type of service which the citizens of our county should expect from this office.

If renominated and reelected I pledge my full effort to the work connected with the sheriff's office. I shall be grateful for your support.

Paul W. Fisher
District No. 2

—Adv. 2*

To the Democratic Voters of Garrett County:

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of Sheriff of Garrett County, Maryland.

I have been a life long resident of Garrett County, and for sixteen years have worked in and around the coal mines of our county. For the last four years I have been employed by the B. & O. railroad.

I, Lee McRobie, do hereby promise an honest and efficient administration, if I am nominated and later elected to the office.

Lee (Doll) McRobie
Election District No. 13

—Adv. 3*

JUDGE OF ORPHANS' COURT

To the Republican Voters
of Garrett County:

I hereby announce as a candidate for the office of Judge of the Orphans' Court of Garrett County.

I have been a life long resident of Garrett County, living in District No. 5. I am at present and have been for 25 years, Secretary-Treasurer of the Mutual Fire Insurance Company. I am also associated with the handling of the Farm Bureau in Garrett County.

If nominated and later elected to this office, I have but one desire, an honest administration of my duties.

I respectfully solicit the support of all Republicans at the primary.

R. C. "Pop" Turney
District No. 5

—Adv. 7*

REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE

To the Republican Voters:

I am announcing my candidacy for member of the Republican State Central Committee, subject to the primary election in June.

I have been a staunch Republican during my entire lifetime and have always worked for the best interest of the party. I previously served as a member of this committee and ask the continued confidence of the Republican voters.

Lawrence M. Fraley
District No. 14

—Adv. 7*

To the Republican Voters:

I hereby announce my candidacy as a member of the Republican State Central Committee, subject to the June Primary Election.

I have worked in party organization in former years and at one time served as a member of this committee. I ask the support and influence of the Republican voters of the county in re-electing me to this office.

Francis W. Sanders
District No. 7

—Adv. 7*

DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE

To the Democratic Voters
of Garrett County:

I hereby announce my candidacy for the position of member of the Democratic State Central Committee, subject to the primary election on June 28.

I am a resident of Accident, Election district No. 5, where I have been in the employ of the Potomac Edison company.

If named to this office I will carry out the duties incumbent upon me in a fair and impartial manner and with interest to the Democratic constituents of the county.

Lawrence "Davey" Sellers

—Adv. 6*

I hereby announce my candidacy as a member of the Democratic State Central Committee, subject to the Democratic Primary election. I am a taxpayer of Election District No. 9 and a life long resident of the county. The support of the Democratic voters will be appreciated.

vs

Nellie Agnew, Caroline Bardell, Holton Wolfe, and Florence S. Wolfe, William Bruce Wolfe and all other parties having or claiming to have any interest in all the lands belonging to the said Nellie Agnew, Caroline Bardell, Holton Wolfe and Florence S. Wolfe and William Bruce Wolfe, in Election District No. 16, of Garrett County, Maryland, described as Lot No. 130 and a triangular lot adjoining said Lot, West side of E. Street in Mt. Lake Park, Maryland, and being a part of the land which was conveyed to Nellie Agnew, Caroline Bardell, Holton Wolfe, and Florence S. Wolfe, William Bruce Wolfe, by deed from David W. Sloan, Substituted Trustee, dated June 7, 1928, and recorded in Liber E.Z.T. No. 99, folio 325, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, and being assessed in the name of Nellie Agnew, et al

No. 4454 Equity, In the Circuit Court For Garrett County, Maryland.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this proceeding is to secure the foreclosure of all rights of redemption in the following property situate in Election District No. 16 of Garrett County, Maryland, sold by the Late Collector and Collector of Taxes for Garrett County and the State of Maryland to the plaintiffs in this proceeding:

Lot No. 130 and a triangular lot adjoining said Lot, West side of E. Street, in Mt. Lake Park, District 16, assessed to Nellie Agnew, et al, and being a part of the same which was conveyed to Nellie Agnew, Caroline Bardell, Holton Wolfe, Florence S. Wolfe and William Bruce Wolfe, by deed from David W. Sloan, Substituted Trustee, dated June 7, 1928, and recorded in Liber E.Z.T. No. 99, folio 325, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, and being in the name of Nellie Agnew, et al.

The bill states, among other things, that the amounts for redemption have not been paid, although more than a year and a day from the date of sale has expired.

IT IS THEREUPON, this 8th day of April, 1954, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, ORDERED that notice be given by the insertion of a copy of this Order in some newspaper having a general circulation in Garrett County, once a week for four successive weeks, warning all persons interested in the said property to be and appear in this Court by the 7th day of June, 1954, and redeem the property and answer the bill, or thereafter a final decree will be rendered foreclosing all rights or redemption in the property, and vesting in the plaintiffs a title, free and clear of all encumbrances.

Sen. John Marshall Butler

The House Committee on Ways and Means is now conducting hearings on H.R. 7199, The Social Security extension bill, which embodies the recommendations of the Administration and was introduced by Representative Reed, Chairman of the House Ways and Means committee.

The first Social Security legislation in this country was put on the statute books in 1935 with the announced intention of promoting the "security of the family." Subsequently, benefits were increased, coverage broadened and rates affected by amendments in 1939, 1950 and 1952.

This Administration-sponsored bill would broaden coverage to include about 10.5 million persons engaged in farming, professional and domestic work, additional state and local government employees, and clergymen on a voluntary-group basis. It would also raise the maximum amount of annual earnings subject to Social Security tax from $3600 to $4200, and increase benefits proportionately. Those already retired would receive increased benefits ranging from $5 to $13 per month, and payments to persons retiring in the future would be similarly increased under a revised formula for computing benefits.

Two other changes which I believe have definite merit are those which would safeguard the benefits of disabled workers by eliminating the four years of their lowest earnings in computing benefits which they will receive, and the provision which permits retired workers to earn more money than presently allowed without loss of Social Security payments.

Let me illustrate some of these changes with specific examples. Take the case of a worker 35 years old who is disabled after working 10 years in covered employment at an average yearly wage of $2400. By the time he reaches retirement age, having earned nothing since disablement, his yearly wage average would be only $800 instead of $2400. This would give him a retirement benefit of only $33 a month. The Administration bill would freeze his wage average as of the time when total disability occurs, which would result in payments, in our example, of $78.50 instead of only $33 per month as would be the case under existing law.

Somewhat related to the above example is that where, because of illness or inability to get a job, certain years of a worker's life may have returned an abnormally low annual wage which would, of course, affect the annual average wage upon which benefits are, for the most part, computed. The proposed bill would eliminate the four lowest years of earnings in computation of the worker's average income.

Another example of a proposed change can be seen where a retired couple under the present law receives $100 a month in benefits. If the husband worked all last year at a wage of $90 per month, he would have lost all 12-months' benefits. Under the proposed bill, this couple would lose only one month's benefit. This is because the new bill would deduct one month's benefit only for each $80 earned above $1,000.

I believe H.R. 7199 would improve the Social Security program, particularly by providing it with a sounder financial basis and by including in its coverage groups which will be a burden on federal and state relief facilities if they are not provided for under the Social Security system to which they would contribute.

Commissioners' Meeting

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN That the Board of County Commissioners for Garrett County, Maryland, will be in session for the transaction of all routine business that may properly come before them on

MONDAY AND TUESDAY
APRIL 19 AND 20, 1954

By order of the Board.
JESSE J. ASHBY, Clerk.

To The Taxpayers of Garrett County Who Have Not Paid Their 1953 Taxes:

Chapter 382, Section 108 of the Acts of 1947, passed by the Legislature, provides a new law for the collection of delinquent taxes as follows:

It shall be the duty of the Treasurer to enforce the payment of all taxes remaining unpaid on the first day of April in the year succeeding that in which the same shall have been levied provided the notice required by the preceding section shall have been given if the taxes be due and owing upon real property or upon real and personal property, the said taxes shall be a lien on said real property and said real property shall be liable for the payment thereof in whatsoever manner or to whomsoever the same may be assessed until paid, and the Treasurer shall be authorized to enforce the payment thereof in the manner hereinafter prescribed by a sale of either real or personalty: etc.

As you will note, this law makes it mandatory upon me, as the Treasurer of Garrett County to collect all delinquent taxes of 1953 during April, 1954.

If there is any reason why you believe this collection should not be enforced on your property during April please contact me at the Court House.

Failure to contact me or to pay the taxes, past due, will constitute a desire on your part for such enforced collection through sale as outlined in the law.

G. HAROLD YUTZY, Treasurer,
Garrett County, Maryland

Northern Joins Somerset League

The Huskie Baseball team at the Northern High School has joined a new league for the baseball season of '54. This is the Somerset County League which consists of six teams. In this league 10 games are played a season, and two with each of the other teams. The teams in this league are: Confluence, Berlin, Rockwood, Salisbury, Meyersdale and Northern. Northern will also play two games with Southern. The first game will be played on April 13 at Confluence.

Baseball practice started at Northern about two weeks ago. The boys had been practicing in the gym until the field dried. Coach Strauss had been getting the boys in shape to start practice outside on the baseball field. About 50 boys are turning out for the team. Coach Strauss said that out of the 50 trying out only about 24 would be selected for the team. One of the reasons for this number is that there are only 18 uniforms for the team.

Of the boys trying out for the team, eight of these are trying out for pitchers. Don Hershberger, who played shortstop last year, is trying out for pitcher. Don Ringer and Jack Frantz are hold over pitchers from last year's Huskie squad. Also trying out for pitchers are: Allen Younkin, Adrian DeWitt, Bill Goehringer, Ron Georg and Ron Beachy. The probable catchers for the team are Lambert Wright and Gary Fratz. Jim Williams, Eddie Rush and George Deal are also trying out for catchers.

New balls and bats have been bought for the team. The expense for this equipment was $150 dollars.

Coach Strauss said the team would get the field in shape and would like to have a permanent backstop and a batting cage.

Will Use Roller Bearings on Hoppers

Western Maryland Railway company has received 50 new 55-ton roller-bearing hopper cars and will be seen in service along the line passing through Garrett county.

The Western Maryland will operate the hoppers in a block and will maintain records to see if the roller-bearings provide savings over conventional bearings, officials said.

Diminishing difficulties with hot journal boxes are promised through use of the roller-bearing hopper cars, officials said. Up to the present, roller-bearings have been largely confined to passenger cars on American roads.

DIED

SAMUEL FRANKLIN BOWMAN

Samuel Franklin Bowman, aged 76, of Crellin, son of the late John and Susan Catherine Miller Bowman, died Monday, April 12, in Garrett County Memorial hospital in Oakland where he had been a patient only one and one-half days.

Before his retirement Mr. Bowman was a carpenter-foreman for the Kendall Lumber company which operated at Crellin for a number of years. Previously he had been a teacher.

Mr. Bowman was born at St. George, W. Va., February 14, 1878.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Effie Eleanor Enlow Bowman, four sons, David Bowman, Crellin; Robert Bowman, Akron, O.; Philip Bowman, Cumberland; and Charles Bowman, Johnstown, Pa.; one daughter, Mrs. Glendine Wolfe, of Erie, Pa.; 21 grandchildren, nine great grandchildren; also three sisters, Mrs. Nellie Morrow, Lake Mohawk, N. J.; Mrs. Margaret Gasteiger, Harrisburg, Pa.; and Mrs. Grace Lowe, Wheeling, W. Va.

Funeral services were conducted from the Bolden Funeral home in Oakland on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Rev. Ervin Fike, of Crellin, officiating. Interment was in Oakland cemetery.

MRS. JONAS BROADWATER

Mrs. Edith Broadwater, 75, wife of Jonas Broadwater of the Merrill section in this county, died last Saturday afternoon, April 10, at Potomac Valley hospital, Keyser, two hours after being admitted.

A native of Merrill section, Mrs. Broadwater was a daughter of the late Mortimer and Ellen Magruder Broadwater. She was a member of the Broadwater Chapel of the Brethren.

Besides her husband and stepmother, Mrs. Ida Broadwater, the deceased is survived by five daughters, Mrs. Virgil Sines, Mrs. Ellsworth Broadwater, and Mrs. Everett Broadwater, all of this county; Mrs. Myrl Wilt, near Oakland; Mrs. Harry Binninger, Barton; two sons, William T. Broadwater and Alban Broadwater, Swanton.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to our friends and neighbors for all their kindnesses and helpfulness following our recent bereavement in the death of our son, Walter F. Georg.

We also want to thank all who gave flowers and contributed the use of their automobiles for the funeral service.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Georg and Family.
—Adv. 1t.

Also surviving are four brothers, Lawrence and Harmon Broadwater, Barton; Jesse Broadwater, Swanton; Walter Broadwater, Grantsville; three half-brothers, Augustus Broadwater, Moscow; Charles Broadwater, Frostburg; and Elbert Broadwater, Barton; seven half-sisters, Mrs. Thomas Weir, Mrs. Fred Green and Mrs. Charles Green, Lonaconing; Mrs. Troxell Warnick, Moscow; Miss Fannie Broadwater, Philadelphia; Mrs. Zedock Wilt, Westernport and Mrs. Porter Smith, Baltimore; 24 grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted from the Broadwater Chapel on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Rev. Paul Myers, of North Canton, Ohio, officiating. Interment was in the Ephraim Broadwater cemetery at Merrill.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of Wesley G. Paugh, who passed away one year ago today, April 15, 1953.

The call was sudden, the shock severe,
We little thought, such grief was near.
Only those who have lost can tell,
The pain of parting without farewell.
God gave us strength to face it,
And gave us courage to bear the blow,
But what it meant to lose him
No one will ever know.

Sadly missed by
His Wife and Children.

Fixing the Blame . . . .

The term "juvenile delinquency" is changing rapidly in people's thinking as a result of intensive study—to "parental delinquency."

A police association executive recently remarked to a Senate committee studying juvenile delinquency in this country that "juvenile delinquency will continue so long as parents place their own interests and desires above the welfare of their children," and "so long as parental responsibility for character-building and instilling proper moral concepts in children is neglected."

Three out of every four adult citizens questioned in a recent nationwide survey showed the best way to cut down on juvenile delinquency was for parents to do a better job of being parents.

Studies of delinquency conducted some time ago at Harvard university showed—6 out of 10 had fathers who drink to excess and many have mothers who drink to excess; 3 of 4 were permitted by parents to come and go as they please; 3 of 5 were from homes where there was no group or family recreation; 4 of 5 had parents who took no interest in their children's friends; 4 of 5 delinquent boys said their mothers were indifferent to them; 3 of 5 said their fathers were indifferent to them; many come from broken families, and few get religious training of any kind.

It is readily admitted that some juveniles become delinquent in spite of parental supervision and restraint, but they are the exceptions rather than the rule.

Parental responsibility has a good beginning if it is based on seeing that religious training is made available. Religion is the basis of our civilization and morality is based upon religion. Should parents in Garrett county take that one item seriously there wouldn't be enough churches to accommodate the population. But more and bigger ones could be built, and it's a foregone conclusion that there would be much less delinquency, among both parents and children.

Let's stop treating delinquency lightly and give it some serious thought. Acknowledge where most of the blame lies and do something about it.

Resigns As Member of Welfare Board

Mrs. Robert Hoffman Is Being Named Case Worker In County Welfare Set-Up

The resignation of Mrs. R. T. Hoffman as a member of the Garrett County Welfare board was accepted at a meeting of that board last Thursday. Mrs. Hoffman's term would have expired in July. Recommendation for appointment of her successor will be made by the County Commissioners.

Other members of the Board include Mrs. Lewis R. Jones, Oakland, chairman; Guy Stanton, of Grantsville; Mrs. Ruth Selby, Friendsville; Mrs. Nevada Hostetler, Friendsville; Dorsey Guard, Friendsville; Jonas W. Sines, Oakland.

Robert W. Stemple, executive director of the board, announced that the transfer of Mrs. Robert Hesen to the department of Public Welfare in Baltimore, effective March 26, had been approved, and that the selection of Mrs. Robert T. Hoffman as case worker I, to succeed Mrs. Hesen in the local office, was being made by the Welfare Board, and that the State director was being notified to that effect.

Stemple also announced that Charles Robert Hart was being reclassified from case worker II to case worker I, effective May 1, as the result of an examination and after having served a year in his former capacity.

Stemple and Mrs. Jones are planning to attend a state-wide meeting of directors and chairmen of welfare boards on Friday in Baltimore, to discuss with the state board of public welfare and the state director the 1955 budget.

Stemple said that because of the limitation of state funds a number of families in Garrett county eligible to receive assistance had been placed on a waiting list. Federal and county funds are available but must be matched with state funds before being eligible for use. He said eight families at present who have applied for assistance and who are eligible are not receiving any grant because of this lack of funds.

The number of persons on the waiting list had been as high as 23 at one time this year, he said. This scarcity of state money will continue until June, the end of the fiscal year, he said.

The County Welfare board will operate its offices on daylight saving time, it was decided at last Thursday's meeting. The time will go into effect Sunday morning.

Nominate P.-T. A. Officers

A nominating committee headed by H. D. Swartzentruber, announced this week, the proposed slate for officers for the Southern High school Parent-Teacher association for next year. The election will be held at the May meeting.

Those nominated were John Wolf, president; Mrs. David Hardesty, vice-president; Mrs. Charles Davis, secretary; Mrs. William Rees, treasurer.

Students in Arts-Crafts to Feature Civic Club Session

Students in Arts and Crafts at Southern High school will be featured at the program of the Oakland Civic club next Tuesday afternoon, April 2. The meeting will begin with dessert at the William James hotel at 1 o'clock.

The program is in charge of the Arts and Crafts committee of which Mrs. O. T. Graser is chairman.

Miss Frances Patterson, art instructor at Southern High, has arranged the program which will be an exhibit by the Southern High art classes consisting of samples of work done in different media.

Gladys Harsh will give a short introduction on trends in art education, pointing out that educators are not trying to make artists of the students but are giving them a background of arts and crafts that each can use now as well as later in life.

Carolyn Lantz, Fred Sims and Janet Leighton will explain the different media used in the work on display. The former will explain oil painting, water color and poster painting. Sims will explain ceramics, metal work and the scratch board technique.

Janet Leighton will explain working in leather and finger painting.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. E. Ray Jones, Mrs. Fulcher P. Smith, vice-president, will preside. Mrs. Merrill Cargo will give the invocation. The committee in charge of arrangements includes Mrs. Wade Meese, chairman, Mrs. James Helbig, Mrs. Wilbur Close, Mrs. B. F. Selby, Mrs. Ray Teets, Mrs. Homer Bennett, Mrs. Howard Turner.

Wilt Disease Battle Planned By State

The state's battle against oak wilt disease was mapped yesterday in the office of District Forester William A. Johnson, in Cumberland.

A third aerial survey is to be undertaken and locations of the disease noted on the photographs will be relayed to Johnson and crews will go into action to eradicate the affected trees.

H. C. Buckingham, state forester, said the state is hoping to control the spread of the wilt that will kill red and black oaks within a year. A cooperative program of eradication of the disease has been set up in Maryland, West Virginia and Pennsylvania where the disease has been discovered since World War II.

According to Dr. L. O. Weaver, state plant pathologist, the theory, which has not been proven, is that oak wilt is transmitted by an insect. It is known that wounded trees are the ones affected by the fungus. Since 1953 there have been 26 centers of infestation in Garrett and Allegany counties that have been eradicated.

Former President Hoover warned next year's federal budget deficit may reach 7½ billion.

More Candidates Announce For Political Office

Several additional candidates made formal announcement of their intentions through the columns of The Republican this week, prior to the filing deadline.

Four of those are to positions as County Commissioner, two to the position of judge of the Orphans' court, one to the Republican committee, one to the Democratic committee, one for State's Attorney, and one for the House of Delegates.

Candidates for County Commissioner include Clarence A. Welch, Oakland; Aubrey C. Brenneman, district No. 6; Ervin A. Roth, Deer Park; and Leslie E. Savage, of Friendsville. The latter is a candidate on the Democratic ticket and automatically will be on the November ballot as he has no competition in his commissioner district.

Mr. Welch has been a lifelong resident of the county, district 14, and has worked for the county roads department for fourteen years as a shovel operator and truck driver. He has had experience in road work.

Mr. Brenneman, lifelong resident of the county, has been a taxpayer for 29 years and has been engaged in the water well drilling business since 1930. He is a resident of McHenry.

Mr. Roth is engaged in farming near Deer Park and has announced in his platform he will endeavor to lower taxes and give people a better county government.

Mr. Savage, aged 54, of district No. 2, and Commissioner district 2, is a former school teacher, and at present is a school bus operator and a treasurer in the operators' association. He operates his own farm and is engaged in the contracting business. He manufactures concrete blocks.

Candidates for Orphans' court include Ben H. DeWitt and C. F. Hammond. Mr. DeWitt is a candidate for re-election, having served in that position for the past three and one-half years. He is a taxpayer in district 7.

Mr. Hammond served as a judge of the Orphans' court in previous years and now is seeking that office again. He has been bailiff at the Circuit court for a number of years.

Allen S. "Dick" Paugh, district 10, seeks to be re-elected as a member of the Republican State Central committee and promises strict attention to the duties of that organization.

James Nally seeks to become a member of the Democratic State Central committee, and points out in his announcement that he has always supported the Democratic party and seeks to improve the party organization.

Stephen R. Pagenhardt also formally announced his candidacy for State's Attorney, subject to the Republican primary election.

In his announcement he pledges enforcement of the criminal laws of the state without fear or favor if nominated and elected.

He has no opposition in the primary but a Democratic opponent probably will be named later by the Democratic State Central Committee.

W. Dwight Stover, incumbent, is not a candidate for re-election.

Kermit S. Glotfelty also made formal announcement this morning for the House of Delegates, subject to the Republican primary election. Mr. Glotfelty has resided in the county all of his life and has been engaged in farming and raising turkeys for a number of years. He is president of the Garrett County Turkey Growers association and is a member of the Farm Bureau. He declares he has made no promises to any groups and would serve the people honestly and fairly.

Two others are making formal announcements, but an account of their activities appear in a separate story. They are Harry C. Edwards, Republican candidate for member of the House of Delegates, and Joseph Hinebaugh, Democratic candidate for the State Senate.

Fair Committee Meets

Garrett County Agricultural Fair Committee met at Fire Department, Oakland, Monday evening.

Chairman H. G. Gortner felt it advisable for the solicitation committee to continue and the location committee to try, if possible, to learn just what sites may be available and for what period of time, their size, etc.

Whenever Mr. Gortner feels either committee has a report ready, he will call another meeting, it was stated.

Democratic Nominee For State Senator

JOSEPH HINEBAUGH

Joseph Hinebaugh, mayor of Oakland, became the Democratic nominee for State Senator, having filed for that office prior to the filing deadline on Monday. No other Democratic candidate having filed, he automatically becomes the candidate for that office in the general election this fall.

He will be opposed by one of three candidates for the Republican nomination, Arthur H. Green, of Swanton; William Nazelrod, of Sand Flat; and Clifford Friend, Accident.

Hinebaugh has been a resident of this county all his life and has been in business in Oakland for a number of years. He was elected Mayor of Oakland for four successive terms, beginning in 1948. He served as co-chairman of the Oakland Centennial commission in 1949.

Rod and Gun Club Elects Officers

The new Deep Creek Rod and Gun club had its final organizational meeting last Tuesday, April 13, at Accident.

The by-laws were adopted and officers for the first year were elected as follows: David Dean, president; Roger Bond, vice-president; Charles F. Strauss, secretary; Raymond Brant, assistant secretary; Bennett Paugh, treasurer.

The purpose of the club, as stated in its by-laws, will be "to promote active interest in the cause of conservation of our natural resources; to work closely with existing agencies, to improve hunting and fishing conditions in our county, state and nation; to encourage better understanding and relationships between landowners and hunters and fishermen."

At the present time there are 24 active members.

List Three Changes In Train Schedule

Three changes are noted in the spring train schedule of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, but only westbound train No. 23 has any difference to speak of. The new schedule goes into effect Sunday morning, April 25. The railroad will continue to operate on Standard Time.

Train No. 23, now scheduled here at 3:31 a. m., will arrive at 2:56. Train No. 24 will run at 1:43 a. m., instead of 1:53, while No. 4 will run at 5:47 instead of 5:42. The others remain the same.

Eastbound

Train No. 24 ..... 1:43 a. m.
Train No. 4 ..... 5:47 a. m.
Train No. 30 .....10:37 a. m.
Train No. 12 ..... 6:13 p. m.

Westbound

Train No. 23 ..... 2:56 a. m.
Train No. 11 ..... 1:21 p. m.
Train No. 1 .....10:57 p. m.

Time Change Due

Those who plan to operate on daylight saving time this summer will turn their clocks ahead one hour when they retire Saturday night, April 24. The new time will go into effect at 2 a. m. Sunday morning.

Those officially stating they would operate on daylight time are the towns of Oakland, Mt. Lake Park, Grantsville and Bloomington.

Garrett county will remain on standard time. Trains and buses will continue to operate on standard time. Schools of Garrett county will continue to operate on standard time with the exception of three schools, but the office of the Board of Education will be on daylight time.

One-Teacher Schools Will Be Reduced

Two More Added To List This Week To Ones To Be Eliminated

There will be six less one-teacher schools in the county at the start of the 1954-55 school term, instead of four mentioned two weeks ago, it was learned this week following a special meeting of the County Board of Education.

This will reduce the one-teacher schools in the county to five. Two weeks ago the board announced that Bethlehem, Wilson, Lynndale and New Germany schools would be closed on June 10 of this year.

After Monday night's meeting it was announced that Casselman school would be closed and Jennings school would be closed. Pupils from the Casselman school will go to Bittinger and those from the Jennings school will be transported to Grantsville.

The board authorized Ira Yaste, Bittinger, to secure prices on a 24-passenger bus to haul the Casselman area children to Bittinger.

In other action of the Board of Education, Harry Rice was authorized to purchase an International-Wayne bus holding 24 passengers, and Bernard Merrill was authorizel to purchase a Chevrolet panel truck with windows, holding 16 passengers.

The Board met with Altman and Altman, architects concerning improvements to the Accident Elementary school. Preliminary drawings were reviewed and the architects are now planning revised drawings for the board's study.

Group Seeks "Little League" Baseball

Plans to set up a "Little League" in baseball in Oakland and vicinity are being pushed by the Oakland Moose lodge and other organizations.

Following a meeting Tuesday night of prospective players and fathers and a showing of a moving picture of the Little League world series game at Williamsport, it was announced that 70 boys had signed to play ball this summer.

William Spiker, manager at the Moose club, said the organization was run on the same order as the American and National baseball leagues, with the national sponsor being the U. S. Rubber company.

Participants are limited to boys from eight to 13 years of age, and it is the aim of those interested to have four teams this year. The Moose will sponsor one team. Arrangements are being made for a baseball diamond, and practice sessions are to get under way by the middle of May.

The schedule will start after school is out with two games one night a week.

Any boys interested in joining may do so at the Moose hall anytime after four o'clock on week days.

Spiker said another meeting would be held Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock for interested adults, in an effort to set up committees and complete other arrangements.

200 Certificates To Be Awarded In Adult Education

West Virginia University Professor To Be Speaker At Program

Dr. H. B. Allan, West Virginia university, Morgantown, will be the speaker at the commencement exercises for the adult education program in the county.

The program will be held on Monday evening, May 3, at Southern High school. Details of the program were worked out at a special meeting of the County Board of Education on Monday evening.

The speaker is in charge of special education at the university. He will be introduced by R. Bowen Hardesty, county superintendent of schools, Rev. Ross Speicher, vice-president of the Board of Education, will deliver the invocation; C. O. Bender, president of the board, will speak briefly and awarding of certificates will be made by Walter W. Dawson, board member. Around 200 persons who have attended adult education programs in the county during the winter months, will receive certificates.

City Starts Repair Work on Third St.

The work of placing the curbs and gutters on both sides of Third street, from Oak to Green, was started this week by workers of the town of Oakland. The work will take in the neighborhood of six weeks to complete, after which the State Roads commission will do its part of the job of back filling and black topping.

Mayor Joseph Hinebaugh asked the people to be patient. He said the workmen would be called off the job for a week to grade alleys and streets and to oil the unimproved streets and alleys to prevent the spread of dust.

Cullen Will Speak At Legion Program

Presentation Program To Be Held Sunday In Moose Hall

Dr. Jerome S. Cullen of Baltimore, chairman of the Child Welfare Commission for the State department of American Legion, will be the main speaker at a presentation program sponsored by the local Legion post on Sunday afternoon, April 25, at 2 o'clock DST, in the Moose Hall in Oakland.

The State department, American Legion, is presenting $1,000 to a local child welfare committee, to be used in this county under direction of a special committee. Rev. John J. Atwell is chairman, and other members are Rodney W. Selders, Kitzmiller; Dan Hershberger, Grantsville; John Shoemaker, Accident; Edward P. Kahl, Oakland; also Dr. Joseph Alvarez, surgeon; Dr. A. E. Mance, M.D.; Dr. H. R. Gibson, dentist; and Dr. Harold C. Ashby, optometrist.

Entertainment will be provided by Mrs. Jay Bell, Crellin, vocalist, accompanied at the piano by Julius B. Littman; the Mountain Aires, quartet; Thomas Turney, pantomime.

Senator Neil C. Fraley will serve as master of ceremonies. Speaking briefly will be Delegate Arthur H. Green, Mayor Joseph Hinebaugh, Post Commander Dale Lowdermilk, Arthur Norris, Frostburg, department vice-commander; Miss Grace Jones, physical therapist; and Rev. Atwell.

Guests will include J. Edward Walter, department adjutant; Daniel H. Burkhardt, national executive committeeman; Frank Powers, Sam Graham and others.

Two School Bands to Attend Band Festival

Garrett County's two senior high school bands, one from Northern High and one from Southern High, will join other bands from three states in the sixth annual Tri-State band festival in Martinsburg this week-end.

Around 20 bands will take part in the affair, to be conducted mostly at Martinsburg High school. Nearly 1,000 young musicians will represent their respective schools.

Five boys will leave from Southern Thursday noon to rehearse with the festival band. They are Eugene Williams, Jack Harvey, John White, Reuben Rodeheaver, and Buddy Savage. Chief Johann H. Fultz of the U.S. Naval School of Music, who is adjudicator for the festival, will conduct the rehearsals. They will present a concert on Friday evening at 8 o'clock. Northern High band also will be represented in the festival band. The bands will play Friday and Saturday before the adjudicator, who will make remarks about the band qualifications. Bands will not compete against each other. Both Northern and Southern High bands are scheduled for their auditions on Saturday morning. A grand feature parade is scheduled Saturday afternoon with band maneuvers following on the high school athletic field. As in past festivals townspeople are opening their homes to visiting musicians during the three days.

Southern's band will make the trip by bus accompanied by four parents as chaperons, H. B. Wright, director, and another high school instructor.

Weather Is Warm

Temperatures in the high eighties were recorded this week in Garrett county during four days of clear weather. The warm days were preceded by a plentiful supply of rain last Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Fifty-Five Candidates Seek Twenty-Five Political Offices

Thirty-Nine Republican And Sixteen Democratic Candidates Are Listed By Clerk

Fifty-five candidates filed for various political offices in the county prior to the filing deadline at midnight Monday, it was announced by Robert B. Sincell, clerk of the board of election supervisors. Thirty-nine are listed as Republicans and sixteen as Democrats.

Quite a number filed on the final day to swell the previous total by almost one half.

There will be no contests for five positions for Republican nomination—State's Attorney, Register of Wills, Clerk of the Circuit Court, Sheriff and Treasurer. There are four candidates for State Senate, seven for House of Delegates, fourteen for County Commissioner, and four for Orphans' Court judges.

The complete list as announced by William L. Gibson, president of the Board of Election Supervisors, is as follows:

State Senator

Arthur H. Green, Swanton; Clifford Friend, Accident; William M. Nazelrod, Sand Flat, Republicans.

Joseph Hinebaugh, of Oakland, Democrat.

House of Delegates

Jesse J. Ashby, Oakland; George E. Coddington, Oakland; Arthur G. Cullers, Gorman; Harry C. Edwards, Grantsville; Kermit S. Glotfelty, Accident; Carlis B. Helms, Sand Flat; Russell Smith, Oakland, all Republicans. Three to be nominated. Coddington and Edwards are incumbents.

Dwight A. Barrick, Kitzmiller; Curtis C. Miller, Swanton; Harry F. Paugh, Deer Park; Ervin A. Roth, Deer Park, all Republicans, and Albert S. Shaffer, Democrat, all of Commissioner district 1.

Aubrey C. Brenneman, McHenry; Stewart F. Stahl, Grantsville; Foster E. Yost, Accident, all Republicans; Leslie E. Savage, Friendsville, Democrat, all of Commissioner district 2.

Jonas W. Sines, near Oakland; Harvey D. Swartzentruber, near Oakland; Fred D. Trickett, Oakland; Clarence A. Welch, Oakland, all Republicans; Harvey B. Sines, Oakland, Democrat, all of Commissioner district 3.

One candidate from each party will be selected from each Commissioner district.

State's Attorney

Stephen R. Pagenhardt, Oakland, Republican.

Register of Wills

Mrs. Vernie R. Smouse, Oakland, Republican (incumbent).

Clerk of the Circuit Court

Richard L. Davis, Oakland, Republican (incumbent).

Sheriff

Paul W. Fisher, Friendsville, Republican (incumbent); Lee McRobie, Vindex, Democrat.

County Treasurer

Joseph H. Welch, Mt. Lake Park, Republican.

Orphans' Court Judges

Ben. H. DeWitt, Oakland, Republican; C. F. Hammond, Oakland, Republican; Ellsworth G. Moon, Mt. Lake Park, Republican, all incumbents; and R. C. Turney, Accident, Republican.

Committees

There will be plenty of competition in selecting the persons who will represent their parties on the State Central Committees. There are nine Republican candidates for the Republican committee which is composed of four members. There are ten Democratic candidates for the Democratic committee which is composed of six members.

Republican Committee

Candidates for Republican committee include Cheston H. Browning, Sr., Oakland; Harry P. Collier, Accident; Lawrence M. Fraley, Oakland; Thomas Hetz, Avilton; Lewis R. Jones, Oakland; Allen S. Paugh, Oakland; James A. Ross, Friendsville; Francis W. Sanders, Oakland; James A. Savage, McHenry.

Democratic Committee

Candidates for Democratic committee are E. Irving Baumgartner, Oakland; George M. Browning, Sang Run; Stuart F. Hamill, Sr., Oakland; J. W. Holman, Friendsville; Arthur Humbertson, Mt. Lake Park; James B. Nally, Oakland; George D. Meese, Johnsons; Lawrence Sellers, Accident; Clarence Spear, Oakland; Grover C. Stemple, Oakland.

E. I. Baumgartner signed as a delegate to the Democratic State convention.

Filing Fees over $900

The candidates deposited around $900 with the election supervisors which will be turned over to the County Commissioners for use in paying some of the costs of the election.

Last man to file was Kermit S. Glotfelty, of Accident, who presented his proper papers just shortly before midnight.

Seeks Re-Election To House Of Delegates

HARRY C. EDWARDS

Harry C. Edwards, well known Grantsville businessman, has announced his candidacy for re-election as a member of the House of Delegates. He entered the race Monday evening, a few hours before the deadline for filing.

Mr. Edwards first served the people of the county in the Maryland legislature under the late Governor Harry W. Nice, and again under the present governor, Theodore R. McKeldin. He has served by selection of the Speaker of the House on all major committees in the House, and has also been active in community enterprises in his home town.

In announcing his candidacy Mr. Edwards said he felt that mature judgment and experience were most important and valuable factors in the Assembly and felt that his experience and service had qualified him to be of greater value to the people of the county and state.

He declared he had made no promises to any individual, clique or organization and would continue to serve the people to the best of his ability, beneficial to the taxpayers.

Mr. Edwards declared that "representing or serving the people in any public office should not be a personal or political matter, but a sound business operation which should be carried on in such a manner whereby the majority of people would benefit and their rights be protected."

Mr. Edwards has been a resident of the county since 1903 when his family moved to Kendall, near Friendsville. In 1905 his family moved to Crellin where they remained approximately 16 years. He embarked on his successful business career in 1921 in Grantsville where he engaged in the garage business in partnership with his father, the late Charles U. Edwards. He is married to the former Lulu C. Simpson, Garrett county farm girl. They have two children, a son, Cecil, who is a successful merchant in Cumberland, and a daughter, Rita, a registered nurse, who is supervisor of the operating room at Sacred Heart hospital, Cumberland.

Elected To Honorary Medical Fraternity

Richard F. Leighton, junior student at the University of Maryland School of Medicine, has been elected to the Beta chapter of Alpha Omega Alpha, the international honor medical society. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert C. Leighton, Oak street, Oakland.

He is one of five in the class of 1955 receiving the honor this year, and was accepted into the society at a dinner at the Southern hotel in Baltimore on April 13. The purpose of the fraternity, in existence since 1902, is to promote the highest ideals in medicine.

Mr. Leighton and his wife spent the week-end here with his parents, returning to Baltimore Monday afternoon.

DIED

MRS. JOSHUA PAUGH

Mrs. Blanche Viola Paugh, 66, widow of Joshua Paugh, died Sunday at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Alma Burrell, Piedmont, W. Va., where she was visiting. She had been ill three weeks.

Born November 8, 1887 in Kitzmiller, Mrs. Paugh was a daughter of the late Wheeler and Ada Tice Wilson. Her husband died September 2, 1952.

Survivors include another daughter, Mrs. Juanita Hart, Kitzmiller; three brothers, Lemuel Wilson, route 1, Elk Garden; William Wilson New Creek, W. Va.; and Guy Wilson, address unknown; three grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday afternoon from the Elk Garden Church of God, of which she was a member. Rev. Charles Keller and Rev. Floyd Hicks officiated and interment was in the IOOF cemetery at Elk Garden.

MRS. MARY S. GOODWIN

Mrs. Mary Susan Goodwin, 60, of route 3, Swanton, was found dead about 10 o'clock yesterday morning by a neighbor.

She lived alone and had been in ill health. The neighbors had conversed with her about 8:30 p. m. on Tuesday. Mrs. Goodwin was sitting in her porch swing when found. She had a flashlight with her and it was supposed she had gone out on the porch sometime during the night and had suffered a heart attack.

A native of Cross, W. Va., she had lived at the farm house for 33 years. She was a daughter of the late Seymour and Tacy Jane Walters Welch.

She was twice married and her husbands, Robert Harvey and Ernest S. Goodwin, preceded her in death.

Mrs. Goodwin was a member of the Bethel Assembly of God church. Surviving are two sons, Albert Goodwin, route 3, Swanton; Chester Goodwin, Ambridge, Pa.; two daughters, Mrs. Oda Farris, Westernport; Mrs. Genevieve Virts, Alton, N. Y.; also two sisters, Mrs. Laura Elias, Westernport; Mrs. Anna Pennell, route 3, Swanton; two brothers, Charles Welch, Blaine, W. Va.; Walter Welch, Shaw, W. Va.; 16 grandchildren and one great grandchild.

The body was taken to the residence where a funeral service will be conducted on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Burial will be in the Virts cemetery in Bethel section, this county.

District Methodists To Meet April 26th

The Moorefield District Conference of the Methodist Church will meet in St. Paul's church, Oakland, on Monday, April 26, beginning at 9:30 a. m., and continuing until four o'clock. Dr. Ross Linger, district superintendent, will preside.

Reports for the conference year which will close in May will be made. Among the featured speakers for the day will be T. E. Campbell, the West Virginia Conference lay leader and now directing the Pittsburgh Area Stewardship Crusade; Dr. Henry R. High, executive secretary of the Board of Pensions; Rev. Walter Vernon, Education Division Board of Education, Nashville, Tennessee; Dr. William J. Scarborough, president of West Virginia Wesleyan college; Mrs. Paul B. Naylor, district president of the Woman's Society of Christian Service.

Special emphasis will be given during the day to the Stewardship Crusade. One hundred and fifty ministers and laymen representing forty charges and over one hundred and fifty churches are expected to attend. All Methodist churches in Garrett county are included.

A dinner will be served at noon to the members of the conference by the Woman's Society of Christian Service of St. Paul's church.

Along The Potomac

With Your Congressman
DeWITT S. HYDE

With Congress in Easter recess, most of the members have returned to their districts to mend political fences and discuss the record of accomplishments of the House so far this year.

A good portion of the President's program and most of the appropriation bills have been passed. Included in the latter are next year's expenses for the Departments of State, Commerce, Justice, Interior, Treasury and Agriculture, plus many of the independent agencies.

One of the big money bills was the civil functions measure, which included $600,000 for flood control at Cumberland and another $1,000,000 for the Peace Cross flood problem.

The anti-traitor bill is passed in the House. This does not make wiretapping legal (it was already), but it made admissible in evidence in court information received by wire tapping in cases of treason, sedition, espionage and similar crimes.

Four major bills cleared by the House deal with economic matters, including two tax bills and the highway and hospital construction and survey measures. These are the first steps in the President's program to bring the nation successfully through the war-to-peace transition. They contain built-in stimulation to employment.

The federal roads bill went to the White House for signature last week. It approves expenditures of nearly $1 billion a year, most of it divided between and matched by the states, for country and city roads. The hospital bill, pending in the Senate, calls for $182 million to be spent during the next three years for construction of public hospitals.

The tax program must be regarded all in one package to see its real significance—a total of more than $7 billion less taxes in one year, which is a record reduction. Nearly two-thirds of the benefits are directly for individuals.

Three billion dollars automatically came off our tax bill January 1. Last December 31 the excess profits tax was allowed to expire with a saving of $2 billion. Three weeks ago the reduction in excise taxes went into effect: $1 billion more. Finally, when the Senate finishes with the tax revision bill, another $1.3 billion will be left in the pockets of the taxpayers.

The House, in a spirit of real accomplishment, is sending measure after measure to the Senate, where final passage will occur in the next few months. It appears that the issue in next fall's election will not be the failure of Congress to act, but how individual members voted on the programs that the people want.

TAKE THE WHEEL—just for the joy of it
(Another big reason for trying a '54 Buick)

UNLESS you've tried it yourself, you're going to find it hard to believe.

But when you press the pedal of a 1954 Buick with Twin-Turbine Dynaflow,* joy reigns—and so do you.

You feel the joyous thrill of commanding instant response, the solid "take hold," the firm authority of your acceleration.

You feel a joyous exhilaration at the utter smoothness of the forward carry—a completely infinite smoothness that is there every inch of the way.

And you feel a deep and abiding joy at the simplicity of it all, the ease with which you drive, the blessed restfulness of travel with a truly automatic transmission working its wonders.

As we said, you'll find this hard to believe—until you try it yourself.

Until you try TT Dynaflow with the stepped-up V8 horsepowers of the 1954 Buicks. Until you try it with the new buoyancy and the new handling sureness of the improved Million Dollar Ride. Until you try it with the new visibility, the new luxury, the new "look of tomorrow" styling that are part and parcel of every 1954 Buick.

So, we want you to be our guest at the wheel of a 1954 Buick with Twin-Turbine Dynaflow this week.

During April, 1,500,000 people will guest-drive the 1954 Buicks, and join the Thrill Of The Month Club by doing so. We cordially invite you to join them, for a real thrill. Call us today.

"Our Growing Edge"

MRS. MARTHA GLOTFELTY

Your Wedding Ring— A Means of Growth

A good marriage will help us to grow. It will help us to become more mature, more helpful, more understanding. Marriage is the blending of two human personalities in what is perhaps the most difficult and challenging of all human relationships. But, when successful there is no relationship more satisfying and brings more happiness to all of us.

One of the worst feelings in the world is a sense of loneliness, of not belonging. And one of the best is the sense of being wanted, cherished and loved and being part of a family.

That plain gold band you wear on your left hand is a symbol of something solid and fine, a symbol of love and loyalty, of security.

It is seen on all kinds of hands, the well-kept hands of the young, the weary and wrinkled hands of the old.

It is seen on the hands of young girls, recently wed, whose husbands are on occupation duty all over the world.

It is seen on the hands of widows, for whom it is a symbol of something loved and lost, something remembered, and something to have faith to believe extends beyond the limits of this present life.

It is seen on the hands of mature mothers, who have done their work well, and on the hands of grandmothers who have weathered the worst and come through the struggle and service of life, sweet and serene.

Sometimes this band is set with diamonds, sometimes plain and unadorned, but always it is a symbol of something greater than these.

It is a symbol of some of the finest and greatest things in life —things without which we would all be lost. It is a symbol of home, of honor and honesty, of service and self-respect.

It is a symbol of belonging, in which people pledge enduring obligations to each other in sickness and health, good times and bad.

It is a symbol of the sanctity on which society itself survives, in spite of the cynicism of our day and age. It is not to be lightly put on, or taken off or lightly regarded, for the final issues as to the survival of civilized society will be decided by what we are in our homes, what is at the base and core and fibre of family fidelity.

Working together, playing together, worshipping and praying together, these things are important in every marriage. I doubt if a marriage is much of a means of growth unless we do these things. Has your marriage done that for you? If it has not, it has not achieved the purpose for which it was intended, that of being a full, rich, and satisfying experience.

A plain gold band, rightly and respectfully worn, is a symbol of highest honor to all who honor it.

Game Warden Gives His Version of Case

The Republican
Oakland, Maryland
Dear Editor:

Since the arrest of Mayor Joseph Hinebaugh has caused so much concern to the citizens of Garrett County and others, I would like to have everyone know why such action was taken. First, I would like to say that Mayor Hinebaugh and Magistrate Bitzer have respected my position in this case by not coming forth with any articles in the paper.

Mayor Hinebaugh was not fishing at the time I saw him on Miller's Run but had come from the stream and I assumed he had been fishing. The stream was open to fishing and there are no restrictions (in our book) for fishing on Sunday. Mr. Hinebaugh was honest and would not deny fishing without a license, and did admit it.

That was the circumstances of the case and Mayor Hinebaugh appeared before Magistrate Bitzer the following morning and again admitted he had no license, but had been fishing. Magistrate Bitzer heard all the facts of the case and because Mr. Hinebaugh had been honest with me, the Magistrate, and himself, I ask the Magistrate to consider suspending the fine. The decision, of course, is for the Magistrate to make and he made it without hesitation or influence from Mr. Hinebaugh.

I believe every officer of the law recommends giving honest people a break under such circumstances, but please do not confuse this with a person being caught in the act and then admitting it, when there is nothing else he can do.

Mr. Bitzer, along with the other magistrates in this county have always conducted a fine court whenever I have had reasons to attend any of them, and I have found their decisions fair, even though they are not in my favor all the time.

Yours truly,
Leo G. Friend
District Game Warden

Miss Gloria McCullough entertained the Youth Fellowship group of the Christian Church, Wednesday evening at her home with an Easter party.

Congressional Viewpoint

Sen. John Marshall Butler

Today, we behold a world divided not merely by geographical boundaries but also by antagonistic philosophies. One is based upon man's dignity as a human being, the other upon atheistic communism. This disparity is amplified by the present crisis in Indo-China.

Indo-China is truly the door to Southeast Asia which encompasses not only Indo-China but also, Burma, Malaya and Thailand. If Indo-China should fall, the treacherous international communist conspiracy will have acquired an important and vital base for expansion to the east, south and west—thereby gaining control of more than 170 million people (greater than the population of the U. S.) and an area approximately one-half the size of the United States. Conquest of this territory could lead ultimately to the neutralization of Japan, the Philippines, and perhaps the entire Western Pacific.

Great is the wealth of this area. Briefly, here in balance are the following natural resources . . . abundant supplies of tungsten, iron, zinc, manganese, coal and antimony . . . an increasing output of oil (now estimated at 170,000 barrels per day) . . . more than half the world's production of tin . . . the world's best source of natural rubber . . . and vast rice exports of great political significance. You will recall that in World War II, Japan seized this rich region in a race for empire.

So you see—that speck on your map or globe is more than just a speck. The forces of atheistic communism must be here curtailed if freedom for all peoples is to be preserved.

President Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles have recently enunciated, with great clarity and vivid impact, the need for "united action" in regard to Indo-China and Southwest Asia. Senate Majority Leader, Senator Knowland, of California, an assidious student of Far Eastern affairs, has long advocated such a policy.

Obviously, the United States cannot alone resist communist aggression in all corners of the world. Already, certain military technicians and war materials have been sent to Indo-China, but the Congress and the Administration are determined that only concerted action, including those of our allies whose interests are inherent to that section, can solve this extremely sensitive problem.

Secretary Dulles' dramatic flight to Great Britain and France last week had two specific purposes—(1) to obtain a common declaration of solidarity in dealing with the Red menace in Southeast Asia, and (2) to emphasize the ominous significance and urgency of recent communist advances in Indo-China. The success of these high-level diplomatic conversations will probably become more apparent in the days to come, but undoubtedly, the echo of these discussions will resound at the forthcoming Geneva Conference, at which the communists are expected to inject the question of recognition of Red China as an odious bargaining wedge.

The present situation in Indo-China might well be characterized as a crisis for the entire free world. When viewed in the light of the announced communists' objectives of world suppression and subjugation, the word "crisis" seems grossly inadequate.

MARYLAND WILDLIFE

Prepared by the MARYLAND GAME & INLAND FISH COMMISSION

RACCOON

(Procyon lotor. Derivation, "pro" from the Greek meaning before, and "cyon" meaning dog, and the Latin "lotor" meaning a washer.)

RANGE: A common woodland animal found in all counties of Maryland; very abundant in the lower Eastern Shore counties and rapidly increasing in all counties.

BREEDING: Breeds in January and February; 2-6 young born 63 days later; 5 toes on all feet; blind for 19 days; suckle for 2 months; remain in family circle through winter. Average span of life about 12 years.

HABITS: Hibernates in northern States, seldom in Maryland. One of most nocturnal of North American mammals, but occasionally may be seen on cloudy days. Takes refuge in trees when pursued; puts up stiff fight when caught. Often crawls out on branches and descends neighboring trees in order not to reveal home. Very inquisitive and sociable; known as monkey of the woods.

MANAGEMENT: "Mr. Coon" forages along streams feeding upon fish, crayfish, frogs, and mussels; also feeds upon poultry, mice, birds, reptiles and insects; varies diet at times with nuts, fruits, and corn. Does not store food or keep den clean. Washes food if water is available. One of most important management measures is to preserve den trees; such trees often found more valuable as dens than timber.

VALUE: Valuable game and fur bearing animal; prized by the night hunter. May take corn and poultry but no doubt compensates by insects and mice destroyed, value of pelt, and pleasure given sportsmen. Studies do not indicate that raccoon predation on muskrats is of importance.

A3/c Kenneth Dale Friend has been promoted to corporal at an air force base in France. Corporal Friend enlisted in the air force November 3, 1952, and has been overseas for one year, most of this time at the Leon air force base in France. Senate Cloakroom

By J. GLENN BEALL
United States Senator from Maryland

There are some national celebrations possessing no governmental recognition which, nevertheless, capture the popular spirit and give grown men something to admire and small boys something to dream about.

If this festive holiday falls on a balmy spring day, as it did in Washington last week, and if seemingly impossible and inconceivable events occur—as they also did—then the adults have the satisfaction of witnessing the spectacular, and small boys have seen the stuff that dreams are made of.

All of this means that baseball is back—back with the arrival of spring, and with the famed Baltimore Orioles in the major leagues.

Opening day at the ball park is as much a national celebration as the Fourth of July, and more so than a number of our other patriotic holidays. The season lasts until early fall, and while the world series does something to rally our spirits, despite its intense competition it never quite creates the thrill of that first game.

For several weeks now sports pages have reported on the condition of the players during spring training, and in their own jargon the sports writers have recounted for us the exhibition games. All of this arouses our interest, and when a bright sun shines warmly through the window pane we occasionally find ourselves looking longingly from the Senate Office Building toward Griffith Stadium.

Baltimore friends begin asking with persistent repetition if we are attending the opening day when the Orioles make their debut in Municipal Stadium, and the Baltimore enthusiasm reverberates throughout the state.

There is the scramble for hard-to-get tickets, the frequent checks with the weather bureau, the turning first to the sports page of the morning paper, but above all there is that strange sense of anticipation which will linger until the first pitch goes over the plate.

When it happens—as it did in Washington last Tuesday—that the day could not have been more perfect, nor the ball game more exciting, then it can be easily understood why the First Lady hugged and kissed the 84-year-old president of the club, Clark Griffith, and the President shattered precedent by shaking hands with, and congratulating the hero, Mickey Vernon.

Secretary of State Dulles was wrestling with the difficulties of establishing collective security, Illinois was choosing Congressional candidates for next fall's general election, Capitol Hill was snowed under with thousands of bills demanding attention—but across the land the major interest was baseball. Every day from now to fall, in every ball park, there will be a new hero—it may be Mickey Vernon or Mickey Mantle—but to the young and old he will be the most important person in the country that day.

Marylanders know that our state excels in many things—from oysters to maple syrup—in sports we know that nothing can top the Preakness or the Washington International as far as horse racing goes, and only infrequently do the Terrapins walk off the gridiron unvictorious—throughout the coming months it will take a lot to persuade us that the Baltimore Orioles is not the best team in the American League—and who knows but perhaps the best in the majors.

NOTICE

My temporary office will be closed Thursday at noon, April 22nd, and I will not hold office hours on Friday, April 23. On Saturday, April 24th, my new office will be open on the first floor of the Harned Building. Although construction work will continue on the front of the Harned Building, my office hours will be held at the usual times.

NEWS FROM THE Ruth Enlow Library

BY EDITH BROCK

A book is being presented by the St. Matthews' Guild Auxiliary in memory of Miss Dora Martin. Mrs. Howard Naylor is giving a book in memory of Miss Julia Ann Lawton.

This is the season of the year when requests for how-to-do-it books are particularly heavy at the Ruth Enlow Library. Men are coming in for books on how to build outdoor fireplaces and garden furniture, gardening, and how to have the finest lawn in the neighborhood. Women come in for material on interior decoration, refinishing furniture, gardening, and what to serve for picnics and parties. The photography fan becomes particularly active at this season.

The following books are useful sources of information in these fields:

Clark—Gardening the small place.

Melady—Better landscaping for your home.

Barker—Small fruits.

Rohde—Making built-in furniture.

Successful Farming — Home building and remodeling.

Brown—Color in home decoration.

Popular Science—How to build cabins and ranch houses.

Pelton—Furniture making and cabinet work.

Feininger—Successful photography.

House Of Delegates

To the voters of Garrett County:

I am a candidate for election to the House of Delegates on the Republican ticket.

I have lived in Garrett County all of my life, and I feel I know the needs of our people. Before I would act on any legislation, I would consider its effects on our people as a whole.

If elected, I would go into office with an open mind, and I have made no promises of any kind to any one person or groups. I am President of the Garrett County Turkey Growers association, and a member of Farm Bureau.

I would endeavor to serve our people honestly and fairly, if elected.

Golden Kirk Held In Preston County On Assault Charge

Was Paroled From Maryland Pen In 1950 After Conviction For Manslaughter

Golden Robert Kirk, a 29-year-old parolee to West Virginia from Maryland, was held for action of the grand jury last week by Justice F. W. Pritt in Kingwood after he had been charged with felonious assault the Friday previous.

Authorities reported that Kirk had been accused of shooting Clarence Riley, 42, in the left leg after the two had been drinking and fighting earlier in the evening.

They said it appeared that Riley, his wife and Kirk had been drinking at a tavern near Kingwood and then adjourned to Kirk's small mine shanty where the shooting occurred. Police said the pair had been arguing and scrapping at the tavern.

Kirk was convicted of manslaughter on September 29, 1948, by a Garrett county jury after he had been tried for shooting and killing his step-father, Walter Messenger, near Deer Park, on March 25, 1948. He fired three shots into the man.

He was given a six-year sentence in the Maryland penitentiary, but was paroled by Maryland authorities on November 11, 1950. Finally West Virginia got him back on May 19, 1951.

Prior to being in Garrett county in 1948 he had been a miner in Preston county. His step-father had been a resident of Borgman, in Preston county and Kirk admitted shooting Messenger once before, in 1947, at Reedsville. The bullet entered his leg. A jury at Kingwood found him not guilty of the offense and he was released.

After Riley had accused Kirk, officers began a search for the gun and found part of it behind a trunk and the rest in a tree. It was stated that Riley was shot from close range and the blast tore a large hole in his leg. It was believed that Riley would regain use of the limb.

Southern Tracksters Win by Three Points

Southern High's track squad defeated the Fort Hill High school Reserves yesterday at a meet in Cumberland. The score was 73½ to 70½.

Coach Tom Stevenson's boys took nine first places. Allen "Skip" Sowers copped first place in the 100-yd. dash and 220-yd. dash and was a member of two of the winning relay teams. His time on the hundred was 11.3 seconds and 25.2 seconds on the 220-yard event. Bill Savage took second in the hundred yard dash.

Other place winners: Dave Benner first in the 440-yard run, Dale Schlossnagle 2nd, time 58.3 seconds; Richard Deem first in the 880-yard run, time 2.27 3/10; Dennis Colaw first in the mile, time 5.05 2/20.

In the field events Charles Mason was the only first place winner, taking the discus throw at 98 feet. Benner was third in the shot put and John Ruff was 4th; winning heave was 35.8 feet. Bill Savage tied for second place in the running jump and John Haines was 4th; winning jump was 5 feet. Schlossnagle took fourth in the broad jump. The winning jump was 18.9 feet.

Southern took the 440-yard relay in 50.7, the 880-yard relay in 1.45 4/10, and the mile run in 4.02 3/10. Participating in the 440 were Bill Savage, Allen Sowers, Charles Mason and John Ruff. Savage, Sowers and Ruff also ran in the 880 with Benner as the fourth man. In the mile relay were Schlossnagle, Deems, Dennis Colaw and Benner.

It Runs Through My Mind

BY POLLY J. HANST

I Think I'll Run

For public office—that is. I'm no good at politics and know practically nothing about government, but I could introduce bills, I know a lot about them.

Now that I've made up my mind to run, I'd just as well pick a big office like senate. Sheriff wouldn't be bad—except for one thing. The church bell just across the street rings every morning at seven, and while I'm sure I could learn to sleep through, the jailbirds would be awake clamoring for breakfast. Even though, according to studies, half the men in America get their own breakfast, it would be just my luck to have the kind of "guests" who'd belong to the other half.

So, I'll run for senate. Here is my platform.

1. Housewives should be subsidized in pin money. Though we no longer spend much on pins the amount we need for "pin money" has grown by leaps and bounds, and there just isn't enough.

Any woman knows that it would be a wonderful morale builder. It would definitely help prosperity.

2. To help unemployment I would try to put through a bill to organize house-cleaning crews—similar to the crews employed by the roads commission to keep highways looking neat and beautiful.

There would be about six to a crew and they'd go from house to house cleaning each from attic to cellar in one day.

The only bit of red tape connected with this would be that each woman would have to clear out and not return until evening.

A Butter Day for a Better Day

3. Then I'd introduce a butter day bill. One day a month all the surplus butter that is bulging the warehouses would go on sale for the price of margarine. I wouldn't give a hoot about reducing the surplus. I just want this generation to know that butter makes a difference, whether it's on bread or in batter.

4. I'd do something to increase the drinking in this county. There's always a wet issue. I'd try to put through a bill, encouraged by Ezra Benson, to require every adult and child to drink milk with every meal. Think what that would do for our farmers and us! No other bill on drinking would be necessary.

I'd Introduce T.Y.T.

5. It's about time we settled this time business. I'd throw away all time pieces for the summer. No D.S.T., no E.S.T., just good old T.Y.T. (take your time). Get up when you want, eat when you feel like it, and go to bed when you get good and ready. It might be topsy-turvy, but it would be topsy-turvy without strain. The way it is now it's topsy-turvy with strain. Ask any woman whose children go to school at 10 o'clock.

6. I'd like to introduce a bill to remove the word "housewife" from the census and all other listings. Call her an attached female, a family woman, homemaker, his old woman, or anything except that uninteresting, unromantic, unprofessional title, "housewife."

—o—

I Need Your Support

As time goes on I'd be able to introduce a lot more bills and I will earnestly endeavor to put each and everyone on easy street so you won't have to work, worry, or wrangle.

While I'm waiting for your vote I'll run for the garden and get a few seeds in the ground for something tells me (woman's intuition) that we're going to have an early spring, and a hot, dry summer.

Then too, Garrett countians, the rugged individuals that they are, might not go for my soft and easy platform but would prefer the type that builds moral fiber instead of soft muscle—then I'd be worse off than the grasshopper if I had no garden to turn to.

Sunnyside Students See Fish Distributed

The children of the Sunnyside school were getting first hand knowledge about the propagation and distribution of trout in the county last week.

They accompanied Game wardens Leo Friend and Robert Brown when they stocked Cherry Creek and the Youghiogheny River near their school.

On Monday, they took a trip on the "Go-See" bus, to the Bear Creek Rearing station where they saw three kinds of trout being fed and captured in order to be transferred to other streams. They were accompanied by their teacher and two mothers, Mrs. Harry Canan and Mrs. Elmer Yoder.

Free Chest X-Rays Again Are Available

Trailer Will Be In County May 4th To May 20th

Free chest x-rays will be made available again this spring through the Maryland and Garrett County Tuberculosis associations and the State Deaprtment of Health.

These x-rays are held annually to discover tuberculosis early in people when the cure is the easiest. They also tell if a person is free from tuberculosis. There is no charge, no undressing, it doesn't hurt, takes only a few minutes, and is for everyone age 15 and over. Reports are confidential and each person will be sent a report. The x-ray trailer will be in Garrett county from May 4 to May 20.

The following schedule has been arranged, all times listed being Eastern Standard Time. The visits will be held at the schools unless otherwise noted:

Telephone Company Plans Open House

Citizens of the area are being invited to an "open house" conducted by the C. and P. Telephone company, at the Oakland telephone building on Oak street, on Thursday and Friday, April 29 and 30.

Richard K. Dayton, local manager, said there would be a demonstration of the telephone system in action. The time of the open house each evening would be from 7 to 9 p. m. Mr. Dayton said those attending also would be taken to the service center on North Third street, with the company using a shuttle service of buses. Persons who will be subscribers in the Bittinger area are also being invited to attend.

Each half hour during the open house some person will be designated to make a long distince telephone call, free of charge, to any place within the United States.

A special open house for school students will be held at 1 p. m., on Wednesday, April 28.

NIGHT OF HARMONY—This quartet from Charleston, W. Va., the "Charlestonaires," will be a contributing factor to the "Night of Harmony" being planned by the Oakland chapter of SPEBSQSA, for Saturday night, May 8. This quartet, composed of Harold Deadman, tenor; "Shot" Hopkins, lead, Ted Finnell, baritone, and George Bobst, bass, has been kept busy singing in the vicinity of the West Virginia capital. They were finalists in both the district and regional contests in 1953, and are looking forward to their visit to Oakland. The program will be given in the Southern High school gymnasium, beginning at 8 o'clock. Admission will be $1. It was also announced this week that the Pittsburghers, national champions in barber shop singing, would also be here for the Night of Harmony. The local chorus of SPEBSQSA will participate. It recently completed the construction of its back-drop, for use that night.

Experts report 115 years as the maximum length of human life.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

Scripture: I Kings 11:1—12:24.
Devotional Reading: Psalm 1.

Revolution

Lesson for April 25, 1954

Dr. Foreman

VERY few people in America can logically say they believe that revolution by force is invariably wrong. On the contrary, some of the most distinguished and respected Americans, both men and women, are proud of the letters "S. A. R." and "D. A. R." Sons and Daughters of the American Revolution. If revolution was always wrong, then our country started on the wrong track to begin with, and we should be still a part of the British Empire. (The question might be asked, whether that Empire would have gone as far as it did and been as strong as it was, if it had not learned the lessons which only the American Revolution gave it. But that is another story.) The Bible tells the story of a revolution which had the full approval of a prophet of God. In fact, one of the prophets gave the chief revolutionists the idea.

Preacher Meets Rebel

Prophets in ancient times were something like preachers of these times, with two important differences. Prophet and preacher both speak for God to men. But the modern preacher has a church; the prophets had no established church, no chapel. They could not so much as rent a school-room or a theatre as preachers sometimes have to do. The prophets had to say their say wherever and whenever they could. There was no "regular eleven o'clock service." The other difference was that while the modern preacher likes to have a large church full of people to preach to, the prophet of olden times did not always (perhaps not usually) try for large crowds, but rather picked their listeners very carefully. They would be content with an audience of one, provided the one man was the right man. So the prophet Ahijah met a young man named Jeroboam alone one day, and gave him the idea that changed the lives of a whole nation. Tearing his long cloak into a dozen strips ("Is the man crazy?" Jeroboam must have thought, for the cloak was brand new), he invited the younger man to take ten of the pieces. The ten strips were ten "tribes" of Israel, and putting them into Jeroboam's hand meant that he was to be the leader of the revolution and secession which would tear those tribes away from the then united nation. The preacher, in short, was inviting and inciting rebellion and revolution.

When Is Revolution Necessary?

It is not the first time that preachers have been on the side of the revolutionist. In the American revolution some churches, among them the Presbyterian, were so active in promoting that revolution that when British soldiers searched the houses of citizens suspected of revolutionary tendencies, if they found in the house a copy of the Presbyterian hymn book or catechism, the evidence was considered sufficient to make arrests on the spot. This raises a serious question. Why is it that churches and preachers, which are generally conservative and teach and preach patriotism as a Christian attitude,—why is it that they have ever supported revolution, even by violence? Over in England a famous convention of preachers and other religious leaders in the year 1648 wrote it into their creed that "it is the duty of people to pray for magistrates (they meant the government in all its branches), to honour their persons, to obey their lawful commands, and to be subject to their authority . . ." Yet in the very next year, 1649, some of those same religious men took off the head of King Charles I. How can men who believe that obeying laws and authority is a Christian duty, also become revolutionists?

For the People

Revolution is not something for every day or every generation. It is a desperate last resort. But as in the days of Ahijah, so since then it is true that a government which ceases to be of the people, for the people and by the people, has forfeited its right to respect. The reader of I Kings will discover a gem of wisdom in what the old counselors said to the young Rehoboam: "If you will be a servant to this people today and serve them . . . then they will be your servants forever." Rehoboam turned his back on this wisdom, looked on his royal power as a means of tyranny; and so Jeroboam's revolution had an easy victory.

HEALTH IS YOUR BIGGEST ASSET

Good health is most important to accomplish your goals in life. When health fails, with loss of earning power, life insurance goes to work to provide food, shelter and other necessities. While you now enjoy good health you should provide for the time when you may be ill or disabled.

There's no better way to provide for emergencies or for your old age than a safe, sound, legal reserve Woodmen life insurance certificate.

Ask a Woodmen representative to help you select the type of certificate that best meets your needs. He will explain, too, the fraternal and social benefits you will enjoy as a Woodman.

Grantsville Notes

Council Organizes

The Mayor and Town Council of Grantsville held its organizational meeting at the council room with the new members of the council taking the oath of office.

Lee Beachy, who was re-elected Mayor last week for the third straight term, took the oath of office. Mr. Beachy has served as councilman and Mayor eight years.

Clinton McKenzie, re-elected as councilman, with Harry Hoover as a new member, also took the oath of office. Luther Huff was appointed president of the council, while Milton Rodamer was named clerk and water meter reader. Miss Ethel Broadwater was named tax collector and Austin Kamp was appointed water commissioner.

The council voted to conduct a clean-up drive on May 12, and also approved Daylight Saving Time for the summer. DST will go into effect on April 24. The schools will remain on Standard Time.

Mrs. Irvin Baker will entertain in May.

Checks Mailed From Recent Polio Campaign

Checks were made out and mailed this week to wind up the March of Dimes campaign in the county.

Charles L. Briner, campaign chairman, said a check for $1,305.80 had been sent to the March of Dimes Polio Prevention division, Washington headquarters, a check for $1,305.80 sent to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, New York City, and a check to the Garrett County chapter for same amount. The three checks made a total of $3,917.40. The balance of the $4,488 received in the drive went for expenses of the drive within the county, it was stated.

BITTINGER

It's what you believe that makes you grieve,
That makes you feel dumpy and blue;
If you wish relief, change your belief,
If you try it you'll find it is true.

A wedding ceremony was performed in the Lutheran church here last Saturday afternoon, when Mr. Ralph Hummill, of Avilton, now a medical student at the University of Maryland, and Miss Betty Lou Glotfelty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orval C. Glotfelty, of this community, were married by Rev. James Allan, local pastor. A large gathering of relatives and friends was in attendance. Immediately after the ceremony, a reception and luncheon was held at the home of the bride, and the newlyweds left for a honeymoon tour through parts of Virginia.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Allan, Beaver, Pa., spent the Easter season at the Lutheran parsonage as guests of their son, Rev. James Allan, pastor of the Lutheran church here.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Buckel spent the Easter holiday with their daughter, Mrs. William Cope, Alcoa, Tenn.

Olonzo Fike, Accident, was here on official business one day last week.

Clifford C. Friend, of Accident, called on friends here recently.

Miss Alice May Beachy, of near Gortner, was the guest of relatives in this neighborhood last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Engler, of Westminster, spent the week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Glotfelty, in the Glades section.

Joe Wiley, Reisterstown, spent a few days with relatives here recently.

Mrs. Silas C. Beachy spent Sunday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. R. L. Emory, here.

Farmers in this territory are taking advantage of the fine weather to get their early seeding of oats in the ground.

The special Easter service in the Lutheran church was largely attended.

This is the 1954 Chevrolet Bel Air 2-Door Sedan. With 3 series, Chevrolet offers a model to meet every individual and family need.

These facts about the New Chevrolet can help you make an important decision

Don't you agree that buying a new car calls for careful consideration? Regardless of make, it involves a substantial amount of money and a lot of future satisfaction. This information can give you a better idea of comparative value and help you decide which make to buy.

A good customer of ours was telling us the other day how he sizes up a new car. Because he's bought a number of them over the years, we were interested in what he had to say. We think you will be, too.

Actually, what he does is to ask about seven basic questions. The answers give a pretty complete picture of the car and its comparative value. Here's what he wants to know.

How well do I like its looks?

That's one question, of course, that only you can answer. You're the one who buys the car and you, above anybody else, should be proud of its appearance.

All we can tell you is that we hear a lot of nice things about Chevrolet's new styling. People seem to like the new front-end and rear-end designs, and the way the bumpers curve even farther around the fenders. They like the new styling touches all around the car and the wide choice of bright new colors and two-tone combinations. A good many tell us that Chevrolet has a decided edge over the other cars in its field for smooth and graceful lines.

Who makes the body?

This question takes in much more territory than the appearance of the car. It involves the quality of the interior as well as the strength and safety of the body construction. That's why we think it worth your consideration that Chevrolet has the only Body by Fisher in the low-price field.

You can see the difference outside and inside. We'd especially like you to look over the new interiors. Just sit in the car, if you will. Feel the quality of the fabrics and notice the more generous use of vinyl trim.

In all these ways, you'll find evidence of superior quality and workmanship. And after all, isn't that what you would expect in Body by Fisher? As you know, Fisher is the largest and most famous manufacturer of automobile bodies in the world. Doesn't it stand to reason that Fisher can build extra quality into the Chevrolet body? It's there and you can see it.

What's under the hood?

You hear a great deal of talk these days about engine power. The truth is that the number of horsepower isn't nearly as important as what the horsepower does for you.

In this year's Chevrolet, you get increased power in two finer engines. There's the "Blue-Flame 125" engine teamed with Powerglide automatic transmission and optional on all models at extra cost. In gearshift models, you get the more powerful "Blue-Flame 115" engine.

But, actually, the increase in horsepower is only a sort of by-product of design changes made for other reasons. Chevrolet engineers were after greater engine efficiency, not just greater power. So, you get improved acceleration, with greater and safer passing ability. You get quieter, smoother operation. You climb the steep hills with new ease.

How hungry is it for gasoline?

A car's reputation for, and record of, economy of operation is certainly an important consideration to most people. We'd be glad to have you compare Chevrolet in this respect with any car at any price.

And, in the case of this new Chevrolet, you do not have to sacrifice economy for finer performance and more horsepower. That's because the Chevrolet engines are high-compression engines. Their compression ratio of 7.5 to 1 is the highest in any of the leading low-priced cars.

This means simply that the engine compresses, or squeezes, the fuel mixture to a greater degree in order to wring more work out of it. That's how Chevrolet is able to give you an important gain in performance along with money-saving gasoline mileage—and on regular gas, of course.

Is it up to date in features?

We can't think of a new feature or development you might want that you can't have on the new Chevrolet. Now you can have Chevrolet's zippy and thrifty Powerglide automatic transmission on any model. You can have Power Steering on all models and at a new, lower price. You can have Automatic Window and Seat Controls on any Bel Air or "Two-Ten" model, and you can have Power Brakes on any model equipped with Powerglide. All are, of course, optional features at extra cost.

How popular a car is it?

When you come right down to it, there's no better way to judge the satisfaction a car gives its owners than by its popularity. How many people buy it and keep on buying it?

Well, as you may know, Chevrolet is by far the most popular car in this country. That's true today and it's been true for a good many years now. But it couldn't be true—or wouldn't be true—unless Chevrolet gave its owners an extra measure of satisfaction and value.

How much does it cost?

There's a short, sweet answer to that one: Chevrolet is priced below all other lines of cars. This lower cost is made possible by the greater production facilities and purchasing power of the world's largest manufacturer of automobiles. That is why Chevrolet can offer you all the advantages we've told you about here—and many more, too.

We'd be more than glad to have you see all these things for yourself and to try out this new Chevrolet on the road. We'll be happy to see you at any time.

Nine Qualify For Nurse Instruction

Home Nursing Classes Completed; Twenty-Four Get Certificates

Nine persons qualified for instructors' certificates in completing the Home Nursing classes at Grantsville and Oakland during the past week.

Those qualifying: Mrs. Morris Beachy, Mrs. Ralph Buckel, Mrs. Elmer Durst, Mrs. Joseph Fahey, Mrs. Russell Klotz, at Grantsville class; Miss Ethel Grove, Mrs. Wayne Hamilton, Mrs. Kenneth Ridder, Mrs. W. J. Ritchey, at Oakland class.

Those completing the course and receiving certificates included 24 persons—Mrs. Lee Beachy, Mrs. Raymond Loechel, Grantsville; Mrs. John Pysell, Miss Ethel Ridder, Miss Elizabeth Pysell, Mrs. Wood Evans, Mrs. Mabel Poland, Mrs. Roy Holler, Mrs. Ruth Callis, Mrs. Flora Burton, Mrs. J. H. Jackson, Mrs. Larry Croscoe, Mrs. Nellie Holtsnider, Mrs. Catherine Durst, Mrs. Barbara Webster, Mrs. Paul Markley, Mrs. Thelma Glotfelty, Mrs. Jesse Woods, Mrs. Joseph H. Welch, Mrs. R. C. Farrell, Mrs. C. R. Taylor, Mrs. Mildred Snively, Mrs. Sarah P. Naylor, Mrs. Arthur Naylor, Oakland.

It was announced that a second Home Nursing class would start Tuesday evening, May 4, at 7:30 EST, and that the sessions would be held in the Oakland Fire hall on Third street.

Oakland Homemakers and those in the Oakland area interested in taking the course are urged to attend. Mrs. W. J. Ritchey and Miss Ethel Grove will teach. These classes, sponsored by the local Red Cross organization, are an outgrowth of cooperation of the home civil defense and the Red Cross chapter. Mrs. Paul Naylor is chairman of these classes.

The course is being conducted to train people to care for the sick in their own homes and to work as "nurse's assistants" in the Civil Defense program.

Two Hurt In Crash

Two men were injured, one seriously enough to be hospitalized, in an accident last Thursday night at Gorman, according to Trooper First Class Robert Henline, who investigated.

Injured were Charles Shaffer, 23, route 1, Steubenville, O., who was admitted to Garrett County Memorial hospital, Oakland, with a head injury and a possible back injury, and John Worth, 25, of route 1, Bridgeport, W. Va., who was treated at the hospital for head lacerations.

Trooper Henline said the car crashed against the side of the Gorman bridge across the Potomac river and attributed the accident to excessive speed, fog and road conditions.

Eisenhower reassured France American troops would stay in Europe as long as needed to repulse any "threat to that area."

Government cancer experts predicted more than a million would be affected by cancer in 1975.

Candidates Announce

FOR STATE SENATOR

To the Citizens of Garrett County:

I am a candidate for the office of State Senator from Garrett County.

I have been a resident of Garrett County for the past forty-three years. I was County Treasurer from 1947 through 1950 and have served in the House of Delegates during the years 1927 through 1930, in 1945 and 1946 and in 1951 up until the present time. In the Sessions of 1952, 1953 and 1954 I was elected Minority Leader by the Republican members of the House. As such, I was a member of the Rules Committee, the Ways and Means and of the Legislative Council. The information and knowledge I will gather at the Council meetings this year will be of great value to our County and State if I am elected to this office.

I feel that my background as a farmer, a veteran of World War I, a merchant, an employee of the Board of Education (all of which I have been in the past) together with my experience as County Treasurer and as a member in the House of Delegates for seven regular and three special sessions fit me for this office.

I make no idle campaign promises, but, if elected, I pledge to follow the same policies and serve my County and my State in the same manner as in the past. I will give careful and thoughtful consideration to any suggestions and will earnestly endeavor, at all times, to keep myself worthy of the confidence placed in me by the Citizens of Garrett County.

Arthur H. Green
Swanton, Maryland
District No. 1

—Adv. 7*

To The Voters of Garrett County:

I hereby announce my candidacy for the State Senate on the Republican ticket, subject to the June primary election.

If nominated and later elected I will encourage industrial enterprise to locate in Garrett county, especially the city of Oakland, to improve employment and the economic status of the community; I will advocate lower and more reasonable taxes for seasonal dwellers at Deep Creek Lake, to encourage greater building activity and more tax revenue; I will encourage a bill to give every war veteran the right to own a dwelling free from all taxation up to the appraised value of $5,000, thus encouraging home building and better economy for the state of Maryland.

Your vote is solicited.

William M. Nazelrod
—Adv. 7* District No. 14

To the Citizens of Garrett County:

I am a candidate for the office of State Senator from Garrett County.

I have been a resident of Garrett County all my life and have been in business most of that time. I have been elected Mayor of Oakland for four successive terms, beginning in 1948 and am now serving my fourth term.

I am well acquainted with the economic conditions in Garrett County and feel assured that our County can go forward in a sound economical way, if the effort is put forth to do so.

If elected, I will put forth every effort to serve my County and my State to the best of my ability and will serve all of the people of the County alike. Your support and influence in the November general election will be greatly appreciated.

—Adv. 8* Joseph Hinebaugh

FOR HOUSE OF DELEGATES

To the Voters of Garrett County:

I am announcing my candidacy for Member of the House of Delegates from Garrett County. I feel that the eight years of experience that I have had from 1930 to 1938 as member of the House of Delegates should fully qualify me to capably represent the people of Garrett county and the State of Maryland. I am engaged in general farming and dairying. I own and operate my own farms and specialize in purebred Hereford cattle and purebred sheep. If nominated and elected I will represent all the people of Garrett county.

Arthur G. Cullers
District No. 8

—Adv. 7*

To the Voters of Garrett County:

I am a candidate for re-election for member of the House of Delegates for this county, subject to the coming primary election. I feel that the experience I have had as your representative for the past seven and one-half years fully qualifies me to again capably represent the people of Garrett county in this important office.

I respectfully solicit your support in the coming primary election to be held June 28. If nominated and elected I promise you I will do my best for Garrett county.

George E. Coddington
—Adv. 7*

To the Republican Voters:

I hereby announce my candidacy for a member of the House of Delegates on the Republican ticket, subject to the results of the primary election.

I have been a resident of Garrett county all my life and I feel that I know the needs of the people. If nominated and later elected I pledge my earnest efforts toward an honest and efficient administration and will endeavor to represent this county in the legislature to the best of my ability.

Carlis Burton Helms
Election District No. 14

—Adv. 7*

In seeking re-nomination to membership in the House of Delegates, I do so in the belief that mature judgment and experience are most important and valuable factors in this office, and I feel that my experience and service has qualified me to be of greater value to the taxpayers of both County and State in the future.

Regardless of rumors, I have made no promise or promises to any individual, clique or organization. If elected to this very important office, I will endeavor to serve you people to the best of my ability beneficial to the taxpayers of both County and State.

I respectfully solicit your support in the coming Primary Election.

Harry C. Edwards
—Adv. 8.

CLERK OF CIRCUIT COURT

To the Citizens of Garrett County:

I am a Candidate for re-nomination as Clerk of the Circuit Court for Garrett County, subject to the coming Primary Election.

I feel that the experience that I have attained in the past 7½ years as your Clerk and the eight years previously as Deputy Clerk, fully qualifies me to capably handle the duties required of such an important and exacting Office. I will continue, as in the past, to conduct the Office according to law and to be helpful and courteous to all.

I respectfully solicit your support in the coming Primary Election.

Richard L. Davis.
—Adv. 5*

REGISTER OF WILLS

To the Voters of Garrett County:

In announcing my candidacy for renomination for Register of Wills for Garrett County, a position which I have filled for a number of years, I do so in the belief that those years of experience better qualify me to render efficient service in the duties and responsibilities of the office. If reelected it shall be my pleasure to continue to be helpful to all persons having business to transact through the Orphans' Court and I shall be grateful for your support.

Sincerely yours,
Vernie R. Smouse.
—Adv. 5*

FOR COUNTY TREASURER

To the Republican Voters:

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of County Treasurer, subject to the results of the Republican primary election, and earnestly solicit the support of all the citizens of the county.

I have been a resident of Mt. Lake Park for twenty-nine years and have had bookkeeping and administrative experience for the past twenty-four years which I feel qualifies me to fill satisfactorily the office I seek. For the past four years I have been in the office of the County Roads engineer.

I pledge an honest and efficient administration in the duties of the treasurer's office should I be nominated and later elected.

Joseph H. Welch,
District 16 Mt. Lake Park
—Adv. 51*

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County:

I hereby announce as a candidate for the office of County Commissioner of Garrett County.

Inasmuch as I live in Election District No. 10, under the present system of electing County Commissioners I will represent the first County Commissioner District if nominated and elected to the office which I seek. At the present time, I am a member of the Orphans' Court of this county.

I have lived in Garrett County all of my life, am a farmer, have been interested in a number of business and other organizations and believe that I have a pretty thorough knowledge of affairs in our county and what should be done for its improvement and well being.

If nominated and elected, I will give careful attention to the duties and demands of the office and to the best of my ability will serve all of the people of the county alike.

I respectfully solicit the support of all Republicans at the primary.

Harry F. Paugh
—Adv. 51*

To the Voters of Garrett County:

I hereby announce as candidate for the office of County Commissioner of Garrett County.

I have been a life-long resident of Garrett County, living in District No. 14.

If nominated and later elected to this office, I have but one promise to make—that I will serve the people of my county to the best of my ability.

My motto is, I realize no one can please everybody, but I can keep on trying.

I respectfully solicit your support.

H. D. "Hub" Swartzentruber.
—Adv. 1*

To all Voters of Garrett County:

I hereby announce as a candidate for the office of County Commissioner of Garrett County.

I have lived in Election District No. 13, in Garrett County all of my life. I have always been a Republican and I am now serving my third year as one of the Trial Magistrates of Garrett County.

If nominated and elected, I will to the best of my ability serve all the people of Garrett County alike.

I respectfully solicit your support.

Dwight A. Barrick
County Commissioner
District No. 1

—Adv. 2*

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County:

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of County Commissioner subject to the results of the Republican primary.

Born and reared on a farm near Grantsville. I have lived in Garrett county practically all of my life. I purchased my first farm in District No. 5 in 1923. I believe my experience in the Farm Bureau, Soil Conservation and other organization work will be of great help in administering the duties of this office.

If nominated and elected I shall give just and honest consideration of all matters pertaining to the duties of this office.

I sincerely solicit your support and influence.

Foster Yost
District No. 5
—Adv. 2*

To the voters of Garrett County:

I hereby announce as a candidate for renomination for the office of County Commissioner of Garrett County, a position which I have filled for a number of years. I do so in the belief that those years of experience better qualify me to render efficient service to the taxpayers of this county.

If re-elected it shall be my pleasure to continue to serve the people of this county to the best of my ability, if nominated and elected I shall give a just and honest administration and always working for the best interest of this county.

I sincerely solicit your support and influence.

Jonas W. Sines
District No. 14

—Adv. 7*

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County:

I hereby announce myself as a candidate on the Republican ticket for the office of County Commissioner of Garrett County.

Since I live in Election District No. 1, if nominated and elected to this office, I will represent the first County Commissioner District.

If nominated and elected to this office, I pledge an honest, just and fair consideration to all problems and matters of that office, and will serve all the people of this county to the best of my ability.

I shall be grateful for your support.

—dv. 7* Curtis C. Miller.

After consulting many citizens and voters of the County, I have decided to seek re-election to the office of County Commissioner. I have served in this capacity for the last seven years and I feel that the experience I have gained during that period fully qualifies me to fill this very important position, and I stand on my record.

I solicit the support of all Republicans in the primary election on June 28th.

Stewart F. Stahl
—Adv. 7*

To the Voters of Garrett County:

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of County Commissioner of Garrett County.

I have been a resident of this county all my life and having been an employee of Garrett County Roads Department for approximately fourteen years, I feel I am acquainted with some of the procedure of the office I am seeking.

If nominated and later elected, I shall serve, to the best of my ability, in the interest of all taxpayers and the benefit of the county.

Your support and influence will be appreciated.

Fred D. Trickett
—Adv. 7*

After many requests of my friends, both farmers and business men, I have decided to become a candidate for the important office of County Commissioner. I promise if nominated and elected I will do all I can to lower the taxes and give the people a better county government.

I have lived in Garrett county all my life and am now engaged in farming 2½ miles north of Deer Park on Sand Flat road. I will appreciate your vote and influence at the coming primary in June.

Ervin A. Roth
Election District No. 10

—Adv. 8*

To the Republican Voters Of Garrett County:

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of County Commissioner of Garrett County.

I have been a lifelong resident of Garrett County and a taxpayer for 29 years, and I live in Election District No. 6. I have been engaged in the water well drilling business since 1930. If nominated and elected I will perform the duties of the office to the best of my ability.

I shall be most grateful for your support and influence.

Aubrey C. Brenneman

ORDER NISI

Stuart F. Hamill, Jr., Assignee for the purpose of foreclosure, Versus
Emmit A. Wilt and Irene Wilt, his wife,
No. 4452 Equity. In the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland.

IT IS ORDERED, this 19th day of April, 1954, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, sitting in equity, that the sale of the property mentioned in these proceedings as made and reported by Stuart F. Hamill, Jr., Assignee for the purpose of foreclosure, be ratified and confirmed, unless cause to the contrary thereof be shown on or before the 24th day of May next, provided a copy of this order be inserted in some newspaper printed in Garrett County, Maryland, once in each of three successive weeks before the 14th day of May, next.

The report states the amount of sale to be $680.

RICHARD L. DAVIS, Clerk

True copy.
Test: Richard L. Davis, Clerk.
--Adv. 8-4t.

To The Republican Voters Of Garrett County:

I herewith place my candidacy before you for the office of State Senator. This is the fourth time I have been a candidate; twice I was successful, and once I lost. Unlike Delegate Green, I have never been hand-picked by the so-called political leaders at Oakland to run as their candidate, nor do I have any position with the school board, or any other public body in the county or state.

There are a few cardinal principles pertaining to public affairs in which I firmly believe. One of these most basic principles is that all public moneys should be strictly accounted for; and that all the people are justly concerned with the public business.

Most of you, no doubt, like myself, have been waiting in vain for information on the cost of our new school buildings. The annual statements that were published may have met the requirements of the law, but they have not shown us the cost of the new school plants. Nor have they told us what we need to know in order to get a mental picture of our county finances.

The building of the schools is no longer an issue, and I do not intend to interfere with the school building program, but we have a right to know what the schools cost. In order to obtain this information I have contacted the County Commissioners and have asked for a statement showing the amounts paid the architects, for other professional services and for other information to show the total cost of each separate plant. I have also asked for the amount of money borrowed and the total of our county debt. They have agreed to furnish this information as soon as it can be assembled. When this has been received we will be able to see just where we stand.

I am entering this contest as a free man. I do not owe allegiance to any political machine. No officeholders have any strings that they can pull against me. If elected, I can be a representative of all the people, including those who have been so long forgotten.

I will work for economy in our state and county governments, and when it is possible I will legislate against waste and extravagance. I will especially see to it that our people are not again threatened with hasty, ill considered and destructive legislationlike the gas law, just repealed. New and greater efforts will be made by powerful corporations to obtain another gas law that would enable them to filch the gas from under our lands without paying for it. If I am in the Senate I will be on guard to protect your interests. If there is any future legislation on this subject it must be for the protection of our citizens.

I respecfully solicit your influence and support at the primary election on June 28.

CLIFFORD FRIEND

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENT

TO ALL CITIZENS OF GARRETT COUNTY:

I hereby announce my candidacy for the House of Delegates on the Republican Ticket.

I own my own home and live in District 7, Oakland. I have owned and operated my business at Red House, District 8, since 1939. My first job in Oakland was in 1911 when I was bookkeeper for the Gas Company. I am not a stranger to Garrett County.

I have never held Public Office and so have no Record of Failure to try to defend with excuses. I would hope, if nominated and later elected, to make a Record that would need no defending by weak excuses.

I believe Honest and Unselfish Legislation for the benefit of all should replace Class Legislation for the benefit of the favored few and that the Honest and Unselfish application of such Legislation will eliminate waste and inefficiency and prove beneficial to the Tax Payer. Since I am not a hand-picked Candidate obliged to take orders, but am free to act for the benefit of all citizens, I can and will sponsor Honest and Unselfish Legislation.

The Spending Spree we have been on for the past several years in Garrett County should well make all Tax Payers ask "What comes next?" The forgotten person appears to be the Tax Payer.

I WANT LOWER TAXES AND MORE JOBS. DON'T YOU?

I earnestly ask your Help, Influence and Vote to the end that something Constructive may be done for the benefit of All the people of Garrett County.

Respectfully,

RUSSELL L. SMITH

District No. 7, Oakland.

No. 99, folio 325, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, and being assessed in the name of Nellie Agnew, et al
No. 4454 Equity, In the Circuit Court For Garrett County, Maryland.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this proceeding is to secure the foreclosure of all rights of redemption in the following property situate in Election District No. 16 of Garrett County, Maryland, sold by the Late Collector and Collector of Taxes for Garrett County and the State of Maryland to the plaintiffs in this proceeding:

Lot No. 130 and a triangular lot adjoining said Lot, West side of E. Street, in Mt. Lake Park, District 16, assessed to Nellie Agnew, et al, and being a part of the same which was conveyed to Nellie Agnew, Caroline Bardell, Holton Wolfe, Florence S. Wolfe and William Bruce Wolfe, by deed from David W. Sloan, Substituted Trustee, dated June 7, 1928, and recorded in Liber E.Z.T. No. 99, folio 325, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, and being in the name of Nellie Agnew, et al.

The bill states, among other things, that the amounts for redemption have not been paid, although more than a year and a day from the date of sale has expired.

IT IS THEREUPON, this 8th day of April, 1954, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, ORDERED that notice be given by the insertion of a copy of this Order in some newspaper having a general circulation in Garrett County, once a week for four successive weeks, warning all persons interested in the said property to be and appear in this Court by the 7th day of June, 1954, and redeem the property and answer the bill, or thereafter a final decree will be rendered foreclosing all rights or redemption in the property, and vesting in the plaintiffs a title, free and clear of all encumbrances.

ONE WORD...

Can Change Your Life

By REV. ROBT. OLEWILER
Pastor, Grace Reformed Church
Washington, D. C.

MEMORIALIZE

Your best feelings will pass away unless you set up some kind of memorial to them.

Jacob in the Bible ran away from home. His first night out found him with no tent to sleep under and only a rock for a pillow. Yet, he was to be strongly impressed!

He realized, for instance, that life is serious business and that a merciful God is in it the whole way. This influenced his decision to set up a memorial. He erected a few stones and called them Bethel. Thus Jacob enshrined those sacred night hours so that the impression would remain forever.

You can do the same thing. Fix sacred hours in your thoughts. Enshrine your best impressions so that they stay reminders of the past, dynamic springs of action in the present and fresh sources of inspiration for the future. They will not fade away if you memorialize, the word that can change your life.
